Custer Massacres The Pins In Modesto

by Don Surdich

MODESTO — How about averaging 244 before you roll in your Friday Major league at Yosemite Lanes in Modesto, then you roll a 899 series.

Rich Custer, 45, has had the top men's average at Yosemite for the past four seasons. Custer rolled 35 strikes in 36 shots to shatter the Modesto USBC Association three-game series record with his series with games of 299-300-300.

He started his first game with 11 strikes and then left

A Future FOR THE Sport

Today's Vision is Tomorrow's Future

USBC continues to build ... "A Future for the Sport"

by Chad Murphy USBC Executive Director

USBC HEADQUARTERS — 2015 proved to be a fantastic year for USBC. Operationally, we continue to evolve in creating efficiencies and providing top-notch benefits and services to bowling. In 2015, our USBC family at all levels talked about A Future for the Sport. It's more than just a catchy slogan. A Future for the Sport is quite simply the reason for USBC as a national governing body to exist.

USBC continues to deliver on our commitment to be a leader for bowling as the National Governing Body, but also a partner to the industry that includes our state and local USBC associations. A year ago we announced USBC would focus on five priorities in 2015. Let's look back to see how we did and also how each area will move forward in 2016.

Youth Development

Junior Gold participation is at an all-time high. The same can be said for high school and collegiate bowling, which surpassed 200 member schools for the first time. More kids than ever are funding their education with bowling scholarships.

The Bowler's Ed program is also growing, delivering over 5,000 curriculums to schools across the country. USA Bowling expanded from 8 to 16 tournaments, with the largest tournament to date conducted in Birmingham, Alabama. Perhaps most importantly, our field staff of youth development specialists had individual visits to more than 2,000 centers, training and educating youth directors and proprietors on how to improve their youth programs.

For 2016, Junior Gold is on track towards 5-8% growth. USA Bowling will crown a national champion for the first time and do so with the excitement of a national television broadcast. The youth development specialists will continue their outreach to more centers, providing training and education to new markets.

Competitive Bowling/Championship Tournaments

A new PWBA Tour re-launched with tremendous success. The tour surpassed entry projections by 73%! The public responded with over 330,000 views for our step-ladder finals and the new tour generated over 26 million (that's not a typo ... 26 million!) media impressions for bowling during the 2015 season. Nearly every event sold out with bowling fans filling host centers as spectators.

We announced exciting enhancements for the USBC Open Championships for the 2017 event, including a new third division to broaden the appeal of the event to a new audience. Both the Women's and Men's U.S. Opens returned on national television in 2015 after a one-year hiatus. We also announced plans to bring back the United States Amateur Championship in 2016.

The word growth returns to the tournament area in 2016. The Open Championships in Reno and the Women's Championships in Las Vegas will both grow in participation from 2015. The PWBA tour expands from 11 to 14 events. We talked last year about the return of a familiar "team" tournament series and while we decided 2015 was not the right time to launch, you can look for this new of-

by Frank Weiler

SAN BERNARDINO — Margaret Vassar is the Ladies Club champion again! She has been club champion at least a half dozen times over the years. She is a tough competitor who bowls her best under pressure.

SUELEE SANTERO finished a close second. She is another tough competitor who recently joined the club and brings a classic style to the club reminiscent of ROBIN ROMEO. Santero is a stroker who demonstrates that a stylist can win and that power isn’t everything.

The TOP FIVE Club averages are:

1. Cecelia Aquino	196

ABAKUMOFF DOES IT AGAIN WITH 268-852
IN DEAF TRAVEL AT CAL BOWL

LAKEWOOD — In the So-Cal Deaf Traveling League’s position round day at Cal Bowl while first place S F Valley and second place Anaheim fought to 10 to 10 points tie, league president Ed Abakumoff led his 4th place Riverside team to a near sweep 15-5 win over 3rd place Eagle Rock, moving Riverside up to a tie for first place with S F Valley at 127 points apiece. Thus putting Anaheim down to third with 123 points and Eagle Rock to fourth with 117.5 points. In the other match 5th place Chino Hills beat 6th place Mid City 13 to 7 staying in their respective positions with 116 and 109.5 points.

