Dick & Duke, The Developers

LAKE FOREST—People who build a community, real estate people, an example, developers. If they are successful, become hall of fame members, get lots of publicity, some wealthy, name streets after them and usually live the good life.

Recently, Dick Stoeffler and Duke McGraw passed away. They received most of the honors. Both worked hard developing ten-pin bowling. Both knew how to promote besides being classic bowlers; many titles as amateurs and pros.

For sure they were promoters. Duke and NBC's Art Baker sold stock on KNX-TV to build Downey and Anaheim WonderBowls, both centers prospered. Lots of leagues, tournaments, stayed open 24 hours a day, hosted many professional events — real pin spas.

WonderBowl profits, with the consent of the stockholders, was used to build hotels, a movie studio, a couple of films and some prime Arizona land.

Dick Stoeffler and Dick Holtz produced a local So-Cal competitive hour-long elimination style show on KTLA/Channel 5.

Baker and Holtz were not bowlers. Dick and Duke were the prime movers with the right pitch and roll.

In the California Bowling News and Pacific Bowler, Dick and Duke got lots of ink. Both were members of five-man teams in the Greater L.A. Traveling Leagues and center general managers.

Dick in Orange County managing Kona Lanes innovating adult, junior, womens leagues, tournaments and open play.

Duke did the same at 32-split, 64-lane Downey WonderBowl, filling it with bowlers.

Both had their special programs. Duke probably a little more "chic". He installed a famous hard maple Brunswick Backbar worth about $500,000 and he charged a dollar more per drink than the inside "house bar" did.

Dick started his career working for the Compton Herald American owned by colorful food chain operator, C.S. Smith. He had to write and sell ads. The Herald was located across the street from 8-Alley "Bud's" Monark Recreation. He probably had to set pins to bowl. Dick got into a number of hi-performance Halls of Fames, first Cal-sanctioned back-to-back 300 games, plus walls full of awards.

When Duke came West, he was noted a pro, 300 games, 800 series, headlines/banners of Mid-West and East Coast tournament titles and cash.

The TV shows slowly fadded away. So did the scores. They continued ten-pinning as long as they could, attended and Em-Ceed many Bowling Writer's Award Banquets and wrote timely/provocative articles.

This writer and the California Bowling News readers will miss them and their wit.

I guess there isn't enough land here to develop bowling centers? Yes, there is! Just no Dicks or Dukes or technicians like Baker or Holtz around.

GREENDALE—Learn how to tame chameleons, cheetahs, scorpions, sharks and vipers with new videos and informational fliers from the United States Bowling Congress and the Professional Bowlers Association.

Although it sounds like a National Geographic special, these videos and fliers - now available for the first time on bowl.com - are related to a unique new league bowling program called the PBA Experience.

USBC and the PBA have teamed up to create a series of short videos and informative fliers that give bowlers inside information and strategies for playing the five challenging oil patterns - Chameleon, Cheetah, Scorpion, Shark and Viper - used in PBA Experience leagues. There is a separate video and flier for each oil pattern.

In PBA Experience leagues, bowlers compete on the same lane oil patterns used on the Denny's PBA Tour. The patterns comply with USBC Sport Bowling guidelines which allow a maximum of three times as much oil on the inside boards of the lane versus the outside boards. This oil application typically is described as a ratio, in this case 3:1. The PBA Experience is part of the USBC Sport Bowling program.

USBC and the PBA created the videos and fliers to enhance PBA Experience competition for bowlers. The materials are sent to each PBA Experience league that registers with USBC.

Bowlers can watch the videos on bowl.com or at their center before their PBA Experience league. Centers use their overhead monitors to play the video that corresponds to the oil pattern on which their bowlers are competing during that league session.

Hosted by USBC Sport Bowling spokesperson and PBA star Chris Barnes, the approximately seven- to nine-minute videos are produced in a simulated sports interview show format. The videos include Barnes and other Denny's PBA Tour players discussing oil pattern characteristics and strategies for

Finn-Tastic

EL PASO, TX—The Big Finn is back. Mika Koivuniemi ended the longest title drought of his career, knocking off new roommate Chris Barnes, 214-185, to win the 2007 Sun City Classic at El Paso Lanes for his seventh career Denny's PBA Tour title.

The Finland native and 2003-04 PBA Player of the Year won for the first time since the 2005 Baby Ruth Real Deal Classic, a span of 38 events. He and Barnes just recently became roommates and Koivuniemi treated him rudely in their first-ever match-up on television.

