Jason Belmonte Becomes First Player in Nearly 50 Years to Successfully Defend USBC Masters Title

NORTH BRUNSWICK — Australia's Jason Belmonte became the first bowler in nearly 50 years to successfully defend a United States Bowling Congress Masters title on Sunday as he defeated EJ Tackett of Huntington, Ind., 221-177.

Belmonte, the reigning Professional Bowlers Association Player of the Year, opened up a big lead early and eased to the title at Brunswick Zone Carolier. With the victory, Belmonte, who earned $50,000 for the win, is just the third player to successfully defend a Masters title, joining Billy Welu (1964 and 1965) and Dick Hoover (1956 and 1957).

"This tournament is so difficult to win," said Belmonte, who won his ninth career PBA Tour title and his third major. "I always have high expectations for myself, but to go down in history as the third one and first in 50 years to win back-to-back is a huge honor."

In the title match, Belmonte got out of the gates quickly and took advantage of a slow start by Tackett, the reigning PBA Rookie of the Year. Belmonte started with a spare before rattling off four consecutive strikes to take command.

The match wasn't settled, however, until the final frame when Belmonte converted the 4 pin and struck on his final ball to shut out Tackett.

"I wish I would have had a chance, but Jason did what he had to do to win," Tackett said. "I'm disappointed I didn't win, but it's an experience I'm going to learn from this and hopefully next time I can win."

In addition to making history with consecutive Masters victories, Belmonte also added his name to a short list of players who have won back-to-back major titles. He won the Barbasol PBA Tournament of Champions in January and is the seventh player in history to win back-to-back majors.

In the semifinal, Belmonte hung on for a one-pin victory over Michael Haugen Jr. of Phoenix, 235-234, by putting a spare on the board in the final frame and getting nine pins on the fill ball.

Belmonte, who entered the championship round as the fifth seed, took down No. 3 seed Tom Smallwood of Saginaw, Mich., 202-173, and opened the stepladder finals with a 227-214 win over fourth seed Ryan Ciminelli of Cheektowaga, N.Y.

The Masters, which featured a total prize fund of $315,000, is part of the World Tenpin Bowling Association World Bowling Tour. A sold-out field of 468 players from 15 countries started the week in their quest to take home the trophy.

Mark and Denise Roth: The Legend and the Angel

PALM SPRINGS — Long time Orange County bowler and dear friend to so many, passed Monday, February 17th in Palm Springs.

NORWALK — Florence Nightingale has nothing on Denise Roth. While it is widely known in bowling circles that legendary Hall of Fame bowler Mark Roth suffered a stroke on May 30, 2009, there was also a previous health-related incident, or rather, a preventive measure that may have averted an "incident" two years earlier.

It was 2007. Denise studied Mark's family history and discovered that his father had died of heart disease at age 40 and his mother at age 62. Further, his sister died at age 53. "I made him get medical testing done," Denise said. Blockages were detected and Mark received three stents.

All seemed well after that until that day in May of '09. "Mark looked pale and said he didn't feel good that day," she said. It was the onset of the major stroke that kept him in two rehabilitation centers (Oswego and Syracuse NY) for six months. Fortunately Denise was able to stay with him full time during the first difficult weeks of recovery.

"Well, it was almost full time" she said. "I went out one day and when I came back Mark had restraints." Mark says, "They tied me down." In Denise's absence, Mark had tried to get out of bed on his own and fell, hitting his head. "The nurse told me never to leave him again," Denise recalled half jokingly.

Her real discouragement and fear came after Mark was discharged to return home. He didn't want nurses, and so Denise had to physically lift and support him in every way. "Sometimes I cried. I'd be on the floor trying to lift his limp leg and I thought 'Now what do I do.'" Simple tasks such as trying to get Mark to turn over in bed were difficult and

In the alternate-ball doubles match, Barnes and 2003 USBC Masters Champion Bryon Smith will pair up against Duke and two-time Tour winner Michael Machuga.

