WSOB V DEBUTS ON ESPN ON DEC. 1 WITH CHEETAH CHAMPIONSHIP, "BLUE OIL"

LAS VEGAS — The PBA World Series of Bowling V returns to ESPN on Sunday, Dec. 1, at 1 p.m. ET with the finals of the Cheetah Championship and the historic debut of "blue oil" — an historic visual tool that will enable bowling fans — for the first time ever — to see how lane conditioner looks like when it is applied to the lanes.

The unique blue-dyed lane conditioning oil also will be visible during the Viper, Cha-meleon and Scorpion Championships over the ensuing three Sunday telecasts on ESPN.

Also making its debut as the PBA Tour's broadcast team will be play-by-play announcer Mike Jakubowski, analyst Randy Pedersen and sideline reporter Kimberly Pressler.

The finalists competing for the Cheetah Championship title will be Colombia's Clara Guerrero (the third woman ever to reach the championship round of a PBA Tour telecast), Wes Malott of Pflugerville, Texas; PBA Hall of Famer Pete Weber of St. Ann, Mo., and top qualifier and PBA Hall of Famer Parker Bohn III of Jackson, N.J.

If you miss a show, remember all PBA Tour telecasts will be archived on Xtra Frame one week after the original air date. For access to all Xtra Frame programming, visit pba.com and click on the Xtra Frame link for subscription information.

ABTA To Begin Collection for Philippines Beginning Saturday at Keystone Lanes & November 23 at West Covina Lanes

NORWALK — The ABTA wil begin a Collection for the unfortunate souls in the Philippines per their heart breaking tragedy due to the Super Deadly Typhoon Yolanda.

Many many people are destitute and many lives are lost already especially in the City of Tacloban, which was virtually demolished by Yolanda. This will be forwarded to a Most Reputable Organization or the RED CROSS. We will appreciate any donation that you may desire to give large or small.

We will be at Keystone Lanes from Noon til Midnight Saturday, if you wish to contribute to this more than needy cause. Our Hours will be the same next week at West Covina Lanes.

No one should ever suffer like this, and at least we can donate a helping hand and Prayers.

Sincerely Bob Smith and ABTA Staff

30TH ANNUAL SN-CDBA TOURNEY SET AT SUNCOAST HOTEL FEB.15-16, 2014

LAS VEGAS — Southern Nevada-California Deaf Bowling Association (SN-CDBA) Secretary-Treasurer Stan Booth mailed out information, flyers, tournament rules and entry forms to all SN-CDA members stating that the 30th annual tournament is set at SunCoast Hotel and Casino Bowling Center. This mixed (men and women deaf and hearing-impaired, sign language interpreters and adult children of deaf adults CODA) tournament is hosted by Las Vegas Deaf Bowling Association. The bowling dates are Feb. 15-16 of the 2014 President's Weekend.

The bowling schedule on Saturday Feb. 15 is for Singles and Doubles events at 9:00 AM and Elimination Qualifying Round at 1:00 PM. Schedule for Sunday Feb. 16 is Mixed Foursome Team event at 8:00 AM and Deaf and Seniors Eliminations Match Play Rounds at a time to be set.

Entry fees are $75.00 for Team, Singles and Doubles $5.00 for All-events. Optional Deaf Eliminations fee is $60.00 additional and Optional Seniors Eliminations is $30.00 additional but bowler cannot bowl in both and must choose only one. The entry deadline is January 15, 2014.

For bowlers wanting additional information or entry forms contact Stan Booth on internet stsncdba@yahoo.com or (951) 208 – 6723 VP.

MARK FISSER 244-925, DAN FLORES 887 LED DEAF TRAVEL AT JEWEL CITY

GLENDALE — A couple of smooth bowlers with explosive strikes led the Southern California Deaf Traveling League action at Jewel City Bowl. Both bowled all twos games with the lefty Mark Fisser leading with 218-243-220-244 for 925 and right-hander Dan Flores with 213-233-225-216 for 887. Fisser moved his league leading average up to 222 and Flores up to 204.

The day's honor roll had 7 men with League President Ed Abakumoff rolled the third over 800 of the day, 820 with 197-211-202-210. Paul Taffolla having his best day with 212-170-193-203 for 778 and Gorman Low, 198-163-215-188 for 764. Lefty Bob Jones having hard luck leaving a lot of 7 pins, starting with a Dutch 200 and followed with 207-173-180 for 760. Leroy MacMonagle finished with a 225 for 745.

