Malott, Johnson Capture Lipton Bowling's U.S. Open Titles

by Jerry Schneider & Matt Cannizzaro, USBC Communications

COLUMBUS — Liz Johnson of Cheektowaga, N.Y., and Wes Malott of Pflugerville, Texas, each claimed titles at the 2013 Lipton Bowling's U.S. Open on Saturday at Columbus Western Bowl.

The win marked the third U.S. Women's Open title for Johnson and first major victory for Malott, who now owns eight PBA Tour titles.

Johnson and Malott each earned $50,000 for winning their respective events and set up a special Battle of the Sexes match to crown the ultimate U.S. Open champion. Johnson earned an additional $10,000 by defeating Malott, 194-188.

"It's still going to take some time to process all of this," Johnson said. "Coming into the week, I felt really strong physically and mentally prepared for sure, and it's nice to have so much support from my family and friends."

Johnson, a 39-year-old right-hander, opened the U.S. Women's Open championship match with six consecutive strikes on the way to a 257-195 win over defending champion and top seed Kelly Kulick of Union, N.J. The two now are tied for second on the event's all-time win list with three victories apiece.

"I am so fortunate to be part of such an elite group," said Johnson, who also won the U.S. Women's Open in 1996 and 2007. "I am so proud of this week, and I can't believe this is my third title here. To win this week, after such a grind in three different centers, is amazing."

Malott, who lost to Australian two-hander Jason Belmonte in the championship match of the 2013 United States Bowling Congress

2013 U.S. Open Champion's Liz Johnson & Wes Malott

Masters, got redemption and the coveted U.S. Open green jacket by defeating Belmonte, 214-156, on Saturday.

"The biggest thing I wanted to put on my resume was a major title," said Malott, who struck on 22 of 34 shots in three matches. "I've been close so many times, and especially close at the Masters after bowling really, really well there all week."

Surgery on his left knee kept Malott from the recent PBA GEICO Summer Swing in the Milwaukee area, and the grueling U.S. Open format was a true physical test for this year's PBA Tour average leader.

"This is the most prestigious tournament in our sport, I think, because of the demanding lane conditions and all of the pressure, and I don't even know that it's all sunk in yet," said Malott, a 36-year-old right-hander. "It's awesome."

Belmonte led the 54-game event from the first game of the week and by as many as 449 pins. He has reached the championship round at seven of the last eight PBA Tour majors and also had runner-up finishes at this year's PBA World Championship and Barbasol Tournament of Champions.

Liz Johnson Beats Wes Malott in U.S. Open's First-Ever "Battle of the Sexes" Final Match

Johnson Edges Malott by a Score of 194-188 to Win Historic Match at the 2013 Lipton Bowling's U.S. Open COLUMBUS, OH, July 27, 2013 - For the first time in the history of any U.S. Open competition, a "Battle of the Sexes" champion has been crowned. In a day of championship competitions at the 2013 Lipton Bowling's U.S. Open, Liz Johnson, who took home the women's title, is also the inaugural winner of the "Battle of the Sexes" special final match. Johnson defeated men's champion Wes Malott by a score of 194-188 to lay claim to the ultimate bragging rights.

Following a week of bowling that included more than 50 games apiece culminating in two riveting finals matches in the men's and women's tournaments, Johnson and Malott fought past fatigue in the "Battle of the Sexes," broadcast live on ESPN and played at Columbus Western Bowl and presented by the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America (BPAA).

Gene Does It Again

by Carol Mancini
DOWNEY — A couple of weeks ago I wrote a short story about a guy named Gene Pemberton who rolled left handed in his league — AND substituted with his right hand. He was a one-man, two-handed, wonderment that day.

Well, today a fax came in from Mike at Del Rio Lanes. It was a print-out of Gene's scores for the "Good Sports Senior League". Right handed — Gene shot 264, 256, 300 for 820.

What a show! All the seniors were amazed and happy for him. Most could relate to strings of strikes "in the good old days". Even me. Congrats Gene!

ALICE SAYS THANKS

LAKEWOOD — When Roberta McNaught told me that she, husband David, Sue Barrington and Carol Mancini wanted to host a 90th Birthday Party for me, I said, "No way". But you can't tell Roberta "No". My reason was, I have been away from bowling over two years and most of my friends were gone from the bowling scene. But she said I was wrong and she was so right.

