JIMMY SCHMITZER Surfaces in Las Vegas

by Frank Weiler

LAS VEGAS — Jimmy Schmitzer, Citrus Belt record holder, relocated to Vegas when his parents (Jim and Marti) retired last summer. Since surfacing on the “strip” Jimmy has lit up Sin City’s lanes like a firecracker exploding on the Fourth of July.

Jimmy’s Citrus Belt friends will be happy to know that he is fine and showing the Vegas scene what he learned as a SoCal kegler. The publication of the 2013 South Nevada average book shows that Jimmy’s high average is 235 with a high series of 814. His overall league numbers follow:

House	Average	High Game	High Series
Sun Coast	235	298	814
Orleans	234	296	768
South Point	233	280	1009 (4G)
Orleans	227	299	779
South Point	226	279	755

Jimmy kicked off the summer by winning the first Southern Nevada Bowling Tour event in June. His five game score of 1,238 (247 average) won easily.

Congratulations Jimmy and thanks to the BOWLING NEWS for recognizing one of America’s best young bowlers. By the way, how does the “Young Mr. 900” not bowl a 300 game in the big city?

Pete Weber Wins PBA50 Treasure Island Resort & Casino Open on 51st Birthday

Second victory locks up PBA50 Rookie of the Year title, berth in PBA50 Tour Finals in season finale

WELCH, Minn. – Pete Weber had a very nice birthday, winning his second PBA50 Tour title in the Treasure Island Resort & Casino Open presented by Brunswick to lock up PBA50 Rookie of the Year honors and clinch a berth in the new PBA50 Finals which will be held as part of the PBA World Series of Bowling V in early November.

The now 51-year-old St. Ann, Mo., resident defeated Robert Harvey of Boise, Idaho, 243-227, at Island Xtreme Bowl in the PBA50 Tour’s final event of the 2013 season to claim the $7,500 first prize. But what made the victory extra special was Weber’s victory over fellow PBA Hall of Famer and nemesis Walter Ray Williams Jr. in the semi-final round.

“My birthday was complete when I beat Walter,” said Weber, who has beaten Williams only twice in 11 head-to-head matches in PBA Tour televised contests. I bowled good all day. It seemed like I shot 240s all day, but on the scoring condition we had here, 240 wasn’t always a guaranteed winner. Walter shot a lot better than his score. He just didn’t carry, and fortunately I did.

“This is the third time we’ve had a (PBA) finals on my birthday,” Weber added, “and I’ve won titles all three times, so I kind of like bowling on my birthday.”

The victory allowed Weber to lock up the PBA50 Rookie of the Year title, which is based on the competition points standings. And he earned 16 Player of the Year points, which allowed him to pass Lennie Boresch Jr. of Kenosha, Wis. (who lost in the Round of 8), for the third birth in the PBA50 Finals, a special ESPN-televised event which will be conducted during the PBA World Series at South Point Casino, Hotel and Bowling Center in early November. Williams, who clinched his second straight PBA50 Player of the Year title a week earlier in Decatur, Ill., and Venezuela’s Amleto Monacelli earned the first and second berths in

CANDY DALTON Is Tops In Guy Johnson Scratch League

by Frank Weiler

MURRIETA — GUY JOHNSON has been around bowling for more than half a century. He has always been a great bowler, averaging over 200 for years. He averaged 200 when a deuce was worth 250 in today’s scoring currency.

Nearly twenty years ago Guy organized Cal Oaks first senior scratch league because he saw a need for high level senior competition. Guy was the league’s first President and served in that capacity until two years ago when age made it necessary for Guy to step down. Today, the league is named in honor of Guy and features 24 trio teams.

While the Guy Johnson 565 Senior Scratch League features many great bowlers, the leagues top lady is Candy Dalton. She leads all the ladies with a 204 average and has rolled a 277 and 698, both tops among the ladies.