For the ladies, Celia Salcedo who finished as the runner up in the Deaf Senior Bowlers of America Queens at Las Vegas last week, led with a 645 and Sharon Caldwell shot the high game 192.

The day's action was good as the 17 bowlers (one absent) averaged 173 per bowler. The trio of Caldwell, Low and Abakumoff's Riverside led with the day's high game 582 and series 2204. But there is no change in team standings as Fisser's high performance helped his Anaheim team to 10-10 tie with Riverside. Taffolla's league leading Mid City overcame MacMonagle's Orange County 14-6 to increase its lead to 9 points over 2nd place Jones' Eagle Rock. Flores' S.F. Valley beat Eagle Rock 12-8 to let third place Fisser's Anaheim move closer 1.5 points behind Eagle Rock.

This 53 years old all deaf and hearing-impaired scratch league thanks the Jewel City Bowl management and staff for the excellent scoring conditions. Next trip on schedule is a first position round action on November 17 at Gable House Bowl with bowling at Noon. The pairings will be Mid City against Eagle Rock, Anaheim facing Riverside again and S. F. Valley against Orange County.

FROM THE DESK OF THE PRESIDENT OF SAN GABRIEL VALLEY USBC

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY — My sincerest “thank you” to all who have donated and bowled in our 2013 SGV BVL Tournament honoring our veterans and the fallen military who gave the supreme sacrifice to serve and protect our freedom throughout the history of this nation.

I thank the board members and volunteers who worked the past 8 weeks to raise the funds for our California disabled veterans. As we visited every league sanctioned or not sanctioned both day leagues and night leagues in every certified bowling establishment we met and talked to hundreds of vets and active duty personnel.

Our efforts did not go in vain. Through your generosity and appreciation of our veterans our great bowlers of San Gabriel Valley have donated a total of $9281. We culminated our drive with two squads of bowlers in our tournament held at The Bowlium Lanes in Montclair. We had 101 adults and 10 youth bowlers participate. There was some pretty fine bowling.

We had the ROTC under the supervision of Sgt Phillips present the colors. They were from Don Lugo High School in Chino. Many thanks to them for dedicating their time to us. The National Anthem was sung by Robin Sanford. She did a wonderful job with a beautiful voice. Dallas N. Perkins led us in the Pledge to the flag. For those of you did not attend, you missed a very nice ceremony. We had a veteran or active service personnel roll out the first ball before we went into the practice mode.

Scott and Theresa Poddig the owners and proprietors were very gracious to host this years tournament. They are outstanding people and employ a wonderful staff. They accommodated us every way and did an outstanding job. Our gracious thank you to both.

The goodie basket was won by Andy Bott of the ANC league in Friendly Hills Bowl. Nancy Marquez won the USA ball. She bowls out of several houses. The second ball was won by Margie Saegusa who bowls out of Beverly Bowl in the San Gabriel Valley Nikkei League. Congratulations to all three.

We, the board, thank everyone that donated and participated in one way or another. But more importantly, our California disabled veterans thank you for your love and support.

Sincerely,
Chris Pilios
President and BVL Chairman

Many leagues and tournaments wind up with races as close as a bunch of college students trying to see how many of them can fit into a telephone booth or a compact car.

When competition is keen and can go any way, it's tension time. Tempers are short, and there are flareups of all sorts, even between bowlers on the same team. The most docile bowler can become aggressive when a battle is on, whether the reward is a tiny trophy or the Tournament of Champions title.

Adapting to change is a source of tension. Yet, tension is natural. It shows up when there is a conflict of any kind, a spat with your mate, kids, friends, enemies, or in fighting off another bowler or bowling team, or even a lane condition.

You become great at something the same way you learn to swim or ice skate. By making a fool of yourself until you master the challenge. Good judgement comes from experience, and experience usually comes from poor judgement. Money can't buy natural ability. It's a gift. And experience comes from countless hours of practice, patience and competition.

The finest athletes in every field of sport, and talent in all other fields, generally agree that you never fully get used to pressure. Don't let outward appearances fool you. Tension grips the most seasoned performers. But that doesn't reduce ability. Some rise to the greatest heights when under the most pressure. Nobody completely shakes tension. It's a fact of life and must be lived with — like it or not.

Winston Churchill said, “It is very much better sometimes to have a panic feeling beforehand, and then be quite calm when things happen, than to be extremely calm beforehand and to get into a panic when things happen.”

Eddie Rickenbacker once noted, “Courage is doing what you're afraid to do. There can be no courage unless you're scared.”