Also for the second consecutive time Abakumoff led the league bowlers, starting with the day’s high game 268 and 235 finishing with 160 and 189 for a 852. Placing second again to Abakumoff was Darrell Stogryn with 828 from games of 189-234-225-180. Bob Jones followed with 7 pins short of a third 800 of the day, 793 (167-194-246-186) and Robert Audette closed with a 218 for a 714. Gardy Rodgers made the list with his 204. High lady of the day was Celia Salcedo with high game of 190 and series 633.

The officers and bowlers of this 54 years old league thanks the management and staff of Cal Bowl for hosting. The next center on schedule is Jewel City Bowl in Glendale on Sunday March 20 with bowling time at Noon. The scheduled action there will have matches of Mid City with Eagle Rock, Chino Hills versus co-leader Riverside and co-leader S F Valley against Anaheim again.

Remembering Alan Logan: He Was a Big Man With a Big Heart

by Fred Eisenhammer

WOODLAND HILLS – It's now been two years since Alan Logan passed away at 52. It's still difficult to believe.

Losing a longtime friend in one's bowling league is always crushing. It's like losing a family member.

Alan Logan was more than a friend of mine, more than someone I interviewed countless times because he always had a story to tell.

He was a friend of everyone in his league. He was cool and yet he never acted the part. He befriended not only the elite but the bowlers who struggled to score 120. He was color-blind in his friendliness. If you were a bowler, he smiled at you, teased you, liked you and cavorted with you.

Alan Logan was special in so many ways.

It was always memorable to compete against his team in the "Guys and Dolls" league at AMF Woodlake Lanes in Woodland Hills.

He'd put a smile on your face without trying.

The tall right-hander with oodles of charisma would always wind up and send missiles down the lanes. He seemingly just heaved the ball as hard as he could at the head pin . . . and then it was so much fun to watch the pins scatter.

When he toed the line, it almost seemed as if the pins put on a pained look on their faces. They knew they were going to be in for a bruising.

The term "smashmouth bowling" was based on Alan's style of heaving bullets toward the pins. One of Alan's bowling colleagues said he had so much power that every pin became a "messenger" – often resulting in strikes after he completely missed the head pin.

Alan blasted a career-best 242 in May 2012 despite bowling with pain in his back. And he set his high in his very own style.

Alan, who had a sharp wit, explained his big game by saying: "I helped the granddaughter plant the garden and came down with a sore back. And my 15-pound ball was too heavy, so I used a nine-pound ball. There's no crying in bowling."

Showing he had learned his bowling lessons, he added, "You just have to adjust, adjust, adjust."

That he did. And when he did rattle the pins for a strike, everyone in the bowling center knew it.

He celebrated his strikes with an ear-piercing clap and a huge smile. He wasn't showing off. It was just Alan being Alan.

"It's my personal excitement," he said of his clapping. "I wear my excitement on my sleeve."

His fellow bowlers all liked him and knew he was one of a kind. One such bowler was Carol Tucker, who said, "To me, he had the most loving and kindest spirit of any man I've ever known. He was sincerely nice to every person he came in contact with. You don't meet people like him often. I was lucky to have known him."

That goes for all of us – both bowlers and non-bowlers alike.

Alan was a Canoga Park resident who worked as a head locksmith at Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena. He was receiving treatment there for his cancer.

All the while, he kept going to the bowling center without saying a word about his illness.

Alan just wanted to throw his bullets down the lane and shatter the pins. He recognized that he might be better off throwing a hook instead of his fastball, but he was having too much fun to change.

"I'm not sure if it's the right coaching method," said Alan of his gun-slinging, "but it's my personal technique."

That was Alan Logan. He was his own wonderful person and he is certainly missed – two years later.

Alan Logan is sorely missed two years after his passing

‘He’d Be a Great Story Even If He Wasn’t 77’

by Fred Eisenhammer

WINNETKA – This is the mark of a very good bowler. Four years ago, Ed Chow was bowling in leagues twice a week at now-defunct Mission Hills Bowl. When other teams at that bowling house needed to fill openings through the season, they turned to Ed.

Ed accepted invitations from three new teams to bowl with them for the rest of the season. He finished bowling that year five times a week – twice in his own leagues and three times as a permanent sub.

