California Bowler Oldest to Roll Certified 800 Series

ARLINGTON, TX — Even at 85 years old, William Lautenschlager of Stockton, California, still is working on his bowling game, and changes made earlier this year helped land him in the United States Bowling Congress record books as the oldest bowler to roll a USBC-certified 800 series.

Lautenschlager put together games of 226, 279 and 300 for an 805 set Jan. 14 at Stockton's West Lane Bowl, and he claimed the record at 85 years and 9 days old.

Chuck Foudray of Green Bay, Wisconsin, set the bar in December 2015, when he rolled an 810 series at 84 years, 3 months and 28 days old.

This was the third 800 series of Lautenschlager's career, and first since 1996, and he didn't even realize he'd done it.

"I don't like to look at the numbers or what I have after two games, and I never have, because I think it adds unneeded pressure," said Lautenschlager, who bowls in three leagues and still averages in the 220s. "I didn't even know I shot 800. I thought everyone was congratulating me for the 300. I really felt like my 800 days were over, and I feel extremely fortunate to have been able to do this."

The performance came in the Thursday Senior A league, one of three leagues Lautenschlager participates in and serves as president. He also is a part-time car hobbyist, and the combination keeps him active and feeling young.

However, it was minor arthritis that prompted him to shorten his span, change his thumb pitch and try some new grips, which has him bowling as comfortably as ever, and has allowed him to continue doing something he's done since the 1940s. It's also a passion he shares with his wife, Kathleen.

Lautenschlager, a Stockton USBC Hall of Famer, got his start in bowling as a pin boy in Nebraska during World War II, and he picked it back up after his own service in Korea as a U.S. Marine.

"After I got back from Korea, I bowled as a social thing, but I didn't do much until I started bowling in Stockton in the 1980s and started taking it seriously," Lautenschlager said. "I've been fortunate to meet some great people through bowling. It's also rewarding and competitive and keeps your juices flowing."

Dutch Bowling Talent Yorick van Deutekom throws a Perfect Game at the EYC 2016 at Reykjavik

by Jerry Teunissen

NETHERLANDS — Dutch bowling talent Yorick van Deutekom (17 years of age) defending Champion of 2015, scored a perfect 300 game at the EYC 2016 in Reykjavik!

Yorick is one of the greatest bowling talents in Europe and specially in The Netherlands. He dreams of a lasting career as a PBA player in America. The Netherlands, well known as the beautiful, small and well developed country in the western part of Europe has about 17 million inhabitants.

The Dutch Bowling Federation currently has a small number of 10,700 registered members and except Yorick, they have many more rising bowling talents. Which is remarkable for such a small country. Some of them including Yorick, are dreaming of a bowling PRO career in America and they all work very hard and train almost daily to improve their level in achieving their goal. Becoming a PRO in America!

After the separation of his parents at the age of 8 he started bowling. His mother and older brother went to the Bowling Lanes in Juliandorp nearby his home town village. He was too young to stay at home alone, he had to join and follow, his mother and his older brother to the North Sea Bowling Lanes in Juliandorp. There he was brought in contact for the first time with bowling.

At one point his brother asked him to join the game. Although Yorick was not so enthusiastic to do so, he joined the game because he had nothing else to do at that moment!!

CONGRATULATIONS.....

Ron Range, member of the Roaring 90's League, who on March 10th, used his Gold Storm, and rolled a beautiful set of 275-228-235 for a 738 series.

Ron was introduced to bowling at age eight. It was "his game". He joined the youth leagues until he was old enough to qualify to bowl with and join the certified adult leagues. however, it wasn't until 20 years ago, in his early 40's, that Ron became very serious about his game. He improved his average from a 175 bowler to a 200 bowler, collecting two 300 games, coming close several other times. Ron's three best series to date are 738, 739 and 740. Ron's current average of 213 in the Roaring 90's League is the highest he has maintained in a single league.

Plenty of Drama in Tim Tripp's PBA Regional Title

by Fred Eisenhammer

LAS VEGAS — Left-hander Tim Tripp nailed his first Professional Bowlers Assn. regional title in the South Point West Challenge with a blowout victory in the finals.

Tripp scored a 245-175 victory over Justin Spurrier of Las Vegas in the one-game championship match that was held March 25.

