Bowling Writer Joe Lyou Dies

SANTA PAULA, CA—Joe Lyou, one of the nation's most respected bowling writers, has died here after suffering a massive stroke. He was 88.

Lyou, a Korean-American, graduated from the University of Southern California with a journalism degree in 1949 and went to work for the Los Angeles Mirror a year later, eventually landing a sports writer position that included writing about bowling. He left the daily newspaper world in 1962 when the Mirror ceased publication, but after short stints with AMF and the California Bowling News, Lyou went to work for Pacific Bowler publisher Alan Post. Five years later, in 1977, Lyou purchased Pacific Bowler and ran one of the nation's premier regional bowling publications until he sold it in 1988 and retired. In retirement, he continued writing his "Tenpin Slants" column for Northern California's Bowling World until his death.

Lyou was the recipient of the Bowling Writers Association of America's Mort Luby Sr. Hall of Fame Award in 1996 and was presented the "Flowers for the Living" award in 1987. He served two terms as president of the Southern California Bowling Writers Association and is a member of the SoCal Bowling Hall of Fame.

Lyou is survived by his daughter Tracy, son Dr. Joseph Lyou, wife Lorraine and five grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife Heidi.

At his instruction, no funeral services were held. A member of the Neptune Society, he had asked that he be cremated and his ashes scattered at sea.

Tommy Jones has won 12 titles in four seasons.

WEST BABYLON, N.Y.—Although he was officially eliminated from the 2007-08 PBA Player of the Year race this week, Tommy Jones still showed he's one of the strongest forces on the Denny's PBA Tour and will be for years to come.

Jones won his second title of the season and his 12th in the last four seasons, defeating PBA Hall of Famer Pete Weber, 257-191, to win the 2008 GEICO Classic at AMF Babylon Lanes.

The 29-year-old won four titles apiece in 2004-05 and 2005-06 then captured two victories in 2006-07, the second of which gave him a PBA record for shortest time between first and 10th titles. After a slow start to this season which featured no championship rounds, Jones has responded with four TV appearances and two victories in the second half.

USBC Receives $693,000 Award From State of Texas for Relocation to Arlington

GREENDALE, Wis.—The United States Bowling Congress is the recipient of a $693,000 award from the Texas Enterprise Fund, clearing the way for the organization to move its headquarters to Arlington, Texas. The announcement, issued by the offices of Texas Gov. Rick Perry, makes possible the creation of an International Bowling Campus in Arlington that will also include the offices of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

In addition to office space for about 200 employees, the new $14 million complex will include a 12-to-16 lane combined equipment testing and international training center. BPAA has pledged to pay for half of the complex while utilizing less than one-fifth of the space.

The property is located at 621 Six Flags Drive, across the street from Six Flags Over Texas in the heart of Arlington's entertainment and sports district. It is about three blocks east of Rangers' Ballpark in Arlington, home of the Texas Rangers baseball team, and about six blocks east of the new Dallas Cowboys stadium set to open in 2009. Also located in the area is Glorypark, a planned mixed-use development featuring 900,000 square feet of retail, dining and entertainment space. The creation of the International Bowling Campus at such a high profile location will provide the opportunity to showcase bowling to the world that doesn't exist at USBC's present location.

Tribute to Bowling Writer Joe “Tenpin Slants” Lyou

Several years ago Joe and Dick decided to write their own obits about their lives. They sent them to each other and promised that they would send it out on the Internet when the other died.
Story Written By Joe Lyou

Veteran bowling writer Joe Lyou Santa Paula, Calif., a.k.a. “Tenpin Slants” died Thursday, March 20, at the age of 88. He was a graduate of the University of Southern California, where he majored in journalism. Joe was one of the great bowling writers of all time and one of the nicest men in the business. He became the editor of the Pacific Bowler in Southern California and later purchased the publication. Joe is survived by his daughter Tracy, son Joe and five grandchildren.

Tenpin Slants loved bowling and was still writing monthly bowling columns that appeared in many bowling publication plus here on bowlingdigital.com. Short after his return from his favorite tournament, the Golden Ladies Classic in Las Vegas, Joe suffered a massive stroke and was hospitalized in a coma in Santa Paula, where he passed away.

Joe Lyou was one of the last generation of daily newspaper reporters who covered bowling as one of their regular beats like one of his best friends, Dick Evans.