Although my birthday was on July 21, I'll now always remember July 28 as my birthdate because that was the day that I'll always recall as the happy day when more than 25 bowlers came to Cal Bowl's Conference Room to honor me.

Roberta, David and Sue Barrington provided a huge beautifully decorated cake and punch. Carol Mancini provided the Cal Conference Room and coffee for the party.

My son Patrick drove down from Eureka to help deliver 47 years of "California Kegler's" to spread out on tables for those who wanted to read, and take, copies before they were delivered to a gentleman who plans to do something with them. I can't list all the bowling friends who attended my party but I do want to thank them for honoring me and for the gifts. I said not to bring presents but they did and I love them for doing it. Once again, I say thank you and let's do it again when I'm 100!

5 QUESTIONS WITH: NORM DUKE

By Todd Pfifer

NORWALK — Not only is Norm Duke a PBA Hall of Famer, winner of 37 titles, ranked 7th greatest bowler of all-time, but one of the greatest ambassadors of the sport of bowling (on and off the lanes) and someone I can call a friend. When I informed him that I wanted to do this segment with him as my first interviewee, he happily agreed.

1. Norm, you recently were here in Nevada for Bowl Expo, not only were you here for your manufacturer (Storm) but in the Next Level Booth. For those who are unfamiliar, tell us a little about Next Level Bowling, and what sets it apart from everyone else?

A: Next Level Bowling (www.nextlevelbowling.com) is a company that builds, manages and handles the bookings for all kinds of events. Most of them have a coaching or clinic component but we do events where we handle the entertainment portion of a much larger event as well. Its loads of fun because each day is different for me because Next Level customizes the schedules for the customer and they all want different things. I also get to attend the Expo with our team as an exhibitor as well as represent Storm Products as a staff player. Good times!

2. You have pretty much done it all in the sport of bowling, and with your presumed entry next year into the PBA50, alongside of Parker, and joining Amleto, Walter Ray, and Randy Pederson, what do you feel that experience will be like for you, and what do you want to get out of it?

A: I am asked far to often now about my Senior tour aspirations and I cringe every time. It might be because I am in denial but I think its because I have always wanted to compete against the very best at the highest level, no caveats. I do reserve the right to change my mind but as of now there are no plans to tour with the seniors.

3. With the sport losing centers and pro shops all the time, what do you feel is needed to get new blood into the sport?

A: I think that the process has started and the kids will have a huge impact on bowling going forward. They relish in the idea of bowling as a sport and they love the greatest challenges. They want sport conditions, uniforms, singles and team concepts with colors on the line and they don't like to have 200 handed to them and everyone else in the world because of ridiculously soft conditions. Sport is coming back into bowling and coupled with the vibrant open play activity, I think the industry is in a great place

4. How do you feel about the trend of the PBA to combine multiple events jammed into one or two weeks of bowling (WSOB and now Summer Swing)? Do you feel this is beneficial to the sport, fans, and TV audiences (which includes PBA's newest TV affiliate CBS Sports Channel)?

A: I think the decisions of the PBA have been very tough in the last few years given the rising costs of everything it takes to secure and hold events and the lack of sponsorship moneys that have been awarded to bowling. The PBA has owners and although they have been very gracious with their funding in the past there has to be a model that works financially or the end is near. The PBA's advent of the WSOB and the Summer Swing has enabled them to reduce the amount of costs per event and get closer to a profitable PBA with multiple network relationships. The team concept should do wonders for our television partners as well so there is much to look forward to from here and the PBA would like nothing more than to grow to the number of events they once had, or beyond.

5. As everyone knows, this sport is not just about the physical game, but the mental game, If you had to give one bit of advice on improving ones mental game, what would you say to the bowler?

A: Take responsibility for your own performance, ALWAYS!
(Powerful yet straight to the point, wouldn't you agree.)

Thank you very much Norm, I look forward to seeing you next time you visit our little town when WSOB comes back to town.

Kulick has been the No. 1 seed at the U.S. Women's Open three consecutive times, with wins in 2010 and 2012. She won the event for the first time in 2003. USBC Hall of Famer Marion Ladewig owns a record eight U.S. Women's Open victories.

