LIZ JOHNSON WINS 2017 U.S. WOMEN'S OPEN

PLANO, Texas - United States Bowling Congress Hall of Famer Liz Johnson of Deerfield, Illinois, just bought a house and is in the process of permanently relocating from New York to Illinois, and she'll now need to make some room in her new place for a couple more trophies.

The 43-year-old righthander defeated Poland's Daria Pajak, 188-176, to win the 2017 U.S. Women's Open at Plano Super Bowl on Sunday, marking the fourth consecutive time, and sixth time in her career, she has claimed the coveted green jacket.

The win, which was broadcast live on CBS Sports Network, was the record 10th major victory of her career and second of the season. She earned $20,000 for the win, and Pajak took home $10,000 for the runner-up finish.

The two-time reigning Professional Women's Bowling Association Player of the Year, Johnson won the Go Bowling PWBA Players Championship in June and also claimed a standard PWBA title earlier in the year at the 2017 PWBA Storm Sacramento Open. USBC Hall of Famer Marion Ladewig won the U.S. Women's Open a record eight times, including five straight, starting with the inaugural edition in 1949.

On the way to the win Sunday, Johnson threw two doubles to stay head of Pajak, who rolled a pair perfect games and averaged more than 229 this week to earn the top seed for the championship round.

Johnson needed just two pins in her final frame to secure the win and sealed it with a six-count on her first delivery.

She now is a formal trophy presentation away from her third consecutive PWBA Player of the Year award, which is based on competition points from the 13 of the season's 14 events.

"It's probably cliché, but it's a dream-come-true season," said Johnson, who was the runner-up to Latvia's Diana Zavjalova at the 2017 USBC Queens in May. "I never could've thought about winning two majors and finishing second in the third one, along with the possibility of a third player of the year, and I can't put into words the season I've had. With all the talent we have out here on the Tour, to be in the position I'm in is the best feeling in the world."

Johnson entered Sunday's live TV finals as the No. 5 seed and defeated four talented young players to climb the ladder for the second consecutive year.

"Climbing up the ladder always is tough, and a couple of times I thought there was no way it was going to happen," Johnson said. "I was close early and then found my look, but in the third match, I lost my feel a little bit. I had to take a step back mentally, take some deep breaths and just focus on making better shots. It was a little more of a grind today than we saw during the week, and that's when experience really helps. Sometimes, you have to expect the unexpected."

Pajak was looking to become the first international player since 1982 to win the U.S. Women's Open. Japan's Shinobu Saitoh was the first and only other to do so, defeating USBC Hall of Famer Robin Romeo, who went on to win the event in 1989.

Pajak is in contention for the 2017 PWBA Rookie of the Year Award, which will be decided at the season-ending Smithfield PWBA Tour Championship, the fourth major on the 2017 PWBA Tour schedule and an invita-

Parker Bohn III Beats Norm Duke to Win PBA50 Dave Small's Championship Lanes Classic

In battle of hall of famers, Bohn dominates Duke, 279-206, in title match for fourth career title

ANDERSON, Ind. — In a championship match featuring two of the Professional Bowlers Association's all-time greats, Parker Bohn III took advantage of a struggling Norm Duke to win the PBA50 Dave Small's Championship Lanes Classic presented by Roto Grip for his first PBA50 Tour title of the season and the fourth of his career.

After a spare in the first frame of the title match and then nine consecutive strikes, Bohn beat Duke, who was the top qualifier for the finals, 279-206, to record his first PBA50 Tour win since the 2015 PBA50 Treasure Island Resort & Casino Open.

Champion Parker Bohn III with sons Justin & Brandon

"I feel like I've scaled a tall obstacle," said Bohn, whose previous best finish this season was second in the PBA50 Players Championship. "I've always said, if I continue to knock on the door eventually it will open and good things will happen.

"I feel like I have a lot of wins left in me," he added. "When you think that my four wins have come against either Pete (Weber) or Norm, you have to feel pretty good about that."

Except for a stumble in the later match play rounds, Bohn, who was No. 3 qualifier for the finals, dominated the tournament averaging 240 in qualifying, 20 pins more than his closest competitor third-place finisher Bob Learn Jr., of Erie, Pa., who averaged 220.

"Once I had the right ball in my hand, all I had to do was find the right hand position and I was pretty much in control," Bohn said. "Believing in yourself is one thing but reading what the lanes are telling you is another. When you have both of those things in

by Fred Eisenhammer

WINNETKA – Here today, gone tomorrow.