Dick and Joe’s numerous friends were praying that by some miracle Joe would recover, but the prayers weren’t answered. It is with a heavy heart that Dick has sent us Joe Lyou’s obit.

By Dick Evans

That was brevity from a superb journalist who lived a full 88 years.

He was one of bowling’s best writers and possibly the best editor in the bowling business in my opinion.

Joe and I shared a love for betting on thoroughbreds and trying to pick football winners in Las Vegas or Reno and even once in Laughlin. He was good at it, like he was at everything else he did in life.

I marveled at his ability to dissect the Daily Racing Form and his astute knowledge of how and when to bet. He always was shooting for the big payoffs while I was happy just to have a 2-1 favorite win for me.

During our last visit together at the Golden Ladies Classic in Las Vegas, we again shared a room and ate all our meals together. This time we got to talking about his war experiences and he told me he shipped over to England in early 1943, fought his way across Europe and arrived in New York City on Dec. 7, 1945.

He loved bowling but hated high scores. He defended his friends with fierce loyalty and seldom if ever said an unkind word about anyone.

He would travel all across California and Nevada to attend bowling tournaments and was especially was fond of watching the women pro bowlers.

But he often joked that he never traveled East of the Mississippi to attend a bowling function although I saw him several years at the Firestone Tournament of Champions.

Joe was a generous man. He brought me a book to Vegas last week that he thought I would enjoy reading.

But it will be tough to open now that Joe Lyou has died.

I urge anyone who enjoyed a better life because they knew Joe Lyou to read the moving tribute to him by Bob Johnson, now editor of Bowlers Journal International but as a young, young man a protege of Joe Lyou.

Joe Lyou will be missed.

Joe Lyou & Dick Evans

The country’s No. 1 Korean bowling writer is no more. Joe Lyou, who wrote about bowlers and bowling for more than 50 years, died peacefully in his sleep (hopefully!). He was 101 (hopefully!).

Lyou was a graduate of the University of Southern California, where he majored in journalism (class of 1949). He always said that he was able to attend USC--along with 19,000 other World War II veterans--because of the G.I. Bill.

The native Angeleno began his newspaper career at the Los Angeles Mirror as a copyboy in 1950. When an opening occurred in the sports department, the job was offered to Lyou, who jumped at the opportunity since he was a huge sports fan.

A prolific writer, Lyou covered a variety of sports at The Mirror, including boxing and hunting and fishing. His favorite beat, however, was writing about the sport of bowling. He continued to write two bowling columns every week until The Mirror (then The Mirror-News) closed on Jan. 5, 1962.

A generous financial severance pay arrangement enabled Lyou to pack up his family and move to Hawaii. After almost two years, when the severance money began to run out, the Lyou family caught a boat back to the mainland.

In 1964, Lyou was offered a sales position at AMF. He was with the company until 1967, when he left to join the California Bowling News as its managing editor. Five years later, Lyou went to work for Publisher Alan (Ol’ Knobby Knees) Post at the Pacific Bowler, lured by the promise of eventual ownership.

Lyou purchased the Pacific Bowler in 1977. He was the editor and publisher until 1988, when he sold the popular tenpin tabloid to his managing editor, R.F. Corderman (and his wife, Berdalee), and retired.

For the next 15 years, Lyou continued to write his “Tenpin Slants” column, which ran regularly in Red Pfeiffer’s Bowling World (now owned by Donna Hazel) and occasionally in the Pacific Bowler. (EDITOR’s NOTE, after Joe Lyou purchased a computer he started writing monthly bowling columns that appeared in many bowling publication plus the International Webpage www.bowlingdigital.com).

Lyou, a longtime member of the Bowling Writers Assn. of America, was always delighted when his three Hall of Fame colleagues--Dick Evans, John Jowdy and Chuck Pezzano--would introduce him to their friends as “the country’s No. 1 Korean bowling writer.” The inside joke was that there were no other Korean bowling writers.

The recipient of several tenpin honors, Lyou was proudest of the Mort Luby Sr. Memorial Award--the BWAA’s highest honor--and the National Flowers for the Living Award. Lyou, a past two-time president of the Southern California Bowling Writers Assn., was a member of the SoCal Men’s Bowling Hall of Fame and the Southeast District Bowling Assn. Hall of Fame, both for meritorious service.

