Wayne & Bonnie Garber – 300 x 2

by: Bette Addington, California Bowling Writers

MODESTO, Ca —Yosemite Lanes was on an emotional high Tuesday night, September 15, when not one 300 game was shot but two. And both were shot for the same game. It gets even better! They were bowled by husband and wife - Wayne and Bonnie Garber. And if that's not phenomenal enough, they were bowling on different teams and both won their games with this contribution! How much more exciting can it get?

Competing in their Tuesday league for just the second week of this Fall season in a league they have bowled in for at least 20 years, Wayne said for that second game, he "was watching Bonnie since the 6th frame" when she was busy stringing her strikes and added, "she didn't know I was striking." They were just four pairs away from each other. The crowds gathered in anticipation behind their lanes. Bonnie got a loud round of applause when she bowled her 11th. But the applause grew louder as Wayne shot his 12th. Then, just 15 seconds later, as Bonnie prepared for her last ball, she remarked, "Really? Right now?? Ok!" and let 'er rip to the loudest ovation of the night! Everyone went crazy to witness this once-in-a-lifetime moment!

The Garber's have both been on the bowling scene for many years. Wayne has been bowling since he was 4 years old (43 years) and Bonnie for 27 years. Both have had numerous 300 career games—Wayne (over 100) and Bonnie (8). Wayne's bowling resume shows he competes and runs scratch tournaments and has for years as well as is a PBA member. Bonnie came from bowling years ago in the WTA (Women's Tournament Assoc.) where she won a title and WWPB (Western Womens Professional Bowlers). Both are members of the Modesto Bowling Association Hall of Fame.

On this special night in their lives, Wayne (a Hammer Ball Rep.) was throwing the Hammer Red Pearl Widow ball and Bonnie had switched to her Brunswick Red Solid ball to accomplish this feat.

USA TAKES GOLD, SILVER IN TRIOS AT PABCON MEN'S CHAMPIONSHIPS

ARLINGTON, Texas - The United States took the top two spots in the trios event Wednesday in the third event of the 2015 Pan American Bowling Confederation Men's Championships.

Team USA's John Janawicz, Marshall Kent and Sean Rash earned the gold medal with a six-game total of 3,879 at AMF Bolera Paradise Lanes in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The first three games of the event were contested on the 33-foot Sydney pattern and final three games on the 39-foot Seoul pattern.

Kent led the way with a 1,375 series and was followed by Rash (1,259) and Janawicz (1,245). The trio fired 712 in Game 5 to take a big lead on the field and coast to the gold medal.

The U.S. team of Bill O'Neill, Chris Barnes and Tommy Jones shot 3,767 to take the silver medal, overtaking Colombia in the final game to get to the No. 2 spot.

Jones fired 1,306, Barnes had 1,253 and O'Neill shot 1,208 as they finished with a 665 game in the finale to top Colombia by nine pins.

"The afternoon pattern was difficult but our gold-medal team pulled away after the fifth game," Team USA coach Rod Ross said. "The last game, both teams bowled great and our silver-medal team was able to jump up the standings. We're very proud of how both teams performed with the difficult and challenging lane conditions."

Mr. and Mrs. Murtishaw Set A National Record

by Frank Weiler

MURRIETA - In 2002 Jim and Anita Murtishaw tied a national record when they became the second married couple to roll 300s in the same game while bowling on the same team. That is, both Jim and Anita each rolled a 300 in the same game for the same team. A St. Louis couple was the first to accomplish the fete.

Last Thursday the Murtishaw's did it again. Both Jim and Anita rolled perfectos as teammates in the first game of Cal Oaks 640 Scratch League. That's a new national record.

They established a new national record by becoming the first married couple to roll perfect games in the same game as teammates, two times. Yes, both Jim and Anita each rolled a 300 in the same game as teammates, a second time. ONCE A TIE, TWICE A RECORD.

NO SURPRISE. No surprise that the Murtishaw's set a national record. Both are members of the Citrus Belt Hall of Fame. Both have led the Citrus Belt in high average. Both have rolled multiple perfect games and 800s. Anita still holds the Association record for the highest three game series (848) by a woman.