That’s Charles Kenny, perhaps the San Fernando Valley area’s most electrifying bowler. Kenny stopped by Winnetka Bowl last Wednesday to take part in a ceremony inducting him into the North Los Angeles County United States Bowling Congress Hall of Fame. Next week, Kenny will depart his Northridge home and move to Las Vegas with girlfriend Celia Ramirez.

Kenny’s relocation will mark the second elite Valley-area bowler to have moved out of state this year. Earlier, ace left-hander Tim Tripp of Santa Clarita, who won a Professional Bowlers Assn. regional title last year in Las Vegas, moved to Castle Rock, Colo.

Kenny was selected to the NLAC Hall of Fame in the “superior performance” category, joining such luminaries as Johnnie Englehart, Barry Gurney, Hobo Boothe, Tish Johnson and Robin Romeo. Late last month, Kenny blistered his 98th perfect game – this one coming at Jewel City Bowl in Glendale during a 799 series. That perfect-game total undoubtedly is far and away the highest among San Fernando Valley-area bowlers. He also has stroked 64 800 series.

In February, the right-handed Kenny turned in a stunning performance in which he crushed an 876 series with games of 300, 277 and 299 in league play at Jewel City Bowl. That series is believed to be the second-highest sanctioned series in San Fernando Valley history – surpassed only by the 888 that Anthony Sharpsteen recorded in 2011 at now-defunct Mission Hills Bowl. Kenny said he was “shocked and honored” to receive the Hall of Fame award, saying he never imagined he could be so recognized for bowling.

“It’s just a hobby,” said Kenny, 36. “Baseball was my favorite sport. Then I hurt my shoulder, stopped playing and took up bowling.”

Kenny was a second-team All-Los Angeles City first baseman for Chatsworth High School. He led the team to the City Section baseball title with a 17-7 victory over Polytechnic in 1999 at Dodger Stadium.

Kenny had three hits (two singles and a triple) in three at-bats and drove in six runs with a stolen base in that title game. It was fitting that Kenny was honored for his Hall of Fame selection at Winnetka Bowl. It was there that Kenny bowled his first perfect game – 20 years ago. Kenny added that he was excited about the prospect of rolling his 100th perfect game. And he might have a surprise for his many L.A. friends.

“I’ll try to get it here,” he said.

DARWIN BALDING IS GETTING WELL

by Frank Weiler

SAN BERNARDINO — Darwin Balding has been bowling most of his 70 plus years. He has forgotten more about bowling than I will ever know about our sport. He is my source of information regarding everything bowling. When I need information about the PBA, PWBA, USBC, bowlers, bowling balls, tournaments and anything bowling I go to Darwin Balding. He is a walking bowling encyclopedia.

Darwin is also the biggest bowling fan in the world. He has watched every bowling tournament televised during the past 50 years. He is present at most every scratch bowling tournament held in the Inland Empire. He is our “MR. BOWLING”.

I am writing this piece to let everyone in CALIFORNIA know that “DARWIN IS GETTING WELL” and is recovering from recent throat and tongue surgery.

Darwin bowls in our local Men’s Club League and expects to be bowling in a few weeks. Darwin, I want you to know that many of your league mates have been asking about you and look forward to your return. We miss you buddy.

It is great to hear that our “MR. BOWLING” will be back soon. Thank you BOWLING NEWS for supporting CALIFORNIA bowlers.

Wichita State’s Kristie Lopez Wins 2017 PBA Billy Welu Scholarship

CHICAGO – The Professional Bowlers Association has announced that Wichita State University Shocker bowler and member of Team Puerto Rico Kristie Lopez is the winner of the 2017 PBA Billy Welu Scholarship Award.

Entering her senior year at Wichita State with a 3.5 grade point average, Lopez, who is from Ponce, Puerto Rico, is majoring in graphic design with a minor in marketing and management. As captain of Wichita State’s women’s team, she led the Shockers to a second-place finish in the 2016 Intercollegiate Team Championships. Her women’s Shockers team also won the 2017 Hoosier Classic.

Named to three all-tournament teams during the 2016-17 season (Las Vegas Invitational, Jayhawk Classic and Leatherneck Classic), she also earned National Collegiate Bowling Coaches Association Honorable Mention honors in 2015-16 and 2016-17. She earned International Bowling Media Association Collegiate Bowler of the Year honorable mention honors in 2016.

