Experts Select Earl Anthony as Greatest Player in PBA History

SEATTLE—The late Earl Anthony, who left an indelible legacy on the Professional Bowlers Association Tour as its first career millionaire, was announced as the greatest player in the PBA's first 50 years Sunday, capping the tour's weeklong 50th anniversary celebration at Red Rock Resort, Casino and Spa.

Walter Ray Williams Jr. of Ocala, Fla., the man who finally eclipsed Anthony's total of 43 career PBA titles, finished second in voting conducted by a national panel of bowling experts.

Earl "would have been thrilled, very honored," said Susie Anthony, the late Earl Anthony's wife. "If Earl were here, he would probably say he wasn't deserving. He wouldn't turn it down, but he'd be very humble."

"He would have been humble in public, thrilled in private," Anthony's son Mike added.

Finishing second wasn't much of a disappointment to Williams, who now has 45 PBA titles, more than $4 million in career earnings and is still one of the PBA Tour's most feared competitors.

"I feel Earl's record is better than mine because it was more condensed," Williams said. "Earl bowled 14 years and 400 or so events. I've bowled well over 600 by now, maybe 700. Some people will argue Earl's era was tougher, but others will argue my era was tougher. The reality is, people threw the ball differently in each era. That's the way the game is played."

"I'm very pleased to be No. 2," Williams continued. "If Dick Weber would have had 45 titles at the time Earl was still bowling, he probably would have kept on bowling because he would have wanted someone to chase. As it was, he retired because no one had close to the number of titles he had. He didn't have anything to shoot for."

"Some people don't remember that Earl was Player of the Year in 1983, the year he retired," said Williams, who is one of the PBA's best historians. "And he didn't even bowl a full season that year."

Bowling News Mourns The Death of Rolf Gauger

story by John Jowdy

Rolf Gauger, one of bowling's best and most beloved instructors, passed away on December 31, 2008.

With Rolf's passing, bowling not only lost an outstanding coach/instructor/writer, but also one of the true gentlemen in our sport.

Rolf Gauger loved life. And his first love in life, next to his beloved wife Lin, was bowling.

The Rolf Gauger sage is one of epic proportions. He was born in Germany during the Adolph Hitler regime. At the age of 10, his parents managed to escape to the United States and found comfort in Chicago, a place Rolf would consider home. At age 14, Rolf's father passed away. His mother said to him, "I don't expect you to be the man of the house. That is too big a responsibility for your age, but I do want you to stay out of trouble, keep up with your studies, and be good so I don't have to worry about you. Take good care of your sister (who was three years old) and your

Page's Miscue Helps Allen Win H&R Block Tournament of Champions

LAS VEGAS—Patrick Allen won the Professional Bowlers Association's H&R Block Tournament of Champions at Red Rock Lanes Sunday, but he didn't feel very good about it.

The Wesley Chapel, Fla., left-hander slipped past his fellow southpaw, close friend and Lumber Liquidators PBA Tour roommate Rhino Page of Topeka, Kan., 267-263, to win his second career major championship and his second title in three weeks. It meant a $50,000 payday and a two-year PBA Tour exemption in the crowning event of the PBA's 50th Anniversary Gala week.

Allen had a hard time shaking off the fact that his buddy basically handed him the glory by making an errant shot on his second shot in the 10th frame. Needing only a nine-count and spare after striking on his first shot in the final frame, Page — the PBA's reigning Rookie of the Year — missed the headpin, knocking down four pins and his dream of winning his first major title disappeared.

"Rhino got the ball a little too far left. It came off his hand with nothing on it," Allen said. "I could see it was a bad shot."

"I knew the shot was in trouble when it came off my hand," Page said. "I got distracted with the time clock, but sometimes you have to learn the hard way. I still had a great week. I'll take second after not making the cut the previous three weeks."

"He out-bowled me until that shot," Allen said. "I really feel for him. You don't win out here if you don't get some breaks, but that's not the way you want to win. I got a huge break two weeks ago against Walter Ray Williams Jr., but to be honest, I didn't feel as bad for Walter Ray. He's got 45 titles. You have to get breaks to beat him."