There are sixty-one men in Guy’s league and eleven women. Candy is averaging higher than fifty-two of those guys! Great bowling Candy. My thanks to the BOWLING NEWS for supporting Citrus Belt lady bowlers.

Duke To Donate Dallas Strikers “Manager” Compensation to Tony Reyes Family

SEATTLE — PBA Hall of Famer Norm Duke, the No. 1 player on the Dallas Strikers in the PBA League, also serves as his team’s manager. But rather than taking personal advantage of the added financial compensation associated with his dual role, he is using his extra income in a unique manner.

In a memo to PBA Commissioner Tom Clark, Duke wrote:

“Thank you so much for your decision to allow me to act as Franchise Player/Manager this season for the Dallas Strikers. Our owner, Terrell Owens, and I are extremely excited to have this extraordinary opportunity to represent one of America’s iconic cities in the PBA League.

“Although I believe that much will be asked of all the Managers in the League and all will have to work hard for their compensation, I also believe that I have been awarded a unique position that would qualify me for two separate levels of payment, one as Player and one as Manager.

“I am writing this letter to inform the PBA of my intentions to donate 100% of payment I receive as Dallas Striker Manager to the family of one of my greatest friends, the late Tony Reyes. My family and I have pondered many times about how to lend a hand with the devastating loss that Nicole (Reyes, Tony’s wife) and Gianna (his daughter) have endured and this feels right to us. It would really be an honor for my family...

Sincerely, Norm Duke.”

Kathy McCollom

Kathy is survived by 2 sons, Josh and Justin and a granddaughter Madison.

On September 21 a special tournament will be held at Forest Lanes with proceeds going to the purchase of a Brick at the International Hall of Fame with Kathy’s name engraved. The $25.00 entry fee includes a “MISH-MASH” three gamer, goodies and the donation. Bowling starts at Noon. Be early — greet friends — tell stories. A day to “REMEMBER WHEN”.

NATIONAL DEAF BOWLING NEWS

by Connie Marchione

DEAF FRANK GALLO 4TH IN POINTS IN PBA50 SOUTH REGION STATISTICS

NORWALK — In the January 1, 2013 to July 31, 2013 PBA50 South Region Points Statistics, deaf Frank Gallo is listed in 4th place with 76,349 points in 10 events out of 192 senior bowlers. That is the highest placing the super senior (over 60) Jacksonville, FL right-hander ever did. PBA stalwart Tom Baker, King, NC leads the list with 125,560 points for 7 events.

Also while it is fair to say that the last event Gallo bowled was an event for super seniors (over 60) only, Gallo was the only senior to bowl in all 10 events. Also he topped the 86 super seniors bowlers scattered all over 192 seniors list. The closest super senior to Gallo on the list is Guppy Troup, Taylorville, NC in 5th place with 69,030 Points in 9 events. Troup was known to wear colorful pants early in his PBA career.

On the PBA50 South region earnings statistics led by Baker with $6,550.00 for 7 events, Gallo is in 4th with $3,725.00 for 10 events. Gallo is also at top for super seniors and Troup again in 5th with $3,450.00 for 9 events. On the averages list with minimum of 32 games, Gallo had 210.9 average for 112 games in 10 events placing him 15th. Three super seniors were ahead of him including Steve Jones, Berlin, MD in first with 226.50 for 40 games. Baker is in 2nd with 224.05 for 116 games. Super senior Troup is in 19th place with 207.82 for 102 games.

On the most events cashes list, four including Baker, Troup and Gallo were tied with 7 each but Baker led with perfect 7 out of 7 events. Troup was tied with another senior for 2nd with 7 cashes out of 9 events and Gallo placed 4th with his 7 out of 10 events. On the last statistic, the number of times in making the finals, Baker was perfect in 7 out of 7 for first and Troup is 4th for 5 out of 9 events. Gallo had 5 out of 10 for 5th place.

Except for 15th place in averages list, Gallo has this best showing for 4th and 5th places in other statistics. With more to go for this statistics to end on December 31, 2013, we will be watching and cheering our deaf bowler Frank Gallo on the PBA50 tour.