"By the seventh frame or so, it was all but decided," said the 46-year-old Tripp, a Santa Clarita resident. "I was able to kind of enjoy the moment a little bit and relax and soak up what was happening. It's been a very long time waiting for this day."

Tripp's decisive victory almost obscured how gritty he bowled throughout the one-day tournament en route to claiming the $2,000 top prize.

There were 69 entrants and 16 bowlers advanced to match play based on total pin count.

Tripp didn't make it into the Round of 16 until he squeezed into the qualifying group in his eighth and final game.

A powerful 246 allowed Tripp to advance as the 10th-highest qualifier with a 1,712 score. Chris Ferreira of Visalia, who would be eliminated in his first match-play series, was the top qualifier with an 1,896.

Tripp, who works as an accountant and is the owner of the pro shop at Santa Clarita Lanes, turned back Mark Myers of Phoenix in his first competition in match play.

The Round of 16 is a best three-out-of-five format. Tripp advanced in five games, winning the last game decisively with a 269, his best score of the day.

Now in the best-of-three Round of 8, Tripp met Michael Duran of Banning, Calif., the second-leading qualifier. Again, the match was extended into the final game. Tripp lost the first game before striking out in the 10th frame of the tense second game to shut out Duran en route to a 197-195 victory.

With the match on the line in the finale, Tripp once again came up big, scoring a 257-244 victory.

Tripp said he had come into the tournament with a lot of confidence, but his march to the title game appeared to be over in the best-of-one Round of 4.

He faced Craig Spencer of Tempe, Ariz., who had rolled into his match against Tripp undefeated in match play, scoring five victories.

Spencer appeared to have locked up his sixth straight victory when he went to the line on his first shot in the 10th frame, needing only a spare to win.

Spencer, stunningly, left the 2-10 split, failed to convert it and Tripp escaped with a 222-216 victory and a trip to the championship match.

"It was pretty unlikely," said Tripp about Spencer's misfortune. "He had been around the pocket all match. These things happen and I just thanked my lucky stars. In match play, it's more about who you bowl and when – not as much as what you score."

Given new life, Tripp conceded he felt "pretty confident at that point."

Tripp then put the championship match out of reach early to add to his list of strong PBA regional performances, which include several runner-up finishes.

"All the matches were really close," said Tripp about the Las Vegas regional. "When it really counted, I stepped up and performed. The one time I didn't, I got some help."

Tripp, who has smoked 69 perfect games and exactly 50 800 series, has been a PBA member since 1991. He competes in PBA regionals off and on.

"It was kind of surreal," said Tripp about winning his first PBA title. "I had assumed it was going to happen a long time ago. It was a relief that it actually happened. There was a sense of calm that it happened."

Tripp went on to advance to match play in the doubles portion of the PBA regional event with teammate Paul Bober, a Morton Grove, Ill., resident. Tripp and Bober's team was ousted in the first round of match play, but each walked off with $550.

Tripp is considered one of the elite bowlers in the L.A. area and takes part in the ultra-competitive Bill Mossontte Majors league at Corbin Bowl in Tarzana. He holds the league's top average at 240 and ripped off a 730 in league action last week.

Tripp says he's been bowling nearly all his life, first picking up a ball when he was 5. He shot his first 300 at 21 and still remembers that special date: May 7, 1990.

The honors keep coming for Tim Tripp, who has rolled 69 perfect games and 50 800 series. He sealed his PBA regional title in Las Vegas with a 245-175 victory in the championship match.

He practices several times a week and top bowler Matt Jones heaps a lot of praise on Tripp for his work ethic.

"He's put in so much work the past 20 years," Jones says. "He's worked about as hard as anyone I've ever seen in the sport. And when you do, you deserve it [PBA title]."

Said Tripp: "To put in the hard work and see the reward is very satisfying."

The South Point West Challenge was considered a so-called "non-champions" event, meaning it was open to PBA members who do not hold a PBA title and non-members who have never won a PBA event.

Tripp plans to compete in additional PBA regional events, most likely in June.

"I'd like to prove this was not a one-time thing – that I can do it again," Tripp said.

Summing up his PBA regional victory, Tripp said: "I really didn't feel any pressure. It was almost like it was my time."

RYAN COLE Completes His Own
“March Madness” With an 812

by Frank Weiler

MURRIETA — Ryan Cole has been posting big scores for years. He regularly rolls perfect games and 800s. Five years ago he set a new house record for Cal Oaks Bowl (858) which still stands.