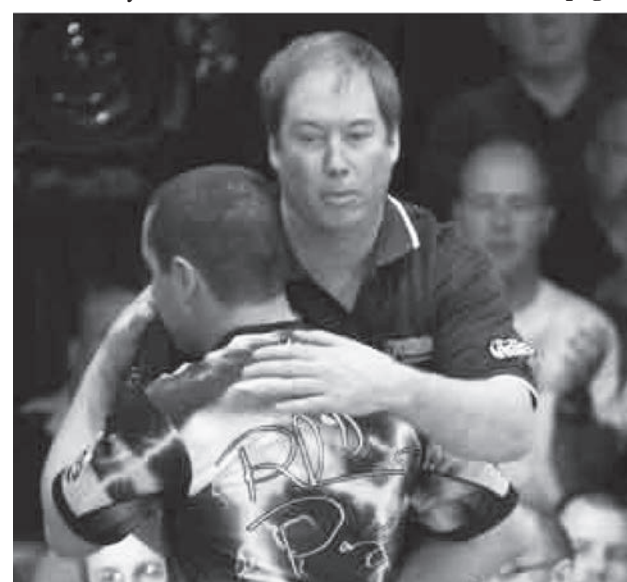

"Over the past few weeks, everything has been going my way," Allen added. "It was an honor to be here the whole week. Winning the Tournament of Champions, especially this week, is something I'll never forget. It was an honor just to be here this week."

The victory for Allen, who was the top qualifier making his PBA record-tying fifth consecutive television appearance, continued an amazing turn-around after a dismal start to the season.

"After the first six weeks, I was on the verge of bowling for my job. I was bowling terrible. But I had a practice session with Doug Kent and things began to click after that."

Right-hander Wes Malott of Pflugerville, Texas, defeated lefty Mike Scroggins of Amarillo, Texas, 276-203, in

TRAVEL
LEAGUE
By Alice
Meglemre

NORWALK—Back to Keystone Monday and star performer of the day was Jarra Gallina. Baby split conversions are never reported but Jarr's three splitaculars rate mention; 6-7, 4-7-10 and 5-10. High scorers this weeks features Roberta McNaught 212-563, Patti Givehchin 213-563, Cyndie Martin 201-558, Sue McGill and Gladcy Per-rin 529, Bernice Bennett 516, Dottie Lawn 514, Dee Phipps 503, Doris Lewis 203-502. 203-502, Margo McClain 497 and Aresia McGee 494.

A travel league usually results in lower averages than house league and such is the case in the Vegas league of 64 bowlers (plus subs) which shows the following: 9 members are scoring over averages, 3 are even and the 21 subs are posting 4 over and 2 even. Current high average leader is Doris Lewis at 179, 5 over her book and it's interesting to note that Doris does not bowl in any other leagues.

Doris' Hair Designs still tops league standings at 45 wins, but the 5th place team is only 4.2 games behind them. Keystone #2 has 44.1; Cerritos #2 and Westminster #1 tie at 41 wins, and David McNaught CPA has 40.2. The rest of the league trails at 38.2 down to tied cellar teams at 28.2.

The league will be making up games lost on November 17, at Fountain Bowl, when we return there on February 9. for a third time. The missing games will be made up prior to the regular scheduled date. Bowling will be at 9:30 a.m. on that day and bowlers are urged to be on time because we will be bowling 4 games.

NEXT WEEK: 10 A.M. Monday, February 2 at Valley View. Also, REMINDER-The final Vegas trip payment is due on Monday, however, those who pay league fees the first of each month may wait until February 9 to pay Vegas balances.

brother" (who was five years younger).

Rolf lived up to all his mother's expectations. He dearly loved his parents. When Rolf and Lin went to Germany in 2001, they visited Bad Pyrmont, where his father had built a beautiful home. It was still there. Rolf said it looked just like it did when they lived there. He knocked on the door and spoke to the people who resided there. They were thrilled to meet Rolf and Lin and invited them in so they could see the home again. It was one of the most gratifying times of Rolf's life.

Before meeting Lin, Rolf spent 20 years as a dance instructor in the Chicago area at the Arthur Murray and Fred Astaire Dance Studios. At the Astaire Studios, Rolf trained teachers. He traveled around to various studios and also put on annual balls studios conducted at hotels that included dinner dances. He coordinated the entire packages and also emceed the programs. He enjoyed his job and also did some nightclub shows with a dance partner.

