Andrew Anderson, Kamron Doyle Win 2018 PBA Top Player Honors

Tom Smallwood earns Steve Nagy Sportsmanship Award; Chris Barnes wins Tony Reyes Memorial Award

AUSTIN. TX - Secondyear Professional Bowlers Association member Andrew Anderson of Holly, Mich., has been selected as the 2018 Chris Schenkel PBA Player of the Year, and 20-year-old Kamron Doyle of Brentwood, Tenn., has won 2018 Harry Golden PBA Rookie of the Year honors, PBA CEO and Commissioner Tom Clark announced Tuesday.

In a live-stream presentation airing on Xtra Frame on FloBowling. Clark also announced Tom Smallwood of Saginaw, Mich., has been selected by his fellow Go Bowling! PBA Tour competitors as winner of the 2018 Steve Nagy Sportsmanship Award while 2018 PBA Hall of Fame inductee Chris Barnes of Double Oak, Texas, has been selected as the PBA Tony Reyes Memorial Community Service Award winner

Anderson and Dovle will be recognized on national television during the PBA Clash telecast that will air on FOX on Sunday, Dec. 23. Smallwood and Barnes will receive their awards during the PBA Hall of Fame induction ceremonies that will be live-streamed by Xtra Frame on FloBowling on Saturday, Jan. 5, from the International Bowling Museum and Hall of Fame in Arlington, Texas.

Anderson, a 23-yearold right-hander who is still pursuing a degree in elementary education, returned to Go Bowling! PBA Tour competition in 2018 highly motivated after not being selected to participate in the PBA League Elias Cup competition and won a pair of titles: the United States Bowling Congress Masters (his first major) and the Xtra Frame Greater Jonesboro Open on his way to winning the 2018 Harry Smith PBA Points Leader award. He cashed in 16 of the 19 events he entered and had five top-five finishes, including a third-place finish in the PBA Tournament of Champions. He is the second-youngest player ever to win the award, behind only the late Billy Hardwick who was 22 when he was selected as PBA's first Player of the Year in 1963.

Anderson out-distanced runner-up EJ Tackett of Bluffton, Ind., the 2016 Player of the Year, and Dom Barrett of England in voting by his fellow PBA members and veteran bowling writers. In one of the most balanced seasons in recent memory, 12 players qualified by rule to make the Player of the Year ballot and 10 of the candidates received votes.

Doyle also dominated voting, winning "rookie" continued on page 8

Bowling Scores Big Win During Macy's Thanksgiving Parade

NEW YORK - The sport of bowling got a tremendous amount of exposure Thursday morning as the Go Bowling entry into the 92nd Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade was shown on two national television networks.

The giant bowling ball, bowling pins and bowling shoes moving display was talked about on NBC by Savanah Guthrie, Hoda Kotb and Al Roker for a full minute providing essentially a commercial for recreational bowling.

Just minutes later on CBS, hosts Kevin Frazier and Keltie Knight of Entertainment Tonight fawned over the Go Bowling display for nearly 90 seconds.

So why is this important for the sport of bowling? The Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade is one of the most watched televidraws tens of millions of viewers

Families across the country were tuned in watching and even if a small fraction of them decide to go bowling as a result of seeing this promotion, it would be positive for the sport.

Go Bowling, the title sponsor of the PBA Tour, is the marketing arm of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America and aims to promote the sport to recreational bowlers and get more people to walk through the doors of bowling centers across the country.

In the past, including earlier this year, Go Bowling has spent a tremendous amount of money sponsoring NASCAR races and drivers.

However, one could argue the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade was one of their best promotional efforts yet although it surely came at a heavy cost.

Thursday was a big win for the sport of bowling.

Talk About A Dream... Try To Make It Real

by Dave Williams

For the past couple of years, I have enjoyed researching and updating all of the new and remodeled bowling centers happening all across the United States. From areas as cosmopolitan as New York, to those as remote as Temecula, the number of sites participating is a true renaissance of the game.

So, it is with little wonder that when I heard about the remodeling of Asbury Lanes, in the New Jersey shore town of Asbury Park, featuring special guest Bruce Springsteen at the Grand Reopening, I became quite interested.