Barnes held a slim lead before leaving a 1-2-10 washout and opening in the 7th frame. Koivuniemi responded with four consecutive strikes to take over the match, marking in the 10th frame for the win.

Koivuniemi has struggled this season by his standards, coming into the week with just one TV appearance and a No. 19 world ranking.

"It's been a long time. It really feels great," said Koivuniemi. "A guy like Barnes doesn't usually give you a chance, but he did give me a chance and luckily I took advantage."

"It was just an amazing week. I had to bowl a 246 the last game Thursday just to make Mika Koivuniemi captured his seventh career Denny's PBA Tour title on Sunday. match play and two of my matches went seven games and then I had to come from behind to win the title."

As the No. 30 seed Koivuniemi became the lowest seed to win a single elimination match play event since the format was implemented in 2001-02.

Koivuniemi advanced to the title match with a 214-202 win over Patrick Allen. Allen opened three times in the first four frames, but mounted a huge comeback with a five-bagger after his third open. A spare in the 10th, however, meant Koivuniemi only needed a mark in the 10th and he struck for his fourth win in six tries over Allen on TV.

Barnes advanced to the title match with a 269-257 win over Mike Edwards. Edwards ran off eight consecutive strikes after an open in the 2nd frame, but Barnes matched him shot-for-shot to maintain a one-pin lead. Edwards struck and spared in the 10th forcing Barnes to strike with his first ball in the 10th. He struck three times for good measure to deny Edwards his first title since 1994.

Koivuniemi (Hartland, Mich.) earned $25,000 and an exemption for the 2007-08 season for the win. Barnes (Double Oak, Texas) took home $13,000 for second while Edwards (Tulsa, Okla.) earned $6,500 for third and Allen (Wesley Chapel, Fla.) earned $5,500 for fourth.

Next week the Denny's PBA Tour heads to Irving, Texas for the 2007 GEICO Classic, Feb. 7-11 at AMF Irving Lanes. The nationally televised ESPN finals take place Sunday, Feb. 11 at 11:30 a.m. CST.

Instruction to Help Raise Your Scores

It's February, 2007 How are your New Year's Bowling Resolutions Doing?

In going through my own records of teaching techniques which I've used in instructional leagues (where I usually donate my time because I also want to learn from the bowlers' mistakes), seminars with other coaches, such as Hall of Fame "Coach of the Pros" John Jowdy, etc. I've discovered some interesting things. First, that in addition to the valuable information gathered in coaching certification programs, I've also learned from these other coaches.

But I've actually learned more about what works in teaching, from the students themselves. This, I believe, is because the problems and questions that arise are often from way out in left field, so it's necessary to think on my feet to come up with workable answers. Filing these away for future use is how those experiences pay off in helping bowlers improve toward winning status.

Working with professionals is easy by comparison, because most of these players practice often and correctly, so they master the taught techniques extremely quickly, then come back for more. But bringing the low or mid-average amateur to a winning level is highly satisfying for any coach, because such bowlers often provide willingness, an open mind, maybe even great coordination, so all they are missing is knowledge.

My readers, I find, seem to cover every possible area of proficiency...from raw beginner to card carrying PBA professional. That makes it enjoyable, while challenging, for those of us who teach and write instructional articles for magazines and newspapers. Your responses generally help make it all worth while.

More On the Problem of Ball Selection

Do your eyes glaze over when you see diagrams of bowling ball layouts? What would you say if I told you that between 60% and 75% of bowlers are confused (either completely or at least partially) by most of the ball layout diagrams used by ball drillers to drill for certain desired performance results of specific bowling balls?

Beyond that, how do you react when you look at manufacturers' pictures of bowling balls, split in half to show the different shapes and placements of various cores? And what is meant by all those terms, such as "RG", "Differential/Flare", "Torque", "Length", and so on, that you see in manufacturer's reports or in a top instructional magazine, such as "Bowling This Month"?

Well, both the ball manufacturers and that magazine, actually have the balls tested by high level bowlers. So, just reading the instructions of how a given ball should react on various lane oil patterns and lane conditions, should give you the answer as to which ball to buy for the lane condition you might face, right?

Wrong!

Even with the additional explanations given in those ball test results, your own personal ball delivery techniques have a lot to do with how a given ball will react on the lanes, beyond the manufacturer's specifications!

Confused? Well, many bowlers are, as I mentioned above.