Lyou is survived by his daughter Tracy, a son Dr. Joseph Keith (Lorraine) Lyou, and five grandchildren. A member of the Neptune Society, Lyou will be cremated and his ashes scattered at sea, as were those of his wife, Heidi, who died in 1993. At his request, no funeral services were to be conducted.

A Salute to One of Our Own.....

by John Jowdy

Writing bowling columns have become second nature to me.... except for this one.

Tuesday, March 22, I was informed that my great friend and adopted brother, Joe Lyou, passed away in his sleep in Santa Paula, Ca. He had just driven back from Las Vegas after attending the Golden Ladies Tournament at the Orleans Hotel and Casino.

Two days prior to his passing, I spoke to Joe. I told him that Dick Evans was coming to our home on April 19th to the 22nd (in time for my birthday, April 21st) and invited him to join us. Inasmuch as we’ve had these visits on numerous occasions, he accepted my invitation and told me to make his room reservation. We have two guest bedrooms; the “Red Room”, which was always reserved for Joe, and the “Blue Room”, always reserved for Dick Evans.

I could probably write a book on the great times I’ve had with Joe and my other two adopted brothers, Dick Evans and Chuck Pezzano. It is little wonder we were referred to as the Four Amigos. Inasmuch as amigos is the Spanish translation for friends, perhaps the Four Hermanos may have been more appropriate. Hermanos is the Spanish translation for brothers; and that’s who we were.

I have so many wonderful memories since this “brotherhood” began. One time especially stands out in my mind. All of us were gathered at my home in El Cajon, California. Unfortunately, on the very first day of our visit, four of us came down with the flu; my wife Brenda, Dick, Joe, and myself. I mean...we were in bed, down and out sick as dogs....Chuck Pezzano was the only one who dodged the bullet. He had to literally take care of us for three or so days. After all he had to put up with, I’m sure he was really glad to get back to his home in New Jersey! But...that’s who we were. We stuck together like glue, through the good times and bad times....

The root of the bondage between us was/is our love of bowling and our love of writing about bowling. Chuck in the east, (New Jersey), Dick in the south (Daytona Beach), and Joe and I in California. Although we four were considered as one, there are several other “bowling family friends” who loved Joe and regularly shared each other’s company. At bowling events too numerous to list, you could always find Joe at “our table” with faithful friends such as Pearl Keller, Hazel McLeary, Elaine Hagin, Joan Feinblum, Bea Goodwin, and Joan Romeo. Joe was Robin Romeo’s greatest fan. Joe was the epitome of the “Strong, Silent type”. You could add another “S” word along with Strong and Silent...”Stubborn”. If he made up his mind, there was no changing it.

One of the best-kept secrets in the bowling world was Joe’s proficiency as an editor. Bob Johnson and Dick Evans, two of the greatest bowling writers ever, penned two of the most touching and eloquent columns in Joe’s memory.

Both Johnson and Evans hailed Joe’s editorial expertise. Johnson, in particular, was lavish in crediting Joe Lyou for his success in the journalism field. Those who are familiar with Bob Johnson’s writing ability concede that Mr. Lyou did a darn good job with his protégé. Joe was a very humble, quiet, individual. His greatest qualities were his love of family and friends; and his strength of heart and mind. I don’t think he ever realized the impact he had on his fellow men. Now, he can look down from his Heavenly perch and be proud of all the wonderful tributes in his honor that have circulated throughout the country via e-mails and phone calls.

Joe... Your brothers, Chuck, Dick, and I and Brenda, miss you so much already. Your writing and your loving friendships have touched so many lives; more than you ever imagined. May your soul rest in peace.

John Jowdy

Our deepest sympathy to the Lyou family...you’re in our prayers.

We were fortunate to have had Joe as our house guest this past weekend...we always enjoyed his visits, he was like family. We’ll sorely miss him - what a great friend and unbelievable human being. He was so proud of his family - would always talk about them and show us pictures of the grandkids.