The distance from my home in Edison, New Jersey, to Asbury Park is about 35 miles, so I contacted former California Bowling News editor Bob Johnson, who now heads Bowling Center Management (BCM) Magazine, to see if he might be interested in an article about the remodeled Asbury Lanes.

Johnson got together with Gianmarc Manzione, editor of Bowlers Journal International (BJI), and the two decided that the feature would be more well suited to the 34th BJI Architecture and Design Awards issue slated for November.

After doing a bit of research, I discovered that the remodel was being funded by iStar, a publicly held company that had purchased Asbury Lanes, and was also instrumental in the acquisition of 58 bowling centers from Brunswick for the Bowlmor AMF chain.

As I eagerly awaited the grand reopening date, I contacted iStar and gained some information and high-resolution photos from Mara Weiss, Senior Account Executive for NJF Public Relations, that would assist me in the formation of an article.

Mara had relayed to me that the center had become a punk rock venue near the turn of the century, with live music acts performing over the top of the bowling lanes on a makeshift wooden stage. I remember younger friends of mine, a troop of employees and friends at Starbuck's Coffee, that on occasion would ask me to accompany them to the venerable site in those years.

Then the music died in 2015, with the closure of Asbury Lanes. The assumption was that the lanes would be razed and replaced with the usual condominiums or a shopping mall. But iStar's CEO, Jay Sugarman, had a different plan.

In fact, Sugarman could be the "white knight" that bowling has been looking for the past few decades. He's a graduate of Princeton, where he was nominated for valedictorian and received the Paul Volcker Award in Economics. He went on to earn an MBA from Harvard Business School.

Along the way he worked for some of the most powerful names in the world of finance, including the private investment funds of the Burden, Vanderbilt and Ziff families. Oh, and did I tell you, he happens to be a passionate bowler?

As fate would have it, I never made it to the Grand Reopening of Asbury Lanes on Monday, June 18th, 2018, as my back and sciatica reminded me of their importance in my life and well-being, and I was bedridden for a two-week period.

But the aforementioned Bob Johnson and Gianmarc Manzione handled the affair quite nicely with their feature articles in the August 2018 issue of Bowling Center Management, and the November 2018 issue of Bowlers Journal International.

Bruce Springsteen summed up the Grand Reopening in a June issue of Variety, when he remarked, "I never thought I'd live to see the day when it came back to life in such a vibrant and strong fashion. It could easily have become a mini-mall or a wall of condos, but it didn't, and there's still a place there; it's still unique in its own right."

Who knows... maybe we will see a new name in Bruce Springsteen's greatest hits of all time? He could call it Asbury Park Lanes. I'm sure that the owners would not object.

PBA REGIONAL UPDATE: FOY WINS SECOND REGIONAL TITLE IN MARYLAND

FREDERICK – Two-handed player Tim Foy Jr. of Seaford, Del., earned his second career PBA Regional title when he defeated Gary Haines of West Babylon, N.Y., 189-178, in the title match of the PBA Bowlers Discount Eastern Open presented by Track at Terrace Lanes in Frederick, Md..

Haines, who was also looking for his second regional title, chose to finish the match last on the right lane. After Foy failed to strike in his 10th frame, Haines needed to post a strike/spare to win, but his first shot went high, resulting in a split. Foy, whose previous win came in 2014, earned $2,500.

In the semifinal matches, Foy defeated Jeff Ripic of Apalachin, N.Y., 200-169, while Haines eliminated Ryan Ciminelli of Clarence, N.Y., 220-212.

• Lee Brosius of Ashburn, Va., defeated Darryl Bower of Middletown, Pa., 633-589, in the three-game total pinfall title match to win his sixth PBA Regional title in the PBA50 PlyGems Windows Rocky Mount South Open at Rocky Mount (Va.) Bowling Center.

After eliminating Bill Vannoy of Jacksonville, N.C., 597-517, in the three-game semifinal round, Brosius rolled games of 227-181, 201-222 and 205-186 for his 44-pin win over Bower for the title after Bower advanced thanks in part to a 10th frame open by Joe Scarborough of Charlotte, N.C., 564-552, in their semifinal match.