Un-confusing Yourself

In past issues of this and other papers, we've discussed instructions for such things as finding the positive action point (pap) of your ball, then throwing it and counting the revs from release to hook-out point, as well as measuring ball speed with a stop watch. Then checking the oil track's location on the ball relative to the holes and finally, listing all that information on paper for the driller..

Great! But not everybody knows how to do all the above without instructions, so is there an easier answer? Well, for those of you who want to simplify it without going through all that, here's how:

1 - Go to a pro shop located inside a bowling center and insist that the driller watch you throw a few hook (strike) shots, so he or she can get that needed information first hand. (A rare few free standing pro shops may contain a "stub" lane, allowing you to throw a ball right there, thus at least allowing the driller to get the gist of the information...those are good places, too.) Otherwise, go to a shop where they already know your bowling style...a shop you've been happy with in the past.

2 - If the driller is also a coach, as some are, suggest that he or she also watch your swing and hand release. Why? Because how you get to your release, how you use your wrist and hand, etc. are also important pieces of information which can be used to determine which ball suits you best and how it should be balanced when drilled.

3 - Be absolutely certain that you know exactly how you want your new ball to work, in terms of any specific lane oil conditions in which you intend to use it. For example, if your ball hooks too much or too early when lanes dry out, ask for a ball that is manufactured to "go long" before it hooks. The driller can then suggest one made to do that, as well as locate the holes in a spot (related to the "pin") which will guarantee the greatest possible delay before the hook begins.

Conversely, in freshly or heavily oiled lanes, you may want an "oil" ball...one which will grab the lane and hook earlier rather than skid through that slippery oil so far that it appears to never want to hook. That's why many bowlers carry at least two balls plus a "spare" ball (one which is hard and slick, deliberately designed to go straight, no matter what the oil conditions are).

Once the driller knows what you want, the correct type of ball can be suggested, then drilled, to behave correctly in the lane condition for which it is designed. .

How Are You Practicing?

Here's another item we have discussed before, actually some time ago. But because I continue to see far too many bowlers practice, practice, practice...yet never seem to improve, I'm going to go into the main rules of getting closer to your goals by practicing correctly.

Actually these rules are quite simple...but you must sell yourself on the idea of sticking to them. Do not allow yourself to fall into those old habits, which cost you money for games played, but never show results. That's often difficult to do. Why? Because it is difficult to follow the most important practice rule of all...don't keep score!

Among the most important "improvements" in modern bowling center design, are the electronic scorekeeping systems. Great! No longer do we need scorekeepers. So what's the problem? Well, when you practice, there's the score being automatically shown on the screen, easy to see.

"What's wrong with that?" you may ask. Simple...While practicing, if you keep score because it's so easy to see your scores on the screen, you often can't help shooting to see the score results. Well, when you're playing to see scoring results, you are not practicing to see improvement in your execution. And execution improvement is your reason for practicing, isn't it? You must realize that scores are completely irrelevant and unimportant during practice!

Correct Practice Rules

1. Do not even look up at the overhead screens.
2. Before even leaving for the bowling center, make a decision about whatever it is you're going to specifically work on that day. Things such as pushaway, free armswing, timing, hand release, follow through, adjusting principles, whatever.
3. Stick to practicing only the thing you have decided on for that session. To help with this, use a little "self talk" reminder before starting each approach. That will help you stay on purpose and keep you from "shot-gunning" your practice (over-thinking), which is deadly.
4. With each shot, pay attention to how your practice item feels. Practice that same item until it begins to feel comfortable. In professional sports, this is called "stretching your comfort zone", which creates improvement by gradually improving repeatability.
5. Practice fewer games more often, rather than too many at one stretch. This depends on your work schedule of course, but is an important basic principle, since it helps keep your mind on what you're doing.
6. If available, have a friend use a camcorder (or use a tripod) to photograph your movements. Many bowlers are surprised when watching themselves. "Did I do that?" is often what you'll say to yourself when first seeing what you look like. But that is a quick way to become aware of what you're doing now...and a great way to see the difference in yourself as you improve.

In addition to the above practice methods, some bowlers help themselves improve by joining practice leagues or flex leagues, in which there is little or no prize fund. The cost is less, so the league can be used for practice purposes only. If you're a senior, those "Senior Fun Day" events are perfect. You're in a league format, yet you never need to worry about score...a great way to train yourself to improve by using the above practice principles.

Today's Rolf-ism: Your bowling New Year's Resolutions should show improvement by March. Are you ready?