Last Thursday Ryan rolled an 812 (288-255-269) in Cal Oaks 640 Scratch Trio League to finish the month of March averaging close to 265 in the league, for the month. The month also included a 300 game. It was Ryan’s version of “March Madness”. That is, March Bowling Madness. So to what does Ryan attribute his March Madness success? Having a plan, sticking to the plan and hard work. With the help of teammate DARRON PETERS he has retooled his game, his equipment and his bowling work ethic.

Ryan’s results prove that practice and adjustments are important. He also found that the proper equipment is also vital to scoring. By working with Darron he found that getting his equipment to match the lane conditions he was bowling on was just as important. Peters, proprietor of the Rollin’ Rock Pro Shop, has guided Ryan’s ball choices this season and laid them out perfectly.

Speaking of ball choices and layouts, Ryan’s new DV8 Grudge has helped him set a torrid pace throughout March. Ryan’s low series with his Grudge is 778! Read again, RYAN’S LOW SET WITH THE GRUDGE IS 778! Darron used a centered high pin on the aggressive Grudge to give Ryan the length and backend he needed to score.

Ryan is grateful to Peters for being so instrumental in improving his game. Congratulations to Ryan and thanks to the BOWLING NEWS for supporting CA bowlers.

‘Just one of those things’ for Dan Kline

by Fred Eisenhammer

WINNETKA – Dan Kline dismissed it as “just one of those things.”

Other bowlers might not have been so kind.

Kline, a left-handed marksman, was zeroing in on his first perfect game – after several career near-misses.

The Chatsworth resident already held an assortment of 11-in-a-row-strikes games, which included a 297 gem in October 2013.

So there he was back in rhythm, firing one strike after another in his second game last month during Tuesday night “Ellen’s Comedians” league at Winnetka Bowl.

First ball: Strike

Second ball: Strike

Third ball: Strike

Fourth ball: Strike

Fifth ball: Strike

Sixth ball: Strike

Seventh ball: Strike

Eighth ball: Strike

Ninth ball: Well, we seem to have a problem. It seems Kline’s lane suffered a mechanical breakdown after the bowler ahead of Kline left a 10 pin.

“All of a sudden, there was something wrong with the ball return,” said Kline, who averages 214 in the league. “And besides the ball return, there was something wrong with the lights.

“It took about five minutes or longer. I was just waiting patiently.”

Finally, Kline delivered his next shot. Slightly thrown off rhythm with the extended wait, he left the six pin before finishing with a score in the 260s.

Not one to whine about the misfortune, Kline took the disappointment in stride.

Two weeks later, he rolled an “Andy Varipapa” 300 in which he nailed 12 strikes in a row over two games (eight straight at the end of the first game and four straight at the start of the second). That gem occurred in his Monday night “River Maniacs” league at Winnetka Bowl.

Talk about Kline’s unusual lane-breakdown game has made the rounds.

Said Vince Koeller, who has blasted three perfectos: “I can’t wait for him to get [the 300] because I’ve been bowling with him for such a long time. I keep hoping he’ll get it.”

Said Johnnie Englehart, who has accumulated 63 perfect games: “With a 200-or-better average, it’s almost not complete unless you have [a 300]. Sometimes, it takes a few times of being close. I hope he gets one. I hope he gets a couple.”

Said Mike Willis, the manager of Winnetka Bowl: “I always cringe when someone goes for 300 and a lane breaks down.”

The 56-year-old Kline, who has been bowling for about 50 years, has his sights set on his first 800 series as well as the 300. He’s come just as close to the 800 as the perfect game.

Last year he racked up a 777 (279, 220, 278) and he’s also blasted a 792 in which he had a shot at an 800 but misfired in the 10th frame.

With about a dozen clean 30s (no opens in his three-game series) to his credit, Kline knows he’s bowling well enough to have more opportunities at a perfect game.

“I know it’s coming,” he said.