One of the nicest and most affable guys around, Ed had another quality that bowling teams liked: He was a darn good bowler with an average over 200. And it didn’t matter a bit that he was over 70 years old.

Now 77, Ed hasn’t slowed down at all. He’s still in demand as a substitute but now he’s moved to Winnetka Bowl for his home bowling center. And he’s still averaging over 200.

Ace bowler Russell Booth often practices with Ed and Booth says this about his practice partner:

“A million players can average 205, but Ed’s averaging 205 and he’s 77 years old,” Booth said. “He still can come down to the lanes and bowl 10-12 games for practice in the afternoon.

“He’s in great shape and he’s not a kid anymore. He’d be a great story even if he wasn’t 77.”

Ed listens to the playback of Booth’s praise and laughs heartily.

“Russell’s a very nice guy with the compliments, but he’s a great friend. He’s very competitive and that’s what I enjoy about going down to the lanes – the competition.

“Competing against yourself is no good. If you saw me by myself, I wouldn’t be there. I like competition,” said Ed, a resident of Granada Hills for the past 43 years.

Ed got acquainted with the game when he set pins as a teenager in Kansas City. He moved to California after he graduated high school and got serious about the game in the 1980s.

With the game coming naturally to him, Ed considered competing on the professional level but decided against it. “A lot of people were very serious about the game, but I wasn’t that way,” said Ed, who walks more than five miles a day at Northridge Mall. “I was busy working and wasn’t in position where I could be away from my job.”

Ed was involved in the high-tech field at the time and later closed out his career in 1995 as the vice president, chief information officer of Sherman Oaks-based House of Fabrics (“a great company,” he says).

“My new job after I retired was bowling,” says Ed with a laugh.

Interestingly, Ed has been bowling better than ever. He has bowled five sanctioned 300 games and two 800 series in his career. Ed scorched his last 800 in 2009 at Mission Hills Bowl by rolling 243, 299, 267 for an 809.

“I’m like fine wine,” he says with a laugh.

Ed’s first 800 also was at Mission Hills Bowl. He went 289, 245 and 279 for an 813 in 2006.

“On my first 800, I didn’t even know I had it,” he said. “I didn’t keep track of it. All of a sudden, I realized I got an eight: ‘Oh, my God.’ And that was a tough league – the Mission Majors. These are all serious bowlers. I was proud of that.”

Ed sometimes hears that he bowls so well because he has a distinct advantage that most others don’t.

He’s a left-hander. He just laughs about that supposed edge.

“I don’t really care,” he said. “I know there are more right-handers than left-handers, but to me you have to do with what you got out there. Do your best and you’ll feel rewarded. It’s a game and just keep it a game.

“You may not perform well one day, but the next day you might. And if you don’t, that’s fine. That’s why I’ve been in the game for so long.”

Ed also gives credit for his longevity to his rotator cuff surgery that he underwent on his left shoulder three years ago.

“After the operation, I haven’t felt any pain,” he says. “I’m bowling more than I ever have in my life. I’m not feeling tired. I don’t have to soak my arm when I get home.”

His most memorable moment in bowling? Ed answers the question only indirectly by saying “being able to be the person I am today. My wife [Charlene] and I will be married 52 years this year.”

Now here’s where the bowling part comes in. Ed happened to first spy his wife-to-be at a Kansas City bowling center, but he didn’t say anything. “My first impression was that she looked great,” he recalled.

Five or six years later, the two were fixed up on a blind date in 1963. “In 1964 we came out [to California] and got married,” he says.

Ed says Charlene used to bowl on his team but she’s given up the game. “She was a good bowler, but she didn’t have the fever as much as I had,” Ed says. “She wasn’t a sucker for the game like I was. She wanted to do other things than bowling.”

JAT Sport Juniors Recap Sol and Julian Hit the Spot at Pepsi

by David Schiada

NORWALK — Last Saturday was a rare opportunity to call the JAT Sport Juniors a split squad. No, they didn’t leave Big Fours and Greek Churches all afternoon. However, like baseball teams at spring training, they did split their squad, with some bowling league at Keystone and others competing in the Pepsi Youth District 7 finals at Bowlum in Montclair.