In the trios match, the Atom Splitters lineup will include former Player of the Year Tommy Jones, three-time Tour winner Dom Barrett and another former Player of the Year, Wes Malott, against the Strikers’ lineup of three-time Tour winner Rhino Page, Hall of Famer Amleto Monacelli and Tour winner Dave Wodka.

DAN FLORES' 267-955 TOPS SO-CAL DEAF TRAVEL AT DEL RIO LANES

DOWNEY — So. Calif. Deaf Traveling League’s hottest bowler Dan Flores hit his second consecutive and fourth 4-games 900 of the season in the traveling league’s 2nd stop at Del Rio Lanes. The smooth rolling right hander again tossed all twos-games of 218-267-233-237 for his 955 series. Incidentally Flores hit his season first 900 on the nose in the league’s first stop of the season at Del Rio Lanes last October 6.

At Del Rio Flores led league’s honor roll list of 8 bowlers featuring two with 800s, Andy Lorenzo with 216-171-204-216 for 807 and Mark Fisser with 231-191-214-169 for 805. Followed by Ed Abakumoff with 239-199-181-175 for 789, Leroy MacMonagle with 198-237-184-200 for 769 and Connie Marchione with 729. Anita Lorenzo and Jeff Stansell made the list with their 200 games, Jeff with his 203 and Anita replaced her ladies season high game of 194 with a 205.

Even with Flores’ five points sweep of his match, his teammates did not help as their S.F. Valley team lost 13 to 7 to the league leader Eagle Rock. Eagle Rock extended its lead to 15 points over 2nd place Fisser’s Anaheim rallied to a 10-10 tie with Abakumoff’s Riverside. Andy Lorenzo helped Stansell’s 3rd place Mid City to a near sweep 14-6 over MacMonagle’s Orange County. Mid City is now 4 points behind Anaheim.

This 54 years old all deaf scratch So. Calif. Deaf Traveling League appreciates Del Rio Lanes management for hosting the league this season and hopes to have the same next season. The next travel stop will be at Brunswick Covina Bowl on Sunday March 9 at 11 AM. There will be 2nd position round with Eagle Rock against Anaheim, Mid City against Riverside and S. F. Valley against Orange County.

Leslie Bohn “Delivers” Ultimate Gift of Love

PBA Hall of Famer Parker Bohn III’s wife serves as surrogate, delivers Chris and Janine Forry’s first child

JACKSON, N.J. – Exactly one month after the Professional Bowlers Association honored Hall of Famer Parker Bohn III for his extraordinary community service, Bohn’s wife Leslie delivered an even more significant gift. Literally.

On Feb. 14 – Valentine’s Day, Leslie Bohn gave birth to Christian Leslie Forry, a healthy nine-pound, four-ounce, 20-inch-long baby boy.

Yes, the name is correct. The baby doesn’t belong to the Bohns. The child’s parents are Chris and Janine Forry. Because Leslie Bohn agreed to be the surrogate, with husband Parker’s blessings, the Forrys have the child they have always wanted.

It’s an extraordinary story of how bowling brought two families together in a very special way.

Chris Forry, a former PBA member, owns Buddies Pro Shop in Fairfield, Conn. His wife Janine is a special needs teacher and former collegiate bowler. They had been trying to have a baby for several years, but learned Janine is unable to give birth naturally.

Back in 2009, Chris Forry was bowling in the U.S. Open at Carolier Lanes in North Brunswick, N.J. – not far from the Bohns’ home in Jackson – and he was commuting back-and-forth to Connecticut during the tournament because Janine was having in vitro procedures performed in hopes of eventually having their first child.

“I was getting ready to head back home to Connecticut and I bumped into Parker and Leslie, and I told them Janine was having an in vitro procedure early the next morning,” Forry said. “Leslie mentioned she had considered being a surrogate to help another family member have a child. At the time I didn’t think much of that conversation because I thought the in vitro process would eventually be successful.”