NO SURPRISE. No surprise that the Murtishaw's set a national record. Jim is a PBA National Champion who competed on the national tour for nearly ten years. Jim competed in the PBA Tournament of Champions for several years and finished second one time to PETE WEBER, missing a Major Title by just a few pins. Jim regularly averages 230 plus in league play while Anita has averaged 200 or higher for over twenty seasons. AMAZING STUFF.

NO SURPRISE that such accomplished bowlers have set a national record. The Murtishaw family is probably the NUMBER ONE bowling family in the Citrus Belt and this record just solidifies their position as such.

Winnetka Bowl to Host State Singles Championships

By Fred Eisenhammer

WINNETKA – Fresh off playing host to the “Win a Honda” tournament, Winnetka Bowl will serve as the site of another grandiose event.

This time it will be the 2015 California state singles championships that will take place 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 17 and 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 18.

Bowlers can field multiple entries but can cash only once in the top 10. At least one prize will be given out for each six entries.

Entry fee is $50. Players will bowl six games.

The tournament is open to California United States Bowling Congress members. About half of Winnetka’s lanes will be allocated for each of the four tournament segments.

There will be two handicap divisions: a 176 average or higher and a 175 average or lower. Each division will have a separate male and female competition. An optional scratch division is available within each handicap division (separate male and female).

Bowlers need to check in at least 45 minutes before the onset of the competition. Each player must submit with the entry a verification of his or her average via a printout from the local USBC association or www.bowl.com.

From the $50 entry fee, $25 goes to the prize fund, $18 to the lineage and $7 for expenses.

This is the third year of the state singles championships. The last two years the tournament was held in Torrance and Visalia.

Last year in the men’s competition, Don Sutherland won the 176 & higher handicap division title. Charles Rohlfing claimed the 175 & under division title. In the women’s competition, Darris Ruffner won the 176 & higher handicap division championship. Michelle Kettle claimed the 175 & under division title.

The state singles championships marks the second major event in four months at Winnetka Bowl.

In late July, Mark Alvarino claimed a 2015 Honda Civic by finishing first in Winnetka Bowl’s “Win a Honda” tournament. Alvarino, a North Hills resident, scored a 246-212 victory over Kelly Manuel of Azusa in a pressure-packed championship match of the stepladder finals.

It’s unclear how much money each of the division champions will earn in the state championships because the rewards will hinge on the number of entries.

But Mike Willis, longtime manager of Winnetka Bowl, was clear about one thing about the winning prizes.

“It won’t be a car,” he said, laughing.

JAT Sport Junior Recap Solomon Leads the Way in Week #2

By David Schiada

NORWALK - Last Saturday in the JAT Sport Junior Gold Division the high series was rolled by thirteen-year old Solomon Salama who shot a 712 for his four games at Keystone Lanes. Solomon, a high-revving lefty with a two-handed delivery that makes his plastic ball out hook the latest hi-tech reactive, raised his sport shot average to 177. The next high series was rolled by Julian Zavala who finished with a 690. Jared Schiada had the high game of the week with a 190. In the Silver Division, Mark Wells bowled the high series for the second straight week with a 633.

By experiencing the same pattern for three consecutive weeks, JAT Sport Juniors have the opportunity to learn, make adjustments, and improve. Week #2 on the Alcatraz pattern saw several JAT Sport Juniors raise their averages significantly – Jared +19 pins, Austin Sugarman +11 pins, Alli Azvedo +7 pins, and Jackie Azvedo +5 pins.

As a reminder, next Saturday the JAT Sport Juniors will be bowling a double header (eight games) because of a bye on October 3.

PBA50 Tour Veteran Tom Carter Receives 2015 Dick Weber Sportsmanship Award

CHICAGO - Tom Carter, a competitor on the PBA50 Tour for nine seasons, has been selected as the PBA50 Tour's 2015 Dick Weber Sportsmanship Award winner by his fellow players.

"It's better than winning a title," said an emotional Carter. "It's extremely humbling and I really don't know what else more to say other than to thank my fellow competitors for the honor."

In addition to competing on the PBA50 Tour, Carter, a player services representative for Brunswick, travels the PBA50 Tour in his motor home with wife Linda who serves as assistant to tournament director John Weber.

The award has special meaning for Carter not only because it was voted on by his fellow players but also because of his admiration for the late bowling legend the award is named after who passed away in 2005.