Johnson topped her Team USA teammate Danielle McEwan of Stony Point, N.Y., 227-202, for a shot at her third U.S. Women's Open crown, while Malott set up the Masters rematch with a 279-182 win against five-time U.S. Open champion Pete Weber of St. Ann, Mo.

"After winning the U.S. Open, the rest is just icing on the cake," Johnson said. "To be in that position to bowl in the Battle of the Sexes was a fun bonus, and it was pretty awesome that I was able to win."

In the men's opening match, Team USA member Marshall Kent of Yakima, Wash, stepped up in the ninth frame with a chance to shut out Malott. Kent left and missed the 2-4-5-8 combination, allowing Malott to seal the 200-193 win with a mark in the 10th frame.

Reigning USBC Queens champion Diandra Asbaty of Chicago led halfway through the women's opener, but back-to-back opens in the sixth and seventh frames helped McEwan to a 192-171 victory.

The 2013 Lipton Bowling's U.S. Open included the best men and women bowlers in the world, competing side by side (in separate events) at three Columbus-area bowling centers - Wayne Webb's Columbus Bowl, Columbus Western Bowl and Holiday Lanes. The combined U.S. Open events featured a prize fund of more than $400,000.

Kevin Gannon & Bob Sittman Win WCST Del Rosa Doubles

by Frank Weiler

SAN BERNARDINO — I was planning to visit Del Rosa Lanes and watch the best SoCal senior bowlers compete for a West Coast Senior Tour (WCST) doubles title last weekend. I live just two miles from Del Rosa. Instead, after a chance meeting with PBA senior star PAUL NILSEN, I became a part of the tournament field. Instead of viewing the tournament from behind I was able to view the competition rubbing shoulders with the players. In fact, for the eight games of qualifying, Paul and I “crossed” with eventual winners Gannon and Sittman. Close up these guys are good.

The tournament was a member and nonmember doubles event with one partner having to be at least 50 years old and the other at least 60 years or older.

The tourney format called for eight games of qualifying with the top four teams advancing to a round robin playoff. Bonus pins were awarded to the teams winning each playoff game and for each bowler outscoring his counterpart. While four teams advanced to the playoff, five teams received checks.

After eight games the standings were:

1. Larry Rumple (1786 pins) and Pat Byrne (1943)	3729 pins
2. Paul Appling (1930) and Greg Neuer (1783)	3713
3. Kevin Gannon (1774) and Bob Sittman (1869)	3643
4. Ray Cobb (1843) and Ron Sandusky (1758)	3601
5. Mike Rick (1789) and Mark Dyer (1790)	3579
6. Gip Lentine (1737) and Larry Gray (1841)	3578
7. Gary Coultas (1633) and Marlow Dinger (1757)	3576
8. Dave Gulley (1633) and Don Moser (1846)	3479
9. Ken Racette (1703) and Eddie Katz (1769)	3472
10. Tom Andres (1674) and Ray Torres (1785)	3459
11. Jerry Calvin (1725) and Kerry Tissler (1722)	3447
12. Frank Weiler (1668) and Paul Nilsen (1729)	3397
13. Stan Winters (1631) and Brad Roseling (1728)	3359
14. Mel Wilson (1446) and Darron Peters (1824)	3350
15. Ed Jamison (1543) and Mike Fowler (1735)	3278

After round robin play and a position round game the final tournament standings were as follows:

Champions:	Gannon and Sittman	5653 pins	$1,400
Second:	Rumple and Byrne	5617 pins	$1,000
Third:	Appling and Neuer	5420 pins	$700
Fourth:	Cobb and Sandusky	5321 pins	$600

I like numbers and “WHILE NUMBERS NEVER TELL THE WHOLE STORY, THEY DON’T LIE.” So lets look at some of this tourney’s numbers.

The top individual performers during qualifying were: Pat Byrne (242 average), Paul Appling (241), Bob Sittman (233), Don Moser (230.7), Ray Cobb (230.3), and Larry Gray (230.1). As could be expected, four of these top five bowlers were on the top four finishing teams. My conclusion: most of the top scorers finished highest.