Perhaps Rolf's dancing skills played a large part in his bowling instructional career. He was a master at teaching bowling beginners, as well as veterans of the game. He specialized in teaching proper timing and graceful, rhythmic approaches.

Subsequently, Rolf was employed in Chicago as Regional Director for Famous Artists School, a company that sold art courses with leads and in-home sales calls. In 1969 his company transferred him to Memphis, Tennessee as Southeast Regional Director. This is where he met and married Lin. In 1971, he was appointed Southwest Regional Director and moved to Los Angeles. Unfortunately, Famous Artists School went bankrupt, forcing Rolf to seek other employment. About this time, he had a friend, Skip Russell, who was assistant manager for Hollywood Legion Bowl. Russell was being promoted to manager and offered Rolf the opportunity to be his assistant manager. Rolf gladly accepted the position, which also led to the beginning of his bowling instructional career.

In 1986, the Gaugers moved to Phoenix. Coincidentally, Rolf's old buddy, Skip Russell was managing Brunswick Mission Bell Lanes. Not too surprising, Rolf began conducting bowling clinics at Brunswick Mission Bell. He not only established a reputation as a world-class instructor but also penned the most comprehensive instructions of any instructor in the country in the Arizona Desert Bowler publication.

Later, his instructional articles appeared in several other western states; the Las Vegas Ten Pin Journal and the California Bowling News. As his reputation expanded, he became a regular coach at Super School and a columnist for Bowling This Month magazine. I believe Rolf's instructional columns were the BEST in the country, particularly considering he did his own graphics and illustrations.

Personally, I lost more than a friend. Rolf was like a brother. I didn't know him except for reading his great bowling instructional columns in the Desert Bowler, a popular publication in Phoenix, Arizona. We became fast friends about 10 or 12 years ago after I called his home to see if he had any interest in coaching the Saudi Arabia National Team. I received a message from Ibrahim Juraifani, a bowling distributor and promoter from Jedda, Saudi Arabia. He asked me if I was interested in coaching the Saudi National bowling team that was willing to pay me $48,000 a year, plus a car, a home, all expenses, plus two annual paid trips back to the USA. I told him I had no interest in the job but promised to try to find someone who might consider it.

Inasmuch as I am half Arabic, (Lebanese) I knew I had to recommend someone who was not only highly qualified but especially one possessing high morals. Having read Rolf's articles for several years, he was the first person to come to my mind. However, like myself, Rolf had no interest in leaving home. He thanked me for my call but, more than that, he left a lasting impression on me with his warm words of appreciation. His response led me to recommend him to the late publisher of Bowling This Month, Bob Summerville; not only as a coach for Super School, but also as a featured columnist for the popular magazine. Not too surprising, Rolf became one of Bowling This Month's most popular writers and undoubtedly one of its finest coaches at BTM's annual Super School. He will be sorely missed.

It is often said, "life is not fair". Despite all his achievements in successfully coaching hundreds of bowlers, from beginners to juniors, to those of all ages, Rolf NEVER got his just dues. To my knowledge, he has not been elected to any Hall of Fame. He has never received the accolades bestowed on coaches like Fred Borden, Carmen Salvino, Rod Ross, Susie Minshew, Jeri Edwards or any coaches/instructors who have been ordained Gold Level status. I can assure anyone in bowling that Rolf Gauger was at least equal to and possibly more competent than any of them, including Tom Kouras and myself.

I have often written that nominees for Halls of Fame not only require credentials for selection but equally as important, require the publicity and support of friends. Unfortunately Rolf was never one to toot his own horn. Consequently, his outstanding instructional work was never heralded. In fact, until he joined the staff of Bowling This Month, he was a virtual unknown, except in his own little bailiwick.

Fortunately, and finally, by virtue of his association with Bowling This Month, he expanded his reputation among the top coaches and writers in the bowling world. One thing is absolutely certain. Rolf Gauger deserves Hall of Fame status, especially in the Phoenix and Arizona State Bowling Halls of Fame.

God Bless my beloved friend Rolf. May his soul rest in peace.