- The November PBA Regional calendar comes to a close over the Nov. 30-Dec. 2 weekend with the Knob Hill/MJK Pro Shop Challenge (a non-champions event) presented by Brunswick at Knob Hill Country Lanes in Manalapan, N.J.; the PBA50 Victory Lanes Midwest Open presented by Allstate in Kankakee, Ill.; and the re-scheduled Break Point Alley Member/Non-Member Doubles in Tavares, Fla.
- For complete PBA Regional schedules, rules and entry information, visit pba.com, open the "schedules" tab and click on PBA Regional Tours to find the event(s) in your area...and remember, you can follow "live scoring" for all PBA Regional events on pba.com (easily accessible for Apple and Android device users using the PBA app).

fesses she's actually Cathy Fazio Pia and that name should resonate with bowling aficionados.

Buzz Fazio happened to be one of the greatest bowlers ever and Cathy is Buzz's granddaughter. Buzz, nicknamed the "Buzzer," is actually Basil "Buzz" Fazio but there was no mistaking his audience-pleasing theatrics when he starred on TV from the early 1940s to the late 1960s.

Buzz was a six-time ABC (American Bowling Congress) and two-time PBA (Professional Bowlers Assn.) champion and was ranked as the 31st greatest bowler of the 20th century by magazine Bowlers Journal in 1999.

Cathy says she watched her grandfather on TV as a young girl; her parents would attend the tournaments.

"Believe it or not, I never bowled with him recreationally," Cathy says. "He traveled incessantly, but my dad was his protégé and I bowled with my dad a lot and he would teach me. [My dad] also was employed at my grandfather's pro bowling shop in Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan."

To Cathy, Buzz acted like a normal granddad – not the autograph-writing celebrity that he was.

"I was actually a young child when he would come to visit us — we lived in metropolitan Detroit and I remember him mostly as a grandfather who would come over with his great big grin and we would say, 'Hi Grandfather Buzz!', and he would shake his pockets and he always would bring us chocolate gold coins."

Cathy eventually realized her granddad was a superstar howler

"I think it dawned on me in 1965 that he was popular because my dad worked at General Motors and was working in Germany and we lived there for two years." Cathy says. "One weekend my parents announced, 'We're driving to Munich to a bowling alley.'

"We arrived and there was this big crowd of people and I remember my Mom just pushing me up and she said, 'Go up there, go up there, say Hi, say Hi!' It was supposed to be an attempt to surprise my grandfather, but I remember being really overwhelmed and then wading through the crowd and then looking up and there was my grandfather, signing autographs – it was kind of surreal."

Cathy remembers Buzz had a keen sense of humor.

"I asked him once, 'How are you feeling, Grandpa?' He quickly answered, 'With my hands, Dear. With my hands!"

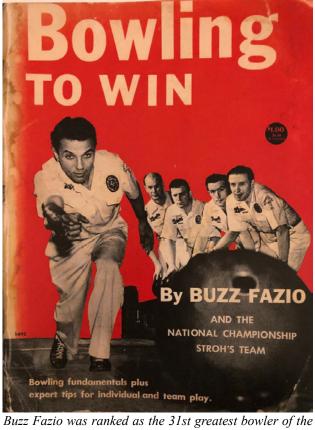

Buzz died in 1993 and Cathy (and her brother Brian) are carrying on the family tradition of bowling.

Brian is a longtime bowler who has aspirations of qualifying for the PBA Senior Tour. He averages 215.

As for her bowling, Cathy says: "The only thing admirable about my bowling career is that I've been doing it for 55 years."

Still, Cathy recently put on a show in her league by blasting a turkey right before Thanksgiving – that's three strikes in a row. And she says her all-time game high is probably about 225.

Her granddad no doubt would be proud.

Buzz Fazio was ranked as the 31st greatest bowler of the 20th century by Bowlers Journal.

PBA, SLAPITON OFFER NEW LINE OF CUSTOM WALL DECALS IN TIME FOR HOLIDAYS

The PBA and SlapItOn, a company that produces custom vinyl wall decals of sports stars, have entered into a licensing agreement to create a line of decals featuring a number of PBA and PBA50 stars in time for the holiday season.