Radical Bowling Joins PBA Registered Product Company Roster

Cardinale, Pinel, Brunswick form partnership to produce high-tech bowling balls

SEATTLE (Aug. 22, 2013) – The partnership between Brunswick and Radical Bowling Technologies – the high-tech ball company featuring the team of Phil Cardinale and Mo Pinel – has provided the opportunity for the newly re-branded company to become the newest member of the Professional Bowlers Association’s Registered Product Company family.

The partnership agreement recently moved production of Radical bowling balls to the Brunswick manufacturing facility, and a number of exciting things have already taken place including an expansion in the worldwide distribution of Radical performance bowling balls. The expanded distribution base and increase in pro shop shelf space has created an opportunity for the Radical brand to make an investment and get the products in use for PBA national and regional competitions.

As a full PBA Registered Product Company, Radical Bowling will be able to take advantage of a wide range of promotional opportunities provided by the PBA at all levels of competition, including the PBA Tour, PBA50 Tour and the PBA’s extensive regional program.

Approved Radical Bowling products will be eligible immediately for use in PBA competition, including upcoming PBA Regional Players Invitational events that will be webcast live on Xtra Frame, and in PBA Tour competition during the PBA World Series of Bowling V which gets underway Oct. 25 at South Point Bowling Center in Las Vegas. WSOB-V also will include hundreds of hours of live coverage on Xtra Frame, the PBA’s exclusive online bowling channel, as well as five PBA Tour championship finals which will be nationally televised on ESPN.

“I’m thrilled to get the opportunity team up with Brunswick,” said Cardinale. “This partnership is providing the Radical brand with a first-class manufacturing facility for our balls and the opportunity to expand our reach with improved sales and distribution to pro shops and consumers around the world. We have some outstanding products, and I look forward to seeing the Radical balls used in PBA competition.”

Brian Graham, director of sales and marketing for Brunswick consumer products, concurred, saying, “Partnering with Phil and Mo to create Radical Bowling Technologies is a great example of how we’re growing our overall position in the bowling consumer products business. This brand is allowing us to expand our product offerings to reach a new customer that is looking for a technological edge in their bowling balls.” For more information about Radical Bowling and its products, visit radicalbowling.com.

WESTMINSTER — We returned to Westminster Lanes where we saw a fairly easier shot. 185 entrants came out for a great day of bowling. The cut scores were + 96 for the men and + 50 for the women. The Super Seniors added to the board (two men and one Woman) John Camisa +84, Victor Paolucci +68. For the women it was Bobbie McCollum +22. That would give us 45 bowlers making it to the semi-finals.

High qualifiers for the tournament were Rithy Ath for the men with a +196. For the women it was Tess Dizon with a +126. They will get a paid entry into a future regular ABTA event. Each week one of our top seeds draws the Match Series. This time it was worth $820. Rithy drew 667. No one matched that score. The pot will carry over and the estimate for Cal Bowl is $3,750. Joel Arcienaga was the last person left to hit the 3-6-9 pot and he missed, so he got a $50 Consolation. This week we will go for an estimated $3,700 at Cal Bowl.

In our optional doubles, finishing in first were Freddie Catamisan and Vuong Do with a 1540 for $130. Fnishing in second place was Vuong Do and Steve Brode with a 1530 for $120. There was a total of $1,510 paid out in doubles. 27 paid spots with low to cash of 1426.

In the Beat the Board Finals Mode, after bowling three games, where You finish is where your cashing position will be. After game 1, low for the top five was +67. Jerry Chang at +67, fourth was Mark Andrews +73, third, Kent Maruyama +75, second was Henry Hoang +105, and first was Andy Huynh +119. He took the first game side pot for $55. The low for the women after the first game was +28. After the second game, low for the top 5 was +116. +63 was the low for the women.