"It's special to me because I've been a friend of the entire Weber family," said Carter, a long-time Rochelle, Ill., resident before moving to Columbus, Ohio. "After Dick died (Dick's son and Midwest PBA Regional Manager) Rich Weber gave me one of Dick's 300 rings and I wear it to this day."

Carter can also often be heard as a color commentator on Xtra Frame broadcasts of PBA50 Tour events.

"I enjoy doing the commentary immensely," Carter said. "It's kind of an extension of what I do as a player services rep and pro shop operator. I want to do anything I can to bring enjoyment to the game whether it be working with the guys out on the PBA50 Tour or anyone for that matter."

The Carters operate five pro shops and are now based in Wayne Webb's Columbus Bowl in Columbus, Ohio. Columbus Bowl has just been announced as the host center for the 2016 Barbasol PBA Players Championship next February.

On the lanes this season, Carter, a six-time PBA50 Regional titlist and 2007-08 Midwest PBA50 Regional Player of the Year, had a best PBA50 Tour finish of 16th in the Pasco County Florida Open. His career-best PBA50 Tour finish of fourth came in the 2010 Senior HP Lanes Open.

9th DON GLOVER MASTERS

by: Bette Addington

Bakersfield, CA-- The 9th annual Don Glover Masters Scratch Tournament will be taking place the weekend (Oct. 3-4) with the event returning back to AMF Southwest Lanes in Bakersfield where it originally started.

So what's in store for the 2015 event? Besides returning to AMF Southwest Lanes, the tournament oil pattern will be Bourbon Street. And the qualifying squad times for Saturday are a little different than last year—11am for the "A" squad and 4pm for the "B" squad. Entry fee is still just $125 (checks will be accepted until Sat., Sept. 26 for pre-paid entries, and cash only after that date). Re-entry fee is $100 cash.

This year it looks like there is a lot of interest for Women entrants as several have already entered thanks to the PWBA being brought back. The Glover Masters also accepts Youth competition but they will need to sign a waiver available at the event. One in four qualifies (plus one alternate, if needed) in each of the qualifying squads that will advance to Sunday's finals. Bowlers will be bowling seven games in the qualifying squad.

On Sunday, the competition will intensify as the Glover Masters Finals will start at 9 a.m. Finalists will compete bowling ten games of head-to-head Match Play with their last round being Position Round. The Top Five will then advance to a Step Ladder Final and the 2015 Glover Masters Champion will be announced around 3 p.m.

Anyone interested in bowling on the tournament pattern, it will be put out Mon., Sept. 28, from 5pm-8pm at AMF Southwest Lanes (3610 Wible Road, Bakersfield). Cost will be just $1 per game.

The Glover Tournament Committee (GTC) is unique in that they all volunteer to put this event on and the only expense is paying the lineage to the center. All other expenses are donated. With this concept, all money generated each year for that event goes straight to that year's prize fund. This year the GTC is running an event raffle that features (2) Brunswick bowling balls, (2) Logo Infusion shirts, "The Game Changer" book by Mark Baker, "The System" DVD by Mark Baker. Tickets are being sold prior to the event to help generate more prize-fund money for this event and winners will be drawn on Sunday before the Top 5 finals.

For further information on this event, like Don Glover Masters Bowling on Facebook or go to www.geusbc.org.

Alberts wins First ABTA Title $1,800 at Bowlium

Gissendaner 2nd • $500 Parker 3rd $200 • ALL POTS Carry Over to Covina Bowl Saturday • Qualify 1:00-2:30-4:00 & 6:00PM • Semi Finals 8:00 PM Top 16 to Follow

MONTCLAIR - Steven Alberts stepped up and won his first ABTA title at the Bowlium and taking a tidy $1,800 on home to Apple Valley by downing upstart Gilbert Gissendaner in the title game. Cut scores were on lower side but fair to all. Men +53 and Ladies +19 and Super Seniors added were Sun Sundara +47, William Ele +43, and Karen Wade at +4. Top Qualifiers were Vuong Do +136 and Beth Borci +64. They receive paid entries to any regular event for the fine bowling.

Vuong and Beth drew for the Match Series 387 Winner with a $435. The Mystery Doubles 364 also no winner. So they carry-over to Covina Lanes. Estimated Match Series $1,400 and the Mystery Doubles est $3,800.