LAS VEGAS TRAVEL LEAGUE

LAKEWOOD—Doris Lewis topped the scoring report Monday at Cal Bowl with 232-632 and just missed season high series by 8 pins. Norma Payne had 227-556, followed by Alta Duke 551, Roberta McNaught 206-550, Berneice King 201-545, Kathy Phylow 210-536, Gladyce Perrin 534, Ellie Maxwell 526, Gina Harrison 523, Karen Mauricio 203-519, Vi Wilson 219-517, Jamie Vallier 517, Cyndie Martin 504, Betty Phillips and Jerry Whitehurst had 502 series.

With only seven weeks and a position round remaining, competition is tough. Here's the top 10 in the 16-team loop. Westminster #2 and Cerritos #2 teams are tied at 45 wins, followed by Keystone #1, 38; Keystone #2, 37; Cal #5, 36.2; Westminster #1 and Del Rio #1 tie at 36; Cal #4 and Keystone #3 are tied at 35. and Bowling News, 32.

Bernice Williams proudly mentioned that her hubby, Charlie, was named "Bowler of the Week" in their Cerritos Mixed Lads and Lassies league and earned three free games. Lu Colussi thanked the members who attended funeral services for Enola Gentile last week and we all missed her being among the spectators at Cal.

Barbara Bishop reports more than 70 entries in the upcoming Saturday February No Tap at Cal Bowl and reminds there's room for more. Separate prize funds for men and women in the handicap tourney so be sure to pick up an entry from her on Monday, or at Cal Bowl.

NEXT WEEK: Westminster Lanes at 9:30 a.m.

Sam Bacha Wins First ABT Tournament at AMF Cerritos

CERRITOS—Sam Bacha won his first Amateur Bowlers Tour (ABT) championship at AMF Cerritos Lanes this past weekend. Sam bowled on our special Super Sunday morning squad and shot handicap games of 205, 250, 287, and 191. Sam continued his Super Sunday in the semi-finals with games of 231, 247, and 252 to become our top seed in the PBA style finals.

Our newest champion, Sam Bacha, has been bowling for only 18 short months. Sam currently bowls one league on Saturday at Linbrook Bowl. Sam was using a Brunswick Monster for his win. Sam has a sanction high game of 230 and a high series of 598. Sam plans on using his winnings for more bowling. Sam wants to thank his girlfriend, Luisa for her love and support, as well as current ABT member Michael Barcenas for introducing him to the ABT. Sam would also like to thank AMF Cerritos Lanes for hosting the tournament and the ABT Orange County staff and directors for running an outstanding tournament.

Our PBA style finals started with Dom LaGuardia and Stan Por squaring off on one pair of lanes while on the other pair of lanes J.T. Jackson and Arnie Schroeder were set for action. Both matches were close, but wash outs and splits by both Dom LaGuardia and Arnie Schroeder late in each of their matches sealed their fates. Both Arnie and Dom received $112.50 for finishing tied for 4th place. This set the stage for two of our past ABT champions, J.T. Jackson and Stan Por, to do battle. This match was back and forth until the 7th frame and an untimely 7-10 split by Stan Por. J.T. Jackson capitalized on the untimely split and captured the match. In our final match, we saw top seed Sam Bacha take on J.T. Jackson. Sam continued his consistent bowling in this final match and captured the first place prize of $1000.

Deven Walls was the winner of our optional 4-game Scratch Sweeper with a 903 series, which was good for $150, with second place for $90 going to J.T. Jackson.

The Mystery Game Pot of Gold numbers were drawn after the last squad and here are the results. Game 1 was the game, first chance was 246, second chance was 173 and the third chance was 149. We had no winners. This luck of the draw event is one of our most popular optional, and for only a $5 investment you could win $200.

The ABT staff and membership would like to thank the management and staff at AMF Cerritos lanes for hosting our tournament.

Our next scheduled event is a 1-day event at Westminster Lanes on Saturday February 10th. First Place for this tournament is estimated to be $3250 with full progressive pot and 100 entries. We are expecting a large turnout this weekend and remind all bowlers that lanes are limited and that squads will close 10 minutes prior to their scheduled start time. Squad times are scheduled for Noon, 2:00, 4:00, and we have added a 6:00 pm squad this weekend.

We will continue to offer $100 side pots on each squad with just 20 entries. Optional Brackets will be available for each squad.

Tenpin Slants

by Joe Lyou

It must be getting a little crowded at the Big Bowling Center in the Sky. In my last column, I wrote about the passing of Dick Stoeffler, a Southern California bowling pioneer whom I knew for almost four decades. Ol' Steff died on Jan. 14 at his home in Las Vegas after a seven-year battle with cancer. I had written that it was a three-year battle, but Steff's son, Mike, assured me that it was seven.