The top five bowlers after the second game were Dennis Kelsey, Jeff Taino, and Tim Tran all tied at +116 for 3rd thru 5th. In second was Henry Hoang at +150 and in first was Andy Huynh with +171. Julie Nguyen made the gals proud, and took the second game side pot with at 269 for $55.

After the final game, we had a change in the top spots. This week due to ties, we would have 17 spots being paid $100 or more. Finishing in 10th thru 17th for $100 were Tess Dizon, Kent Maruyama, Mark Andrews, Tim Tran, Jarrett Handa, Marina Suos, Anita Smith, and Vuong Do. Finishing in sixth thru ninth for $105 were Thomas Licauco, Jeff Taino, Henry Hoang, and Cleve Johnson. In the top five finishing spots were, in fourth and fifth were Steve Brode +158 for $110, Michael Zhang +172 for $110. Finishing in third place for $200 with a +174 was Freddie Catamisan. Second place went to Andy Huynh with a +184 for $500, and finishing in first place with his third ABTA championship with a +193 was Dennis Kelsey.

He would take home $1,000 for first, $1,700 for Cash and Carry giving him a total of $2,700. Eight people hit the horses this week with each taking home $115. Dennis of course was the Horse!

Champion Dennis Kelsey is from Daly City up north. He used a Roto Grip Splitter. He is married to Evelyn and they have one son Kris. He would like to thank his wife for driving, his coach Bill Hall for all his help with his bowling.

Second Place was Andy Huynh.

Third Place was Freddie Catamisan, from Long Beach and used a IQ Storm drilled by Ben Mach. He is married and would like to thank his family, the “Barkda”, the ABTA, and it’s Staff.

This week the winner of the Sponsor ball from 900 Global was George Marquez,. Winning entries into the Labor Day event at Cal Bowl were Carlos Castillo, Galdino Chavez, Mike Moore, James Chambers. Winning regular event entries were Steve Brode, Darrow Tiongco, and Kelly Wynn. Winning an ABTA shirt was Danny Alcayde, Mark Andrews, and Armand Garcia. Sal Petrella is King of the Jungle at Forest Lanes

LAKE FOREST — After 12 monthly King of the Hill tournaments, this season’s top 20 bowlers in points took to the lanes this past Sunday with the title of “King (or Queen) of the Jungle” at stake. Brian Carter jumped out to the early lead with his sidepot-winning game of 285 (258+27).

He kept a firm grasp of the lead after shooting 261 (234+27) in game 2. Dave Lindsay kept pace with 247 (245+2) in game one and a sidepot-winning score of 279 (277+2) in game two. It seemed that one of these two would emerge as this year’s champion, as they were each almost 40 pins ahead of the nearest competitor.

However, Sal Petrella would have something to say by starting game three with the front 6. With two clutch strikes in the tenth, Sal finished with 286 (277+9) and emerged victorious by 8 pins, winning the top prize of $350. The next season of King of the Hill starts Sunday, September 22nd at 1pm.

Final Standings:

Sal Petrella	774	(747+27)	$350
Dave Lindsay	766	(760+6)	$220
Brian Carter	765	(684+81)	$150
Winston Armstrong	750	(717+33)	$100

the PBA50 Finals.

“I’m very happy with my rookie year,” Weber added. “I bowled in six tournaments and made the top four five times. The only way it could have been better would have been to win every one, but I’ll take it.”

Weber won his first PBA50 Tour title, and first major as a 50-and-older player, in the USBC Senior Masters in June.

Another honor was decided Wednesday when Tim Kauble of Marion, Ohio, finished in the top eight to become the PBA50 Tour’s first Super Senior Player of the Year, nipping PBA Hall of Famer Dale Eagle of Tavares, Fla. The honor for players ages 60 and older was based upon the tour’s competition points standings.