RESULTS OF 32nd ANNUAL SN-CDBA TOURNEY AT AMF CARTER BOWL FEB 13-14

RECORD BREAKERS: EDWIN MILLER 300, DARRELL STOGRYN 2211 ALL-EVENTS

by Connie Marchione

FULLERTON — In last week’s report of 32nd annual SN-CDBA regular team, doubles and singles tournament headline was put for Edwin Miller’s 300 game in the team event because Edwin is first with the feat of two 300s after his first one in 2014. While Darrell Stogryn was reported hitting the tournament high scratch all-events, he really deserves a headline for breaking the 2200 all-events barrier, which is not an easy feat. Darrell rolled scratch series of 744 in team, 704 in doubles and 763 in singles for the record breaking 2211 total.

In this 100% handicap tournament Darrell (with 218 average) placed third with 108 handicap for 9 games 2319 total. Congratulations to Edwin Miller and Darrell Stogryn for their tremendous feats. Members were sent ballots to vote in five categories for the Luby Hall of Fame Award, Alberta E. Crowe Meritorious Service Award, Hennessy Award of Merit and Male and Female Bowlers and Senior Bowlers of the Year.

For the first time ballots were distributed in a single poll which resulted in the most votes being tallied in each of the five categories, in more than a decade. The ballot period was February 7 - 19, 2016.

Winners will be presented with their awards on Tuesday, June 28, 2016 during the BPAA International Bowl Expo Industry Awards Luncheon at Mandalay Bay Hotel, Las Vegas.

LUBY HALL OF FAME AWARD

The Luby Hall of Fame Award is given to an individual (living or deceased) who has made a distinguished contribution to bowling in print, broadcast, telecast or photographic coverage over a period of at least ten years.

JIM GOODWIN

Jim Goodwin, Rockwall, TX, will be the 2016 recipient of the IBMA's Luby Hall of Fame award, according to an announcement made by IBMA President Keith Hamilton. Goodwin was elected by a vote of all members of the IBMA

Jim Goodwin was a member of the BWAA Board of Directors from 1995 to 2013, serving on many committees and as president of the organization in 2012-13. BWAA (Bowling Writers of America) was the previous name of the International Bowling Media Association.

Goodwin is a former proprietor who was instrumental in bringing the writers' organization to the International Bowling Campus. He also chaired the Women's Pro Bowling Exhibit Committee for the International Bowling Museum/Hall of Fame and chairs the Coaches Hall of Fame Committee.

In 1991 Goodwin and his wife CJ founded Stars and Strikes, America's only nationally distributed bowling newspaper. In 2008 he founded the Bowling News Network and currently serves as its president. As a writer his articles have been published in most industry news outlets. He has also served as publicity and media director for several national bowling events.

When informed of his election Goodwin said, "What a surprise! I never thought I'd be in a Hall of Fame. I am grateful and proud to be included in a group that includes great people like Chuck Pezzano, Jim Dressel, Pearl Keller, and Mort Luby. I hope the next generation can have some of the joy that we experienced."

CROWE MERTIORIOUS SERVICE AWARD

The IBMA Alberta E. Crowe Meritorious Service Award is presented to an individual or organization for outstanding long-term accomplishments in and for the sport of bowling.

A couple and the company they created that today is known and respected throughout the bowling universe are the recipient of this year's International Bowling Media Association Alberta E. Crowe Meritorious Service Award.

In the sport of bowling, it's all about performance. So, when Bill Chrisman, a competitive bowler with a chemistry background, began to notice how difficult it was to clean his urethane bowling balls during tournaments, it led him to an epiphany: What if I could find a way to clean my bowling balls without lugging them to a nearby sink?

In 1985, Chrisman founded High Score Products (HSP), developing the revolutionary cleaner U Clean / U Score Urethane Bowling Ball Cleaner. The product allowed bowlers to clean their bowling balls anytime, anywhere.

A few years later, Chrisman scored an opportunity to manufacture bowling balls. With the loving support of his wife, Barb, the duo expanded their operations to become a full-service bowling company. In 1991, HSP was rebranded and the name "Storm" was born.

Since that time the Storm name has become synonymous with bowling, gaining recognition not only for its quality line of bowling balls, but also bags, apparel, maintenance, gear, and accessories. Storm also sponsors many prominent professional and amateur bowlers, and it has full-time representation on the Professional Bowlers Tour and Women's Professional Bowlers Tour.

The company continues to be an industry innovator. It is credited with creating the first dual-color logo and introducing the first three-color, high-performance ball.

Storm secured a patent for putting fragrances in bowling balls, a feat that not only caught the attention of Jay Leno but landed Storm on the front page of The Wall Street Journal.