At the Pepsi Youth District 7 finals, Solomon Salama and Julian Zavala, the JAT Sport Juniors top two bowlers, lived up to their billing, each rolling a 619 series for three games. Solomon rocketed out of the gate with a 237 in his first game while Julian had a great stretch run, closing with games of 219 and 234. Marquan Rivers had an excellent showing as well with a 612 series including games of 214 and 213. Kylie Shishima led the girls with a 547. We will have to wait until the results are posted to see who advances to the Pepsi Youth State Finals on May 7-8 at Fountain Bowl.

Upcoming Tournaments: March 20 – JAT PBA Challenge #3 at Winnetka Bowl; April 2-3 – JBT in San Diego

JAT Sport is a league for advanced juniors who are serious about competitive bowling. The league runs every Saturday starting at noon at bowlers have an opportunity to earn scholarship awards and compete in tournaments, including the 2016 Junior Gold Championships to be held July 16-22 in Indianapolis, Indiana. If you are interested in joining, please contact Armando Zavala at (562) 896-4467 or join us Keystone Lanes on Saturday at noon.

Ed Chow is a 200-average bowler and self-described “sucker for the game.” He’s in demand whenever teams need a substitute.

WEST COVINA — Another nice event at West Covina Lanes. Long time member Danny Eguilos won his 5th ABTA title downing top seed Louis Bachus in the title game that went to a final ball to take home a nice $2,500 to Norwalk.

Others bowling well making the top 16 finals were 10-16th Bert Pamintuan, Sylvia Serrano, Freddie Manansala, Joyce Charles, Pablo Castro, “Iron Mike” Benavides and Vuong Do. They took home $100 each.

In 6-9th places were Cesar Marcella, Richard Aquino, Alan Aguilar and Linda Sarabia $105 each. Eliminated in round 3, Jason Buneviaje, and Michael Duran $110 each in 4th and 5th places.

Now it was Sol Cericos vs Danny Eguilos for the right to advance to the title game. Danny won in a good match. Sol was 3rd $200 with nice bowling by a nice gentleman and Danny off to the title game vs Mr. Bachus.

The title game was on. Both bowlers struck, then opened and again struck then opened. We are now in 5th frame. Danny spared, Bachus opened. Bachus then doubled and after 7 frames Eguilos led by 10 pins including handicap. Eguilos was clean through nine frames and held the lead but Bachus dug deep, doubled 9th, first ball in 10th and needed one more strike to take the lead. He threw a great pocket shot but the 10 pin stood and now he watches as Danny needs a mark to win the title. Danny left the 2-6-10, picked it up and wins his 5th by a 163/211 to Louis 163/206 handicap score One of the Good Guys strikes again!! Nice Bowling Danny!!

Nice bowling by Louis Bachus who got a $500 second place check.. He is a faithful member and same can be said of Sol Cericos in 3rd place.

Danny Eguilos used a Game Breaker-2 drilled by Ramon Torres. He is usually at our event every Saturday and well-liked by all. He is married to a pretty lady Mercy with sons Christopher and ABTA members

Dave and Danny Jr.

