TOUR CHAMPIONSHIP SMITHFIELD FOODS JOINS PWBA TOUR AS A MAJOR SPONSOR

ARLINGTON, Texas – Smithfield Foods will sponsor the final event of the Professional Women's Bowling Association season, the PWBA Tour Championship, set to take place in September with the finals on national television.

The Smithfield PWBA Tour Championship promoted by GoBowling.com will bring together the top 16 bowlers from the 2015 PWBA Tour season, including the winner of each tour stop, for the season-ending event starting Sept. 10 in Arlington, Texas. The stepladder finals will be televised live on the CBS Sports Network on Sept. 13 at 1 p.m. Eastern, with the winner presented with the Smithfield Cup.

"This is a tremendous opportunity to partner with the PWBA during its comeback season," Bob Weber, Vice President of Corporate Marketing for Smithfield Foods, said. "The early tour events have drawn a good deal of interest and the PWBA Tour will be a great avenue for our brands to reach bowling fans."

Smithfield Foods was founded in Smithfield, Virginia, in 1936 and has become the world's largest producer of pork products. In addition to its Smithfield flagship brand, other notable brands produced by Smithfield Foods include Eckrich, Farmland, Armour, Cook's Gwaltney, John Morrell and Nathan's Famous.

The two-year partnership also makes Smithfield the Official Elite Title sponsor of the PWBA Tour.

The PWBA Tour re-launched earlier this year with a three-year funding commitment from the BPAA and the United States Bowling Congress. The season kicked off with the USBC Queens in May and has seen sold-out fields for its first three standard events.

"It's always great to see when a company such as Smithfield Foods sees the value of marketing through our sport," said Kelly Kulick, the spokesperson for the PWBA who could be featured in PWBA-themed ads for Smithfield. "The opportunity for women to compete as professional bowlers on a regular basis is possible because of the PWBA Tour and because of companies like Smithfield."

The PWBA Tour has two more tour stops this season before the PWBA Tour Championship takes place at the International Training and Research Center.

Stefanie Johnson of Grand Prairie, Texas, who won the PWBA Wichita Open for her first career PWBA title, currently leads the points list followed by Diana Zavjalova of Latvia, and Kelly Kulick of Union, New Jersey.

CALIFORNIA BOWLERS ARE MEDAL MAGNETS AT 2015 WORLD BOWLING SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

LAS VEGAS - Sweden's Susanne Olsson and Australia's Andrew Frawley claimed Masters titles as the 2015 World Bowling Senior Championships came to a close Sunday.

Olsson defeated Lucy Sandelin of the United States, 222-184, in the women's title match at Sam's Town Bowling Center, while Frawley captured his second gold medal of the event with a 269-222 victory over Lennie Boresch Jr. of the United States in the men's finals.

Olsson, who was the runner-up in Masters at the inaugural World Bowling Senior Championships in 2013, put together a stretch of six strikes in seven frames to distance herself from Sandelin, who was unable to double in the title match.

"Everything worked out really well on the lanes today," said Olsson, who also earned silver medals in singles and all-events and bronze in team at this year's event. "I became more and more comfortable, and just needed to stay focused and was able to go all the way, so it was nice. This means a lot for the whole team."

The right-hander made it to the finals after narrowly escaping Tish Johnson of the United States in her semifinal match, 202-201. Finishing first, Olsson was unable to convert the 4-6-7 split in the 10th to give Johnson the opportunity to double to advance. After recording the first strike, Johnson left the 3 pin on her second shot to take home bronze.

Sandelin, who captured three gold medals in 2015, edged teammate and defending Masters champion Robin Romeo in the other semifinal, 192-190. Romeo also earned bronze.

Frawley, who started the 2015 event by winning gold in singles, put on a nearly flawless effort in the championship round as he finished with nine consecutive strikes. Boresch missed a single-pin conversion in the third frame, but kept the match close until the ninth frame when he was unable to strike for the fifth consecutive time.

"One thing that I didn't do the whole week was watch what the other guys were doing and how they were scoring," said Frawley, who also helped Australia capture the silver medal in team competition. "Lennie was squaring up on the patterns and I wasn't on the long pattern at all. Before the final, I decided to square up similar to how he was playing them and it just worked out. I got a few breaks, and sometimes it just works out like that. It's been a really great week."