Just one week after Stoeffler left us, I learned that Duke McGrew, another well-known Southland bowling personality, had died. His death was so sudden that it shocked his many friends.

Duke's wife, Helen, said he had complained of pain, so she insisted that he see a doctor. After a series of medical procedures, Duke was diagnosed with lung cancer. He was to undergo treatments but died before they could be started.

"He went to sleep and never woke up," said Helen, his wife of 56 years. They were an ideal couple, according to USBC Hall of Famer Andy Marzich, who was a longtime friend of both Duke and Helen.

Marzich added: "In all the time I knew Duke, I never saw him mad once. He was a great guy."

Duke, who was 84—although he looked 20 years younger—had many friends, including Dick Stoeffler. They had much in common. Both had a keen sense of humor. Both were excellent bowlers. Both were members of the SoCal Hall of Fame. Both produced successful local TV bowling shows. Both loved all sports. Both had an amazing knowledge of baseball, its teams and players. And most important, both were devoted husbands.

Duke also was a very good golfer. He was justly proud of the fact that he had scored three perfect games in bowling and three holes-in-one in golf. (I don't know of anyone else duplicating that amazing feat.)

A touching obituary ran in the Los Angeles Times on Jan. 25. In case some of his friends missed it, here's how it read...

John "Duke" McGrew died Sunday, January 21, following a short illness. Duke was born in Chicago in 1922, son of Lila Murphy and John McGrew.

He attended Mt. Carmel High School, graduating in 1938. After serving in the Army in World War II, he returned to Chicago. In 1950, he married Helen Clemente and they moved to California in 1954.

Always an excellent athlete, Duke began bowling at an early age and later turned his hobby into a business. He bowled professionally, was (part) owner of two bowling alleys (WonderBowl-Downey and WonderBowl-Anaheim) and was a partner in WonderBowl, an innovative bowling chain established in the 1960's.

He was also host of several bowling shows, including Bowling for Dollars. Following this, he launched a successful vending business in which he was active until his retirement.

Duke was also a lifelong golfer. He was proud of the fact he had three holes-in-one and three 300 games in bowling.

He is survived by Helen, his wife of 56 years, a sister, Celeste Nemmers, 19 nieces and nephews, 13 great, great nieces and nephews and 27 cousins.

Duke was buried in San Jacinto, Calif., a Southland desert community where he owned a second home and where he went to play golf...often.

It is doubtful if Southern California will ever see the likes of two better men—not just bowlers—than Duke McGrew and Dick Stoeffler.

SWITCHING REELS: Tenpin Slants spent five productive days at the recent Denny's PBA Dick Weber Open at Dave Osborn's Fountain Bowl in Orange County's Fountain Valley.

I had a wonderful time because so many old friends were there. It's the only time I see some of them, especially since the demise in 1998 of the annual SoCal Bowling Writers' All-Star Awards Banquet.

One day at the Dick Weber Open, I had a chance to listen in as Hall of Famers Carmen Salvino and Glenn (Mr. 900) Allison talked about the good ol' days. Salvino bowled in the tournament at Fountain Bowl "out of respect for my friend Dick Weber."

Salvino is still incensed because Allison's 900 series was never recognized by the ABC/USBC. "Glenn should've been honored by every bowler and proprietor in the country," Salvino said. "Another bowler who also deserves to be honored is Bill Bunetta, who has done so much for bowling (as an instructor)."

On another occasion, I sat in on a conversation between Hall of Famer John Jowdy and Ron Hoppe, a couple of world-class professional coaches.

Hoppe, a native Southern Californian who now makes his home in the Northwest, is the one who developed Finland's Mika Koivuniemi into a major player on the pro tour. Jowdy, of course, has helped so many stars that he's known as "the coach of the pros."

Hoppe has another international player who could be a future PBA champion. He's Alexander Medveditskov, a 19-year-old right-hander from St. Petersburg, Russia.

"I've been coaching Alexander for three years," Hoppe said. "He's a high-rev player like Chris Barnes."

Alexander, who can't be more than about 5 feet 6 and 125 pounds, arrived at Fountain Bowl too late to compete in the Dick Weber Open. He made his pro debut in the PTQ (Pro Tour Qualifier, or rabbit squad) the following week in the Motel 6 Classic at the Strike Zone at Sunset Station in Henderson, a suburb of Las Vegas.