Storm Products Inc., celebrated its 30th anniversary in 2015. Bill & Barbara Chrisman believe their success in the industry has provided an avenue to pursue their passion in bowling -- a passion that shows through in their vision and their products. They will continue to pass on that passion to bowlers around the world. Storm Bowling is "The Bowlers Company".

HENNESSY AWARD OF MERIT

The IBMA Hennessy Award of Merit is presented to an individual for their outstanding long-term service to IBMA, including BWAA (Bowling Writers Association of America) and NWBW (National Women Bowling Writers).

FRAN DEKEN

As a past-president of the International Bowling Media Association, chairman at various times of least a half dozen committees, and a perpetual contributor to the organization in many other ways, Fran Deken has never been one to sit idly by. Now she has been further recognized for those efforts as the winner of the 2015 IBMA Mike Hennessey Award of Merit.

Deken of Coweta, Okla., was among the first women to join the media group when she was accepted into the Bowling Writers Association of America in 1975 while publishing a bowling newspaper in the Kansas City area and bowling part-time on the PWBA Tour. As her career unfolded she became the tournament director for the ladies tour but always maintained close ties to the media group, encouraged by, among others, Mike Hennessey.

"I worked with Mike Hennessey when he was with the PWBA and when he was BWAA Executive Director and he was amazing," Deken said. "It's a great honor to win an award with his name on it."

During her term as BWAA president in 2001-02, Deken was named BWAA Senior Woman Bowler of the Year on the strength of her performance in the Maccabiah Games in Israel. She is a member of four local Halls of Fame (Kansas City, Southern Nevada, Tulsa and Oklahoma) for Superior Performance and was elected to USBC Hall and via the Meritorious Service category in 2006.

BOWLER OF THE YEAR

The IBMA Bowler of the Year award is presented to the player as voted best in the world by the bowling media. The first award was presented in 1942 to Johnny Crimmins of Detroit Mich. Six years later the first women's award was presented.

JASON BELMONTE | LIZ JOHNSON

Jason Belmonte joined some elite company when he was voted the 2015 Bowler of the Year by the International Bowling Media Association for the third straight year.

On the women's side, Liz Johnson, Cheektowaga, N.Y., is the 2015 honoree, winning the award for the fifth time. She also won the award in 2013, 2009, 2007 and 2005.

Belmonte, Orange, NWS, Australia, got 83 percent of the votes. He is the fourth male bowler to win the award three times. Others who have been honored by the IBMA three straight seasons are Earl Anthony (1974-76 and 1981-83), Mark Roth (1977-79), and Walter Ray Williams Jr. (1996-98 and 2002-04).

Belmonte led the Professional Bowlers Association in earnings ($178,542), was fourth in average (225.4), and won two majors - the Barbasol PBA Tournament of Champions and the USBC Masters. He won his two titles early in the year, which gave him the momentum to finish ahead of Ryan Ciminelli in the voting.

"It's a real honor to win this again, thank you so much!" Belmonte said. "It was a really good start to the year, and it wasn't necessarily a terrible finish. It just that, by my standards, it wasn't nearly as good as I would have liked."

Johnson won three titles, including two majors - the USBC Queens and the Bowlmor AMF U.S. Women's Open. She led the PWBA in earnings ($92,700), average (214.81) and points (99,550). In the World Bowling Championships, Johnson won a gold medal in team, silver in all events and in the Masters, and bronze in trios. She collected 78 percent of the votes cast by the IBMA members.

"It's awesome to win this again," Johnson said. "Last year was nuts! The year was just incredible! There are no words to describe it. I've had some good years in my life, but that was definitely the biggest year in my career."

SENIOR BOWLER OF THE YEAR

The IBMA Bowler of the Year award is presented to the player as voted best in the world by the bowling media. The first award was presented in 1942 to Johnny Crimmins of Detroit Mich. Six years later the first women's award was presented.

PARKER BOHN III | ROBIN ROMEO

Robin Romeo, Newhall, CA and Parker Bohn III, Jackson, NJ have been elected Senior Bowlers of the Year for 2015 by the International Bowling Media Association, according to an announcement made by President Keith Hamilton.