Think about that when you're making a clutch shot or a style switch in the middle of a game or tournament. Being tense or scared is not the major problem. Being scared of being scared causes most of the trouble. The first step in the battle against pressure is to admit it is there, and won't fold up or silently slip away.

Each individual battles pressure in his own way. Veteran performers, having been through it, have more weapons to combat the common malady. Some chew gum, tobacco, candy or their lips. Others take a deep breath, or try to stop breathing. Some fidget as much as a lobster in boiling water. Some talk more, others less. For every action or idea that works, there's another that won't.

Look in the mirror. You should know the best way to calm the person looking back at you. Don't think you're different because a triple gets you flustered or you nervously shake when you face even a so called simple spare at a crucial moment.

On the surface most established pros seem as calm as the proverbial contented cat. Inside they're more like raging tigers. Similarly so, though most bowling competition seems to be decided on the lanes, the hidden element, the battle against the pressure, really determines the winner.

Some bowlers, when thinking about upcoming key matches, expend so much energy they tire and sleep well. Some have trouble sleeping prior to the trying times. One, when he's having a bad night, shakes his roommate until the latter is awake, then asks, “What's the matter, can't you sleep either?”

Don't sleep when it comes time to face pressure, as it does for every bowler. Face it the best way you know how — and only you really know how.

BURBANK — I have to admit, with the Thanksgiving holiday approaching, I have been investigating the ever so popular deep fried turkey. It seems so unhealthy yet all I hear is “You haven’t lived until you’ve tasted one!”. I rectify the health issue by saying it’s only once a year however, purchasing an indoor turkey fryer means I have access to french fries, fried pies and who knows what else I can think of all year long. Not a good prospect. Please let me know if you have any insight to this legend of deep fried turkeys and in the meantime I will continue to focus on my low fat yogurt and the bowling scores.

PBA Bowling Challenge Game Now Available to Millions of iOS Users

Mobile device game in iPhone, iPad version

MINNEAPOLIS – Concrete Software, developers of the popular PBA Bowling Challenge game for mobile device users, has announced the release today of a new version for iPhone and iPad users in the iTunes App Store.

With more than five million installs and a 4.6 out of 5 star rating on Google Play since its release in January, PBA Bowling Challenge has been extremely well received by users of those mobile device platforms, and today’s release of the iOS platform opens the market to millions of additional users.

The “Official Game of the PBA” features actual tournaments, oil patterns, bowling balls and legendary PBA bowlers who are faithfully represented throughout the game’s extensive career mode.

“Playing PBA Bowling Challenge is like watching the PBA on TV; it’s very addictive,” said PBA Commissioner Tom Clark. “Updates to the game make it more and more like the real thing.”

PBA Bowling Challenge will also take advantage of Apple’s Game Center to bring real-time online multiplayer capabilities to iPhone and iPad users.

“We’ve been excited to bring PBA Bowling Challenge to iOS for some time now,” said Keith Pichelman, CEO of Concrete Software. “We have a very active user community on Android and we’re looking forward to introducing iOS users a game that millions of fans already know and love.”

To download the PBA game in a version to fit your mobile device, visit <http://www.concretesoftware.com/web/games/pba-bowling-challenge/> and click on the proper app store button.

PBA Challenge Game is also the presenting sponsor for the Viper Championship, conducted during the PBA World Series of Bowling V. The finals will air on ESPN on Sunday, Dec. 8, at 10 a.m.

The Perfect Game

by Steve Felege
Interview continued by: Carol Mancini

Editors note: I apologize to our readers for the length of this interview. I promised to keep it brief, but haven’t yet found something to argue with the coach about. As soon as I can nail him on some point, however minor, I promise we’ll get back to having some fun. This shouldn’t take long!

Carol: Last week, you began telling us about your search for principles that lead to bowling success. You also stated that it was a long story. Is that accurate?

Steve: More or less.

Carol: Well, let’s hear it.....but keep it short.

Steve: I’ll do my best. We all know the frustration of wanting to get better but not knowing where to turn for help. I was no different. In 1973 I was a sophomore at Penn State majoring in science. To help pay for college I had the greatest gig in the world; a part-time job at a bowling center. I loved the game and wanted nothing more than to become a pro. Unfortunately, I peaked at an average of 193. The owner of that center eventually sent me to a class to become a certified instructor. That class was sponsored by the American Junior Bowling Congress and presented by AMF. I had hoped it would make me a better bowler.....but it didn’t! In fact, using the techniques learned in that class, my average began to decline. I soon realized the class actually taught terrible bowling technique. I felt like I had been certified to teach others how to bowl badly!

Carol: What?!