It turned out to be learning experience for Medveditskov, who finished 55th out of 80 bowlers in the PTQ. Hoppe, however, said his pupil is undaunted and will rabbit in the remaining PBA stops this season.

"There's no better way to learn and get experience than bowling on the pro tour," Hoppe said.

It should be interesting following the maturation progress of Alexander Medveditskov, the young Russian rookie, who has averaged as high as 240 in tournaments.

As for Jason Couch, who successfully defended his title in the Dick Weber Open, the talented Florida lefty may want to buy Fountain Bowl. Why not? He already hits the place like he owns it.

Couch, the hottest bowler on the tour, has a good chance of attaining his bowling goal this season—"to be the Player of the Year."

As a final note on the Dick Weber Open, Dave Osborn, who has hosted a PBA stop at Fountain Bowl for the past six years, says the annual tenpin classic will return in 2008. "I worked out a two-year agreement with the PBA," he said. "I got tired of having to negotiate year after year."

No More Rust!

SAN DIEGO—The NABI San Diego tournament action was at Parkway Bowl this past weekend, & James Rostello overcame health problems, surgery & rust to claim his first NABI championship. After being the final bowler to make the cut to the semifinals, James was seeded #2 in the stepladder finals. He was running on adrenaline in his first match & rolled a nice 199 scratch (37 pins over his average!). The next game was for the championship, & as a "seasoned citizen" the effort expended after completing 10 games during the afternoon was beginning to take a toll on James. He bowled one of his lowest scores of the afternoon, but managed to squeak out a two pin victory. Way to hang in there!

N. A. B. I. San Diego Champion James Rostello

The top 5 field was rounded out by Mike Tangonan, Go Go Brown, Randi Diato & Gene Walker.

$50 guaranteed sidepots were collected by Jim Nunnally, Paul Phounsavath, Grace Tiu, Tony Nunez, Bob Selner, Phil Horn, Phil Diaz (2), & Go Go.

Three bowlers shared the 3-6-9 perpetual pot, Linda Peete, Diaz & Walker. A complete ball rejuvenation went to Phounsavath for finishing in 6th place.

The next NABI tournament will be February 17th at Kearny Mesa Bowl. Details will be included next week in this Bowling News. See you at Kearny on the 17th we'll save a cookie for you!

SANTA FE SPRINGS — Alan Basto, was not to be denied last Saturday as he won his second ABTA title in a sparkling performance finally downing a hot shooting Gibin Kim in the title game to take home a tidy $2,400 for his effort.

The Premiere Super Bowl Event had a nice 183 entrants and on a fair tournament shot. We had nice cut scores of men +58 and the ladies at +6 to make it to the semis of 45 bowlers. Also added were Super Seniors Ely Cruz, Joseph Tyler and Bobbie Mc Collum.

Leading the Semis was ABTA regular and supporter Alan Basto of El Monte with a huge +219. So he would sit out and bowl for the title. In second was Roger Romero at +109. He would enter in round two of the single elims (top 16). It took a +47 (men) and +24 (ladies), 3 guaranteed to make the sweet 16 single elims.

The bowlers took to the lanes. In the first round single elims losing were Wayne Hohenstein, Mark Fisser, Joe Tyler, Chris Kelly, Fred Go, Val Wise, and Kim Brogdon. They got checks of $100 in 10-16th place.

In round two being eliminated were Nicole Alvarez, Dale Strader, Velinda Kelly, and Roger Romero. They got checks of $110 in 6-9th place.

Round three had Gibin Kim down Jorge Bardales 211-171. Carlos Vejar got to Brian Datuin 222-200. Brian and Jorge were 4th and 5th and $120 each with Vejar and Kim to meet for the right to bowl for the title against Basto.

In this match Gibin Kim finally got to the title game as he won a nailbiter by one(1) pin 221-220 leaving past ABTA Champion Vejar in 3rd. He was off to the title game vs Mr. Basto. What a Great Match!!

The title game was set and the horses were paid! Kim returned $29 for everyone who had him in the $5 horse bets.

Basto decided to have Kim lead off. He did, but chopped a spare. Basto was clean through 3 frames but did it up big with a turkey in frames 4-5-6. Kim was struggling with his shot with opens in frame 1-4. Alan held a commanding lead as Kim couldn't find his strike shot. It was over. Basto doubled in the 10th for good measure, winning 227/263 to Kim's 158/179. The $2,200 title was his. Congrats to Alan who is a big supporter of our club, and well-liked by all. He has really improved his game since I have known him. Good things happen to the Good People and Alan is surely that.

