Bohn Wins PBA Players Championship in Overtime, Ties Roth with 34th Title

Strike on second sudden-death shot ends dramatic championship match

INDIANAPOLIS – Parker Bohn III of Jackson, N.J., struck on his second shot in sudden-death to win the Professional Bowlers Association Players Championship at Woodland Bowl, earning his 34th career title and moving into a tie for fifth place on the all-time PBA career titles list with legendary star Mark Roth. The finals aired Sunday on ESPN.

Bohn, a PBA Hall of Famer, rebounded from a pocket 7-10 split in the first frame of the championship match, throwing nine strikes on his next 11 shots to tie hometown favorite Ronnie Russell of nearby Marion, 237-237, at the end of 10 frames. The 51-year-old left-hander then threw two strikes in the one-ball sudden-death roll-off, defeating Russell when the Indiana native struck on his first attempt, but left a 10 pin on his second shot.

"I was only 16 when I met Mark Roth," Bohn said, "and I had no idea I'd be standing here tied with him with 34 titles. He obviously got there much faster than I did, but when you think about Roth, he single-handedly revolutionized the sport. Anyone who hooks the ball today does it because of what Mark did in the late 1960s and '70s. I couldn't be happier to share this distinction with him."

Roth, who was in Indianapolis for the anniversary TOC weekend, said, "It was just a matter of time before Parker caught up with me. We went about it in different ways, but it couldn't have been a nicer guy to do it."

Walter Ray Williams Jr. is the all-time PBA Tour titles leader with 47, followed by the late Earl Anthony with 43, and Norm Duke and Pete Weber who are tied for third with 37 each. Among left-handed players, Bohn trails only Anthony in career titles.

Bohn, who qualified No. 1 for the Players Championship finals two weeks earlier in Milwaukee, said he had an issue with his grip in the first few frames, but "once I figured out how to keep my hand dry, I was in good shape."

Bohn also accomplished another personal goal with his win.

"I've been coming to Woodland Bowl for 34 years, and I don't have a championship banner hanging up here," Bohn said of the bowling center's tradition of recognizing its past champions. "I've been assured that after tonight, my banner will be hanging up here."

As rewarding as the victory was for Bohn, it was equally disappointing for Russell, who was trying for his third PBA Tour title. Leaving a 10 pin standing on his second shot in the 10th frame denied him an outright win against Bohn, and his seventh 10 pin in two games ended his dream of winning in front of his family and hometown fans.

"This is the second time I've finished second at Woodland," Russell said. "It's heart-breaking."

Tom Daugherty of Tampa, Fla., started the championship

round with a 225-212 victory over PBA Hall of Famer Norm Duke of Clermont, Fla., and he then eliminated red-hot Australian two-handed star Jason Belmonte, 245-227 in the second match. In winning that match, Daugherty denied Belmonte a shot at a PBA record-tying third consecutive title (he had previously won the USBC Masters and 50th anniversary Barbasol PBA Tournament of Champions), and he ended Belmonte's streak of 13 consecutive match wins on television, three shy of the PBA record set by Jim Pencak between 1989 and 1991.

Russell ended Daugherty's bid for a second PBA Tour title, 216-214, with a clutch strike on his first shot in the 10th frame of the semifinal match.

The PBA Tour on ESPN continues next Sunday when the finals of the Mark Roth/Marshall Holman PBA Doubles Championship airs at 1 p.m. ET. The Baker-format doubles finals – in which teammates will bowl alternate frames – will include top qualifiers and defending champions Duke and Wes Malott, Pflugerville, Texas; Dino Castillo, Carrollton, Texas, and Daugherty; Belmonte and

by Phyl Knoll

Our dear friend Juanita Julia Blocker was born July 15, 1918 in Houston, Texas. Not long after, Juanita's father James, gave up his career in show business, took a job with the railroad, and relocated in Los Angeles. Her mother Lenore and Juanita followed in 1921 and Juanita had called Los Angeles "home" ever since.