Frawley defeated Ron Mohr of the United States, 215-186, in the semifinals, while Boresch earned his spot in the title round by defeating Canada's Todd Sim, 237-174.

West, Northwest Finalists For PBA Challenge Events Are Set

NORWALK – With only two qualifying events scheduled before the September 30 PBA Regional and PWBA-PBA Women's Regional qualifying deadline, the PBA West and Northwest Regional qualifiers for the end-of-season PBA Challenge events to be held during GEICO PBA World Series of Bowling VII are mathematically decided.

Earning paid entries into WSOB VII along with berths in the eight-player PBA Regional Finals qualifying tournament are West Region competition points champion Josh Blanchard of Gilbert, Ariz., and Northwest Region points winner

Scott Norton of Mission Viejo, Calif. Topping the PWBA-PBA Women's Regional standings in the West Region is Missy Parkin of Laguna Hills, Calif., while April Lord Wittig of Steilacoom, Wash., is runner-up in Northwest Region women's points but gets the region's berth because Parkin, the points leader, is already in the field as West Region winner.

LIZ JOHNSON CONQUERS PWBA DETROIT OPEN

DETROIT, Mich. - Liz Johnson of Cheektowaga, New York, became the first two-time winner this season on the Professional Women's Bowling Association Tour as she overcame a tough lane condition Saturday to claim the 2015 PWBA Detroit Open title.

Johnson took down PWBA Tour points leader Stefanie Johnson of Grand Prairie, Texas, 193-158, in the championship match at Super Bowl.

Competing on the season's toughest lane condition, which measured 35 feet in length and was nearly flat, Liz Johnson cruised past Stefanie Johnson in the final frame after Stefanie Johnson left a split for an open in the ninth frame.

It was the second title of the season for Johnson, who captured the United States Bowling Congress Queens championship in May.

"It means a lot to win a second title this season because there are so many talented women out here and they are hungry to win titles," said Johnson, a USBC Hall of Famer who won her 13th career PWBA title. "You have to really stay on top of your game physically and mentally to be competitive out here."

The stepladder finals capped off a low-scoring event in which only three players averaged better than 200 for the tournament.

"You would think with a short pattern the scores would be a little lower anyway but they were just ugly this week," Liz Johnson said. "I like it when it is more of a grind like this, but with the start I had in qualifying this week I didn't even think I'd make the show."

Johnson, who earned $10,000 for the victory, took down Team USA member Josie Earnest of Nashville in the highest-scoring match of the stepladder finals, 235-202, to advance to the title match. In the opening match, Earnest topped Kelly Kulick of Union, New Jersey, 169-153.

All qualifying and match-play rounds will be broadcast live on Xtra Frame.

The televised finals are scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 6 at 1 p.m. Eastern on the CBS Sports Network, and the winner will take home a top prize of $50,000.

Johnson cruised to the 2013 title with a 257-195 win over defending champion and top seed Kelly Kulick of Union, New Jersey. It was the third U.S. Women's Open victory of her career and helped solidify her place in the United States Bowling Congress Hall of Fame.

"The U.S. Open is one of the biggest tournaments we will have, along with the (USBC) Queens, and you can usually expect for it to be pretty tough," said Johnson, who won the U.S. Women's Open in 1996 and 2007 and owns six major titles overall. "Since it's at the end of the swing, I know everyone will be sharp, so I hope I will be, too. There's a lot of great talent out there now, and that has been great to see. It also makes me want to stay on top of my own game."

Since her U.S. Women's Open win in 2013, the 11-time Team USA member has stayed sharp by competing in a variety of international and professional events.

Most recently, Johnson was part of the 2015 USBC Hall of Fame class in April and went on to win the 2015 Queens, the first event on the new PWBA Tour, which was revived after being dormant since 2003.

Johnson's win at the Queens earned her a spot in next month's season-ending Smithfield PWBA Tour Championship promoted by GoBowling.com. The event will feature all champions from the 2015 PWBA season, and the 16-player field will be filled out with the tour's top point earners.

The top two on the points list automatically will be seeded into the semifinal round, while the third- and fourth-seeded players will earn one bye. The rest of the field will battle through a single-elimination bracket. The Tour Championship winner will take home a $20,000 top prize.

Johnson missed two PWBA events this season because of other bowling commitments, including the Pan American Games. She enters the remaining two events - this week's PWBA Detroit Open and the U.S. Women's Open - fourth on the points list.