Among her other bowling accomplishments were a fifth-place finish in the 2016 PABCON all events and 12th-place finish in the 2016 Women’s World Singles Championships.

“I’m very happy to have won this scholarship not only for me but for my parents because they have supported me ever since I started bowling,” said the 22-year-old Lopez. “They have been there for me ever since I started bowling at age 7.”

After she completes college, Lopez plans to bowl on the PWBA Tour and continue to represent Puerto Rico in international competition.

“Finishing school is my priority but then I plan to bowl on tour,” Lopez added. “I also will continue to represent Puerto Rico because that is very important to me.”

The $1,000 scholarship award was established to annually recognize a college student who combines outstanding bowling talents with academic excellence. Welu, who passed away in 1974, was best known for his expert analysis alongside legendary ABC broadcaster and PBA Hall of Famer Chris Schenkel on the “Pro Bowlers Tour” series. Welu was a two-time PBA Tour champion and a member of the PBA Hall of Fame’s inaugural induction class in 1975.

PARKER BOHN III AND FAMILY ARE HAVING A GOOD YEAR

Parker Bohn III’s victory in the PBA50 Dave Small’s Championship Lanes Classic Tuesday in Anderson, Ind., put an exclamation mark on what has been a great year for the entire family. Bohn’s fourth PBA50 Tour victory, and first in two years, came on the heels of some other family triumphs, including:

- Wife Leslie Beamish Bohn receiving USBC’s Volunteer of the Year Award in April in Las Vegas;
- Son Justin Bohn winning the boys’ “junior varsity” title for bowlers 15 and younger in the Teen Masters Championships in Mechanicsville, Va.
- Son Brandon Bohn winning the USBC Junior Gold U12 boys’ title in Cleveland, Ohio, where Justin finished in a tie for seventh in the U15 boys’ division while daughter Sydney Bohn, in only her second year in bowling, finished 38th in a field of 124 in the U12 girls’ division.

Angel Hilvano Wins First Title at Bowling Square $1,500

Louis Nguyen Runner-up $750 • Sun Sundara 3rd, $375 Umana 4th, $150 • Basurto 5th, $125

ARCADIA – One of the Good Guys Angel Hilvano stepped up and won his first Xframe title at Bowling Square in a splendid performance firing a big +196 to top a very competitive field.

The cut scores were medium with Men +67, Women +44, Senior Men +47 & Senior Women +6 taking 30 bowlers to the Beat the Board Finals with our 133 Entrants at Bowling Square.

Beat the Board Finals is 3 games and where you finish will be your cashing position.

Out of the gate in Game #1 we had pretty Romalie Borillo lead the way with a nice +258 and taking the first side-pot. It was tightly bunched to the 12 positions. Angel Hilvano rose up in Game #2 with a huge +121 to take the lead over the field on the medium/fair condition.

Again Angel held tough in Game #3 and the battle was on for the top 5 places. We saw Sun Sundara fire a nice +76 winning the side-pot and vault all the way to 3rd place.

Angel Hilvano is the winner with a huge +196. In second came newcomer Louis Nguyen +121 $750, 3rd Sun Sundara +116 $375, 4th Carlos Umana +107 $150 and Ramsey Basurto 5th $125.

Great Bowling Angel on a title well-deserved, you were the best on this night. Nice bowling by many people in fact at Action Lanes.

Angel drew the Match Game worth $1,755 and 229 (no winner) so we will go for an estimated $2,500 Saturday at popular Keystone Lanes in Norwalk.

Angel Hilvano hails from L.A. and is married to Xframe bowler Bella Ordone. Great people here. He used a Roto Grip drilled by Brandon McGinness at Jewel City Bowl for the win.

Louis Nguyen is from Temple City and married to Mary Tran Nguyen, 2 kids – Lani and Haley. He and synch and you can repeat shots, it's a winning formula.”

Bohn ranks fifth all-time on the PBA Tour titles list with 35 wins while Duke ranks third with 38 titles to go along with his four on the PBA50 Tour.

In the opening stepladder match, Jeff Zaffino of Warren, Pa., making his first championship round appearance, beat PBA Hall of Famer Amleto Monacelli of Venezuela, who was trying for his ninth career PBA50 Tour title and second of the season, 202-187.

In the second match, Bohn beat Zaffino, 238-234, in a come-from-behind effort, to advance to the semi-final match where he beat Learn, 231-202, to advance to the title match. For Learn, who was also looking for his first win of the season, his third-place finish was his fifth top-five of the year and came after a runner-up finish in last week's PBA50 South Shore Open.