How about this, the six competitors on the left side averaged a cumulative 231 while the 24 on the right side averaged a cumulative 216. The top six right handers averaged a cumulative 228. My conclusion: There is no real difference when you compare the top bowlers on each side of the lanes. If there were 24 lefties in the field, I believe their cumulative average would be about the 216 posted by the two dozen righties in the field. Generally, when more bowlers bowl more games you can expect scores to go down. What do you think?

I recognize that with less bowlers on the left side the oil on that side won’t get moved around as much, but as I wrote above, the top righties were able to adjust successfully.

Hey, I am a seventy year old righty who averaged 208 in the tournament. I also know that while I am a good bowler, I am not as consistent as bowlers like Paul Appling, Pat Byrne, Mark Dyer, Kevin Gannon, Mike Rick or Bob Sittman. They are better than me and that is why they averaged a cumulative 231 and I averaged eight sticks above 200. Lane conditions had nothing to do with their outscoring me.

The tourney was very competitive. It was a shame that two very talented teams missed a check by one and two pins respectively. GIP LENTINE and LARRY GRAY finished one pin shy of fifth place, while GARRY COULTAS and MARLOW DINGER finished just two pins shy.

I had a blast competing against the best seniors SoCal has to offer and joking with Tournament Director DICK SANDERS. We senior scratch bowlers owe this man a big thanks. He and SST (Super Senior Tour) founder LEN MILES have provided us with a platform to compete on for over twenty years. THANK YOU Mr. Sanders, Mr. Miles and the BOWLING NEWS from all us senior scratch bowlers.

All Pots Carry Over • Match Game is $5,000

3-6-9 will be $2,400 • Match Series Maxed at $5,000

ABTA at Cal Bowl August 3rd

NORWALK — We returned to Keystone Lanes where we saw a tough, but fair to all shot throughout the day and a total of 152 entries come out for a fun day of bowling. The cut scores were +52 for the men and +10 for the women. The Super Seniors added to the board (two men and one Woman) Leo Tartamella +44, Dino Cantoria +38, for the women it was Carla Sanchez -6. Super Seniors are men 63 and over, and for the women you just need to be a young 55. That would give us 38 bowlers making it to the semi-finals.

The High qualifiers for the tournament—Gilbert Gissendaner for the men with a +136 and for the women it was Sandy Rosenblum at +76. They will get a paid entry into a future regular ABTA event. Each week our top seed draws the Match Series, and this time it was worth $5,000. Gilbert would draw a 662. We had no bowlers who matched that, so the pot would carry over to Cal Bowl where it is maxed out at $5,000 and a backup is started. This week we saw Andy Yu go for the $2,300 3-6-9 Pot. He missed on his second shot, so he got $50 and next week we will go for $2,400 at Cal Bowl.

In our optional doubles, finishing in first were Rey Josafat and Bryan Moore with a 1410 for $100. Finishing in second place was Louis Evans and Rey Josafat with a 1376 for $80. There was a total of $810 paid out in doubles and 18 paid spots with low to cash of 1316.

After bowling the semi-finals, the leader was Bernie Navarro with a +116. In second was Du Quach at a +112. The cut scores for the top 16 were a +35 for the men and for the women it was -3. Our top seed had the honor of drawing the Match Game worth $4,890. Bernie drew a 232 and after a review of all scores,, we had no bowler who shot that score so the pot carries over, and it will be $5,000 Saturday at Cal Bowl.

This would bring us to our top 16 Match Play finals. In the first round, the seven losers were Sierrie Herradura, Deborah Sanders, Natalie Perenshiko, Fred Galvan, Bryan Moore, Stan Por, and Holden Au, each will get $100. In the second round, the four losers were Kelly Wynn, Allan Basto, Cezar Marcella, and Gilbert Gissendaner, with each of them getting checks of $105.

This would get us down to the final five bowlers. The weekly horses are paying a low of $41, Ronnie Cordero, to a high of $165 for Victor Paolucci. In one match, we saw our tenth seed Roland P

Sanchez bowling the eighth seed Ronnie Cordero. There was another match that saw a one-sided show as Roland could not miss. He continued to get strike after strike to advance to the Semi Final match with a 286 to 192 score. In the other match, it was thirteenth seed Victor Paolucci bowling the second seed Du Quach. In this match, it was a battle that would go down to the final shots in the ninth and tenth frames. But in this one Andy would get enough in the tenth to lock out Victor even though Victor would finish with the last 4 strikes to fall just short. In the end it was Andy advancing with a 252 to 251 nail biter to the semi-final match. Finishing in 4th and 5th place this week were “Ace” Cordero and Victor Paolucci. They each got $110.