"I am fortunate that I've been able to compete at this level and still be fourth in points, even with missing two events," Johnson said. "It would be nice to be in the top two, or even just get a bye, but to even qualify for that final event in the Dallas area is very special."

Ultimately, Johnson's

feelings are consistent with most of the competitors who have been part of the sold-out fields on the PWBA Tour this season.

"We're just extremely lucky that we have this opportunity again, and we're definitely not taking it for granted," said Johnson, the 1996 PWBA Rookie of the Year. "The early turnout was amazing, and the excitement has been the same throughout the season. We only have three weeks left, and I just want to make the most of it."

All competitors at the 2015 U.S. Women's Open will bowl 24 qualifying games over three days, before the field is cut to the top third for eight additional games. The 32-game pinfall totals will determine the 24 players for the round-robin match-play portion of the tournament, after which, the top five will advance to the stepladder finals based on their 56-game totals.

Bowlmor AMF, the largest operator of bowling centers in the world, is hosting and providing television sponsorship of more than $250,000 for the U.S. Women's Open and the 2015 Bowlmor AMF U.S. Open, which will be held at AMF Garland Lanes in suburban Dallas/Fort Worth from Nov. 2-8.

Team Fish: Sometimes, Boys Just Wanna Have Fun, Too

NORWALK – To borrow from the famous Cyndi Lauper song, sometimes boys just wanna have fun, too. Take "Team Fish" for example. "Team Fish" began to create national curiosity among Professional Bowlers Association fans during the Grand Casino Resort & Hotel PBA Summer Swing when Kyle Troup of Taylorsville, N.C., made his national television debut on CBS Sports Network, winning the PBA Wolf Open title with fellow "Team Fish" friends Connor Pickford of Matthews, N.C., and Craig Nidiffer of Trenton, Mich., in the background, cheering him on.

Contrary to conclusions drawn by some fans, the "Team Fish" concept had nothing to do with Troup being the son of PBA Tour champion Guppy Troup:

"At the (PBA) World Series (of Bowling) two years ago, Connor, Craig and I were rooming together," Kyle Troup explained. "Nidiffer plays online poker, and there are a lot of 'fish' who play as well. People who don't play poker well are called 'fish.' So during the World Series, we all bowled bad. None of us got a check. We decided we bowled like 'fish' so we kind of made up a little team among the three of us, and called ourselves Team Fish.

"When I made (the Wolf Open) show, the name kinda took off because I had the name on my collar," Troup continued, "so we decided to make a logo and have fun with it. It's nothing serious; it's just going along to see what we can do with it."

The little group began giving each other nicknames. Troup is "AfroFish" because of the Afro hairstyle he sported during the Wolf Open finals. Nidiffer became "NidiFish." Pickford is "FishFord." They created their own Facebook and Twitter pages (Team Fish), and a website is in the works. Through Facebook, fans create their own "fish" nicknames and can order o-FISH-al merchandise, like t-shirts.

"If it takes off, hopefully other guys on Tour will make their own teams with their own names," Troup said. "It's all in fun. It just gives fans something special to cheer for."

Next up, Team Fish will make its formal competitive debut during the upcoming PBA South Point Bowling Plaza Fall Classic in Las Vegas when five "fish" will bowl together in the new five-player PBA Team Challenge Oct. 24-25. Bowling for Team Fish will be Dick (FishStick) Allen of Columbia, S.C.; Kyle (AfroFish) Troup; Connor (FishFord) Pickford; two-hander Anthony (TwoFinFish) Simonsen of Princeton, Texas, and Kris (WickedFish) Prather of Milton, Fla.

Entries for the PBA Team Challenge, as well as the Mark Roth/Marshall Holman PBA Doubles Championship and PBA Xtra Frame South Point Las Vegas Open singles event, are being accepted online (<https://secure.pba.com/Store/catalog/entry-fee-national-open.8.htm>) or by calling Mary von Krueger at 206-332-9688 (email: maryvk@pba.com).

The PBA Team Challenge will include six full qualifying games by all five team members at 9 a.m. PT on Saturday, Oct. 24, followed by 12 Baker format qualifying games at 5 p.m. After 18 combined team games, the top eight teams will advance to a Baker format round-robin match play at 9 a.m. Sunday, and after a combined 26 team games, the top four teams will bowl a Baker format stepladder final round at 3 p.m. All PBA Team Challenge competition will be covered live, exclusively on PBA's Xtra Frame online bowling channel.