In her early years, Juanita showed evidence of a born athlete. By the time she graduated from Jefferson High School in 1936, Juanita had been a member of the Track, Basketball, Softball, Volleyball and the Tennis teams. Besides being an athlete Juanita showed her talent as a student leader and subsequently, was the first black student to be elected to the Jefferson High School Student Government. Juanita attended (LACC) Los Angeles City College played and coached Basketball and graduated in 1942 with a degree in Physical Education and Recreation and was immediately hired by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks & Recreation as one of their Leaders. Volleyball was one of the sports Juanita played and coached at the parks and

by Maurice Hultz

LAKEWOOD — Bowlers don’t wait!! Entries are starting to flow in. Our Tri-Senate Championship Tournament has sold out three years in a row. If you want to secure your specific squad times, now is the time. The word is rapidly spreading throughout the bowling world about this exceptional tournament being held one big weekend, Saturday and Sunday, April 11-12, 2015 at Cal Bowl, in Lakewood, California.

Last year we had bowlers all the way from Ohio with a team from Las Vegas Nevada winning the grand first place prize money of $15,000.00. The $15,000.00 first prize is guaranteed based on 165 entries and going into our 4th Annual we are expecting to exceed last year’s entries of 171. Yes, this tournament is open to all USBC/TNBA bowlers.

However, if you are a current USBC member but not a TNBA member; you may still bowl in this premier event by simply purchasing the TNBA annual membership card for an additional $20. You may include your annual membership purchase with your entry form. Therefore, virtually EVERYONE is welcome to bowl!!

This tournament is designed to attract bowlers from all skill levels, including “recreational bowlers,” “senior bowlers” (over age 55) as well as the high average bowlers! This is a handicap tournament that is based on 100% of the difference between the team entering average and 1050. The maximum team entering average is 1050 which is designed to make sure a team cannot consist of more than just a few high average bowlers. Teams whose total entering average is 900 or less, will be in the running for bonus prize money for the highest scoring teams in that category. Also, bonus prize money will be awarded to the highest scoring all senior teams. The bonus team prize pay offs will be based on the total number of entries.

Our tournament offers multiple ways to cash, especially within that squad. Every squad bowler will have the opportunity to participate in the optional flat fee round robin “sweepstakes” doubles event, allowing bowlers to compete as doubles partner with all others selecting that option for that squad. Brackets and side pots will also be offered and paid immediately after the squad. The round robin will be paid out with the regular prize fund.

Bowlers are allowed to participate multiple times as long as they change the team rosters with at least two different bowlers each time. All teams must be mixed teams of five members and must have at least two women and two men. There are five squads available to choose from, Saturday, April 11 at 9am, 1pm and 5:30pm or Sunday, April 12 at 9am and 1pm. For your convenience an advertisement with the entry form is available in this issue of the Bowling News or you may download your pre-fill entry from <http://www.socaltrisenates.com>

Last year our Squad Organizers helped our tournament become an absolute success. If you have an interest in becoming a squad organizer contact one our Tournament Directors below.

For more questions or more information you may call the following Tri Senate Tournament Directors: Eugene Richardson 310-702-4486 or Karl Downs 951-544-9933.

Stay Tuned for the roll out of our newest and largest tournament ever. The Tri-Senate City of Lights Tournament in Las Vegas Nv, September 18-20, 2015 at the new South Point Bowling Plaza, Open to all USBC/TNBA Bowlers. First place will pay MEGA BUCKS.

Sundara Wins 3rd ABTA Title at West Covina

All Pots Carry Over - Match Game est $1,750 • Match Series est $1,400 • 3-6-9 is $3,000 • Mystery Match Series est $1,400 • Lee Roy Liu Makes ABTA Debut at West Covina

WEST COVINA — The ABTA returned to West Covina Lanes where we have 8 new Members and also some returning bowlers to ABTA action.

We had a semi tough shot where the cut scores were +75 for the Men and +44 for the Women . Topping the qualifying Boards were Jeff Panillio with a + 183 for the men and Beth Borci led the ladies with a + 83 for the women.

The 3 Super Seniors added to the board were Sierrie Herradura for the ladies and Jesse Boquio and Javier Avila for the men. Beth would draw the Match Series worth $630 and she drew a 621. No one matched that score. The Mystery Doubles were worth $750 this week. The score drawn was 283, again no one matched that score. For the 3-6-9 the final person up was Michael Duran. He would go for the $3,000 prize, but would miss on his 4th shot so the pot carries over to La Habra “300” this Saturday.

In the Doubles the top spot went to Je Je Gabriel and Kmel Cunanan with 1451. In 2nd spot was Lee Liu and Jo Jo Barcelona with a 1440.