Romeo distinguished herself by capturing the USBC Senior Queens title on a difficult lane condition where she led qualifying by almost one hundred pins. She then bested top seeded Tish Johnson, Colorado Springs, CO in the final match for the win. Romeo also finished third in the Triple Crown Shootout as well as third in All Events in the World Senior Championships. She was also a member of the gold medal team at the World Senior Championships along with Johnson, who finished a close second in the Senior Bowler of the Year balloting.

Parker Bohn III, Jackson, NJ, was a force to be reckoned with on the PBA50 tour as well as the PBA Tour. He won the Pasco County and Treasure Island events on the PBA50 tour as well as the PBA Players Championship and the Cheetah Championship on the PBA Tour. He also had four other top 10 finishes on the PBA50 Tour. Bohn ranked second on the senior tour in average and third in earnings but outranked all bowlers on the regular tour with a leading average of 225.86. Pete Weber, St. Ann, MO, was a distant runner-up in the balloting but outranked Bohn in average and took top honors in earnings on the PBA50 tour.

"I really appreciate this award," said Bohn, "and it comes as quite a surprise. I didn't know that regular tour stats were figured in."

Romeo was also quite amazed when she learned of her selection. "Wow," she said. "That's really awesome and exciting."

Lanny Ross, Brian Delzeith, Roy Coleman, Brandon Ross & James Mabus

“That’s How We Roll”

LAKE FOREST — “They’re back!” That same Marine team that won the 2015 Orange County Open Tournament on February 27/28 has returned once again from their annual Las Vegas All Military Bowling Tournament.

This tournament featured The Marines, Army, Navy, Air Force, and DOD Personnel. They decided to re-enter the Orange County Tournament with the intention of defending their title. This tournament will be hosted at the Lake Forest Bowling Center. This year the team had a slight problem with personnel, so they had to add a secondary bowler to split up the father/son team of Lanny and Brandon Ross.

We were fortunate enough to get Brian Delzeith, a very well established (super sub) palm bowler. The elder statesmen of the group still remained the same M/SGT Roy Coleman, GYSGT James Mabus and SSGT Lanny Ross. I can tell you that once again they put on a show and brought their A game. For this team event, they shot 2933 points which launched them into 1st place for the 2nd year in a row.

For the doubles event Roy and James came in 1st place once again with a score of 1584 points. The other two teammates of Lanny and Brian came in 26th place out of 117 places. All four of them placed in all events. Because of their abilities to win this event a second time, they have adapted a new motto that states “They can no longer shut us out.” Facing adversities and fighting back to the end is what we know how to do.

They were also proud to represent the Marine Corp with their back to back victory over all of the bowlers who participated in this outstanding and competitive yearly event. When the team captain was asked how did they manage to hold everything together with such a difficult lane condition, he smiled and replies, that “they had to learn to adapt, adjust quickly and motivate each other to overcome all of the obstacles that stood in our way”. As a matter of fact, we would like to thank all of you for the camaradery that you shared with us and for being a part of bowling history with us. These were memories that you just can’t put a price tag on.”

JON DISO STRINGS 28 STRIKES ON HIS WAY TO 867

by Mike Cammarata

DOWNEY—The bowlers took to the lanes for the 2nd week of the 5th round in the Brunswick Invitational with a rare opportunity to throw strikes in bunches, as the league used the house shot pattern on this night. And, they didn't miss the chance, as scores were as high as they'd been all season. Leading the way was Jon Diso. Jon missed on his first ball of the night, leaving a ten. He missed on his fill shot in game three, leaving another ten pin. His only other miss was a 3-9 in the 6th frame of game three. The other 33 shots all carried, as he posted 290-300-277 for an amazing 867 series that included a string of 28 strikes at one point.

Jon's set led the Forest Lanes team to a five game sweep over Pino's Pizza. In addition to Jon's 867, Gip Lentine added 238-255-255/748 to help out. For Pino's, Leonard Ruiz Jr. shot a 741 stepladder of 248-247-246. As a team, Pino's averaged just over 220 for the night, and still lost total's by over 200 pins! That's a tough draw and a bad break for them as we head into the home stretch of the season.

On the top pair at the start of the night, Linder's Insurance met up with Los Altos Trophy. These were two of the three teams to start the round 5-0 last week. Los Altos continued their winning streak, at Linder's expense, and improved to 10-0 with a clean sweep. All three games were within a couple marks, including the first that was won by only two pins. It isn't easy to get swept and only lose totals by 54. That's a close match. Juan Zavala of Los Altos Trophy led the pair with 255-246/690. Jason Buenviaje subbed for Los Altos and added in 248-242/687. Kurt Arakaki led Linder's with 687 in the defeat.