This team won a trophy – and vindication

By Fred Eisenhammer

Seated are the vindicated champions: Mark Ellis, Larry Ellis, Lynn Snyder and Jeff Hershow. Standing are the gutty runners-up: Stan Salter, Marty Eisen, Sylvia Eisen and Wayne Eisen.

WINNETKA – From the outhouse to the penthouse. That’s the route the bowling team of Lynn Snyder, Larry Ellis, Jeff Hershow and Mark Ellis traveled en route to claiming the championship of the “Wednesday Night Rollers” league at Winnetka Bowl.

The foursome shook off the sting of being swept by the dreaded “blind team” last month to win the title in a hotly contested championship match last Wednesday.

The “blind team” is the imaginary group of four bowlers that competes each week against a team in those leagues that sport an odd number of teams. It’s a seven-team “Wednesday Night Rollers” league so each week one team faces the “blind team,” which also is referred to as the “vacant” or “bye team.” Teams that take on the “blind team” have a mathematic edge going into their match because of the way points are calculated.

Longtime Winnetka Bowl manager Mike Willis said being swept by the “blind team” wasn’t a one-in-a-million situation but was “a rare thing. You’d think a team could win at least one game.”

But the Snyder-Ellis-Hershow-Ellis juggernaut got some vindication by holding off its title-match opponent. “It was nice to win it after our big humiliation,” said Mark Ellis, the team’s anchor who blasted a 211 in the third game.

“It was touch and go the entire way.”

Ellis’ team – named Team 4 – battled a game and gutty Team 6 foursome of Sylvia Eisen, Wayne Eisen, Marty Eisen and Stan Salter that won two of the three games but fell short in the decisive total pin-fall. Sylvia perhaps turned in the most memorable effort of the night when she put on a pretty good imitation of national bowling star Kelly Kulick.

Sylvia, who averages 110, blasted easily her personal-best with a score of 173 in the third game, which was marked by three strikes in a row, the first time she’s accomplished that feat. Asked about her clutch performance, Sylvia modestly said, “It was all luck.” Stan also delivered a powerful 234 in the finale, but it wasn’t enough for Team 6.

Team 4’s effort was led by Larry Ellis, who blistered a 216 in the second game – a whopping 59 pins above his average.

As for the loss to the “blind team,” Lynn said it never gnawed at her. “It bothered them [teammates] more than it bothered me,” she said. “I’m just here to bowl and have fun.”

Strangely, two weeks after Team 4 suffered its indignity, another team in the same league also was swept by the “blind team.” Said Willis: “Maybe it’s something about the ‘Wednesday Night Rollers’ league. Or maybe that ‘blind team’ is just stacked. Too tough to beat.”

Steve Singerman, a member of that swept team, said he was aware of Team’s 4 three-game loss to the “blind team.” Said Singerman: “We felt their misery and decided to join them.”

Members of the “blind team” could not be reached for comment.

NATIONAL DEAF BOWLING NEWS

by Connie Marchione

DEAF TRAVEL LEAGUE NEEDS A BOWLER TO START 56TH SEASON

NORWALK — Southern California Deaf Traveling League had its 56th annual meeting and some bowlers dropped out. League President Ed Abakunoff said the league has enough bowlers to start with four teams of foursomes. Also unless one bowler with a 170 average shows up, the league will have six teams of trios like they had for the last few years.

This oldest deaf scratch league out west will continue its 56th year at Keystone Lanes on Sunday September 13 with bowling time at 1 PM. Any interested deaf or hearing-impaired bowler wanting to join, contact the officers Pres. Abakumoff, Vice-President Sharon Caldwell or Secretary-treasurer Bob Taylor. Any other bowlers with close deaf relatives who know the deaf sign language may join.

This league travels to 8 different bowling centers two Sundays per month. Minimum average is 140 and match play scores are bowled scratch in 3 classes (A high average, B medium and C low average).

DEAF MEN TEAM USA NOT DO WELL IN ITALY’S WORLD DEAF CHAMPIONSHIP

(With thanks to Ed Abakumoff who sent me this information) BOLOGNA, Italy — The 3rd World Deaf Bowling Championship held August 20-30 in Bologna, Italy attracted 29 countries with men and women bowlers. United States is among the few countries that could not send a team of women.

