Siena Cawelti Makes the Grade.. Golden Ladies Is Next

by Fred Eisenhammer

LAS VEGAS — Just think.

About eight years ago, Siena Cawelti was trolling along as a novice bowler with a 119 league average.

Next week, Siena will be competing as a full-fledged and well-respected participant in the 27th National Golden Ladies Classic at the Orleans Bowling Center in Las Vegas. The prestigious and hotly contested four-day senior tournament (March 13-16) will showcase more than 100 top women bowlers.

Siena's story is one of the feel-good variety. She has cleared several levels by ratcheting up her game with nonstop practice and frequent battle-testing tournament play.

Siena bolted to the ranks of the 600 (series) club four years ago when she smoked a 622 (229, 203, 190).

She's continued to set personal bests, scoring a 255 and a 626 series. And Siena has been doing it after overcoming numerous serious injuries that would have sidelined most bowlers for good.

Siena is not like most bowlers, though.

She's the one who says, "I live, breathe and if I could eat a bowling ball, continued on page 8

Iconic Covina Bowl Closing Its Doors Forever

by Kevin Smith, San Gabriel Valley Tribune

Brunswick Zone Covina Bowl, one of the last mid-century California bowling alleys to survive intact and unscathed, is about to close its doors.

The venue, known for its steeply pitched A-frame roof and retro neon-lighted "Bowl" sign out front, will shut down on March 12, according to an employee who declined to give her name.

Brian Lee, Covina's community development director, said the family that owns the land informed the city of its plan to sell the property about a year ago.

"We were also told that the operator of the bowling alley was going to consolidate its operations into its other West Covina center," he said. "The property is being marketed and we've received a lot of phone calls but no plan has been submitted yet."

The bowling center was completed in 1956 and designed for brothers Louis, Leonard and Angelo Brutocao by the architectural firm Powers, Daly, and DeRosa. The Los Angeles

Conservancy wrote that the firm was "widely recognized as the masters of the form."

Between 1955 and 1962, the firm designed nearly 50 bowling alleys in California, "creating destinations that were far more than just a few lanes," the conservancy said. They included restaurants, cocktail lounges, banquet rooms and lav- continued on page 8

Congratulations Yvette Wright

PALOS VERDES — On March 5th, 2017 Yvette Wright was the FIRST WOMAN to bowl a 300 game during the Digital League play.

The Digital League is celebrating its 30th Year Anniversary this year. We spent the majority of our years at El Dorado Bowl, however we're now at Palos Verdes Bowl for our second winter season.

We're extremely excited, happy and proud of our woman bowler, which truly is a record for our league — Our First!

JEFF LEWEN - Southern Tier Bowler of The Month

by Frank Weiler

MURRIETA — Jeff Lewen is my Southern Tier Bowler of The Month for February.

We are still looking for our first 800 series in the 640 SCRATCH TRIO LEAGUE. League Secretaries SCOTT and SHARI FILIPI tell me they have never seen scoring so depressed. The league and area boasts some of the highest scorers and best bowlers in the great state of CALIFORNIA. To no avail.

Bowler's named Bowman, Gagnon, Gulley, LaRiviere, Lewen, Markiewicz, Maupin, Mojado, Moser, Murtishaw, Nilsen, Peters, Vidad and Warning have been unable to break the 800 barrier.

Jeff Lewen came the closest to 800 this season when he rolled 798 in February including a perfect 300 game. Jeff's perfect game is one of only a handful in our scratch leagues this season. Jeff is also sporting our top current average of 229.58.

Jeff Lewen is my Southern Tier Bowler of The Month for February because he rolled our high scores of the month and is currently carrying our high average.

IT HAS NOT HAPPENED ON THE MOUNTAIN SINCE 2004

CRESTLINE — Congratulations to John Waddington on bowling a perfect 300 Game! John threw twelve strikes in a row at RIM BOWLING & ENTERTAINMENT during our Thursday night High Roller, Las Vegas league! The last time John threw a 300 game was January 30, 1995 so this was 22 years in the making, what a great personal achievement!!

This was no easy feat; the wood lanes of Rim Bowling & Entertainment have not seen a perfect game since April of 2004. As such there has been a standing bounty for that elusive perfect game and John took home a bounty of $500 for his fabulous effort!!! With an audience of 75 ecstatic bowlers John accomplished a game no one else has been able to and the crowd roared!