Duke's second-place finish puts him in second on the PBA50 Player of the Year points list heading into the season's final tournament in Fort Wayne, Ind.. He will have some work to do, however, to catch Brian LeClair of Delmar, N.Y., who has led the player of the year points race for most of the season.

PBA fans will be able to follow all the action streamed live on PBA's online bowling channel Xtra Frame. In addition to following the action on pba.com, Apple users will be able to use the new PBA app, available through the Apple App store, to access live scoring.

tion-only event that features eligible champions and the top point-earners from the current season.

The 24-year-old right-hander earned a spot in the PWBA Tour Championship with a win at the recent PWBA Greater Detroit Open, the first title of her PWBA career.

“I lost to the best bowler in the world, ever,” Pajak said. “Liz is probably - not probably, she is the best bowler in the world. I could never take advantage of the fact she was missing a little bit. I’m upset that at the time I really needed to carry, I didn’t, because I felt that could have changed the game. I don’t like losing in the ninth frame, but it is what it is.”

On the way to the seventh U.S. Women’s Open championship match of her career, Johnson needed to fill 15 pins in her final frame to get past Team USA member Erin McCarthy of Omaha, Nebraska.

Johnson left, and converted, the 3-6 combination on her first offering and then tossed a crossover strike to earn a spot in the final by a 199-195 margin.

Throughout match play this week at Plano Super Bowl, McCarthy suffered from severe back spasms and was unable to sit during the match.

She led by 26 pins after five frames, before missing a 3-10 split in the sixth frame slowed her momentum and allowed Johnson to take the lead with strikes in frames seven through nine.

The semifinal between Johnson and McCarthy was rematch of the title tilt at the 2015 Queens, where Johnson defeated McCarthy, the top seed, to win her second Queens tiara.

Prior to meeting with McCarthy, Johnson found herself down nine pins at the halfway point of her match against Canada’s Valerie Bercier, but she tossed six consecutive strikes, starting in the fifth frame, to outdistance the former University of Nebraska standout, 255-223.

The day’s opening match featured just seven strikes between the two players, but nine consecutive clean frames from Johnson to start helped her sneak past Nicole Trudell of Bridgeport, Connecticut, 191-178.

Back-to-back splits from Trudell in the seventh and eighth frames, including a 7-10 in the latter, proved to be her undoing, despite Johnson leaving, and missing, a split of her own in the final frame.

The 2017 U.S. Women’s Open started with 114 competitors, who each bowled 24 games of qualifying over three days before the field was cut to the top 38 for Friday’s eight-game cashers’ round.

The 32-game pinfall totals determined the 24 bowlers for match play, while their 56-game totals, including 30 bonus pins for each win, decided the five players for the TV show. There were 10 perfect games this week, with Pajak (two) and Johnson among them.

The championship round of the U.S. Women’s Open was one of four finals contested Sunday at Plano Super Bowl.

The finals of the 2017 PWBA Orlando Open, PWBA St. Petersburg-Clearwater Open and Nationwide PWBA Rochester Open were taped for broadcast on CBS Sports Network on Aug. 15, Aug. 22 and Aug. 29, respectively.

All qualifying and match play rounds of the 2017 U.S. Women’s Open were broadcast live on Xtra Frame, the online bowling channel of the Professional Bowlers Association.

From Another Time?

by Mary Lynly California Bowling Writers

Thanks Mary for letting our readers know what's going on in Southern California... Carol

The Board of Directors worked 5 consecutive weekends as the California State Senior Bowling Association's 47th Annual Championship where 502 teams from around the state competed in two divisions based on combined age. 85% of those teams were from outside the area.

One of our Hall of Famers lobbied hard to bring the tournament here, and why was this important? It saved many local bowlers the time and expense of traveling to other cities. Even more important is the benefit to the local economy. Between motels, restaurants, retail shops and more the benefit easily exceeded $200,000. The California State Senior BA was so pleased with the effort by the Association volunteers, bowling centers and the participation by our members that it voted to bring the tournament back here in the fall of 2018.