BOWLERS JOURNAL NAMES HUSTED
“PROPRIETOR OF THE YEAR”

SEATTLE — Dave Husted is well-known as a 14-time PBA Tour champion and the first player to win the U.S. Open three times in his PBA Hall of Fame career. He has just added Bowlers Journal International Proprietor of the Year honors to his scrapbook, in part because of what he has given back to the game.

Husted and his father Champ have hosted a PBA Northwest Region tournament now called the “Dave Husted Invitational” for 34 consecutive years. It may be the longest-running PBA Regional tournament in the country.

For bowlers starting a pro career, the PBA’s regional program is a training ground, Terry Johnson wrote in his Bowlers Journal story about the award, adding that Husted said that’s a big reason for conducting the tournament.

“I learned how to become a winner on the regional tour,” Husted told Johnson. “Winning is winning. It mostly feels the same way, whether it’s in a regional or national event. Becoming familiar with that feel is a good way to learn to conquer your nerves.”

The annual event has normally benefitted a charity, and has always included a pro-am. The pro-am, however, has never been about recruiting new league bowlers for his center.

“We never thought about not doing (the pro-am),” Husted said. “We enjoy it. Our customers like it. On the pro side, the players like it. It’s good for bowling, period.”

ALL WINNERS AREN'T CHAMPIONS

To be a champion takes more than the besting of a field in any type of given competition. Most of all, it means giving as well as taking.

Top athletes in most sports, many of them big winners, aren't nearly as respected as they were in the past, and with good reason. It's more than the enormous sums of money they earn. I'm for every athlete earning as much as he can while he can, since any sports career is chancy and short at best, and in the majority of cases, frustrating and futile, physically and financially.

But enough is enough is enough.

Many winners, though they're public figures, look down on the public. They want cheers and extra rewards when they succeed, but no jeers and or penalties when they fall. Some want the public to love them, no matter what, and moan and cry and pout if they don't receive what they consider proper respect and treatment, the very things they often withhold from their adoring fans.

It may appear to be ridiculous, but many athletes feel it is too much of a burden to cooperate with the media, or to sign an autograph, unless there is some sort of pay. With all the big salaries, never enough, and the groups of management, the bottom line always is the same, the public pays and pays and pays.

The public really doesn't ask much in return. All fans ask is that their heroes do their best, respect their sport and its fans, and display just a little pleasure and thankfulness at their good fortune in being able to play little boy's games for huge fortunes.

Champions do that. The champion isn't discouraged by problems, he's challenged by them. He may be scared, but is less scared and more inspired by the great challenges.

Less we fall into a generalization trap, all winners and all athletes don't fall into the they don't care category. They must look into a mirror now and then and see how fortunate that image staring back at them really is.

Bowlers, for the most part, are just great. Much of the headway in the sport can be attributed to the champions right down the line for the better part of a century. Their color, charm and cooperation has been unmatched according to the greatest critics, the people who must deal with athletes all the time. They rate bowlers, men, women and children bowlers, at or neat the top.

And despite that fact that bowling officials have been known to disagree, it is to their everlasting credit that when it's for the good of the sport, they almost always forget their internal differences.

Cynics may say, with some truth, that star bowlers are more cooperative and more giving because they haven't been spoiled by too much of the big dough. Don't kid yourself, some of the bowlers, with their prize money and various other involvements, do very well, and better than many athletes in other sports. Don't think either, that all are models of cooperation. Some are big pains.

There's a necessary learning process in every sport or activity. Some learn quickly. Others never learn. Much of the sports world is riding high because of inflated TV rights money, and peak spectator interest. It wasn't always that way. It won't always be that way.

Bowling, though a big boy and big girl now, still is on the outside peeking in on too many of the other sports.

One way to keep trying to get more of a look from those who make the other sports is to keep doing our best to continue to create champions, not just winners.

Williams, Monacelli, Weber Top 2013 PBA50 Tour Stats

PBA Hall of Famers earn berths in PBA50 Tour Finals during World Series of Bowling

SEATTLE – Three of the Professional Bowlers Association’s greatest players topped the season-ending PBA50 Tour stats for average, earnings and competition points.