Three years later and several more unsuccessful procedures later, another chance meeting took place. Parker, now working for Brunswick as a bowling ball sales rep, made a visit to Forry’s pro shop where the conversation again turned to family.

“I asked Parker about his family and he asked about mine, thinking that by this time the in vitro efforts were successful,” Chris said. “I hated to tell him that unfortunately our efforts weren’t successful and it looked like we wouldn’t be able to have any children. That’s when Parker suggested I give Leslie a call.

“When Parker got home he told Leslie to expect a call from me. I can only imagine what Leslie thought of Parker volunteering her to even consider it,” he continued. “It took me a few days to work up the nerve to call Leslie but I finally did. When I called, Leslie mentioned Parker had told her I might call, but she wanted to give it some more thought.”

Leslie wasn’t immediately taken by the idea, but it didn’t take her long to consider the possibilities.

“I was originally thinking more of helping a relative who might not be able to have a child and not necessarily someone outside of our family,” Leslie Bohn said. “Plus our family situation had changed. (Carrying someone else’s child) really wasn’t on my bucket list, but after talking it through with Parker and thinking more about the opportunity to give a couple something as wonderful as what we have, we made the decision to go ahead.”

That’s when the process began in earnest. The Forrys came to visit the Bohns (Janine had never met Parker and Leslie). They discussed the details Leslie needed to know about the surrogacy process.

It was a life-changing process for everyone concerned. There were the legal issues, medical and psychiatric testing, and, maybe most important, discussions with their own families.

Leslie and Parker wanted their three children - sons Justin, 10, Brandon, 9, and daughter Sydney, 7 – involved in the decision process. Parker also has two children from a previous marriage.

“We didn’t have to do too much convincing of Justin and Brandon, but we had a little explaining to do with Sydney,” Leslie said. “We just explained to her that we were able to give a family something wonderful like we had and I think she understood that.”

“A few weeks later, Leslie called and said she was all in,” Chris said.

In June of 2013, the Forrys received the call they had dreamed of: Leslie informed them she was pregnant.

Leslie said the pregnancy was normal. She was even able to continue bowling competitively until shortly before the delivery.

“All we could think of during the pregnancy was the excitement and what we were bringing this couple was priceless,” Leslie said. “All we could think of was how happy we were to be part of helping another family have what we have.”

On Valentine’s Day – one month after Parker had been named recipient of the inaugural PBA Tony Reyes Award for his unselfish community service - Leslie exceeded him, delivering the ultimate gift of love.

“Valentine’s Day will never be the same,” Janine Forry said. “The whole nine months has brought tears to my eyes. Parker and Leslie have made it so special. It’s been a privilege to know them. A special bond has formed between us and now we’re an extended family.”

It was equally special for Leslie and Parker Bohn.

“It was the greatest gift of love you could imagine on Valentine’s Day,” Parker said. “Giving two people the pleasure of being a mom and dad is something you have to experience to appreciate.

“I’ve experienced a lot of things, on and off the lanes, but I know that having children and a family far exceeds anything else I’ve ever done.”

“I got my strength from my family, especially my mother before she passed,” Denise said. “She would tell me to hold my head up high and keep going.” Losing her mother while going through the ordeal of caring for her ill husband was almost more than she could bear.

Ironically, friends they never met also kept them going. “Mark and I both drew so much strength from the fans. We can never forget the fans. There were letters, cards, and most of all prayers from bowlers everywhere. Many of them were devastated by the news of his stroke. They were from all over the world.”

Fred Schreyer, who was the PBA Commissioner at the time, played a huge role in putting together the Mark Roth Plastic Ball Tournament. “I’m thankful for Fred, Tom Clark, Kirk Von Krueger and the entire PBA staff for being there, too,” said Denise. Marshall Holman, Johnny Petraglia and Parker Bohn called Denise often at the onset, and still maintain communication. “Jim and CJ Goodwin, our good friends from Texas, were also there for us,” she added.