Our generous members contributed $9,000 for the Bowlers to Veterans Link. Although in past years the money has stayed in California, we learned that only a small percentage was benefitting veterans in our immediate area. Our Board subscribes to the philosophy of "Think globally and act locally." Therefore, our Board adopted a new policy to only send 10% of what is collected to address statewide veteran needs and the other 90% will be granted directly to local veteran organizations by our Board. This year we awarded over $7,000 to VFW Post in Folsom and to the Mather Veterans Village which provides housing to homeless veterans in the area. I personally visited these two organizations and was very impressed with the work they do to help veterans in need. Both agreed to provide periodic reports of how the funds are helping local veterans.

The number one initiative for this past season was to increase communication with our members. Since tournament participation was up by more than 20%, we have to conclude that we did indeed make some progress. We overhauled our web page, became more active on our Facebook page, engaged in the direct emailing of upcoming events and news to those members whom provided accurate email addresses, and some of our most conscientious board members increased dialogues with league secretaries and fellow bowlers.

Tournament opportunities were increased including Senior Championships and a Super Senior Division within the Masters Tournament. This coming season there will be a Senior Masters and a Queens Tournament on a separate day from the regular Masters. Additionally, there will be a Women's Championship in October featuring a doubles and singles competition.

The association office was moved and will save $6,000 annually to help offset cost increases and allow us to increase awards to our membership. We helped support the PWBA event held in our area for the third consecutive year.

The board strives to stay up with accomplishments of our members too. Several of the association youth participated in the USBC Junior Gold competition in Cleveland Ohio and of 327 entrants for the U15 girls, 2 of the top 16 were from our Association.

Overwhelming? You bet. If you have read this far and are thinking this sounds like shades of times past – you are right. Forward thinking, awareness of all facets of decisions and the consequences and a genuine caring for the membership. An increase in participation and interest on all fronts! Congratulations to President Brent Korff and the GSA Board of Directors.

GSAUSBC President Brent Korff did what few emcees do – make the most of a captive audience. He advised the attendees of the Greater Sacramento Area USBC extraordinary 2016-2017 season as noted above.

The best was yet to come with the announcement of the honorees. Unfortunately, Jerry Nunes who was being honored for Superior Performance in the Hall of Fame was unable to attend. Barbara Metzinger Hureaux gave a riveting presentation of Irene Raff, posthumously, for Meritorious Service and Brent bridges was inducted with an incredible list of accomplishments for Superior Performance. Additional honorees were: The Ralph Sutton Memorial Scholarship to Robbie Bennett; Senior Female Bowler of the Year to Carolyn Cooley; Senior Male Bowler of the Year to Joe Chabot and League Secretary of the Year to Linda Zierman. Director of the Year went to Gillian Tracy.

EBI Demo Day with Jake Peters

An Event Every Bowler Should Add to their Arsenal

by Bette Addington, California Bowling Writers

BAKERSFIELD, CA—Caught up with Jake Peters who was conducting the EBI (Ebontie International) Demo Day at Regency Bowling Center on August 1. Peters is the Southwest Demo Leader and Track National Staffer. For those of you that have not experienced participating in a Demo Day, or even if you have, thought you might like to hear what this event offers any level of bowler. This particular Demo Day at Regency was held on the night of The Bowlers Edge Summer “Mega Ball” league but was open to all local bowlers to come try out the latest EBI balls which for this particular day included Track’s “Ruby Kinetic” and “Emerald Kinetic”; Hammer’s “Phobia” and “Diesel; Columbia 300’s “Juke” and “Tyrant Pearl”; and, Ebonite’s “Matrix” and “GB2 Phenom Pearl.” The event started at 3pm and lasted until 8:30pm.

But before we get into what actually takes place at an EBI Demo Day, here’s a little background on Jake Peters. He was born in Decatur, Illinois and currently resides in Las Vegas where he has lived since 2014. His bowling started at the youthful age of 2, leagues and tournaments at age 5 and he joined the PBA at 22. He is currently 28 and has (1) PBA Title (Wisconsin, 2013) and (2) Regional Titles (Illinois, 2013 & California, 2017). His high current average is 249. His current goal is “to get back into the Winner’s Circle on the National Tour and then set my sights on becoming the PBA Player of the Year!”

Bowlers who come to an EBI Demo Day are greeted by an experienced, active PBA bowler, like Peters, with the help of 2-4 EBI Staffers accompanying him to help bowlers. Bowlers coming to a Demo Day should bring their best fitting ball with them to help get the closest fit for balls they select to demo.