The low was 1362 and 12 spots were paid out.

During the semifinals it was a battle. After the first game the low for the top 16 at +29 with Willie Parawan taking the first side pot. Leading with a +84 the 2nd spot being Jasmine Northrup at +64. After the 2nd game the top spot would now belong to Jasmine with a +98 and in second now was Jason Buenviaje at +88 after taking the 2nd side pot with a 266. Finishing at the top spot would be Jasmine with a +149 to sit out and bowl for the title, In second was Marifee Caltaasan with a +121. There would be a roll-off for the 16th spot as Henry Hoang and William Bundy tied at +46. It would be William who would advance to the match play.

Jasmine would draw the Match Game which was worth $790. She drew a 224 and no one attached that so ALL POTS CARRY OVER TO La Habra “300” Saturday.

During match play the final 4 bowlers would be Marifee Catalasan vs Javier Avila and Lee Liu vs Sun Sundara, with both Marifee and Sun advancing onto the semi final match.

Lee and Javier finishes in Sundara Wins 3rd ABTA Title at West Covina (L-R) Ben Bagaoisan, Marife Catalasan 3rd $200, Jasmine Northrup Runnerup $500, Bob Smith ABTA Head, Sun Sundara Champion $2,200, Javier Avila 5th and Jesse Boqui Semi Finalist.

4th and 5th for $107.50. In the semifinal match it would be Sun that would advance with a 240 to 195. He would pay $142 for the horses for all those that bet on him. In the title match it would be Jasmine who showed the nerves with 3 opens in the first 5 frames.

With those opens Sun was able to open up a big lead and never look back. Despite a late 3 bagger from Jasmine it was all Sun as he took home his 4th ABTA title with a 240 to 228. Sun would take home $2,300 for his victory and Jasmine took home a nice $500 for the 2nd place finish. Marife Catalasan who has been knocking on the Championships Door was 3rd with great bowling $100.

Next week we return to La Habra 300 Bowl for a 1 day Beat the Board finals.

Squads will be at 1 pm, 2:30 pm, 4 pm, and final squad at 6 pm. All pots carried over to La Habra so there will be lots of money to win. Remember to check out our facebook page at abtabowling and “ABTA Bowling Page” or our web site at www.abta1.com for latest schedules and special announcements.

The following week we bowl March 7 at Oak Tree Lanes in Diamond Bar. On a Happy Note Mr LeeRoy Liu attended his first ABTA Event with Mom Shelila and Daddy Lee Liu.

See you all at La Habra. The center is located at 370 E .Whittier Blvd in La Habra and can be accessed from either the 60, 57 or 5 freeways. The phone there is 562-691-6721 or 714-526-2058. See our ad onFacebook or www.abta1.com

of course, in those days the nets were held by portable Volley Ball Standards. After suffering an injury from a fallen standard, Juanita invented a safety device to secure the standards, for which she received a monetary award. Those devices were then installed in all Los Angeles County playgrounds and centers. Besides coaching sports, Juanita possessed a talent in art projects and writing. Under her close eye and tutoring her students would many times, come away with First Place Blue Ribbons from the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona for their artwork and poetic writings.

The sport of bowling came into the picture in the 1940's when while attending LACC, Juanita would often go into what was then, Vogue Bowl at 49th & Central, and spectate the bowlers. It wasn't long before she was convinced "I can do that" and thus the beginning of Juanita's bowling career, and, first encounter with a sports headliner. During one of her practice sessions, a huge black gentleman stepped up and offered to coach her. Lo and behold, it was none other than Joe "The Brown Bomber" Lewis, the heavy-weight boxer. Lewis who owned an east coast bowling alley (as they were called then), hung out at Vogue Bowl with a close friend Ernest Whitman, a professional singer and movie actor. Juanita loved "this game" and proved to be one of the few black women to average 185 and better. The Parent Senate of the (TNBA) The National Bowling Association was formed in 1939 and Juanita joined the organization in hopes to use her bowling talents to open some doors for the TNBA. Unfortunately, until well into the 1950's the black bowling athlete received little recognition and no opportunity to take their sport to a professional level.