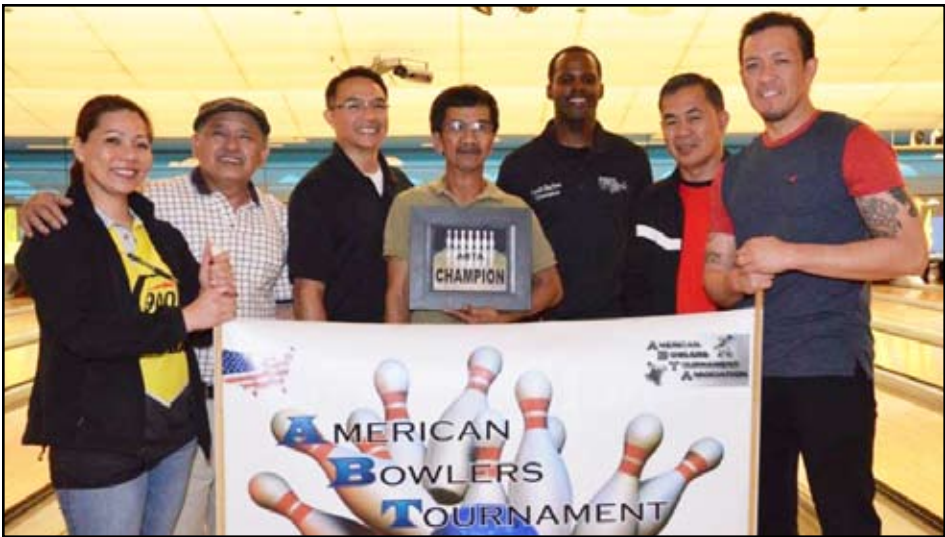

Louis Bachus is from Rancho Cucamonga, married to Maria with a son Cameron and daughter Leila who is now 7 months old. He used a Hammer drilled by Chris Hagin at Deer Creek Lanes.

Sol Cericos is from Arcadia and married to Mary, kids A.J. Hannah and Macgan. He used a Roto Grip drilled by Memo Rosales, ABTA Member.

Nate Phongprasert was last standing in the 3-6-9 roll-off and he missed on shot one. That pot goes for $1,500 at Bowlum.

Thanks to all who bowled and Special Thank YOU to the Great Staff at West Covina namely Joe Poole on Saturday eve.

Join us Saturday as we are hosted by the popular Bowlum in Montclair. Please check in early. We have lots of fun there!! See our Ad and also Facebook at ABTA Bowling. The following week March 26 we go to Chaparral Lanes in San Dimas. We had 7 new members at West Covina. It’s great to have the new members join us.

Eguilos Wins at West Covina $2,500, Bachus 2nd $500, Cericos 3rd $200

His son Danny Jr. is a fine young man and faithful ABTA member also!!

THERE WILL BE A MEMORIAL FOR DANNY MARCH 26, 1:00 pm AT WEST COVINA LANES. Great People here!! God Bless!!

A Welcome Back to ABTA Member Richard, and the Aquino Family
Richard Aquino returned after a long hiatus, having to put bowling on the back burner as he and his pretty wife Alyssa were in process of raising their lovely children! At left is a friend Bob ABTA head, Richard Aquino who finished 7th at West Covina, holding his daughter Mila, wife and ABTA supporter Alyssa and in front its “Sir” Maddix Aquino their fun loving son.

The Golden Ladies scoreboard tells it all. Tish Johnson was good, actually very good. But Michele Carter was great. Photo by Randy Gulley

Michele Carter's Golden Ladies Victory Was One for the Books

by Fred Eisenhammer

LAS VEGAS — There was something very special that happened at the 26th National Golden Ladies Classic earlier this month in Las Vegas. And it hasn't been properly emphasized enough. It wasn't so much that a relative unknown won a bowling tournament title in the person of 50-year-old Michele Carter of San Diego. That happens. It happens from time to time. It wasn't so much that Michele Carter "ran the table" in the single-elimination stepladder finals, meaning she won all four of her matches as the No. 5 seed. That happens too. Not often, but it does happen. It wasn't so much that Carter, a tournament-inexperienced player, rose up and prevailed in the championship game against a tournament-hardened player like Tish Johnson, who earned the top seed in the past four Golden Ladies tournaments. Those things happen too. Upsets happen – though not that often. Rather, it was the fact that Michele Carter did an unbelievable job of being immune to pressure during a mesmerizing 300-256 victory in the championship match. She bowled her best, not in her first game of the stepladder finals (239-190 over Rene Fleming) – not in her second game (249-223 over Sharon Powers) and not in her third game (227-182 over Jeanne Naccarato). She saved the best for the pressure-packed finale.

She was perfect in all 12 of her shots. In the championship match. Now THAT'S rare. How rare? Records are sketchy about the frequency of such occurrences. But here's a glimpse of how special Michele's effort was.

There have been 25 documented cases of Professional Bowlers Assn. players rolling a perfect game during tournament play on nationally televised shows. Jack Biondillo (300-216 over Les Schissler) was the first, recording the effort April 1, 1967 in the PBA Tournament of Champions in Akron, Ohio. Sean Rash (300-213 over Ryan Ciminelli) has been the last person to do it and he accomplished the feat on Feb. 15, 2015 in the PBA Tournament of Champions in Indianapolis.