Our semi-final match was on, and would also decide our Horse winner. We would see Roland paying $82 and Du paying $50 if they would win the match. It was Roland and Andy who both opened in two out of the first four frames, but Andy was able to get the first double in the fifth frame to take the early lead. Roland would continue to get marks but it was Andy who would open in the seventh frame with bad count to give the lead to Roland. Then an open in the 10th frame sealed his fate as Roland would go on to finish with a 172/215 to 152/197 to advance to the title match. Andy Quach would finish in 3rd place for $200. Roland advanced to the title match and was your horse winner for $82. Andy: aka”Du, Bowled very well!!

Roland Sanchez Wins 1st ABTA Title & $2,900 Keystone Lanes — From left are Victor Paolucci 4th, Carla Sanchez (Champs wife) who also Cashed in the semis, Roland Sanchez $2,900 1st Place, Bernie Navarro (runner-up) $500 and Andy Du Quach 3rd $200. ALL POTS Carry Over to CAL BOWL this Saturday, $5,000 Match Game, $5,000 Match Series and $2,400 3-6-9 Pot. Many of the GOOD GUYS cashed in at Keystone and Roland is surely one of them.

The title game was set. It would be top qualifier Bernie Navarro vs Roland Sanchez. The match saw Bernie start out with an open and then Roland came up and matched that with a split and open. Roland would get the next four strikes, but an open in the sixth frame saw his lead at 22 pins. Bernie had a chance to come back into the match but an open in the sixth and eighth frames would have him fall short. Roland would go on to win his first ABTA title finishing with a 202/244 to 169/220. He would take home $1,000 for the victory and an additional $100 for wearing his ABTA shirt and $1,700 in Cash and Carry to give him a total of $2,800. Bernie would take home $500 for his second place finish.

KOREA MEN PLACES 1-2 SWEDEN 3RD IN SOFIA DEAFLYMPICS SINGLES

SOFIA, BULGARIA—109 men from 35 counties participated in the sport of bowling in the 22nd Deaflympics singles event in Sofia Bulgaria. After completion of 6 games two men from Korea placed 1st and 2nd and a Swedish man placed 3rd. The Team USA foursome ended up in 24th,35th, 42nd and 52nd.

The top Korean bowler Seongjo An set a new six games record 1489 (249.17 average) with 257-279-247-232-266-208 in placing first. His Korean teammate Youngchen Seo hit 1329 for 2nd place with games of 237-225-215-269-169-214 (221.5 average). The Swede, Anton Carl Elofsson took 3rd place with his 1291 from games of 225-223-195-235-202-211 (215.5 average).

A German, Kevin Jean Lindemann started off with 279-232 but did not hit a 200 in other 4 games, finishing with a 1211 (201.83 average) to place in tie for 11th. His 279 tied with An’s 279 for the event’s high game.

Team USA’s Jerry Claborn, TX started off good with a 236 and added a 215 in his 4th game for 1140 total (190.0 average) in 24th place. JOHNSON

ing into the week, I felt really strong physically and mentally prepared for sure, and it’s nice to have so much support from my family and friends.”

Johnson opened the U.S. Women’s Open championship match with six consecutive strikes on the way to a 257-195 win over defending champion and top seed Kelly Kulick of Union, N.J.

“I am so fortunate to be part of such an elite group now,” said Johnson, who also won the U.S. Women’s Open in 1996 and 2007. “I am so proud of this week, and I can’t believe this is my third title here. To win this week, after such a grind in three different centers, is amazing.”

Malott, who lost to Australian two-hander Jason Belmonte in the championship match of the 2013 United States Bowling Congress Masters, got redemption and the coveted U.S. Open green jacket by defeating Belmonte, 214-156, on Saturday.