Although Juanita pursued her game of bowling, she remained involved in other sports, because if you were good, you made the team. She was recruited to a women's professional basketball team sponsored by the popular "Dad's Rootbeer". Their team traveled up and down the coast of California and as far away as Phoenix, Arizona, competing against women military teams. As far as Juanita knew, they were the only black female team in this travel league. Juanita recalled the excitement when with the influence of singer Nat King Cole and Charlotte Bass, owner of the California Eagle Newspaper, (later known as the Los Angeles Sentinel), their team received an invitation to play the pre-game show to the famous Harlem Globe Trotters at the Los Angeles Olympic Stadium.

When basketball season was over, Juanita spent more time on her bowling game but was also playing shortstop and second base for the California Eaglettes, a Los Angeles Parks & Recreation Women's Softball Team. They were sponsored by the California Eagle Newspaper and Nat King Cole. Juanita held a batting average of 275-285 and was largely feared by her opponents for her "steal-and-slide" techniques. Juanita utilized her talent for the game and coached other players. One particular player she coached was non other than Richard Williams, father of the well-known professional Tennis Stars, Venus and Serena Williams, of Compton, California. Unfortunately, all that vigorous activity took its toll and she was later in life reminded every day by the pain she endured in both her ankles. Juanita played Tennis as well. She was third-seated to the then well known, Pauline (Bobbie) Betz, a Wimbledon Champion. In fact, Juanita held the honor of being the only player who then could beat Betz. Ironically, Juanita was coached by none other than.... Pauline's mother, Stella Betz!

Prior to 1950, (ABC), the American Bowling Congress, and the (WIBC) Women's International Bowling Congress Rules banned non-caucasians from bowling in their events, but that did not discourage Juanita from becoming a bowler of note. She knew the game well and wanted to become a Certified Bowling Instructor. While working as the Manager for Studio Bowling Academy, Los Angeles, (since closed) owner Victor Bernath sent her to Instructor's School where she was tutored by the best; National Hall of Famer Buddy Bomar, Bill Bunetta and California's own, Helen Duval. It wasn't long after that Georgia Veach, Founder and President of the (PWBA) Professional Women's Bowling Association accepted Juanita's application for membership. She had the honor of being the first black woman member of the PWBA on the west coast during the 1950's and 1970's. Juanita applied for sponsorship from AMF, but they were not sending black bowlers on tour, so armed with a 189 average and the sponsorship of PWBA members, Donna Zimmerman and Merle Matthew (since deceased), Juanita put her busy schedule on hold and hit the "pro trail" as a member of the Greater Los Angeles Women's Traveling League. The schedule required visiting 28 different centers per season, which at that time, was no easy task. Bill Stennis, owner of the well-known Golden Bird Restaurant chain, sponsored their team and Juanita proudly recalled bowling with teammate Georgia Veach and crossing lanes with the famous bowling pro Marion Ladewig. While traveling to tournaments across the United States Juanita endured anxieties and indignities most of us cannot even imagine. Times when she could not practice bowling until after midnight until all "other" bowlers were through. She was unable to eat at the bowling alley café counter where the "other" bowlers were seated. Juanita was blessed with an innate understanding of the times and the importance of which it took to break barriers. And, she did. Juanita set numerous records. Over 300-400 trophies, medals, plaques, certificates, ribbons, and more. The first 720 series she shot at Hollywood Legion Lanes, (since closed) held top honors with WIBC for some time.

Following her pro tours, Juanita devoted herself to all other facets of the bowling game. She was the resident Certified Instructor from 1971 to 1981 at Southwest Bowl at Western and Imperial, (which has since closed). Many of her students were from Southwest College across the street, several who were of foreign cultures and had little athletic ability. Although there was a language barrier, Juanita made her actions speak for her and helped pave the way for those youth to be able to enjoy the game anywhere. Juanita was instrumental in convincing the Los Angeles Board of Education to give grade credits to high school and college students who attended her classes.