After earning his second consecutive PBA50 Player of the Year crown, Walter Ray Williams Jr. of Ocala, Fla., topped the earnings and standard competition points lists while finishing third in the average category behind fellow Hall of Famers Pete Weber of St. Ann, Mo., and Amleto Monacelli of Venezuela.

During the 11-tournament 2013 season PBA’s online bowling channel Xtra Frame provided nearly 130 hours of live coverage of PBA50 Tour events.

Bowling in all 11 tournaments and leading all competitors with three titles, Williams led earnings with $41,175, competition points with 204,157 and he placed third on the average list – based upon a minimum of 150 games bowled – with a 229.46 average for 304 games. Along with his three titles, Williams had two thirds, two fourths, including the Suncoast Senior U.S. Open, and had three other 10th-place finishes including the USBC Senior Masters. Player of the Year points earned for top four finishes determined the PBA50 Player of the Year title.

Competing in his fourth PBA50 Tour season, the PBA Tour’s all-time titles leader now has seven PBA50 Tour titles.

Weber, who bowled in only six events in his first year as a PBA50 Tour competitor, led the average category, scoring at a 233.77 pace for 154 games, and ending the season second in earnings ($32,000) and sixth in competition points (127,667).

Weber won two titles, including his first PBA50 Tour major in the USBC Senior Masters, in his third tournament. He also won the season-ending Treasure Island Resort & Casino presented by MOTIV Open in Welch, Minn., a victory that gave him the PBA50 Rookie of the Year title (also based on points awarded for top four finishes). Weber also had two third-place finishes, a fourth and a ninth.

Competing in eight tournaments in his second PBA50 Tour season, Monacelli finished second in average (230.48), third in earnings ($29,850) and second in competition points (159,339).

Monacelli, a 19-time winner on the PBA Tour, successfully defended his Suncoast PBA Senior U.S. Open title for his second career PBA50 Tour title. Other top finishes included two seconds, two fifth and two eighth-place finishes. He was the top qualifier in five of the eight tournaments he competed in.

As the top three in Player of the Year points, Williams, Monacelli and Weber earned the three berths for the PBA50 Tour Finals which will be conducted as part of World Series of Bowling V in Las Vegas in early November.

Tim Kauble of Marion, Ohio, finished in the top eight of the Treasure Island Resort and Casino Open to become the PBA50 Tour’s first Super Senior Player of the Year, nipping PBA Hall of Famer Dale Eagle of Tavares, Fla. The honor for players ages 60 and older was based upon the tour’s competition points standings. Kauble had top finishes of fourth, sixth and seventh during the season.

BURBANK — Here we are approaching the last official weekend of summer activities. Known also as the last B Weekend. You know, last chance for the Beach, Boating and BBQ! You can add another B to that list...Bowling the summer session! Now is the time to sign up for the upcoming winter leagues at Pickwick. Last week I gave you some pointers on how to find them and sign up.

This week I want to fill you in on the Youth Program. New session will start Sept 23rd. Age groups are: Bumpers 3 yrs & up, Preps 8 to 12 yrs and Juniors 12 to 20 yrs. Practice starts at 9:30 am and league bowling at 10 am. Bumpers bowl 2 games with fees of $7.00 per week. Preps and Juniors bowl 3 games with fees of $9.00 per week. The leagues run for 22 weeks ending on March 8th. Sign up with Jeanie @ 818 842-7188 ext 349.

If Saturdays are a bad time for you, there is a non sanctioned, 2 game, youth league on Tuesday afternoons at 3:30 pm. Bowlers should be 6 yrs and up. To sign up, call Janie Desgroseilliers at the same ext (349) and she will refer you to me. Get those kids on the lanes, earn some scholarship money and give them a sport they will be able to participate in all their lives!