Thank you so much for sending the pictures - we’ll treasure them.
Meida and Dave Johnson

Cordero Tops 282 Entrants, Wins 1st ABTA Title at Bowling Square

Match Game Carries Over Worth $3,500 for the Next 3 Weeks

La Habra “300” is our Host in One Day Early Event

Qualify 12:45-2:00-3:30 & 5:00PM Semi Finals/Finals 7:00 PM

ARCADIA—There was no lack of Excitement last Saturday in our ABTA Event at popular Bowling Square Lanes. Dennis Cordero won his first ABTA title, and topped a great turnout of 282 entrants finally downing upstart Tim Tran in the title game to take home a nice top prize of $2,200 for his fine effort!

Our return to Bowling Square saw a big 282 entrants enter and produce nice cut scores of +49 (men) and +42 for our ladies to make it to the semis. Also added were Super Seniors, Manny Loria, Ely Cruz, and Bobbie Mc Collum.

Leading the Semis was “Red Hot” Dennis Cordero at +138, and not far behind was Dericio Atkins at +126. Dennis would sit out and be able to bowl the title game, and Dericio to enter in round two of the single elims (top 16). It took a +66 to make the sweet 16 single elims finals, and that included 4 women.

The Bowlers took to the lanes. In the first round single elims losing were Talia St. Angelo, Julian Conwi, Rey Montalvan, Alan “The Dragon” Aguilar, Ricky Hwang and Dar-row Tiongo. They got checks of $120 in 10-16th place.

In round two being eliminated were Janine Ditch, Randy Benavides, Sierrre Herradura and Randy Schaeter. They cashed in 6-9th places and $135 each.

Round three had Dericio

Atkins best Eugene “Big Cat” Haynes 225-197. Tim Tran out struck Marvin Galsim in a good one 256-238. So “Big Cat” and Marvin were 4th and 5th with fine bowling and $150 each with Atkins and Tran to meet for the right to bowl Cordero for the title.

In this game Tran was smooth as he edged Atkins in a tight match that could have gone either way 219-213, so Dericio was 3rd and $240 with Tran off to the title game.

The title game was set and the horses were paid! Tran paid $54 for everyone who had him in the Horses. We would now again have a new champion. Cordero elected to lead off and he did with a split and Tran shot out with a big double, but Cordero dug deep and began striking and got a huge 6 bagger. Tran couldn’t again double as he left three 10 Pins. He doubled in frames 9-10 but it was too later and Dennis won in a big 221/251-214/236, and his first title. Well-deserved. Great bowling by a nice young man!

Nice bowling by a most likeable man Tim Tran who is one of the Good Guys. Had he had any carry or luck, he could have been the winner! Nice bowling Tim! Most all of the same to Dericio Atkins in third with a great showing.

Tourney Hi Qualifiers were Dericio Atkins at +186 for the men and Seul Kim-Sy led the ladies +94. They will get paid entries.

Alan Basto, Tim Tran, and Jason Jiminez couldn’t eliminate one another in the 3-6-9 so they shared a $50 Consolation. The pot goes for $800 Saturday at La Habra “300” Bowl.

The optional $5.00 doubles were taken by Desiree Herrera and Dericio Arkins with a nice 1439 good for $190. In 2nd were Julian “Iron Man” Conwi, and “The Man of Steel”, Minh Dang, with 1403 $170. There was a great 17 places paid and a sweet $1,775 paid out in the doubles

The Match Game was again UN matched at 128 drawn by Cordero, we again will go for the max of $3,500 in the Match Game this week. The following week will also go for $3,500 and the next week also!

Match Series worth $448 was Matched at a 520 drawn by Atkins. Robert J. Alvarado Jr. Holden Au and John Gonzales split the $448 prize. and ($149 each). We estimate the Series at $300 this week.

On a sad note we are sorry to hear of the untimely passing of Tammy Quaal who worked the desk at Premiere Lanes for yrs. She was good to Us and a very nice lady. She left us at a mere 50 yrs old. She will be remembered by all. Condolences to her family and God Bless.

Jowdy's Journal

USBC...New Site

In one of the most historic decisions in bowling history, the Board of Directors of the United States Bowling Congress announced its intentions to relocate the organization's headquarters to Arlington, Texas, where it will reside with the Bowling Proprietors Association of America.

The property is located at 621 Six Flags Drive, across the street from "Six Flags Over Texas", in the heart of Arlington's entertainment and sports district. It is about three blocks east of Ranger's Ball Park in Arlington, home of the Texas Rangers baseball team, and about six blocks east of the new Dallas Cowboys stadium set to open in 2009

This dramatic move was the topic of my last column; one that was regarded as somewhat controversial. On one side, I was accused of favoring the USBC. At the same time, a few members of the BPAA cast aspersions upon me.