LAS VEGAS—The South Point was the Host of our Las Vegas Open. The ABTA Bowlers converged on the beautiful property, Lanes, Hotel, & Casino. 523 entrants entered the event producing great payoffs, and a lot of fun.

One bowler having a lot of fun, but working hard was Jeff Muzzarelli, the pride of Murphysboro, Illinois, who has been with us five years finally bowled well. In fact a most stupendous performance in winning six straight matches in the top 32 single elim finals to claim his first ABTA Title and a nice $6,450 for his fine bowling. He downed long time ABTA Member Will Samson in the title game to claim his first ABTA Title.

The economy didn't seem to slow down these bowlers who came to the South Point. As the 523 entrants established a $21,000 Prize Fund and Much Much More in Optional Pots, Brackets and Drawings with Cut scores on a medium side daily; (the highest +75 and lowest day at +38, ladies +28).

Due to the great turnout we saw 104 Bowlers advance to a full house of semi-finals. After skipping 18 lanes each game each bowler had a taste of each area of the house. Although all 106 are going to cash, their goal is to advance to the top 32 Single elimination finals which includes 7 guaranteed Women.

After the three game semis we had Men, and 7 guaranteed Women making +48 to make the top 32 Finals. Topping the field was the affable Will Samson of Rancho Cucamonga with a great +106 and "Ace" Cordero was in second at +96. Will gets the advantage of sitting out and bowling for the title. Cordero would enter in round two of the Single elims.

The Matches were on. Losing in round #1 - getting $180 - were William Au, Ancil Suase, Som Seng, Steve Smith, Chris Romero, James Sampson, Alan Basto, Robert Fales, Mary Andruczyk, Bedell Vasquez, Orpah Tolliver, Benito Yra, Renan Cruz, Fred Ringer and Donald Pulliam.

Round two saw Bob Godden, Ace Cordero, Butch Obrar, Dana LeCount, Greg Velarde, Jeremy Paulsen, Sol Cericos, and Roland Suase lost out and got checks for $200 finishing in 10-17th places.

Round three got contentious with Jeff Muzzarelli downing John Burton 227-209. Rick Valdez fell to Joe Page in a tight one 223-218. Anna Bautista edged Ada Wong 200-189. Marife Catalasan struck often downing Loretta Lawson 255-226. Losers finished 6-9 th places and $250 each.

Round four saw Muzzarelli bowl well downing Page 221-100. Ms. Bautista on her game downed Ms. Catalasan 221-207. Marife and Joe were 4th and 5th and $400 each with Anna and Jeff to meet for the right to bowl Will Samson for the title.

This game saw Jeff toss a pair of doubles to lead and win out over the pretty upstart Anna who gave it her all by 221-194. Anna was 3rd and $1,000 with Jeff on to the title game.

The Title Game was on and Will elected to lead off. He did with a strike but Jeff started with three strikes to lead after Will opened. Will doubled in frames 4-5 after Jeff had a split in the 5th to regain the lead and held it until he opened in frames 7-8 & 9. Jeff tossed a big double to ice the win in frames 9-10.

The title and $5,650 was his 201/223-156/193 and most deservedly so. Jeff won every match on his way to the title and was tossing strikes along the way. He is a great guy and we are proud to have him as our latest champion. He has been with us five years. Great Bowling Jeff!!

Nice bowling by a true gentleman Will Samson, who held the lead with three frames to go. He really bowled very well, and we are proud of him. Great Bowling Will and same can be said of Anna B, Marife and Joe Page!

Tourney Hi Qualifiers were Allan Basto +140 and Aido Wong led the ladies +118. They will get paid entries.

The optional doubles hit Basto again!! Yes, he teamed with Jun Cadenas and a 1418 good for $230 (they are ABTA League Members!) Kris Ordonez and Glen Dantes 2nd 1411 $210, Basto and Dan "the Man" Eguilos 3rd 1401 $190. We paid a huge 23 places in the $5.00 doubles. $2,490 at South Point.

The Match Game 3 was hit by five of our members (Mirage Floorboss), Robert Yado, James Samson, Brad Le Count, Vuong Do, and Jeff Taino. They split the $2,825 pot and got $565 each for their $5.00 entry.