“The biggest thing I wanted to put on my resume was a major title,” said Malott, who struck on 22 of 34 shots in three matches. “This is the most prestigious tournament in our sport, I think, because of the demanding lane conditions and all of the pressure, and I don’t even know that it’s all sunk in yet.” The 2013 Lipton Bowling’s U.S. Open included the best men and women bowlers in the world competing side by side (in separate events) at three Columbus-area bowling centers - Wayne Webb’s Columbus Bowl, Columbus Western Bowl and Holiday Lanes. The combined U.S. Open events featured a prize fund of more than $400,000.

“Liz and Wes both made the sport of bowling proud this week. The grit, perseverance and tenacity that both demonstrated is a great credit to our sport. Simply put, Liz and Wes both personify what it means to be a champion,” said Steve Johnson, executive director of the BPAA.

Added Johnson. “Today was also a special moment in the history of the U.S. Open. By winning the first-ever ‘Battle of the Sexes,’ Liz has carved her own place in sports history, a great milestone for bowling and professional sports.”

The 2013 Bowling’s U.S. Open was supported by title sponsor 100% Natural Lipton Iced Tea, and presenting sponsors The Brands of Ebonite & Columbia 300, Brunswick Bowling & Billiards, Jani-King, Storm Bowling Products and Roto Grip. BURBANK — I have had the great pleasure during my years of being a part of the bowling community to share my knowledge and love of the game with young people. Boys and girls ranging in age from three to twenty years old. All of them wanting a sporting community in which they could participate, learn better skills and socialize. I remember wanting that for myself and finding my niche in the world of bowling.

I was fortunate enough to have had a coach that also loved the game, the community and sharing all of it with we young people. Bowlers are a special breed of people. Some so serious about the sport they are alarming and others caring only to be a part of the game. However, most share the trait of friendliness and are more than willing to share their knowledge of lane conditions, how to convert a ten pin and whether or not you have the right equipment. Whichever type of bowler you are, I encourage you to share your passion with the youth.

If you have an opportunity to participate in an adult/youth league or tournament or volunteer to coach the kids on a Saturday morning...do it! The rewards will far outweigh the effort and you might just have passed the passion on.

Bowling News is proud to bring you....

Chuck Pezzano

Dean of Bowling Writers, PBA & USBC Hall of Fame

Remembering John “Junior” Powell is so easy because rarely has there been such a bowling man of all seasons. He was a battle hardened combat marine before he was old enough to vote and later he combined that hard earned toughness with the love of life, people, and bowling that only ended when he wa 84.

A top bowler who loved competitive action in any form, whether he was betting a dinner on the outcome of a bowling match, the run of one of his race horses, the prospects of a new product or business venture including many bowling centers, he was a delight to know.

You always knew he was there because he wasn't bashful when he had an opinion—and he always had an opinion.

Powell was a pioneer in many bowling efforts, starting iwth his rating as one of the best scorers in the game, then as solid leader of the Fort Worth Panthers in the shaky National Bowling League, on to one of the most innovative tournament creators and operators, a bowling pro shop owner when there were few pros in the field, and an unmatched booster of worthy, new bowling products.

“I can sell a dozen of anything,” Junior once told me. He got no argument from me because he kept proving it.

Later he got into the big, big time of business interests such as race horses among the world's best, restaurants, and the most up to date and finely run bowling centers that bore the name backing and input of the legendary Don Carter.

He was the first to offer his talent and treasure to any worthy bowling cause—institutional or personal.

At one time Powell was one of the keen minds who helped design a plan whereby the PBA would build bowling complexes in each of the PBA's then seven regions. Each would contain a bowling tournament section that also could be used for regular open play, clinics, seminars and constructed to perfectly house TV and other media and communications.

The complex would also include up to date pro shops, restaurants and possibly space for other entertainments and business. And most of the positions could be filled by the then current or former bowling pros, giving them more opportunities than ever before.

Unfortunately, a law suit filed by some of the players put a halt to the plans and a revival time never came again, but Powell's effort and genius was evident to all.

One of his greatest personal moments came when he was elected to the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame. It was one of the most well deserved selections and one of the most appreciated by any recipient of the honor.

He long was an avid supporter of the Hall and its members, many of them close friends and attended all Hall functions until he became too ill to do so. His generosity is at the Hall for all to enjoy.

He was a proud member of the Hall—but not as proud as the Hall and the sport were of him—the man of all bowling seasons who has become a man of all bowling eternity.

John Powell, a man easy to remember, on Memorial Day—or any day.