Another Good Guy Gibin Kim almost got there. He is really improved also. He will win and has great desire. Nice Bowling Gibin and Carlos Vejar in 3rd who could have won this one. Three of the nicest guys come in 1-2-3 at Premiere!!

Tourney Hi Qualifiers were Gibin Kim +191 for the men and Kim Brogdon led the ladies at +101. They will get paid entries.

Jimmy Wong and Mike Siu teamed to top the optional doubles with a 1356, good for $120. Runner ups were Steven Hower and Gibin Kim at 1,350. They got $100. We paid 7 places in the doubles.

Bret Rose and Mamerto Jablan each tossed 11- 9's or better but could not eliminate one another, so we will go for $2,000 this week at Cal Bowl. They shared a $50 consolation for beer money:-).

The Match Game was drawn by Basto and no one matched the 258 game. So with the carry over of $1,995 we will estimate the Match Game at $3,250 this week.

Match Series worth $246, was drawn by Gibin Kim, and no one matched the 525 scratch series. So we will estimate the Match Series at $550 this week at Cal.

Weekly winner of the Columbia "300" Ball, was Vickie Smith who is an ABTA Blueblood for sure. She opts for the Track Power Machine. She thanks the ABTA, and sponsor Columbia 300 for the fine ball.

First time Cashers at Premiere were Melissa Rocha and Hong Khu. It is great to see Nicole Alvarez, Kim Green, and Kim Brogdon return to ABTA action and they all cashed:-)

Champion Alan Basto is from El Monte, and used a Storm drilled by Memo Rosales at Action Lanes. He is married to Pinky, and they have a daughter Akeyla 12 yrs old. He thanks his friends Rena, Ronnie, Bert, Hermie, Tres and "The Dragon" for support and of course Bakarda.

Gibin Kim hails from L.A. and used a Bruiser drilled by Steve Cruze at All Star Lanes. He is married to Young Suk with two daughters. He thanks his wife and daughters for support.

Carlos Vejar is from Tolleson, Arizona and still bowls most every week with us. He used a Radical drilled by Dave at Dy-

It was great returning to Premier. We will return there on our new schedule. Thanks to Peggy, Manny and staff.

Forest Lanes Scratch Trios 3rd Segment Spot Up For Grabs

by Frank Kietz

LAKE FOREST — Forest Lanes' 9:00 p.m. Thursday 615 ScratchTrios third segment race for a shot at the $5,000 title is up for grabs. Teams 2 (222 1/2 points) and 8 (211 1/2) have roll off spots. Team 7 is sort of a wild card leader with 215 overall points.

Going into tonight's action Team 9 has an 8 point edge over Teams 7 and 5 tied with 77 winning points.

Team 6, composed of Plan Meyerson, Darrell Avery and Mike Cacace, rolled the weekly high team scores, 752/2082, for a 14-3 victory over the "Bring Its" for a cellar jump.

John Sowell's Team 7 (Chris DeBoer and Chris Solar) and 5, Alan Weiss, James Maloney and Tim O'Neil, are the teams to watch tonight. It's possible the leaders, Tim Timmerman, Donald Malapas and Brent Ilagan, can get bumped.

Team 1 gave notice they are hungry for the five grand. Their leadoff man Frank Street, led the honor roll with a 290/747 set. Team 13's Todd Abraham had a 278 in an evening high 783 series. Others on the honor list, Sowell 759, Jason Kubanis 752, Meyerson 279 and Laura Conklin 223/616.

Center Manager Allan MacDuffee said, "Scores should soar tonight. That rolloff spot is important, the key to the $5,000 title." For more information, call Allan at 949-770-0055.

Forest Lanes' 6-Gamer Danforth's Super Bowl

by Frank Kietz

LAKE FOREST — Forest Lanes' "Super Bowl" Sunday 6-Gamer after the first two games, 269 and 279, became Paul Danforth's Super Bowl nabbing the guaranteed $300 title and $175 in high game and high block cash.

Paul won with a 1433 followed by Josh Montgomery 1406 ($170), second plus $25 for a 277 game and $50 for a 772 high block. Ken Maxey was third 1378 $130; fourth Vernon Adams 1364 and fifth Mark Lewen 1346 $60+$25 for a 259 game. Mike Bailey's 257 was low to cash for a $25 game.

It was a Paul route, rolling a first three game 785 block and finale 253/648 block stumbling with a 169 gave Montgomery a title chance, 1180 to 1159. Josh posted a sixth game 247 while Paul tossed a capping 253.