Mark isn’t 100% healthy today; far from it. Just managing medications is a big part of everyday life. In addition to the many pills, he takes four shots of insulin daily for his diabetes. He still has coronary heart disease that he treats with medication. He has physical rehabilitation two or three days a week. The couple is looking for a more intense program so that he can bowl again. While a cane helps Mark walk, it is still difficult for him to be as mobile as he would like.

On Sunday, February 23rd, the Professional Bowlers Association presented the inaugural Most Valuable Player Award to a deserving Elias Cup PBA League player during the taping of the final rounds of the USBC Masters competition. Mark was asked to help with the presentation. For the Roths, it was an honor and well worth the six hour drive from upstate New York to North Brunswick, New Jersey.

The couple spent several days at Brunswick Zone Carolier Lanes during the Masters Tournament. Friends embraced them. Fans asked for an autograph or photo with the Brooklyn legend, reminiscing with Mark about his early bowling days and victories.

While Mark enjoyed the attention, grateful that people remembered him, his thoughts consistently turned back to Denise. “She saved my life twice” he said. “If it weren’t for her I wouldn’t be here.”

their charity event March 2 at Keystone Lanes, plus their cash winnings.

Other winnings in the Handicap Division: Patricia Smith, Clippers Team Autographed Ball; Don McGee, Blake Griffin Autographed Jersey; Craig Cipp, Chris Paul Autographed Ball, and Rachel Macias 2 tickets to a Clipper game.

The Scratch Division roll-off featured four of the hottest pin pushers in the Southland, Greg Neuer, Mikey Villarreal, Justin Ziegler and Junior star Wesley Low Jr. In the first semi match Wesley topped Greg 238-215. Justin pounced all over Mikey 279-224, sending Justin on to meet Wesley for the title and $3,500.

What a show! Not even a mark separated them....when the lane dust cleared, the monitor declared Wesley the winner 206-202.

Wesley's College Scholarship fund gets a nice deposit.

On behalf of the Clippers, Cal Bowl, Forest Lanes and Keystone Lanes — THANK YOU BOWLERS. Congrats to the winners and hope to see you again next time.

P.S. When the Clippers Charity Event is held on March 2, all lanes are purchased by corporate sponsors and is a closed event. No spectators are allowed.

A First For USBC Members !!!!!

USBC to Offer Short-Season Membership Starting March 1

ARLINGTON, TX - Bowlers competing in short-season leagues that begin March 1, 2014, or later can purchase a United States Bowling Congress membership at a reduced price.

The new USBC Adult Basic membership will be available for bowlers who compete in leagues that have 16 or fewer sessions. The membership will cost $10, not including state dues, and it provides a USBC-certified average so bowlers can compete in local, state and national tournaments.

In addition to the league having 16 or fewer sessions, the league must designate as a short-season league; the league's prize fund will be bonded. Each USBC Adult Basic membership will be good only for that league, which means if a bowler wants to participate in another short-season league, they would have to purchase another USBC Adult Basic membership.

"USBC membership flexibility is important for association leaders and proprietors as they create programs for bowlers," said USBC President Andrew Cain. "The Adult Basic membership was developed so associations will have a lower-cost product for bowlers who compete in short-duration leagues."

High score achievements will be recognized and officially recorded by USBC, but awards such as rings and plaques are not included in the USBC Adult Basic membership. Members do have the option to purchase high score awards. Membership cards will be electronic only for the USBC Adult Basic membership.

Bowlers with a current Adult Standard membership would not be required to purchase a USBC Adult Basic membership to compete in a short-season league and would be eligible for honor score awards earned in the league.

At the 2012 USBC Annual Meeting, delegates approved a change to have all memberships end each July 31. The USBC Adult Basic membership was designed to provide a reasonably-priced alternative for proprietors and bowlers who want a USBC membership for short-season leagues, particularly in the spring or summer.

Of the $10 cost for the USBC Adult Basic membership, $7 will go to USBC National and $3 to the local association. State associations may charge their current dues which could add, at most, $1 to the cost.