Steve: I’m not kidding! The instructor, following the manual we had all been given, stated, “The delivery consists of a stance, push-away, arm-swing and release.” He then described and illustrated the stance presented in that manual, “Shoulders are kept level to the floor and square to the target. The ball is held waist-high, centered to the body and supported by both hands. The feet are kept several inches apart; one held slightly back from the other.”

Carol: Yeah, that’s pretty basic stuff.

Steve: Carol, that may be the worst stance a bowler can use. Most of it makes no sense at all.

Carol: What made you think that it was, well.....less than ideal?

Steve: Common sense. I asked myself, “If this stance is so effective, why aren’t the pros using it?” They make their living delivering bowling balls more effectively than anyone else. When I realized the instructor had taught technique based in tradition, I started copying the pros instead. My average immediately began to improve. The next step was to figure out, “Why?” After all, that instructor had said, “This stance is the most effective because it’s perfectly balanced.”

Carol: Well, it is perfectly balanced!

Steve: Of course it is, but that doesn’t make it an effective bowling stance! Being perfectly balanced only means that you’re not falling over. You could hold the ball like the torch on the Statue of Liberty and be perfectly balanced, but that stance wouldn’t be effective either.

Carol: So....what’s wrong with it?

Steve: A lot! Let’s start by asking this question: “What is the goal of delivering a bowling ball?”

Carol: To throw strikes.

Steve: Not exactly. The goal is to deliver it so consistently that, when released, it will roll precisely over a target you have selected and end up where you want. Sometimes it’s to create strikes and other times, spares. Effective technique makes that happen.

Carol: I’ll give you that one.

Steve: Now, ask the same question about each part of the delivery. “What is the purpose of the stance?”

Carol: To aim the shot at the target.

Steve: Again, that’s only part of it. To be effective, the stance must do two things; it must aim the shot and set up a consistent delivery. Therein lies the answer to your question, “What’s wrong with it?” That stance doesn’t even aim the shot.

Carol: So what? Any stance will work, won’t it? I mean, isn’t the most important thing just to be consistent with whatever stance you use?

Steve: That’s one of the biggest myths about bowling, Carol. While it is all about consistency, it does matter what you do because some techniques actually cause problems. That stance is a prime example.

Carol: Aha! Now I gotcha! You’re one of those coaches that thinks everyone should bowl exactly the same way! I hate that!

Steve: But to some extent that’s true. Every successful bowler I have ever watched incorporates a specific set of principles into their delivery that leads to their success. Since every bowler I have ever met wants to improve, they need to understand and utilize those same principles also.

Carol: Nuts! I thought I had you there. Hey, Dean! Do we have enough room left to cover the gospel according to St. Stevie? No? Well readers, so much for making this interview short and sweet. Join us next week for this never-ending saga.

Steve: Hey! You started it!

Carol: Yeah.....I gotta give you that one too.

ROUND 2 - WEEK 3

DOWNEY — SYSCO and BOWLERS DEPOT have been yo-yoing for the top spot position in round two. Come Monday, the sparring will be head on. Both teams will be loving the action!

This week BOWLERS DEPOT engineered a 5/0 sweep over HEINIKEN, to post 12/3. SYSCO'S 12/3 came from a 4/1 win over AMATEUR BOWLERS TOUR. Even Eddie VanDaniker's 708 didn't scare the SYSCO "kids".

A.B.T. will take on the J.A.T. this week, each having a 11/4 record. THREADWORKS, also with 11 wins will be hoping to sew up a big win over the PRO APPROACH pros.

Somebody help me out! Can anyone remember a 300 being shot on the short oil pattern in the past? In the early days (Before ball manufacturer's raised averages!) there was a $5,000 bounty for a 300.

Mikey Villarreal found the line early and buried 12. A profitable 300 for a change. (Game 2 side-pot and first place FINANCIAL ADVISORS POT.) What number was this one, Mikey??

Arnold Cheesman and Bobby Campagnale cashed in on game one and game 3 pots. Paul Varela's 264 was good for second place in the FINANCIAL ADVISORS POT.

Sub Jean Colian topped the ladies with her 223/545, followed by Debbie Abahazy 527. Ladies, you out shot 51 guys! Over half the league. Lessons on Saturday???

Getting to the stats for this week, the league only averaged 178, bringing the season average down to 205. A big 4 pin drop. Four bowlers actually raised their averages.

Eleven of the top teams have a "mathematical" chance of zooming into first. No runaways this round. Makes for "good watching" on Monday nights at 8:30. Best pizza around!

We're saving a seat for you.