The lanes were a bit cloudy, however, 18 of the 26 playing for a $1,000-plus prize fund, hit deuces, 241 for Paul.

The 26-player field drew super-bowlers from all parts of So-Cal and at least one snowbird from St. Paul, Minn., Wayne Hohenstein.

How come they didn't stay home and watch the football Super Bowl? Most were taping it, others preferred the bowling kind. Yes, they followed the 6-Gamer with a pot game.

Call Forest Lanes, 949-770-0055 for information regarding the 6-Gamer and other scratch tournaments and leagues.

SED Jr. Travel

by David Gordon
HUNTINGTON PARK—Another week down as we come to you from Gage Bowl. We had an extremely low turnout and I want to apologize to the staff and management of Gage Bowl, as they have always given us the best respect and accommodations a travel group could ask for. I promise we'll make it up to you.

The lack of turnout also prevented us from having some extra fun following our normal session. Solely by chance, the SED Youth Leaders travel group was at Gage as well and in what appeared to be full force. A friendly little competition could have taken place with some after session Baker matches. But as you have it, we were not there to put our best foot forward. We'll see what the future holds.

As for the day, we had some pretty good scoring from those that did show up. We have two for this weeks 800 club as J.D. Pelow led all with his 226-231/834. Joining J.D. was Eric Milne shooting 218-208/804. Way to hold us up gentlemen. Additional high scoring also came in from Eddie Sayles 211-212/793, Mark Curtis 237/761, Andy Betancourt 248/758, Deanna Carrillo 223/750, Jasmine Morales 725, and Sean McKinney 702.

As we complete week 17 of our 25 week season, your league leaders are Sun Blockers (Pelow/Bryan Osborne) with a commanding 291.5 points. We'll have to do something about this team for next year. Sherie's Boys (Sayles/Kevin Jones) are holding on to 2nd place with 233 points, while Chucky Beef Stew (Milne/Curtis) and Subject 2 Change (Delano Ross/James Hawkins) have 218.5 and 210.5 respectively.

All of our season highs, which are not out of reach, are as follows: Team HS - Chunky Beef Stew (1895), Team HG - Sun Blockers & Sherie's Boys (489), Girls HS - Morales (852), Girls HG - Carrillo (246), Boys HS - Curtis 1046, Boys HG - Hawkins and Michael Gaylor (279). Let's go after these marks and push these highs up a bit.

This week, we will have a single session at Action Lanes in El Monte at 2:00. I would really like to see all members there. Remember that scheduling these sessions is hard enough, having to work around Open Play, Cosmic Bowling and birthday parties. We don't need the centers saying that we don't show up with the count of bowlers predicted.

Have a good week, please practice and let's all get together at Action Lanes.

Girls Jr. All-Stars

by David Gordon
SANTA CLARITA—Welcome to another fun-filled article on the Girls Jr. All-Stars. And this week will be a fun article to write as we put in a double session at Santa Clarita Lanes. Some very impressive and high scoring was delivered up by the girls as they were showing their young talent, while just a few lanes away a men's tournament was going on. I almost had to run to microphone several times as three or four possible perfect games were in the making. But those darn single frames will get you every time.

Our thanks go out to the staff and management of Santa Clarita Lanes for the outstanding accommodations and to Ted Reynolds for persuading (in his own way) the optimal lane conditions.

And since it was Super Bowl Sunday, the girls put up their own Super Bowl(ing) performance. The first session at 10:00 found Melissa Pena ready to lead with her 201-279/862 set. Not far behind we had Lindsay Hannasch (finally a center near you) go 249-209-203/849. Excellent bowling ladies! Also shooting highs were Jillian Gaddison 206-266/799, Tabetha Reynolds 216-223/769 and Deanna Carrillo 212-202/750.

In our second set just after noon time, Ms. Pena blasted her way on top again. This time going 200-244-222-219/885, and an outstanding 1747 (218.38 average) pins on the day. Way to go Melissa and point taken. Also with reportable scoring in the second session was again Hannasch 236/799, Reynolds 247-238 (668 3-game set), and Gaddison 209-201/733. As long as I've been involved with this and other travel groups, it's still amazing the young talent that's out here. Congratulations to all the girls.

This coming Sunday, we have another treat for you. We will be at the awesome Cal Bowl in Lakewood at 2:00. Please be on time and bring your best game. We are not following a JAT tournament, but Cal Bowl can have a tough shot if you're not ready for it. If you are, it can be as rewarding as this past Sunday. Hope to see everyone there.