REE-INVENT FILMS SNAGS TOP HONORS AT MONROVIA, CALIFORNIA'S ACTION ON FILM INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL

“We’ve Got Balls” wins “Best Comedy - Feature” and “Outstanding Cast Performance” awards, as well as two additional nominations

SANTA ANA, CA—We’ve Got Balls, a quirky comedy that centers on the potential demise of a cherished bowling alley in a small town (52 people), to make way for a casino, won two top honors on Saturday evening, August 24, 2013, when it was named “Best Comedy – Feature” and also “Outstanding Cast Performance.” The film was also nominated for Without a Box’s coveted “Best in Show Award,” and Cherie Kerr, producer/writer/director of Balls was also singled out as a nominee for “Filmmaker of the Year.”

“We are overwhelmed at having won such great honors,” Kerr says of her first indie feature film. “Del Weston, head of AOF, and his staff, really put on an incredible festival and are so supportive of emerging filmmakers. I am honored to have been among them.”

Although Kerr has run both a public relations firm, KerrPR, and a communication skills training company, ExecuProv, for nearly 40 years, she also has spent the better part of her adult life performing, directing and writing sketch and improv comedy. In 1990, Kerr founded the Orange County Crazies, similar to the L.A. Groundlings, of which she was a founding member. She has received rave reviews for her comedic works. She also is the author of 11 books and 45 movie shorts.

Balls debuted last spring when it was chosen as an Official Selection in the Newport Beach Film Festival. Kerr’s film sold out the first day tickets went on sale. Its April 29, 2013 screening necessitated an additional screening on May 2 since all 265 seats were sold out. With the AOF screening August 17, 2013, Balls sold out as well. In total, the film has sold roughly 750 seats in only three screenings.

In sum, the tagline for the film captures its essence: A quirky town, a crooked mayor, and one whacked-out bowling showdown.

A year ago, Kerr began shooting her first indie comedy in Orange County. The film co-stars Gary Austin, founder of the L.A. Groundlings and Andrew Dickler (Douchebag, 2010), in addition to a formidable cast, many of whom are Kerr’s Groundlings and OC Crazies chum alums. “We had little money, but a lot of heart and determination,” Kerr quips. “Looking back, I see it as an absolute miracle that we were able to bring it to fruition!”

Set against the backdrop of Fountain Bowl, in the fictitious town of Fountain Springs, the story is about a filthy rich female land developer and her Indian Chief cohort who team up with Fountain Springs’ crooked mayor in an attempt to demolish Fountain Bowl in order to build a gambling casino. The small town’s population shows up for a tense and life-altering bowling tournament, the outcome of which determines the fate of both the bowling alley, and the quality of life of its townspeople.

Kerr is the mother of Drake Doremus, who won the Grand Jury prize at Sundance in 2011 for his film Like Crazy, with supporting actress Jennifer Lawrence. Doremus studied improv comedy under his mother’s tutelage from the age of six until she sent him off to AFI at age 19 when he was chosen for its directors program. Doremus debuts a new film in theaters next month, Breathe In, which stars Amy Ryan, Felicity Jones, and award-winning actor Guy Pearce.

Kerr intends to showcase We’ve Got Balls at other prominent film festivals before year’s end and prior to inking a film distribution deal.

Kerr has already garnered impressive reviews for her first indie film including one from OC Weekly’s Matt Coker, who says, “Cherie Kerr takes her screwball comedy out of the gutter, rolling audiences a big screen strike.” Michael Gellman, legendary director at The Second City in Chicago (who performed with John Belushi, Dan Ackroyd, Gilda Radner and Bill Murray, and who taught and mentored John Candy and Chris Farley) says “We’ve Got Balls is comedy at its best, a film with heart and an insane bowling tournament that racks up a perfect score.” Yahoo! also gave the film a perfect score as writer Leslie Gornstein stated, “I was hooked on this movie from scene one.”

Kerr announced last week that she and Ree-invent Films are in the pre-production stages of Small Claims, a new indie feature scheduled to be completed by late summer, 2014.