The 3-6-9 Pot carried over as Chris Slack got a $100 Consolation, last standing, missed on shot #1. So we go for $1,200 Saturday.

The semis began and we saw Steven Alberts lead the field +101 and in 2nd was Gil Gissen-daner +95. Steven will sit out and bowl for the Title with Gilbert entering the top 16 single elims in round two! Now Alberts drew a 194 for the Match Game and unmatched at $3,130. So we estimate the Match Game at $4,100 Saturday at Covina.

It took only a +37 including 3 guaranteed ladies to make the Single Elim Finals. Single Elims, TOP 16. Finalists losing in the first round in 10-16th places were Steven Wong, Jeff Taino, Stan Por, Christine Gonzalez, and Ace Chelsea. They got checks of $100 each.

6-9th places were Alan Aguilar, William Ele, Beth Borci, and Bethany Hudson! Round 3 eliminated were Darrow Tiongco, and Bob Selner. They finished in 4th and 5th.

Now down to top 3. Gilbert Gissendaner vs George Parker for the right to bowl Steven Alberts for the title! George lost his touch and had some bad luck as Gilbert advanced in a big way in a 220-185 win to bowl the title game. George was 3rd with nice bowling and $200.

The title game is on and through 5 frames Alberts had an open and Gil opened twice. Alberts led by 10 pins. Sean led by 20 as he had tossed a big three bagger. Both opened the 7th. Gilbert spared and Steven began his title run with a double and led by 29 and Gil opened the 10th and it was over but Steven struck out for good measure in a big 242-192 win and the $1,800 title! Great bowling on a very tough and fair condition at the Bowlium, especially by young Mr. Alberts. Congrats Steven!! Gilbert also bowled very well in the runner up position!! Congats Steven. The Perfect Game by Steve Felege

The Perfect Series by Glenn Allison

Imagine what it would be like to lift a car with your own two hands, discover a particle that travels faster than the speed of light, or do anything thought by others to be impossible. It would be personally gratifying to say the least, but now imagine that few have reason to believe you. Years pass and others accomplish the same things. Their achievements are embraced, but you become an obscure answer in, “Trivial Pursuit.”

That infuriating scenario is exactly what happened to Glenn Allison. On July 1, 1982 he became the first bowler to do “the impossible,” delivering 36 strikes in three consecutive games of sanctioned league competition. That is an indisputable fact.

On Sunday, September 20, 2015, at 11:45 AM PST, I called La Habra 300 Bowl and spoke directly to him to find out what actually transpired that day. This is what he told me:

Within an hour of the completion of the 900 series, Bob Ramirez, the association secretary, arrived to inspect the lanes. As he walked past Tom Miller, the desk clerk, he muttered, “This is f _ _ ing ridiculous!” (Tom later relayed that to Mr. Allison). Mr. Ramirez completed his task within the next hour and informed Glenn that the lanes had passed. He even showed the paperwork stating that fact.

The following morning, the lanes were reexamined by another ABC official (name unknown) who had been flown in from Milwaukee, Wisconsin by the ABC. He issued the final report stating that the lanes had NOT passed. The controversy was born.

That the USBC has decided to allow this 900 series to remain unsanctioned is the greatest mystery in bowling history. Why? Because the reasons behind that decision are unjustifiable. Those “official” excuses* are:

> The lanes were non-compliant.

> An official change to Glenn Allison’s 900 would also impact thousands of scores in that era.

> The USBC has a responsibility to enforce rules uniformly.

> The USBC can’t rewrite history and apply a different standard more than 30 years later.

Let’s take a closer look at those:

> The lanes were non-compliant. “Back in 1982, the rule book required an even coating of lane oil, or dressing in the sport’s parlance, for 35 to 40 feet after the foul line. The lanes on which Mr. Allison bowled his 900 were found to have noncompliant lane-oil application; in this case, inspection showed it to be unevenly applied.”

That conclusion, if accurately reported, is questionable. Were the lanes really noncompliant? Jeff Richgels (hall-of-fame bowler and writer of the bowling blog, “The 11th Frame”), in an interview on NPR (March 15, 2015) stated, “The ABC has never really been super definitive about exactly what they thought was wrong with the lanes. Back then it was more a judgment call...”