Who was it that said, "You can't have it both ways"?

I tried to be as impartial as possible. I realized each party had a vested interest in this matter. I also feel that each side was acting in the best interests of bowling. After all, we take pride in ourselves as a "family".

I'm sure the relocation of the USBC headquarters will be better for the game in the long run. After all, the new complex will include a 12-to-16 lane combined equipment testing and international bowling center to form a $14 million international bowling campus. The BPAA has pledged to pay for half the complex while utilizing less than one-fifth of the space. That's quite a pledge. Additionally, the USBC was further lured by an "offer they couldn't refuse"; a $693,000.00 award from the Texas Enterprise Fund. The TEF was created by the Texas state legislature in 2003 and re-appropriated funding in 2005 and 2007 to help insure growth of Texas businesses.

In addition to the USBC and BPAA, the bowling campus will include The Bowling Foundation; Strike Ten Entertainment; International Pro Shops and Instructors Association; The Bowling Center Management School; and the Bowling and Billiard Institute of America; which are currently located at BPAA's headquarters.

Add to this, the possibility of luring the PBA headquarters to this area, plus the relocation of the International Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum to the complex. The creation of an international bowling complex at such a high profile location will provide the opportunity to showcase bowling to the world as no other sport in our country.

Of course, there is a downside to this major move. Approximately 200 USBC employees face the decision to move to Texas. Many of them have served the ABC/WIBC/USBC for 20 or more years. Many have roots in Milwaukee while others previously relocated to Milwaukee. Some are close to retirement age.

Anyone with any degree of compassion can sympathize with these loyal USBC staffers. Yet, in the current American business world, it is the nature of the beast. It is happening every day.

In order to state the position of each side, I spoke to officials of both organizations. In the business world, mergers and "takeovers" are usually the result of losses in revenue or poor management of the company being usurped. However, this is neither a merger nor a takeover. According to both organizations, it did not involve financial conditions.

Jeff Boje', who is the head honcho of the USBC and is also a Past President of the BPAA, stated the BPAA was in excellent financial condition, with surpluses of well into the millions in their treasury. The USBC, whose financial records are open to any member, had a positive budget of more than $3million in 2006-07 and are budgeted to be just above even in 2007-08. USBC tournaments overall are budgeted to profit more than $2 million in 2007-08. Additionally, the value at the present USBC location is estimate between $7 and $8 million. Therefore, the financial status of either organization played no role in the relocation of the USBC.

Obviously, there were greater motives involved. According to BPAA President Joe Schumacker, "The concept of integrating the operation of the BPAA and USBC makes sense. Bowling has changed dramatically over the past 25 years. It is imperative the organizations embrace change so they can continue to professionally support their individual constituencies. By working in tandem with USBC, we can fulfill our individual missions as well as protect and grow all levels of competitive bowling. Integrations of operations can be achieved without the loss or control of the individual organizations." THEREIN LIES THE BIG CONCERN.

"The integration of operations without the loss of control of the individual organization" has long been source of concern for USBC officials, members and supporters. However, John Berglund, the Executive Director of the BPAA, wrote me and assured me it was absolutely imperative the two organizations remain individual and separate. I'm certain this will be a most welcome and comforting statement to supporters of the USBC.

In view of all the facts, it is my opinion that this is a win-win situation for bowling!

point rankings by winning next week’s season-ending 65th Denny’s U.S. Open, Jones would not be able to catch Barnes in the tiebreaker which goes to the bowler who finishes highest in the PBA World Point Rankings.

“I typically don’t bowl well on this pattern,” Jones (Simpsonville, S.C.) said of the Cheetah oil pattern. “But they hooked a lot and I could throw it hard which is right in my comfort zone. It was an advantage for me because I could create hold where a couple guys couldn’t.”

Jones was a machine in his three victories Sunday, shooting 269 and 268 in his first two wins. While he slowed down a little in the title match, the top-seeded Weber opened in the third and fourth frames, which was all Jones needed. After single-pin conversions in the fourth and fifth frames, Jones struck in the seventh, eighth and ninth to clinch the victory, his second career win on Long Island.