The medal play bowling events are singles, doubles, 5 players team and all-events with the masters match plays not yet completed. The best the USA men could do only get the bronze medal in doubles.

James Borillo wins 2nd ABTA Title $2,700 at West Covina Leo Silva 2nd$ 500 • Pengsean Chea 3rd $200 • Four Share 1,015 Match game • ALL Other Pots Carry over to Labor Day Event LABOR DAY EVENT This Weekend • Four Days, Each Day Has Separate Qualifying Board!!

West Covina — James Borillo stepped up big and won our latest event at West Covina which saw several exciting matches in the Single elim Finals. He edged a tough Leo Silva in the final game for the win.

Cut scores were higher taking Men +92 Women +47. Super Seniors added were Mike Moore+76, Ben Masteran +69, Danny Eguielos+69 and Kerry Lucka Ladies +40.

Top Qualifiers were John Samson +158 and ladies Christina Cheung +154. They will get paid entries to any regular event for the nice bowling.

John and Christina drew for the Match Series. No Winner with a 425 carry over of $1,590. Mystery Doubles unmatched at a 425 with a $655 Carry-over. These pots will be huge at CAL this weekend.

The 3-6-9 Pot carried over as Vuong Do got a $100 consolation for last standing. He missed on shot 2 so we go for $900 at CAL.

The semis began and in a very contentious field James Borillo came through in game 3 to lead with a huge +208 edging a hot John Samson +200

Wow!!!! James would sit out and bowl for the title with John entering the top 16 single elims in round two! James drew a very Matchable 144 for the Match Game and four people hit the $1015 pot, Benjamin Chung, Ely Cruz, Bobbie McCollum and Roy Li. They got $253 each. Estimated pot at $3,000 this weekend.

Single elim finals hit the floor. Being eliminated in Round One ($100 each) were Brijesh Patel, Cecilia Lung, Sol Cericos, Andy Yu, Greg Velarde, Alan Aguilar and Bella Ordon.

6-9th places were John Samson, Ferdinand Alarcio, Emily Yeung and Vic Paolucci, $105 each. Then in round three James Samson, and Trung Duong were eliminated. They finished 4th and 5th.

Now down to top 3. In a tight game going to the final ball and missing the 10 pin saw Pensean Chea fall to Leo Silva in a very exciting match, by a 219-215 score. Pengsean was 3rd $200. Leo advanced to the title game vs fellow CAL bowler James Borillo.

The title game was on and top seed, Borillo led off. Both bowlers spared but Silva chopped the 5-9 frame 2, Borillo led by 17. Then he got tough and Borillo struck in frames 3-4-5. Silva answered the call in a big way with strikes on frames 5-6-7 and with James opening in frame 6 led by only 3 pins. Leo slammed a 10 pin. If carried he would lead!! He picked it up and here comes Borillo with another big 3 bagger to finish at a nice 222/266. Leo marked and struck for 205/243. Great bowling by both. James wins title #2 in front of his fine family no less! They were very proud! Congrats James! Great Bowling. Well Deserved!!!! Nice bowling by Leo Silva who did everything but win this one. He is one of the Good Guys and Well Respected!! Kudos to Pengsean in 3rd after a long hiatus from bowling as he has been in school. He is a fine young gentleman!!

James Borillo hails from Lakewood, married to Caroline with 3 kids Carl, Chris and Christian! He used a Smackdown drilled by Al at Cal Bowl.

PBA STARS TO REPRESENT U.S. IN PAN AMERICAN MEN'S CHAMPIONSHIPS

Five PBA Tour champions – Chris Barnes, Tommy Jones, Marshall Kent, Bill O'Neill and Sean Rash) along with highly-regarded amateur competitor John Janawicz will represent the United States in the Pan American Bowling Confederation (PABCON) Men's Championships in Puerto Rico Sept. 14-18.

The competition at AMF Bolera Paradise Lanes in San Juan will feature the best bowlers from the American Zone competing for medals in singles, doubles, trios, team, all-events and match-play Masters.

At the last PABCON Men's Championships in Las Vegas in 2012, Team USA took gold medals in singles, doubles, team and all-events. Janawicz is the defending singles champion, O'Neill is the reigning all-events champion and O'Neill teamed with Jones to win the doubles gold medal that year. O'Neill, Jones, Janawicz and Kent were a part of the gold-medal winning team.