That in itself is interesting if we follow the timeline: The lanes were dressed, two shifts of leagues bowled (Mr. Allison tallied 578 in the first, the second set produced the 900), the lanes were inspected and approved, then the lanes are re-examined the following day.....and rejected.

The second inspection proves the denial of the award and official recognition of Glenn Allison, was the result of a “judgment call.” Checking a lane for oil compliance the day after it was applied is senseless.

The only way to accurately determine how oil was applied is to check it prior to the start of competition because bowling balls move/remove lane oil. On top of that, the dressing used in the early 80s was more prone to evaporation than today’s formulas and the lacquered wooden lanes were known to absorb some as well. The longer inspection is delayed, the more noncompliant the oil will become.

If the ABC wanted a valid second opinion, they should have brought in an inspector from a nearby association and had it done ASAP. Instead, they flew in a second inspector to perform the re-examination the next morning. Why they did this is unknown, but it was irresponsible. The measurements taken by that official were worthless, yet were used to deny recognition of a great milestone in bowling.

The bottom line is this: Because the second inspection is apparently the one upon which the ABC’s official decision was based, no incontrovertible evidence exists today concerning the compliance of the lanes. Since the USBC is steadfast in its defense of decisions made that day, does that mean we are stuck with the ABC’s official judgment? No, it doesn’t.

It is also a fact the second ABC official determined, by default, that La Habra 300 Bowl had not followed the rules regarding lane dressing on the night in question. The implication is

Mr. Allison’s performance resulted from the house applying an oil pattern which promoted higher scores. (Unexplained is how that accounts for a 578 in Mr. Allison’s first set or generally lower scores on the night of his perfecto.)

But one indication exists that both officials actually approved of the lanes that night. If the man from Milwaukee truly believed the lanes were noncompliant, it would have been his duty to cite La Habra 300 for disobeying the rules when they applied the oil. That was a serious offense back then.

Was a citation issued? No such record exists. By not citing La Habra 300 Bowl, he was either endorsing them or was derelict in his duty. That alone should be grounds to overturn the judgment against Glenn Allison’s 900.

Could either of the ABC’s officials have had a private agenda? A trusted source told me that Bob Ramirez had vowed to never sanction a 900 series because he believed it to be impossible. Add that to his expletive utterance and we must wonder, “What happened to his report?” Did he change it or was it destroyed?

Hearsay evidence cannot be used to reverse legally binding decisions, but certainly, that official’s history should have been included in the evidence reviewed by the USBC. Was it? Did he have a history of citing La Habra 300 Bowl for such violations? That is unknown at this time. What is known is that honor-scores had recently been approved at this establishment. Did the USBC look at those records? Only a thorough investigation of all the records will bring closure to this matter.

What about the Milwaukee-based inspector? Was he sent to gather useless data to preserve the “Holy Grail” of bowling? This article is not intended to influence this controversy via hearsay or conspiracy theory; it is to question the wisdom of the USBC’s closure of this matter.

Takeaway: Lane compliance is certainly a valid reason to approve/disapprove an honor-score. In the case of Glenn Allison’s 900 series, no valid proof exists to support the denial of a sanction for his achievement. On the contrary, indications are that the lanes were compliant. It is baffling that the USBC continues to support the judgment of an official who was obviously derelict in his duty on that occasion. His opinion should not be used as grounds for denying an award of such gravity.

> An official change to Glenn Allison’s 900 would also impact thousands of scores in that era. This type of argument is used by organizations desperate to make uncomfortable situations go away. On the surface it sounds reasonable, but in reality makes no sense at all. This debate is not about scores from that era; it is about one score, by one man, at one center, on one particular day. If others feel slighted by the ABC, they should have the right to make their cases to the USBC also. I find it unreasonable to believe any such floodgates would suddenly open because of this matter.

Takeaway: This non-issue is an illegitimate reason for preventing Glenn Allison’s recognition as this sport’s Sir Edmund Hillary. The flawed logic makes this excuse irrelevant.

The USBC has a responsibility to enforce rules uniformly. Yes, it does! This is the best argument in favor of reversing the ABC decision of 1982. Bowling honor-scores was much more challenging on July 1, 1982 than it is today. Lane surfaces were macroscopically uneven, lane conditioning was imprecise, and balls were not technological marvels. Back then, 300’s were rare and an 800 series was almost unheard of. Today, both are common.