In 1961 Juanita joined the Los Angeles "600" Bowling Club and was eventually elected to their Board of Directors. In 1962 she was elected to the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Women's Bowling Association (LAWBA). Although Juanita was a "natural" in any sport she engaged in, she also possessed a wonderful talent for writing about sports. She was handsomely rewarded in many areas. In 1963 she was given her own sports column which appeared weekly in the Los Angeles Sentinel Newspaper for over 35 years. In all that time, she remained the devoted publicist to her Los Angeles organizations and the TNBA. It was during this same era that Los Angeles Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, (since deceased), presented Juanita with a "Writ of Commendation" for the poems and odes she composed about the newly dedicated Olympic Style Swimming Stadium at Will Rogers Park. It was this same year, while still managing Studio Bowling Academy that the Annual Press Conference and the Los Angeles Sentinel voted Juanita as the "Woman of the Year in Sports". In 1987, when she retired from the Parks and Recreation, she received "Special Recognition from Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley and Councilman Gilbert Lindsay, for all the dedication she had shown to bringing out the talents of the children she had coached in sports and tutored in art projects. In 1988, she was the first black member inducted into the LAWBA Hall of Fame and was made a Member Emeritus. In 1999, Juanita was elected to the Southern California Bowling Writers Hall of Fame. In 2004, she received the "Distinguished Service Award" from the United States Bowling Congress (USBC), California Association.

Bowling was still Juanita's life as she entered the "golden years". I can remember that when she celebrated her 86th birthday in 2004, she was still bowling two leagues a week, and with her 140 average, continued to be extremely competitive and you could bet on her to win a side pot now and again.

Even though the past five or six years, Juanita was looked after in an Assisted Living Facility, she never failed to keep up on all the news in the bowling arena. She was dearly grateful to Carol Mancini, Editor/Publisher of the California Bowling News for sending the weekly issue to her by USPS. And, when I called her, on an average of every other day, she was watching one of the Williams girls in a Tennis match. Or, if I couldn't reach her, she later informed me she was in the Recreation Room playing Dominos and more than often would add," I won a couple of matches today". And, more importantly, Juanita never ended our conversations without sending her regards to my husband..... "Give Phil a Hug For Me"

Juanita left us peacefully in her sleep and on her terms.... working gallantly her entire life to prove to all of us that she truly was a "trailblazer" and that we could be proud of the legend she left us with. She was put to rest beside her mother Lenore, Tuesday, February 24th at Angelus Rosedale Cemetery, Los Angeles. Goodbye Dear, Dear Friend..

Glass, Peters, Wilt Inducted into PBA Hall of Fame

INDIANAPOLIS – PBA Senior standout Bob Glass, former PBA owner Chris Peters and long-time PBA staff member Barb Wilt were inducted into the PBA Hall of Fame Class of 2015 Tuesday evening at the Marriott Indianapolis North in conjunction with the 50th anniversary Barbasol PBA Tournament of Champions.

Glass was elected in the PBA50 Performance category while Peters and Wilt were recognized in the Meritorious Service category for their extraordinary contributions behind the scenes to advance the PBA.

Glass, one of the first true power players on the PBA50 Tour, competed as a senior between 1997 and 2007 when he won nine titles and finished in the top five 38 times in 78 tournaments, earning just shy of a half-million dollars. He won a pair of majors – the 2000 Brunswick PBA Senior Championship and 2001 United States Bowling Congress Seniors Masters – and earned PBA50 Champion of the Year honors in 2000, 2001 and 2004.

“The Senior Tour was an opportunity to do something I always wanted to do,” Glass said. “It has provided a lot of guys like me an opportunity to combine their career with the tremendous experience of bowling competitively at a high level and meeting a lot of wonderful people. I miss bowling and the people.

“I’m a very analytical person, but through bowling on the Senior Tour I learned the importance of intuition,” he continued during his acceptance speech. “I also learned that there were similarities between bowling on the Senior Tour and my regular job. Success is gained not only through experience but also from the knowledge and what I could learn from young people.”

Glass, 67, who holds a PhD in economics and has a law degree, lives in Lawrence, Kansas, and currently is Chief of Economics and Rates with the Kansas Corporation Commission in nearby Topeka.

Peters, an early employee of Microsoft who later became an executive with the company, led the effort to purchase the PBA with partners and fellow Microsoft executives Mike Slade and Rob Glaser in 2000.

Peters and his partners provided an infusion of capital to ensure a solid foundation for the organization while at the same time providing vision and innovative ideas to enhance the fan experience especially in the areas of event presentation and online coverage. The introduction of a professionally-designed “arena” style set for TV finals, including professional presentation of signage and an overall enhanced image, helped the PBA generate more new non-bowling corporate sponsorships than the PBA had seen in several years.

Peters also introduced Strike Pass, the forerunner of PBA’s online bowling channel Xtra Frame, and the PBA Exempt Tour creating an “elite” tour to better showcase PBA Tour players and provide the Tour’s most successful players with guaranteed opportunities to make a living by including increased prize money for standard events.