A number of other PBA members are expected to compete, representing their home countries within the American Zone.

PBA QUICK NOTES

Former PBA Rookie of the Year Rhino Page will make an appearance in a charity bowling event in conjunction with the Tidewater Patriot Day Charity Golf Tournament in Myrtle Beach, S.C., over Labor Day weekend. The weekend event is a benefit for the Folds of Honor Foundation, benefitting soldiers who have been wounded in combat.

The Perfect Game

by Steve Felege

STUMP THE READERS

Part 3 of 5

11. Why do we have a “foul line?”
- ☐ A. It keeps our ducks in a row (a.k.a. a fowl-line).
 - ☐ B. To set a boundary for the field-of-play.
 - ☐ C. To separate the approach area from the lane.
 - ☐ D. To set off the alarm which embarrasses you in front of the whole league.
21. What is a split?
- ☐ A. A dessert made with bananas, ice cream, chocolate syrup and toppings.
 - ☐ B. The beginning of the end for most Hollywood marriages.
 - ☐ C. Any combination of non-adjacent pins which does not include the headpin.
 - ☐ D. Really good news for shareholders.
22. How many times does the ball turn over on its way to the pins?
- ☐ A. Bowling balls have a circumference of 27 inches.
 - ☐ B. Lift (a.k.a. “fingers”) causes the ball to turn over.
 - ☐ C. The number of times the ball turns over is referred to as it’s revs.
 - ☐ D. “Revs” is short for revolutions.
23. How many people bowl every year?
- ☐ A. Zero. Nobody bowls every year.
 - ☐ B. Fewer and fewer.
 - ☐ C. Approximately 80 million in the U.S.
 - ☐ D. 6.5 billion worldwide.
24. How many people on a team?
- ☐ A. On a 2-man team, two.
 - ☐ B. On a 3-man team, three.
 - ☐ C. On a 4-man team, four.
 - ☐ D. On a 5-man team, six.
25. What is a handicap?
- ☐ A. A score modification system which allows everyone to compete more equally.
 - ☐ B. A type of beer bottle designed to open easily.
 - ☐ C. A means for predicting the winner of a horse race.
26. How does handicap work?
- ☐ A. To the bookies advantage.
 - ☐ B. It works well by “leveling the playing field”, giving every bowler a fair chance to win.
 - ☐ C. It doesn’t work. Artificially increasing scores encourages players to accept being mediocre or to intentionally keep their averages low, a strategy known as “sandbagging.”
27. What is the weight of a ball?
- ☐ A. The amount of force gravity exerts on it.
 - ☐ B. There is no minimum weight for a bowling ball but the maximum weight is 16 lbs.
 - ☐ C. Bowling balls can weigh between eight and eighteen lbs.
28. Are all balls the same size around?
- ☐ A. All balls are not the same size around, but all bowling balls have a 27 inch circumference.
 - ☐ B. The heavier the ball, the greater it’s circumference will be.
 - ☐ C. Because modern bowling balls wear down so quickly, a circumference range has been established allowing ball circumference to range from 27.542 to 24.738 inches.
29. Does drinking affect my bowling?
- ☐ A. No. Bowling gets in the way of your drinking.
 - ☐ B. Yes. You can’t focus on bowling when all the women around you suddenly look so good.
 - ☐ C. Maybe. It depends on what you’re drinking....duh!
 - ☐ D. Of course it does. Bowling is a mental exercise. It requires balance, coordination, precision and razor-sharp focus. Alcohol diminishes your abilities in all those areas.
30. Is it okay to keep my new ball in the trunk of my car; summer or winter.
- ☐ A. Absolutely. By the way, would you care to bowl for a steak dinner in January?
 - ☐ B. Absolutely NOT! Temperature fluctuation affects the balls behavior. For consistency, you want the temperature of your ball to be the same as inside the bowling center.
 - ☐ C. Absolutely. Having the ball in the trunk means you won’t leave it at home.
 - ☐ D. Absolutely NOT! If someone else has your car, what will you use? A house ball?
- Bonus question: What kind of oil is used to condition lanes?*
- ☐ A. Vegetable oil mixed with vinegar and Italian seasonings.
 - ☐ B. 10w30 combined with UV#301.
 - ☐ C. Olive oil combined with graphite, paraffin, and petroleum distillate.
 - ☐ D. A specially formulated, patented mixture referred to as “lane dressing.”