Peters has been conducting EBI Demo Days for two years now. He said he normally does about 20 per season. Demo Days are offered mainly in the Fall and Spring. They decide where and when to have these Demo Days by Adam Ishan/ Southwest Regional Sales Manager, who spends many days on the road getting leads from pro shops and working on the best center to put on a Demo Day where the consumer and pro shop will benefit the most. When the date and center is set, Peters gets a shipment of balls—8 different balls, 2 of each, which comes to a total of 64 bowling balls—that he brings to set up for the Demo Day! Every Demo Day will demo different balls, as Peters said, “We always try and have the newest balls available at each demo. If we do have a ball before it is available for purchase it normally is about 7-10 days before the consumer can receive the ball themselves.”

With new bowling balls constantly being released to the market, you might wonder how long a new ball that you like will remain at your local pro shop and Peters said, “This is completely dependent on the reception of the bowling ball. If the ball is popular and selling well, it can be in the line for years. If the ball struggles, it can be available as short as one year.” So what happens if a ball you like is no longer available/retired? “The only way to purchase a retired ball would be if the local Pro Shop purchased them as the ball was closed out or Online is also a very good place to look for a retired ball.” Asked Jake if the price of bowling balls has changed over say the last five years, “The price of a bowling ball is very close to the price of them five years ago. It is a very competitive market and the price does not fluctuate too much.” My next question was what makes the bowling ball of today better than those from five years ago and Peters responded, “Technology is the biggest factor. We no longer rely on just the naked eye of a bowling ball designer and tester. We can use sensors and programs like Power House’s Bowler ID and see what the bowling ball is actually doing as it goes down the lane. This is such a fantastic program—it gives instant and accurate numbers. This allows the designers to make the proper adjustment to every bowling ball so it can perform exactly as advertised.” Peters himself said his personal favorite bowling ball right now is “the Track Ruby Kinetic. That is the type of bowling ball that I love using. It is very controllable and versatile to all types of lane patterns. It is very smooth rolling and something I can use very often.”

The EBI Demo Staffers at a Demo Day strive to help bowlers find a ball that matches their style of bowling. They are there to help you bring up your game. “We are always watching and asking what type of ball reaction the bowler prefers, and then we do our best to put the best ball for them in their hand. As far as weight, I never make many suggestions for that unless someone is in pain or seems to be struggling with a certain weight. I will never bring up any physical tips unless the bowler asks me about it. I love helping in any way I can and love when I get asked questions about every one of those topics,” reflected Peters.

Still not sure if you would benefit from a Demo Day? Went on to ask Jake about how often a league bowler should consider getting a new ball and he said, “I would say at least once a year if you clean your ball after every league session. For most people, I recommend two a year—one at the beginning of the year and a second one halfway through the season.” As far as how often a league bowler should get their ball tuned up, he said, “At least every 50 games they should take it in to the shop and let the pro shop operator take a look at the holes, grips and condition of the ball.” And, how many balls does he suggest for a league bowler? “That is entirely up to the bowler themselves. I would say minimum you should have three curving balls (reactive resin or urethane surface) and one plastic ball for all spares,” said Peters. And he recommended six as “the magical number” for the serious league bowler who competes in tournaments as well that “give you many options and isn’t so many that it is overwhelming.” Asked Jake how many bowling balls he takes to compete, “If I am flying I take 12-16 balls, if I am driving I may take over 20.”

Hope this gives you a good insight into what a Demo Day can offer you and the experience and background of the people who put the event on for you and the most important part—it’s FREE to you! Added Peters, “A league bowler should consider coming to a Demo Day because it is truly the only way to try before you buy, so to speak. It allows you to try balls you may never try otherwise and it helps you and your local pro shop have the best idea and insight of what ball will perfectly fit your needs.” Demo Days bring 14lb. and 15lb. bowling balls with numerous hand spans.

To find out more about the possibility of an upcoming Demo Day coming to a center near you, contact EBI at www.ebibowling.com/demo-days.

BURBANK — hope everyone is staying as cool as possible. It has been brutal! Now that the new seasons are starting soon, I think it's time for a refresher course on handicap. If you change the max score of your handicap base to a lower score, you are actually doing harm to your lower average bowlers.

Some think that this will take away any advantage from the higher average bowlers, but it does not! At 90% of 230, a 150 bowler gets 72 pins handicap, but at 90% of 200 a 150 bowler gets only 45 pins. This is nearly half! A word of advice: don't try to lock out your higher bowlers with this method. If you want a change, go through your board of directors and change the rules of the league. Remember, a rules change needs a vote from all your league members.