The fact that the USBC won’t sanction Mr. Allison’s history-making performance under more primitive conditions is the height of hypocrisy. They have now sanctioned so many 900s that the achievement is barely noteworthy. Where is the uniformity in that?

“Even USBC officials, who laud Mr. Allison’s graciousness and support for the game despite the controversy, allow that the 900 series would count were it to be bowled today.” Well then, the USBC should apply today’s rules UNIFORMLY, recognize that Mr. Allison’s set was nothing short of miraculous given the circumstances, and sanction his 900.

Perhaps they believe they can’t because enforcing rules uniformly is impossible if the rules keep changing. Consider this: Sanctioning dozens of perfect series after easing the pathway to them makes it more necessary than ever to correct this injustice to Glenn Allison.

Takeaway: There is flawed logic behind this excuse as well. It reeks of a false agenda and is embarrassing to the integrity and membership of our sport!

The USBC can’t rewrite history and apply a different standard 30 years later. Yes, it can! That’s one of the reasons the USBC exists; to ensure the perfect game’s history and future are unblemished. Part of that responsibility requires revisiting the past and correcting errors. This is not about rewriting history, it’s about recognizing it. Mr. Allison’s 900 series is a fact and that’s all there is to it.

Takeaway: The USBC has painted itself into a corner by declaring this issue to be settled. That is regrettable but also an arguable point. Sometime in the future new leadership will see things differently and do the right thing. Why wait?

On September 3, 2015, La Habra 300 Bowl presented a commemorative ring to Mr. Allison. It was created by the company that makes the 900 rings for the USBC. Because this action was not endorsed by our sanctioning body, the USBC logo had to be removed. What a shame.

Let’s recap the situation. That Glenn Allison rolled the first 900 series during league play is a fact. That the ABC refused to sanction that series is a fact. That the USBC has refused to overturn the judgment of its failed predecessor is also a fact.

Now, imagine that you are Glenn Allison. Would you be satisfied? I hope you said, “No!” because it could happen to you as well. When an indisputable achievement goes unrecognized by a failed organization and its replacement digs in its heels based on questionable, decades-old “evidence,” something is wrong.

Ideally, the USBC should retract their closure of this matter, reexamine the “evidence,” admit that mistakes were made, and award (without reservation) the “first” 900 ring to Mr. Glenn Allison. Is that likely to happen? Probably not because, as they say in football, “Lacking irrefutable evidence, the ruling on the field stands!”

So..... can anything be done to rectify this travesty? Of course! For every problem there’s a solution. The answer to this dilemma is simple: A 900 ring, sanctioned by the USBC, should be presented to Mr. Glenn Allison to commemorate his achievement of the first RECORDED 900 series in the history of league bowling.

Takeaway: Glenn Allison deserves to be recognized by the USBC as the first to bowl a legitimate 900 series in league competition. If the previous advice were to be followed, he would get that without the USBC having to change its position. The USBC would not have to sanction the series; it would sanction the ring which commemorates THE ACHIEVEMENT (That might mean creating a new award category, but, after all, that is one of their jobs!).

While not the ideal solution, all goals would be met. This stain on bowling history would be erased and as a bonus, Glenn Allison would also become the first bowler to receive two ultimate awards for the same feat. If any person has ever deserved it, this man does!

One final thought to consider:

- Did Glenn Allison do anything wrong? No! In fact he was perfect not only on the approach but in how he has conducted himself since that night.

- Did the ABC do anything wrong? Absolutely! Denying recognition of Mr. Allison’s achievement using flawed techniques and poor judgment is reprehensible.

- Did the USBC do anything wrong? Yes! Perpetuating the male bovine colonic discharge of the failed ABC is like being an accomplice to a crime.

Isn’t it ironic that the one who did nothing wrong is the one being punished?

Winston Churchill said, “You can always count on Americans to do the right thing - after they’ve tried everything else.” The governing authority that collects our money and makes the rules which guide our sport have shirked this responsibility long enough. It’s about time the USBC proved Mr. Churchill to be spot on.

P.S. Note to the USBC: If funding for the ring is an issue, send me the bill!