Pete Carroll lookalike Kory Olson is on a roll again

By Fred Eisenhammer

The NFL season is upon us again – and guess what?

Recreational bowler Kory Olson is going about his everyday routine without the need to hide behind sunglasses.

That’s big news . . . and here’s why!

Kory’s optimistic nature is busting out again these days despite the stomach-turning events of this year’s Super Bowl. Fortunately, bowling proved to be the panacea for what ailed him.

Here is what happened earlier in the year:

Kory, a Camarillo resident, was readily looking ahead to the Feb. 1, 2015 football extravaganza known as Super Bowl XLIX that pitted the New England Patriots against the Seattle Seahawks.

There was good reason for his excitement.

Kory was born and raised in Seattle before moving to the L.A. area in the 1970s. He always rooted for the Seahawks – whether he lived in Seattle or here. Not the Seattle Mariners. Just the Seahawks.

What’s more, Kory bears a close physical resemblance to Seahawks Coach Pete Carroll. When people see him on the street, they often do a double-take, not knowing whether they’re actually viewing the former USC football coach who directed the L.A. team from 2001-2009.

“That happens at least once or twice a week, especially during the football season,” said Kory, who frankly doesn’t believe the resemblance is that strong. “People will say, ‘You know, you look a lot like that coach from SC or that Seattle coach.’”

So imagine how downcast Kory was with the Super Bowl result.

Remember what happened? The Patriots escaped with a 28-24 victory thanks in part to an interception of a pass thrown by Seattle quarterback Russell Wilson on the goal line with 20 seconds remaining.

Carroll was skewered in the media and by fans because he didn’t give the ball to bullish running back Marshawn Lynch, who seemed virtually unstoppable and appeared a lock to score from the 1-yard line.

It was a devastating loss for the Seahawks and their fans. But Kory bounced back – and bowling turned out to be the elixir.

Kory, who once bowled a 200 game and often visits Harley’s Camarillo Bowl with his family, said in an email:

“After the Super Bowl, it’s kind of a curse to resemble Pete Carroll. I’m wearing some reading glasses so that people will see more of a Richard Gere look rather than that of the now-reviled football coach.

“And to blow off some steam from that Super Bowl loss, we all went bowling on one-buck Tuesdays. And lo and behold, on one game, I came from behind and got a turkey [three strikes in a row] on my last three balls and won.

“Life is good again!” That’s the magic of bowling. All one has to do is to roll a turkey to blot out a negative event and then one can trot confidently back into the game of life.

day’s Masters competition. Paula Vidad finished eighth overall on the women’s side, while Johnny Petraglia placed 15th for the men.

The top 24 players in all-events on both the men’s and women’s side after 18 games of qualifying advanced to Masters. All advancers bowled an additional six games to determine the top eight for round-robin match play. The top four scores after match play, including bonus pins, advanced to the medal round.

The World Bowling Senior Championships featured more than 200 male and female participants age 50 and older from 33 countries vying for medals in singles, doubles, team, all-events and Masters competition.

For Childhood Friends,
PBA60 Titles Fulfill an Unlikely Dream

Ohioans Bill McCorkle, Bill Henson win same
Fort Wayne event under eerily similar circumstances

Editor's Note: Friends since childhood, growing up together in Westerville, Ohio, PBA60 players Bill McCorkle and Bill Henson achieved their dream of winning a national PBA title by winning the same tournament in Fort Wayne, Ind., in back-to-back years. Below, McCorkle tells the story of the pair's friendship and oddly similar experiences.

Bill Henson and I were born in 1952 and grew up together in Westerville, Ohio. We began bowling at an early age at Westerville Lanes, one of the last "dry" (no alcohol served) bowling centers in the country.

We both played all sports. We were both pitchers in Little League baseball, advancing to Pony League and eventually to high school. Around 1961 at age 9, we became good friends bowling in youth bowling leagues on Saturday mornings. Both of us admired and respected each other when we pitched on opposing teams in Little League. We still have the scoresheet from the 1-0 pitcher's duel in 1962. (Footnote: McCorkle was the winning pitcher that day, allowing only one hit. Henson allowed two, but one of them was a home run "by the only good hitter we had," McCorkle recalls. "I always remind him he never should have pitched to that kid.")