The No. 3 seed Jones advanced to the title match with a 268-244 win over No. 2 Tommy Delutz Jr. Delutz struck with his first six shots in the match before two spares in the next three frames. Jones took advantage with four consecutive strikes in frames six through nine. He then struck with his first ball in the 10th to lock Delutz out.

Jones first defeated Walter Ray Williams Jr., 269-226. Williams would have tied Chris Barnes for the lead in the PBA Player of the Year race with a victory over Jones, but Jones struck six consecutive times after a spare in the opening frame and overall struck 10 of the last 11 frames. Williams was unable to catch up and he’ll head into next week’s season-ending U.S. Open two points behind Barnes.

In the first match, Williams advanced with a 238-216 win over No. 5 Wes Malott. Williams held a one-pin advantage over Malott heading into the ninth frame where Malott struck to take the lead. Williams responded with a strike in the ninth and needed to strike out in the 10th to shut Malott out. Williams struck all three times to eliminate Malott from the Player of the Year race.

Jones, who improved to 34-8 in his career on TV, took home $25,000 for the win while Weber (St. Ann, Mo.) earned $13,000 for second. Delutz (Flushing, N.Y.) took home $6,500 for third, Williams (Ocala, Fla.) earned $5,500 for fourth while Malott (Argyle, Texas) earned $5,000 for fifth.

The 2007-08 Denny’s PBA Tour wraps up next week with the 65th Denny’s U.S. Open at Brunswick Zone Carolier in North Brunswick, N.J., the fourth Major of the season. The live ESPN-televised championship round takes place Sunday, March 30 at 2 p.m. EST. The winner will take home $100,000 and a three-season exemption.

“The Texas Enterprise Fund award was a critical factor in our decision to relocate USBC’s headquarters to Arlington,” said USBC Chief Operating Officer Kevin Dornberger. “Relocating our headquarters to Arlington will provide a business climate that will be invaluable in helping us achieve our future goals for the sport.”

The move will also enable USBC and BPAA to integrate operations for the betterment of the sport including the growth and protection of competitive bowling.

The Texas state legislature created the TEF in 2003 and re-appropriated funding in 2005 and 2007 to help ensure the growth of Texas businesses and create more jobs throughout the state.

“Companies throughout the country are looking to Texas as the place to grow their business thanks to a reasonable regulatory environment, educated workforce, and economic incentives that bolster Texas’ capital and competition in a global marketplace,” said Gov. Perry.

“As a result of tools like the TEF, Texas continues to diversify our economic portfolio by attracting businesses like the U.S. Bowling Congress, fortifying our standing as the national leader in economic development and job creation.”

In addition to USBC and BPAA, the bowling campus will include The Bowling Foundation, Strike Ten Entertainment, International Bowling Pro Shops & Instructors Association, The Bowling Center Management School and the Billiard & Bowling Institute of America, which are currently located at BPAA’s headquarters.

Lucy’s career spans several decades working for several bowling houses such as Manchester-Western, Compton, Downey Bowling Center, Wonderbowl, Keystone Lanes, and Del Rio Lanes. She also pioneered many Junior Bowling Leagues, coordinating the Veterans Bowling Leagues, and participated in many City and State Tournaments.

She also served as Director of the local WIBC chapter and was a firm believer in making every bowling league a sanctioned league so that any awards that were earned by the participating bowlers would be awarded by either patches, pins, or even trophies.

Lucy, along with here life-long friend Bert Fitzgerald, was inducted into the Bowlers Hall of Fame for meritorious service to enhance the wonderful sport of bowling. Both Bert and Lucy are gone now; however, their legacy lives on so long as there are bowling leagues, good manes and good sportsmanship.

We will miss Lucy with her great smile, and her good spirit no a new comer to competitive women’s bowling having had a successful collegiate career, Stephanie Sjobom is our 2007 WWPB Rookie of the Year! Our sincerest congratulations to Stephanie!

As always at our Harley’s Camarillo WWPB events, we saw many old friends and this year made many new ones. We were fortunate again to have Pacific Beverage Company as a sponsor. We would like to thank Vicki Hanks, Marketing Supervisor of Pacific Beverage Company – a distributor for Anheuser-Busch (Bud Light). Be sure to check out all that they have to offer at www.pacificbeveragecompany.com. They are the distributors of several fine beers!