But only two of the 25 perfect games came in the championship match. Bob Benoit (300-255 over Mark Roth) was the first to turn the trick – this happened Jan. 23, 1988 in the Quaker State Open in Grand Prairie, Texas. It then happened one more time when left-hander Mike Aulby (300-279 over David Ozio) accomplished the feat July 31, 1993 in the Wichita Open in Wichita, Kan.

That was the last time a PBA player rolled a nationally televised perfect game in a championship match.

Now, Carter's perfecto wasn't televised and it wasn't a PBA event (the event was sanctioned by the United States Bowling Congress) but it, nevertheless, ranks as a monumental achievement.

BURBANK — I’ve been told that everyone is Irish On St. Paddy’s Day and the Irish are famous for potatoes, drinking good whiskey and blarney. Who falls into this more than anyone else? Bowlers! We order french fries, have a beer or cocktail and lay on the blarney. Especially when it comes to all the reasons we aren’t bowling as well as we would like. My personal favorite is an inside family joke used when my boys were young and gaming, their excuse was “My joystick’s broken”. My joystick seems to be broken a lot these days! Wishing all blarney filled bowlers a safe and Happy St. Patrick’s Day!

COOK’S BOWLING SUPPLY CLINCHES 4TH ROUND OF THE BRUNSWICK INVITATIONAL A WEEK EARLY

by Mike Cammarata

DOWNEY—Next week will be the final night of the 4th round in the Brunswick Invitational, but the round has already been clinched. That will mean that teams will be bowling for total wins, seeding for the playoffs, and wild card hopes. The excitement that usually accompanies the end of the round has been settled however.

Cook’s Bowling Supply began the night with a three game lead heading into their match with Los Altos Trophy. Cook’s was the better team from the outset on this night, winning every game in convincing fashion, breaking 2400 as a team on a very challenging pattern. Brian Main led the way with 222-213-212/647. Matt Schermerhorn added 244/630 and Mikey Villarreal had 213-225/617. Congratulations to them, as they clinch a spot in the year end playoffs.

Ketel One Vodka could have remained in contention with a sweep of Pino’s Pizza, but they were only able to get four of the five games, coming up one short. The game they lost was the first game though, so they were needing help throughout the night from Los Altos Trophy that just wasn’t coming. Sol Cericos was top shooter on this pair, with 205-201/590, leading Ketel One to the victory. All the bowlers on the team pitched in with 200 games, led by Nicole Van Daniker’s 222.

Sysco, who only a week ago was on the first pair, finished the last two weeks 1-9 after getting beat by the Professional Approach team. Billy Myers Jr. led the Pro Approach with 211-217/608. Paul Barraco added a 202-212/600 for Sysco in the defeat. Ramiro Garcia had the high game on the pair with 234 in the opener on his way to 595.

Keystone Lanes finished the round on a high note by sweeping Forest Lanes. Arnold Cheesman was tops on the pair with 223/600. Eddie Gaddison added a 224 to help Keystone to the sweep.

Erickson Foods continues to make roster changes, adding Brandon Grant to the team. And, in addition to doing that, they won 4 ½ games from round winners, Don Julio Tequila. Spanky Rosales led Erickson Foods with 205-223/589. Brandon quickly helped out with 211 and 200 as well.

In other matches, Alhambra Coin Center swept Wowo’s Smokin’ Hot BBQ. Relax-Release-Repeat took four out of five from GJC Janitorial. Threadworks took four out of five from Linder’s Insurance. J.A.T. swept all five from Herzog Insurance. And, on the final pair, DV8 took four out of five from Cremation Centers of CA.

Sidepots were won by Ramiro Garcia with 234 in game #1. Arnold Cheesman took the 2nd game pot with 223. The third game super pot was won by Mikey Villarreal for $216 with a 225 game.

The Financial Advisors pot paid nicely for Arnold Cheesman. He took $220 for his 223 game. Brian Main got $100 as the runner up with 213.

We’ll bowl one more time on this pattern next Monday, before heading into the 5th and final round.

Congratulations again to Cook’s Bowling Supply.