The Canadian native had four top-five finishes including one win and one runner-up finish. No PBA50 Player of the Year or Pat Patterson Award was awarded in the Southwest.

- Northwest – If there was an overall award for Regional Player of the Year it would have to go to Jakob Butturff of Chandler, Ariz., who earned Regional Player of the Year in both the Northwest and West regions by winning a record nine PBA regional titles during the 2016 season, breaking the previous record of eight held by Mike Scroggins of Amarillo, Texas. Other award winners in the Northwest were Darren Tang of San Francisco who earned Rookie of the Year honors with two third-place and one fifth-place finish. # 42 Schools, Organizations Receive Grants to Teach Bowling

ARLINGTON, Texas – Mobile bowling equipment and curriculum kits to help teach children the sport of bowling have been awarded to 42 schools and organizations through Bowler’s Ed, the in-school bowling program of International Bowling Campus Youth Development.

The Bowler’s Ed equipment kits help schools and organizations teach students the life-long sport of bowling by providing educators the ability to engage kids in a true bowling experience. The kits provide a bowling-center atmosphere inside a school or gymnasium and feature activities to enhance cardiovascular health, coordination and endurance.

“IBC Youth Development’s outreach to parent-teacher organizations produced a great deal of applications and we’re excited to have a bowling program incorporated into so many schools through the Bowler’s Ed grants,” IBC Youth Committee chair Melissa McDaniel said. “It’s a great tool for teachers and a tremendous way to introduce bowling to the next generation.”

The Bowler’s Ed grants are expected to impact more than 35,000 children in the 42 schools and organizations.

A Bowler’s Ed kit is valued at $2,200 and the New York State USBC is funding the cost of the kits to Fairley Elementary in Hannibal and Public School 11 in Staten Island.

What to expect at 2017 Bowl Expo from the Keynote Speaker Thought Leader and Super Session Speaker

Keynote Speaker Shaquille O'Neal - What it Takes to be a Champion

Few individuals ever become iconic enough to be known by one name - Shaq. A revered cultural icon, Shaquille O'Neal is best known for an NBA career spanning nearly two decades and earning him the sport's highest honors, including membership in the NBA Hall of Fame. The four-time NBA Champion, 15-time NBA All Star and three-time NBA Finals MVP has been named one of the most influential athletes by Forbes magazine, in addition to being the highest ranked NBA athlete on Nielsen's State of the Media: Year in Sports 2010 and Business Week's Power Sports 100.

But Shaquille O'Neal isn't only a legendary athlete; he has also established himself as a powerful media personality and businessman over the years. Ranked among "The 100 Most Creative People in Business" last year by Fast Company magazine, O'Neal is currently an NBA analyst on TNT's Emmy-award winning show, Inside the NBA on TNT.

In addition to being an early investor in companies such as Google, O'Neal has managed an increasingly robust personal brand, which has included television shows, a shoe line and social media/tech products. The first verified celebrity account on Twitter, O'Neal announced his NBA retirement via Tout, a new social media app that allows users to tape 15-second video statuses.

Peter Shankman Thought Leader - The Economy of the Next Fifty Years Will be Run by Customer Service

The days of begging for likes are over. The customer economy is all about doing likeable things. As the network gets smarter and smarter, it'll know your favorite places before you do, and share those with the world – when the world is looking.

So if your friends are looking for a doctor in New York City, and you live there, it'll show them who you use automatically because logic suggests that, if you go there a lot, you like the place, and your friends usually like what you like. It's not private if you're already posting from there, remember. What does this mean for your business? It means it's time to start focusing on the customer experience. Without that, no amount of advertising, marketing or SEO will save you.

Learn:
The five rules of the customer economy.
Why speed matters.

How to stay "top-of-mind" in every customer's mind, from beginning to end.
How millennials, as well as Generations Z and Alpha are consuming content, and how you can get in front of them.

ish decorations designed to attract a clientele that extended well beyond the bounds of local bowling leagues.

Frank Barraco Jr., whose father managed Covina Bowl for 35 years before retiring in the late 1990s, said the center will be missed. “People are a little dismayed that it’s going to be closing,” he said. “The architecture of the place was really on display. It was featured in every architectural magazine from here to Timbuktu.”

The bowling alley — initially designed with 32 lanes but later expanded to 50 — was operated by Brunswick Corp. until its 85 centers were purchased a few years ago by Bowlmor AMF for $270 million. Barraco said Bowlmor has been leasing the venue from the Brutocao family and that the business has been flagging.