CONGRATULATIONS! ALBERT MITTERBAUER

CONGRATULATIONS! ALBERT MITTERBAUER who bowled a 720 series August 27th bringing his career total to three, and all certified. Interestingly enough, Albert was born in Austria where bowling didn't exist. Albert migrated to Buffalo, NY in 1962. While there 22 years he merely took it up as a recreational sport. It was in the 1980's he became seriously involved after relocating to Southern California. Albert had a 300 game in 2008 but unfortunately it was in an Uncertified League.

J.A.T. Leads Three 9-1 Teams After Two Weeks

by David Yamauchi

DOWNEY — The Brunswick Invitational took to the lanes for Week 2 of the league and the second week on the house shot the scoring was definitely up from Week 1. The new lane surface seemed to have stumped less people as strikes were all over the monitors.

In the “A” match J.A.T. bagged four wins as Charlie and the Gang managed to sneak out Game 3 910-890 despite their 3rd man lighting it up with a 161. DeeRonn Booker was the highlight putting up a 259-289-259=807 series to lead the league. Gabe Martinez paced his team with a strong 750 in the anchor spot.

In the “B” match, Paul Varela’s Team 8 kept it going with 4 wins on a consistent 2522 series. David Wilk’s Team 10 did manage Game 2 with a nice 910 game but just fell short for totals. Eric Snow stayed hot with a 719 set while Wilk paced his team at 684. Team 8 will be in the “B” match next week with their 9-1 record.

Matt Schermerhorn’s Team 6 got no love getting blanked by Billy Myers’ Team 12 despite Matt’s 746 set and a second consecutive appearance by the “not bowling” Mikey Villarreal. Sonny Dew led Team 12 with a strong 716 set to help set up the sweep. Team 12’s 5 wins moves them to the “A” match next week with J.A.T.

Kevin Valmonte’s Team 13 got back in the groove with a 4 win night against Arnold Cheesman’s Team 18. Herbert Jones raised his average again with a nice 715 set while Kevin Valmonte bounced back after a rough first week with a 705 to anchor his team. 4 wins moves Team 13 to the “B” match next week as the high of the 8-2 teams.

Eddie Van Daniker’s Team 15 took 4 wins from Sam Hitchcock’s Team 19. Bobby Hornacek lit the up with a nice 690 series to lead Team 15 while Hitchcock’s 645 wasn’t enough to take more than one.

The new Team 20 anchored by Lee Liu started off hot taking 4 games from Vernon Adam’s Team 17. Lee Liu blasted 751 and Joe Jimenez put up 750 for Team 20 while Vern led Team 17 with a 681 series.

Jon Diso’s Forest Lanes bunch took 4 wins from Kevin Gagnon’s Team 16. Robert Renko led Forest with a nice 722 set bolstered by Diso’s 709. Ben Smith led the Team 16 bunch with a 695 series.

Charles Zelaya’s Team 5 got swept by Mike Cammarata’s Team 11 though Cammarata handed over his spot to sub Jonathan Huezo who took full advantage blasting a 763 set that was too much for Team 5 to overcome. Carl Stokes led Team 5 with a 658 set in the losing effort.

Bobby Campagnale’s Team 3 came back after a dismal first week to take 4 from Leonard Ruiz’s Team 14. Bobby rang his way to a nice 721 series to lead his team while staying on his feet this week. Herman Ferguson’s 714 wasn’t enough but his 265 did help them take Game 1.

Down in the corner, Alhambra Coin Center swept past Andre Pitchford’s Team 2 by barely taking Game 1 then cruising home. Doug Kempt’s 702 paced Alhambra Coin Center while Pitchford’s 675 was high for Team 2.

After two weeks three teams are 9-1 setting up some great matches next week. League average was up led by 807- DeeRonn Booker for the men and 661- Katrina Fujikami for the women. Sidepots went to Kevin Gagnon 279 and Doug Kempt 278 for $63 each while the Game 3 Super Pot went to Eric Snow 289 for $189. Financial Advisors Pot went to DeeRonn Booker $215 and Joe Jimenez/Doug Kempt 278 $50 each. DeeRonn also posted the first honor score of the season wearing out that Brunswick Nirvana for a nice 807 series.

Come on down and see some of So. Cal’s greatest bowlers battle every Monday night at 8:30 at Del Rio Lanes. See you all next week!