Experience and Youth Shine at Keystone's JAT Sport League

NORWALK — One of the great benefits of the JAT Sport League is that younger bowlers can learn from the more experienced bowlers. And based on this week's performances, the converse is true as well.

On the experience side, Long Beach State bowling team-mates Spencer Van Rijsberyen and Sarah Schneider were the top scorers this week. Spencer was steady throughout all four games, shooting a league high 813 series while Sarah's 733 series was high for the girls.

On the youth side, it was 13 year old David Schneider (yes, Sarah's brother) taking the league to school, rolling an impressive 791 series, second highest overall for the week. This was David's high series for the season, nearly 100 pins higher than his previous best. Even 11 year old Jared Schiada got into the action, rolling his highest series of the year with a 649. Finally, we salute Chris Goar who came oh so close to perfection, shooting this week's high game of 267. Only a solid 7 pin in the sixth marred an otherwise flawless slate of strikes. This was the final trip on Dead Man's Curve as the Juniors will try to stay on the Beaten Path next week.

The JAT Sport League provides competitive youth bowlers the opportunity to bowl on challenging oil patterns to prepare them for tournaments and help them advance to the college level, including scholarship money. Bowlers are eligible up to age 21 and the league starts at noon every Saturday at Keystone Lanes in Norwalk. Youth bowlers interested in joining this league and taking their game to the next level should contact Armando at (562) 896-4467.

BURBANK — This past Saturday, I had the great pleasure of working the City Championship for the Junior bowlers. What a great bunch of kids and really outstanding bowlers as well. They posted scores that would make a grown man/woman cry. I have great respect for the coaches and Junior Directors.

Having been one myself, I know the joys and pains of keeping a program going. They work hard but the rewards are many. If anyone has time on their hands and would like to help out, please think about supporting the youth program. Your heart will fill with the smiles of these extraordinary young people!

LAKEWOOD — Have you ever taken the time to look at all the different team names in your league? Then wonder how did they come up with it? Some are very creative, others artistic, funny, better then just Team No. 4. As I sit here and set the bowlers names and high scores, I can't help but look at the team names. Very interesting!

ROUND 4 - WEEK 4

by aka Wonder Woman

DOWNEY — Week #4 was one of the lowest scoring nights of this season, only a 179 average. Seemed like the bowlers were taking the hits instead of the pins!

The match between PINO'S PIZZA and A.B.T. saw-sawed back and forth. PINO's won games one and three; A.B.T. snagging game two and totals, leaving PINO'S only one game ahead of A.B.T. They will go head to head again on week 5.

SYSCO with 15 wins and PRO APPROACH (14) both have a shot at leaping to the top of the sheet this week. Let's not forget LOS ALTOS TROPHY! They could be the spoilers or just lay back and enjoy their $$$ status.

The log jam at the top makes for very interesting pairings every week. Spectators have a great time patrolling the concourse, "predicting" outcomes and remembering the good old days of lacquered lanes, black rubber balls and pot games. (Whatever happened to pot games?)

Now we have side-pots; and the winners are: Game One Sol Cericos 244, Game Two Paul Varela 246, Game Three Paul Varela 233, Advisor Pots Paul Varela 246 and Spanky Rosales 233.

GJC SERVICES cranked out the nights best series against ZUNIGA'S PLUMBING. In fact they popped more pins off the planks than any other pair. On lanes 21 and 22 yet!! 2330 to 2236.

Lanes 25 and 26 carried the "bowling jinx". In fact nothing else carried. Slam 7, Slam 10, Big 4 and plenty more. 'Twas a nightmare.

Fact or fiction? Only one team had 2 guys shoot over 600?? 'Tis a fact. THREADWORKS best twosome were Mike Villarreal 602 and Paul Varela 671.

Fifteen teams never had a six! Yikes! When is the easy round coming? After watching the Pros on Sunday struggle for a paycheck, our Eboniters look great. Sunday, the whole STORM staff of experts was gathered behind Belmonte on every shot! Did anyone catch that?? Did the other bowlers have "expert" guidance? Just asking!!!