Both of us also worked at Westerville Lanes as porters, cleaning the ash trays and filling the pop machines and we even did a little pin jumping in the back. While in high school, both of us practiced a lot and worked very hard on our games. We bowled in the adult All Star and Classic leagues as youngsters and dreamed of becoming professional bowlers. We earned the nicknames "Mac" and "Hac." And we graduated from Westerville High School together in 1970.

Let's fast forward about 52 years later to 2014. Both of us are in our 60s. We are both very proud grandfathers and still live in Westerville, just north of Columbus. We bowl together in a high-powered scratch league in Columbus along with a couple of fellow PBA champions, PBA Hall of Famer Roy Buckley and Mike Henry of nearby Gahanna. We compete regularly on the PBA50 Tour, traveling the country to compete against the greatest bowlers in the world.

We've both had success winning PBA regional titles, but neither of us has ever given up our childhood dream to be a national PBA champion and earn a banner that is displayed over the lanes at each tournament site along with the best champions ever to throw a bowling ball.

My bowling dream came true in 2014 when I won my first national title in the inaugural PBA60 Dick Weber Super Senior Classic at Pro Bowl West in Ft. Wayne, Ind. In an odd coincidence, left-handed Mike Henry, a teammate of mine in league in Columbus, was leading the tournament going into the final position round game. A loss in the last game dropped Henry to fifth place for the stepladder finals and I qualified second behind Johnny Petraglia, one of the greatest bowlers in PBA history.

After I beat Dave Patchen, another Ohioan, 212-195, in the semifinal match, I defeated Petraglia in the title match, 244-173. Petraglia, the legendary lefthander who was the bowler of the year in 1971, is the only bowler in PBA history to win national titles in six different decades and he was trying to become the oldest bowler to win a PBA national event at age of 67.

At the end of the 2014 season, both were nominees for the PBA50 Tour's Dick Weber Sportsmanship Award, which is voted on by our peers. It was a proud moment even though Chris Keane of Cape Coral, Fla., was the top vote-getter.

This year, one year after my win, my good friend "Hac" made his bowling dream come true when he won his first national title in the second annual Dick Weber Super Senior Classic, also at Pro Bowl West in Fort Wayne.

Once again, our friend Mike Henry was leading the tournament going into position round before he lost and dropped into third place for the stepladder finals. Once again the title went through Petraglia who this time was the tournament leader, and now trying to become the oldest to win a PBA national event at age 68.

On the same pair of lanes (41-42) at Pro Bowl West, Henson began his climb from fourth place, defeating yet another Ohioan, Dave Csutka of Wadsworth, 247-214; then Henry, 256-225, and finally Kerry Painter of Henderson, Nev., 256-225, to advance to the title match against Petraglia.

In the championship match, Henson def. Petraglia, 244-233, rolling the same winning score I had bowled in winning my first title the previous year.

When I congratulated Bill on his win, it took us both back to memories more than 50 years old. Mac said, "I know how you feel." Hac laughed and said, "I know you do."

BURBANK — It's time for the pre-season check list. Does your ball need to be resurfaced or baked? Are your finger grips in good shape? Bowling shoes looking a little ratty? To be ready for the start of the winter season visit Roger in the Pro Shop for all your bowling needs. He's just waiting to help you!

New leagues will be starting soon and that means a league meeting is coming up. Whether it's the week before or on your first night, be sure to attend! This is no joke. So many bowlers blow off the meeting and then when something comes up their recourse is limited. It's your league. Not the secretary's, not the president's. You, the weekly bowlers who have final say in important decisions for your league. I know, you think it's the same old, same old and sometimes it is but things in the bowling world are changing more quickly than they once did. Handicap percentage is a common issue or raising the max pins in the league. Even the handling of substitutes can be a critical discussion. Maybe you have views on how the league was run last year and have suggestions for the rest of the bowlers that just may be valuable. What about sweepers? Are they what you like? Waiting until sweeper week to voice your opinions id futile. Know your rules before you start the year and don't underestimate the value of your participation in the meeting. Now off you go! Have the best winter season yet!

Sunday Night Hdcp: (scr) Ryan Hinchliffe 263, Danica Cunningham 171, Val Hoag 705, Vickie Maas 476. (hdcp) Sylvester Foster 268, Sharon Brown 269, Sal Kijera 757, Cynthia Estrada 696.