“First, I share this honor with Mike and Rob and couldn’t have done it without them,” Peters said. “When the opportunity presented itself (to purchase the PBA) all I could think of was how wasteful it would have been for this prestigious 40-year-old sports organization to just go away. My motivation was to prevent something so valuable from being just tossed away.”

Wilt, who joined the PBA staff in 1970, retired to North Carolina in 2014 after 44 years of service to the organization. Her duties ranged from processing all PBA Tour entries to managing all of the PBA’s statistical records, and virtually every other hands-on office chore over her extensive career.

When the PBA was sold in 2000, the new owners asked Wilt to assist with the transition to the new headquarters in Seattle, so she moved to Seattle and continued to work to make improvements in membership, entries and statistical processes.

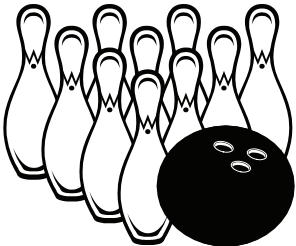

“When a 20-year-old walks into the PBA for the first time it’s just a job, but it would become much more than that,” Wilt said. “More than 40 years later this is the last place I imagined I would be.”

Twice during her tenure with PBA, Wilt had left the organization but was asked to return when her replacements didn’t work out.

“I did a job I loved to do, and worked with great people and terrific athletes,” she added. “I’m especially grateful to have had the opportunity to work with (PBA founder) Eddie Elias and all the commissioners who followed him.”

She was the face of the PBA among most of its thousands of members over four-plus decades, providing a familiar and friendly voice to help them with their needs, and she was conduit between PBA’s national and regional tournament directors in bridging the gap between the office and the road. She also became the organization’s unofficial historian and served as a guardian of old records, photographs and historical information.

Also during the ceremony, emcee Nelson Burton Jr., paid tribute to his fellow Hall of Famer Chuck Pezzano who died Jan. 23 at the age of 86. Pezzano, a PBA charter member and bowling historian was widely recognized as the dean of bowling journalists among many other accomplishments in the sport.

Bowl For A Cause Tournament Sat. February 28

by Frank Weiler
MURRIETA — MICHELLE’S PLACE BREAST CANCER RESOURCE CENTER is sponsoring a tournament at Cal Oaks Bowl on Saturday, February 28. The tournament will benefit women with all forms of cancer and their families.

Michelle’s Place is a full Nonprofit Charity. All its services are free. The center offers mammograms, chemo caps, prosthesis, wigs, bras, hats, scarves, seminars and much more. Michelle’s Place has helped over 9,500 women across the Inland Empire with over 100,000 free services. Michelle’s Place is one of the few facilities in Riverside County offering free services to women less than 40 years old.

Michelle’s Place is named in honor of MICHELLE WATSON. Michelle was a victim of breast cancer passing away on July 23, 2000, at the age of 26.

SHE PASSED AWAY TOO YOUNG BECAUSE BREAST CANCER FACILITIES AND SERVICES WERE NOT AVAILABLE TO YOUNGER WOMEN IN OUR AREA AT THE TIME.

Michele’s Place was created by her family in response to Michele’s dying wish for a place where younger female cancer victims can receive comfort, resources and information. Anyone interested in participating in this worthwhile bowling fundraiser may contact DINA DURAN for details at 951-699-5455. The fundraising tournament will roll on Saturday, February 28 at Brunswick Cal Oaks Bowl at 7 PM. Registration begins at 6 PM. The tourney is a handicap affair. See you there.

Mary Lynly Has Knee Replacement

ROSEVILLE — Just spoke with Mary, and she is anxious to get back on the lanes.

After a few years of a “pain in the KNEE”, Mary finally said yes, DO IT!

Lots of bowlers have knee problems from those foul line stops. So it’s either get a new knee or get a new hobby.

Happy Birthday Mary and see you on the lanes real soon.

BURBANK — I have noticed a trend lately within league bowling. I'm wondering if you have noticed it as well. It seems bowlers are more focused on winning points rather than the league experience as a whole.

Previously I have addressed the complaints about handicaps, one team vs another, as being outrageously high even though the same handicap percentage applies to everyone. Also, the misunderstanding of team maximums in scratch leagues and the concept of 'bringing in a ringer'.