The large vinyl decals come as 3.5 x 4-foot sheets that feature removable action figures that readily attach to most smooth, flat surfaces. No adhesive is required. The decals are safe on walls, and can be removed and moved without difficulty. Quality vinyl also makes them stand up well to wear-and-tear.

TERRY and SANDY LUKENS "SCORE BIG"

TEMECULA – "The family that bowls together stays together". That's a fact. I know it's true because I know of at least five couples who bowl together and have been married for thirty years. I also know of at least another five "Bowling Couples" who have been married for twenty years.

Terry and Sandy Lukens are a "Bowling Couple" who have been together for years and are also very good bowlers. They proved that a few weeks ago when they both "SCORED BIG" at Temecula Lanes in the Senior 565 Scratch League.

Husband Terry used a Track Logic (ball) to roll a big 706 (247-227-232). No surprise because Terry has been averaging over 200 for years and regularly rolls big scores.

Terry has been bowling for thirty years and has highs of 300 and 799. Whatever Terry does on the lanes never surprises me. He is a smooth stroker. He reminds me of past PBA stars David Ozio and Steve Wunderlich. When Terry is "ON" any score is achievable.

Wife Sandy's "BIG SCORE" was a 664 (212-238-214) rolled with a Storm Marvel Pearl. She is currently averaging 183 after booking 172 last season. Her career high series is a 713.

Sandy has been bowling since High School. She is an experienced league bowler who stresses scoring consistency. The majority of her league scores are seldom below her average. Scoring consistency is her calling card. Her consistency make her a great team bowler. She knows the foundation of team winning is scoring consistency.

Terry and Sandy are bowling in their first league at Temecula Lanes and love it there. They are grateful for the work manager WAYNE PHELPS does to make the house a great place to bowl. They also want to thank DARRON PETERS of Rolling Rock Pro Shop for his equipment recommendations and drilling expertise.

The Perfect Game

by Steve Felege

A Love Story

Over the years, it has been my privilege to occasionally write articles for the California Bowling News. These articles are always bylined, "The Perfect Game," for a reason. It is NOT because, as a coach, I want to teach everyone how to roll a 300 (which I do). The real reason for these articles is to cover a sport that truly is the perfect game. Carol Mancini and I even wrote an article* which mentioned all the reasons for that designation. Recently, I discovered one more......

Their real names are Gary and Lisa. She is a "babe" and he is a "stud." They're as beautiful a couple as you will ever find at a bowling center. I have bowled alongside them for several years; always thinking them to be in their mid forties. Boy, was I wrong! As it turns out, Gary is a retired teacher; he's 66 years old! I know they raised one child, but not much more. One thing I do know for certain is that both are super friendly, and easily brought to laughter. They are always fun to bowl against.

I first met this couple a immediately apparent that cial about them. It wasn't an came to this conclusion afwould gently remind Gary lead him up onto the apthe ball and face him tohe was "good-to-go." This and every time it's Gary's

It is obvious that he was the fact is, he still is. Afhowever, he will stand at result. On his own, he will back to the ball-return and few years ago, and it was there was something speaura or anything like that. I ter watching the way Lisa that it was his turn to bowl, proach, place his hand into ward the pins. From there, scene plays itself out each once a very good bowler; ter unleashing each shot, the foul line and stare at the eventually make his way wait for Lisa. She is, and always will be, there for him. I have never witnessed such patience, dedication, and......LOVE! The center in which we bowl plays "Oldies" music for our league (I have no idea why). Last week, during league play, the song on the PA system was by Sonny and Cher. It was the classic, "I Got You, Babe!" I glanced over to see Gary and Lisa looking into each other's eyes and sharing a kiss. We should all be so lucky.

Gary has a diagnosis of "Early-Onset Alzheimer's Disease." Despite, or perhaps because of that, he and Lisa bowl in leagues every Monday and Wednesday. Their son brings Gary to the bowling center for practice whenever he can.

In the three years I have known them, there has been no apparent progression of Gary's affliction. While no one can say with absolute certainty that bowling has anything to do with that, there is no doubt that this sport adds to the quality of their lives, and Lisa is determined to keep him active in it. If this love story isn't the greatest testament to bowling being termed, "The Perfect Game," I don't know what is.

The California Bowling Writers has adopted a new charity!