The other 5-0 team coming into the night was Herzog Insurance, but they quickly fell back into the field after getting beat 4 games to 1 by Sysco. Sysco won the first two games and had a 265 pin lead for totals heading into the third game. Jeffrey Shepherd, of Herzog Insurance, got hot the third game for 256 to prevent the sweep. Gabriel Martinez led the pair, pacing Sysco with 258-268-217/743. With the win, Sysco improves to 8-2 in their chase for one of the final playoff spots. Sysco will battle with Linder's Insurance next week on the top pair.

The next pair included a match-up of two teams that went 4-1 last week. Threadworks versus Alhambra Coin Center. Eric Snow got Threadworks off to a great start, shooting 300 in the first game, leading them to a 157 pin victory. Alhambra chopped more than 100 pins off that lead with a big win in game #2, led by Doug Kempt's 255. The third game was a tight battle, but Threadworks pulled it out by 14 pins to seal the match as well, 4 games to 1. Eric Snow led the pair with 725. Eric actually had two 300's on Monday, as he bowled another one in the early league before the Brunswick began. On top of that, during game two of the Brunswick, he converted the 7-10 split. Quite a night for him!

Wowo's Smoking Hot BBQ is another team that has been disappointed more often than not this season, but has new life in the 5th round. They improved to 8-2 after beating Relax-Release-Repeat, 4-1. Wowo's won the first two, and had a 250 pin lead for totals. They were unable to finish the sweep though, as Harry Wong and his 260 finish had other ideas. Harry finished with 731 for series as well. Greg Neuer was the top shooter on the pair, leading Wowo's with 268-279-202/749. Brandon Kraye and Mike Cammarata added 690 and 680 respectively to help in the victory.

Erickson Foods took four out of five games from J.A.T. Scores weren't nearly as high on this pair as they were on some of the others. The exception to that statement was Michelle King. Michelle struck her way to 279-244-258 for a 781 series that led the pair by a wide margin. David Yamauchi led J.A.T. with 224-233-249/706 but would gladly give back every strike for a couple of wins.

Ketel One Vodka dropped the second game to GJC Janitorial, but took the other two and totals on their way to four wins. Bobby Hornacek led Ketel One to the victory with his 268-248/712 series.

The final pair of lanes saw Keystone lanes get their first four wins of the round, beating the Cremation Centers of CA, 4-1. The Cremation Centers got off to a great start, winning game one with a nice 915 score. It was all Keystone after that though. Jared Lawrence of Keystone Lanes had the lone 700 on the pair, shooting 237-239-257/733.

As for the round winners, the Professional Approach widened the gap on the field as they charge towards the #1 seed in the playoffs. On this night, they swept all five games from Cook's Bowling Supply. Billy Myers Jr. led the way with 268-201-255/724. Art Jones Jr. helped with 691. Brian Main had a solid set for Cook's, shooting 247-266/713. Cook's remains in 2nd place overall and will have another crack at the Pro Approach team next week on the 4th round pattern that was their strongest of the season.

DV8 gained ground on 3rd place, as they beat Don Julio Tequila. DV8 took 4 out of 5 games, including a league leading 1006 in the final game. Jeff Carr bowled for DV8 in Scott Poddig's place on Monday, and led the pair with 268-224-277/769. Ashkan Tahvildaran helped DV8 as well with 268/707. Buddy Lucas and Bobby Campagnale were both over 700 for Don Julio, but it wasn't enough to get their team more than the one victory. These two teams will face each other again next week, with only half a game separating them in the overall standings now.

Sidepot winners included Eric Snow in the first game with his 300 game. Second game and the Financial Advisors Pot both went to Jon Diso, also for a 300. Greg Neuer came in 2nd place in the Financial Advisors Pot with 279. The final pot, the Super Pot, was won by Jon Diso. He shot 277 the last game and won an additional $234 for this one.

As mentioned earlier, the league will bowl on the El Paso USBC Open Pattern next week as the league gets closer and closer to the finish. Come check out the action at Del Rio Lanes in Downey beginning at 8:30 next Monday night.