Bowlers are concerning themselves with the idea that teams have been put together to gang up on the rest of the league not realizing bowlers may be rerated after an absence to the sport or are simply improving their skills.

What happened to the bowlers who would stay together, no matter what, because they were friends knowing full well their average as a team was not competitive? Or those who are friends and split up for the greater good of the league?

I wouldn't question this intense obsession with blow-by-blow fairness if a bowler could actually make money in leagues. Truth is, we don't! Even if we are the league champs, we never make up the same amount we put into the league, let alone make a profit. In order to do that, we would have to pay extremely high fees every week and not many are willing.

I have always maintained that if I had to bowl for a living I would starve. What is your opinion? You may want to share it with your league officers or center manager. Just sayin'!

Keystone Lanes Takes Over Top Spot

by Randy Myers

DOWNEY — Keystone Lanes showed why they are the #1 Seed for this season, as they took down last week’s leader Threadworks 4 to 1. This week it was Herbert Jones 236/641 and Arnold Cheesman 628 leading the way, while Paul Varela 237/581 to get the lone 3rd game win for 3rd place Threadworks. In a disturbing trend, Erickson Foods swept yet another opponent (in my absence) as my “sub” for my sub, Danny Ly shot 642 to make it 15-0 when I’m out of town. Doug Kempt shot 530 as high bowler for Alhambra Coin Center. So Keystone, how much will you pay me to show up next week? Send me your offers... Forest Lanes moved into serious contention with their 5-0 sweep of DV8 as Jon Diso shot 604 to nudge Mike Nakunz 599 for top set. Sam Hitchcock shot 639 in the loss to lead the pair. Forest and Threadworks will battle next week for the true top spot, as the top two teams are already in the roll-offs. CASAMI-GO’S Tequila moved to 14-6 with their sweep as they took full advantage of Super Sub Dean Sanderson’s 243/650 to shoot the night’s high team series of 2448. Dean got plenty of support as Joe Jimenez 608 and Harry Wong 602 contributed nicely, Mike Jennnings led Tifco Industries with 540.

American Harvest Vodka joined the party as well, finishing with a 3-2 win over Power House Video Games to remain just 3 games out of the Round lead. Kevin “Too Tall & now thousandaire” Jones was tops for the winners, while Eddie VanDaniker’s 590 paced Power House. Scott Poddig shot an even 600 set to lead Bowlium to a 4-1 over J.A.T. who were topped by DeeRonn Booker’s 561. Kevin Valmonte continued his hot bowling as he shot 615 to pave the way for Linder Insurance and their 4-1 over SYSCO.

Gabriel Martinez was high on the pair with 621 in the losing effort for SYSCO. Matt Schermerhorn shot 237/648 to lead his Cook’s Bowling Supply team to a 5-0 sweep over Los Altos Trophies. Los Altos was led by Pat P.J. Yarns and his 581 series. Herzog Insurance benefitted from the night’s top bowler, Mikey Villarreal shooting 259/670 as they defeated the defending champs 4-1. Bobby Hornacek shot 212 to end with 581 & gain The Professional Approach their lone win. It didn’t take much in the next matchup as Leonard Ruiz Jr. shot 569 to lead Pino’s Pizza to a 4-1 over Blizz Yogurt. Blizz was led by Vic Fabris’s 576. Missing their “true anchor” GJC Services struggled all night in taking one win. Joey Hanna shot 562 to pace GJC.

Sidepot winners were Game 1- Gabriel Martinez 243, Game 2 Mikey Villarreal, also taking the Financial Advisor’s pot for $245, while Justin Ziegler and Matt Schermerhorn shared 2nd place with 237, netting $50 each. Game 3 Super Pot went to Paul Varela with 237. The night’s big winner was Kevin Jones, as he was the only bowler to throw all 3 strikes in the 3rd game 10th frame to walk away with $1000. I am happy to report we have a new first time “TRUE ANCHOR” Del Rio’s very own Charlie Kinstler earned the crown this week with 431.

With the top two teams already qualified, there are 9 teams within 5 points of winning this round. Only 3 weeks remain, so it should provide for another exciting finish. Who is going to join the hunt for the championship? The next few weeks will decide a victor, who’s your pick? Looking forward to returning next week, until then, have a blessed week everyone, see you next Monday at Del Rio in Downey.