“Covina Bowl has been in decline for years,” Barraco said. “They haven’t been making any money. The banquet rooms were shut down last summer.”

Representatives with Bowlmor could not be reached for comment. Barraco is uncertain about the plans for the property. But he’s heard rumors. “I’ve been told by a couple people that it could be turned into housing,” he said. “That’s certainly a possibility.”

Lee said the property is commercially zoned now so it would have to be re-zoned with a general plan amendment in order for housing to be developed there.

“It has some interesting architectural features and the Los Angeles Conservancy has listed it as a site of merit, so any type of development on that property would have to take that into account,” he said. “It would have to be part of the CEQA (California Environmental Quality Act) assessment.” Linda Johnson, association manager for the San Gabriel Valley chapter of the United States Bowling Congress, the bowling association that sanctions local bowling leagues and tournaments in the region, has fond memories of the place. “They used to have a fantastic coffee shop there but that’s been gone a long time,” she said. “I have lots of memories of bowling there with friends and family.”

I would.” What’s special about Siena is that she actually means it.

This reporter was with Siena when she broke the 600 barrier at AMF Woodlake Lanes in Woodland Hills. She was emotionally spent after exceeding her previous series high by a whopping 64 pins. Afterwards, she said with all sincerity, “I had to cry like the girl that I am.”

Siena, a San Fernando Valley resident, reached a new pinnacle this year at the Women’s Invitational Tournament in San Diego when she reached the four-person stepladder finals. Though she was ousted in her first stepladder match of the handicap tournament, she still finished ahead of such luminaries as Michele Carter, who won last year’s Golden Ladies tournament. “She will definitely enjoy herself [at the Golden Ladies],” said Michelle Silver, one of the Valley area’s most prolific bowlers. “It’ll be fun for her bowling against the top women bowlers in the world.

“She has so much heart. It’s nice for her to do things like that.” Remarkably, Siena has been bowling for only five years, having missed three intermittent years because of injuries.

Siena, who is averaging in the 160s, is lavish in her praise for those who have helped her along the way. On her Facebook, she cites “my coach Mark Baker for making me a better bowler every day, even though I know I need a lot more work, my hubby for letting me follow my true passion and goals, my family for their love and support, and my friends who give me the confidence to believe in myself, especially Michelle Silver, who I admire and strive to bowl like.” Siena is realistic about her chances at the Golden Ladies. Each year, several Hall-of-Famers compete in the tournament, but it’s unlikely Siena will be thrown off course by the talent-laden field. “The ball right now is coming off my hand well, so I’m hoping for the best,” Siena says.

PBA Hall of Famer Pete Weber will be inducted into the St. Louis Sports Hall of Fame in September, along

PBA TOUR PLAYERS RETURN TO ACTION IN FIRST XTRA FRAME STORM CUP EVENT

After a brief respite following PBA's intense "Big February" schedule, Tour players will return to action in the first in a series of PBA Xtra Frame Storm Cup events March 17-19 when Sawgrass Lanes in Tamarac, Fla., hosts the Xtra Frame Reality Check Classic.

Originally scheduled for early October 2016, the XF Reality Check Classic was forced to postpone due to the arrival of Hurricane Matthew. The re-scheduled event will feature a minimum $10,000 first prize and will award the first points in the new XF Storm Cup series that will pay a $20,000 first prize at the conclusion of the 2017 series plus additional cash prizes of $10,000 for second place, $8,000 for third, $7,000 for fourth and $5,000 for fifth place.

In each of the eight XF Storm Cup events, points will be awarded to the top 20 players with the winner earning 25 points, second place 19, third place 18, etc., with points declining by one through 20th place.

Each of the Storm Cup events also will be covered live from start to finish, exclusively by PBA's Xtra Frame live streaming service. For subscription information, visit xtraframe.tv.

Immediately following the XF Reality Check Classic, PBA players will have their first shot at a 2017 PBA International-World Bowling Tour title in the Brunswick Euro Challenge at Dream-Bowl Palace in Munich, Germany. Qualifying gets underway March 18 and the tournament ends on Sunday, March 26. First prize will be roughly $12,000. A PBA Tour title will be awarded if the winner is a PBA member who doesn't accept handicap pins.

BURBANK — Bowling City Tournament this past week-end, I found I was hard pressed to remember exactly how many in which I had participated.