Also at the Camarillo event the WWPB initiated a new program. On a trial basis and in conjunction with current USBC guidelines, the WWPB has opened a Scholarship Management Accounting Reports for Tenpins (SMART) account for USBC female youth bowlers at least 18 years of age to participate in WWPB Singles events. For details on this and other WWPB events, please visit our website at www.wwpb.com

Our next WWPB tournament will be April 12-13 at Yorba Linda Bowl for our annual mixed doubles event. Details and entry information are available on our website.

National Deaf Bowling News Jose Gonzales, 71 Rolls His 3rd 300 Game

by Connie Marchione

BAKERSFIELD...I got a call from Dorinne Gonzales who excitingly told me that her husband, Jose rolled a 300 in his Wednesday Seniors League at Southwest Bowl. His games were 204-300-185 for a 689 series.

This Jose Gonzales at age of 71 years just bowled his 3rd career 300 to go along with his two career 299 games. He was a star athlete at California School for the Deaf at Berkeley and later took up pitching fastball softball in Bakersfield softball leagues. He started bowling late in life just 25 years ago and was averaging in 200s.

Jose was my doubles partner in the last two Deaf Senior Bowlers of America tournaments in Las Vegas and Dorinne said the he will not bowl in any deaf tournaments this year because she will have a hip surgery soon. Jose wants to stay close to her through this year while she recuperates from this surgery.

Congrats to Jose on his 3rd 300 and not to worry as I have someone else wanting to bowl doubles with me.

MALUCCI HITS 246-279-276 FOR 801
AT BRC WEST COVINA

WEST COVINA—It was a fine closing time when Carl Malucci came back last Friday night to bowl in his Flamingo Vikings league's final position round at Brunswick West Covina Bowl. He finished this league with a 801 series from 246-279-276. The last two games were close except for just three errant tosses, he would have a back to back 300's.

Looking back we remember Carl bowled up a storm of four 800s in one month of April last year. One of which was a mighty 867, the second highest by a deaf or hard of hearing bowler. The last of the four was a 812 being his 14th career 800 made at Brunswick West Covina Bowl.

Then his 15th a 813 from first 3 games of 265-290-258 came last September in a Canoga Park Bowl 6 Games Scratch Sweeper which was not certified by USBC,. Carl won this Sweeper with a 6 games total of 1553 (258+ average).

After that one there were no 800 all season although he rolled his career 40th 300 in the same league and came close to the elite series several times. So the 801 came timely as his career 16th.

As for the deaf and hearing impaired bowling records, Kenneth DeGroff has the most 19 including two with back to back 300s. Tony Passarelli, Denver holds the highest, 888.

LAS
LEAGUE
By Alice
Meglemre

DOWNEY—Del Rio hosted the Vegas league on Monday, for the final time this season, and now there's only two weeks of league action remaining.

Cerritos Lanes #2 team is still in first place with 56.2 wins, however, Bowling News is only one game behind them with 55.2 wins and still in position to take the title. Westminster #3 follows with 53 wins and Westminster #2 has 52. The final six games will determine which of the top four leaders will claim the 2007-2008 championship.

The rest of the league will be compete for position pay-off and they are, Westminster #1 and Keystone #1 tied at 50 wins, Cal #2, 45.2; Del Rio, 45; Keystone #2, 43; Fountain Bowl, 42.2; Valley View #1, 38; Cal #3, 36; Cerritos #1, 35; Valley View #2, 31.2 and Linbrook ties with Cal #1 at 31 wins.

Bernice Bennett led the honor roll Monday with 226-582, followed by Cyndie Martin 555, Dee Phipps 213-545, Karen Mauricio 538, Virginia Gray 201-536, Patti Givechin 204-535, Carolyn Anderson 535, Roberta McNaught 211-523, Berneice King 200-517, Kathy Parrish 516, Betty Phillips 510, Ellie Maxwell 508, Karen Mauricio 506, Tracy Baldwin, Mary Dixon and Doris Lewis tied on 504 series.

We regret reporting the recent death of bowling scribe Joe Lyou. His contribution to bowling will be featured in this issue of the Bowling News so please turn to it and mourn with me, the loss to bowling of a "one of a kind" gentleman.

NEXT WEEK: 10 a.m. Monday, March 31 at Keystone Lanes.