The Match Series was NOT HIT as 523 entrants did not match a 670. So with the Carry Over of $2,068 we will estimate a $2,400 Match Series at Midtown Lanes in Los Angeles and for only a $2.00 entry fee!

The 3-6-9 worth $1,500 was not hit. Glen Tse shocked the large field and missed on shot 2. So we go for $1,600 at Midtown.

Pretty Tami Keathley was drawn for the Hot Shot Pot and had a chance at $150. She was not present but got a $25 consolation. We will have $175 in the Hot Shot Pot at Midtown and it is free to our bowlers. If you are there during the final squad and your name drawn, you have a free chance for the cash. Just toss two nine counts, if over 40 Hcp, 1 nine count and 10 Hcp and under, 3 nine counts to win.

ABTA Notes: Champion Jeff Muzzarelli hails from Murphysboro, Illinois and used a Complete NV for the win and is married to Nancy who is his #1 fan to be sure. He dedicates the win to his Mother Bernice Muzzarelli. He enjoys the ABTA and has bowled with us five years.

Will Samson is from Ranch Cucamonga and used a Cell drilled by Chris Hagin at Deer Creek Lanes, He is married to a pretty lady Vida and has 3 kids Jo Anne, James, and John.

They are ABTA Members. He thanks the ABTA and Bob for a wonderful Tournament, family, friends, Elvin Godoy, Renan and Cecille Cruz and Robert Yra and Beth and Anthony Borci.

Glenn Hizer Retires From Southern Los Angeles USBC Office Position

BELLFLOWER — Glenn Hizer, local USBC Executive Secretary for the past 12 years, retired December 31, 2008. When asked if he missed the office, he said, “Yes — but I miss visiting the bowling centers more”.

Born in Wisconsin on October 25, 1932, he still calls Wisconsin home and visited there recently. After graduating from High School, Glenn joined the Army and did 5 years duty.

Naturally, college was next on the agenda. Glenn studied engineering at the University of Wisconsin. In 1970, Glenn ventured to California and the Norwalk area where he worked on various new building structures.

In 1982, Glenn started bowling at Friendly Hills Lanes and Wonderbowl-Downey. After Wonderbowl closed, his league moved to Del Rio Lanes and he found a new home. Shortly after becoming a league bowler, Glenn was hit by a car which broke his leg. What better way to be around bowling with a broken leg than keeping score! His score keeping ability was rewarded with a plaque — naming him to the “Score Keepers Hall of Fame!!! (Any other members out there???)

In 1983, the Southeast District Y.A.B.A elected Glenn a director. Dealing with youth bowlers was gratifying and often a one man operation.

Obviously being elected to the Southeast A.B.C. was the next step. In 1997, the South East A.B.C. and the Long Beach A.B.C. merged to establish the Southern Los Angeles County U.S.B.C. and hired Glenn Hizer as its Executive Director. The pay? One Dollar per month the first three years! (As far as this writer knows, the $36 is still owed to Glenn.)

Glenn was elected to both the Southeast A.B.C. Hall of Fame and the Southeast District Y.A.B.A. Hall of Fame.

Retirement on Dec. 31, after 12 years on the job was tough, but he is enjoying having less stress, more travel, and time with friends.

Thank you Glenn for a Job Well Done!

28 wins, but they have potential. Their leadoffman David Brackett is down 12 pins from his book, but his 661 series proves that he can play. Kim Martin is down 24 pins at 176, with a high game of 249 and 630 series. Again — the game is there! Maybe its the equipment? Anchor Sam Hitchcock down 16 [pins from book, proudly owns a 290 game and 715 series. They just need to get their mellons jellen.

Overall scores were down this week. Josh Kosh topped the high series roll with a 621, followed by Tom Romaldo's 620 and Mike Cacace's 585.

Individual efforts were lead by Jeff Carr 233, Mas Malapas and Sam Hitchcock tied at 221.

Teams 4-5-1 and 8 need team names!

Position round this coming week. Watch the placements change! No subs! Everybody bowls, every body pays, every body scores. Is this a great game??

Bowlers! I need ammunition for next weeks column, so get some practice in and grind out the big numbers.