This disconcerted me, though I knew it was a high number. More disconcerting was the dignity of the tournament having changed greatly. Gone are the days of bowlers wearing matching team and doubles shirts. It was a sea of tee shirts and jeans, shorts and sequins.

Fortunately, the dress rules are more stringent for the youth bowlers at tournament and directors are more likely to provide center shirts for the teams.

They look more like a sport that is taken seriously, like baseball, basketball, hockey. Hmm. Would the sport of bowling be taken more seriously for adults & youth if the players took themselves more seriously?

Invitational

Sysco & Cal Bowl Tied for the Lead in Brunswick

by Mike Cammarata

DOWNEY — Heading into the fourth week of the fourth round in the Brunswick Invitational, DV8 was feeling really good about their chances. They had started the round 14-1, and held a two game lead over a pair of teams that were 12-3. Based on the total pins tie breaker, Sysco would be their opponent for the night, and when all was said and done, DV8 left the center looking up in the standings and needing a big rebound next week to remain in contention.

Sysco got off to a quick start, posting a nice 797 in game one to win by a little over 100 pins, grabbing the early lead. After another 100 pin victory in game #2, DV8 was left to hope for a single win, with totals pretty much out of reach. It didn't get any better for them in game three though, as Sysco again won by over 100. With the sweep, Sysco improves to 17-3 for the round and will lead the field into week #5. Steve Brode was the top shooter on the pair, leading Sysco with 200/584.

Cal Bowl kept pace with Sysco from the next pair over. They also improved to 17-3 with a sweep of the Professional Approach team. Scores were low on the pair, as Carl Labayan led the way with a 551 set for Cal Bowl. Even with that being the top score, Cal won totals by over 200 pins.

Smirnoff improved to 14-6 this round following a 4-1 victory over Herzog Insurance. Smirnoff won the first game by only seven pins. The second game was an easy victory. Herzog came back to win game #3 by 64 pins but it wasn't enough to make up the gap in total pins. Vernon Adams of Smirnoff led the pair with 233/622.

Bowlum entered the night at 9-6, needing a few wins to try and stay in contention and keep up with the top of the field. It didn't go well for them though, as the Keystone Lanes team took four out of five on the night. Jonathan Huff led the way for Keystone with a 231/613 series.

Western Pacific, winners of the 2nd round, took four out of five games in the match with Crown Royal, as they try to climb the ladder for total wins. Michael Haugen Jr. subbed for Western Pacific and led the pair, shooting 234-214-235/683, in spite of the tough conditions. Dave Schiada added a 275 in the middle game to help Crown Royal to their one win.

J.A.T. swept past Century 21 on the next pair. J.A.T. improved to 12-8 and can climb back into contention with a couple more big weeks. Katrina Fujikami claimed to not be feeling well, but still led the pair by quite a bit with her 223-226/626 series. Larry Campbell added a 601 set for J.A.T. to help her out.

Mikey Villarreal shot a very nice 231-212-209/652 series to lead Erickson's Food Supply to a 4-1 victory over Parkin's Bowling Supply. Parkin's took game #1 by 20 pins to get off to a good start, but it was the only win they'd get as Erickson's stormed back to win the next two games and totals. DeeRonk Booker added a 203/576 for Erickson's.

Threadworks squared off with Los Altos Trophy on the next pair, and came away with four needed wins, to keep their chances alive as we enter the back half of the round. Paul Varela led Threadworks, and the pair, with a 566 series.

Forest Lanes had been struggling through the early part of the round, but got healthy on this night, sweeping every game in their match with Gym W.R.A.T.T. Fitness. Gip Lentine was the top shooter on the pair, leading Forest Lanes with 215/610.

On the final pair, GJC Janitorial, who came into the week at 1-14, got four much needed wins in their match against Linder's Insurance. Linder's, who at one point was the overall leader in total wins, is finding this pattern to be very difficult and will need to rebound soon. Dan Gartin led the pair with 246/621.

Michael Haugen Jr. was kind enough to pop in and take two of the three sidepots, winning game 1 and game 3, with a couple of 230 games. Harry Wong won the 2nd game super pot with a 221 game for $153.

The Financial Advisors Pot was won by Vernon Adams with a 233 game for $200. Jonathan Huff took 2nd for $100 with 231. The fourth round continues next week, as our new leaders, Sysco and Cal Bowl will do battle. The action starts at 8:30 p.m. on Monday night and spectators are always welcome.