Operation Freedom Paws nonprofit organization was founded by "California Bowler and Veteran" Mary Cortani in 2010 that has provided service dogs and training support to veterans and others who suffer from post-traumatic stress syndrome, complex PTSD, traumatic brain injury and other physical, neurological, psychological and mobility needs. According to experts, service dogs help empower people with disabilities to live quality

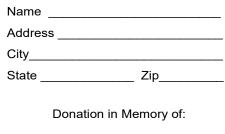

Operation Freedom Paws carefully matches clients with their specially chosen four-legged companions, most of which come from rescue shelters. The partners then begin a 48-week program which trains the clients to train their own dogs. At the end of the program, they're certified together as service dog teams.

The charity for 2018 kicked off on June 10, at the CUSBC meeting – Make donations payable to CBW and mail to Treasurer Tina Martin, 57 Shields Lane, Novato, CA 94947-3877.

honors easily over Thailand's Annop Arromsaranon, the only first-year PBA member to win a title (the PBA-World Bowling Tour Busan Cup in South Korea). Doyle cashed in seven of the 15 events he entered, and had a personalbest third-place finish in the Xtra Frame Gene Carter's Pro Shop Classic in Middletown, Del.

Doyle's arrival into the PBA Tour ranks has been highly-anticipated since 2010 when he became the youngest bowler ever to cash in a PBA Regional tournament at the age of 12, followed by becoming the youngest bowler ever to cash in the U.S. Open two years later as a 5-foot-5, 105-pound, 14-year-old eighth grader.

Smallwood, a 41-year-old country music fan and avid deer hunter, is one of a handful of PBA Tour players to win the Steve Nagy Sportsmanship Award more than once. The 2016 Nagy recipient has earned the admiration of his fellow players despite his quiet, unassuming ability to beat them when the pressure is on. His three PBA Tour titles include a pair of majors: an historic win in the 2009 PBA World Championship after losing his job in the auto industry, and a pressure-packed four-match climb to the title in the 2018 Barbasol PBA Players Championship. He has four additional top-five finishes in majors among his 23 career championship round appearances.

The Nagy sportsmanship award has been presented annually since 1966, the year of Nagy's death, honoring his memory as a PBA Hall of Famer and founding member whose guidance in the PBA's formation years was considered critical to the tour's success.

Barnes, and his wife, PWBA champion and USBC Hall of Famer Lynda Barnes, have been in a "give back" frame of mind for years. For starters, the Chris Barnes Thanksgiving Classic has awarded more than 260 youth bowlers with more than $200,000 in scholarship assistance since its first event in 2004. Across the years, more than 3,200 young bowlers have participated in the annual holiday event. Even more noticeable has been his involvement in support of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation since the couple's son, Troy, was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes in 2008. Chris and Lynda played a key role in the formation of Strike Out Diabetes within six months of Troy's diagnosis, and they have devoted non-stop attention to the JDRF efforts ever since, raising more than $375,000 to assist with creating awareness and advancing education in the fight against juvenile diabetes. The PBA Tony Reyes Memorial Community Service Award was founded in 2013 to recognize charitable or community service projects undertaken by an active PBA member. The award is named in honor of the PBA Tour champion who lost his life in an automobile accident in 2012.

Editors Note: Through the advancements in technology, Andrew Anderson of Holly, Mich., had just de-planed in Hong Kong, where he will bowl with Team USA in the World Bowling Men's Championships later this week, and was able to watch PBA CEO & Commissioner Tom Clark announce on FloBowling that he had won the 2018 Chris Schenkel PBA Player of the Year award. Anderson immediately send Clark a note:

"I sat in the airport after getting off before going through customs or anything to have WiFi," Anderson noted. "Thank you so much. I had two agents asked if I was okay because I had tears in my eyes at the airport so that's embarrassing. Really appreciate the way you explained my year, quote the heartbreak in Indy, but could only go up from there."

Keystone Extends Their Lead With Two Weeks To Go

DOWNEY - Teams battled Monday to get in position to make a run at the round with just two weeks remaining and 10 more points

In the featured "A" match, Keystone Lanes put their strong 16-4 start up against Buddy's Bowling Supply whose 4 points last week bumped J.A.T. from the top match by one win.
