Happy Thanksgiving

Steve Brode Wins Ultimate Handicap Bowlers Tour at Valley View Lanes

FOUNTAIN VALLEY — Fantastic!!! We got our best turnout so far.

A few more new faces showed and we had repeat bowlers.

We also had a few re-entries like Bill Swanson and Kurt Valmonte.

Our 1st place winner was Steve Brode +112 for $1000. 2nd place with +70 was Luis Boone for $250. 3rd place Kevin Valmonte +51 for $120.

There was a tie for 4th place, Sue Leland and Veronica Boone +48 for $46.50 each.

Also pictured are Luis Boone, Sue Leland and Ferdie Alona along with Kurt.

Thanks a million to everyone who participated and have a Happy Thanksgiving.

Do not eat too much turkey and stuffing.

Our next tournament is Sunday December 2nd at Brunswick Foothill Lanes in Fontana.

This will be a four squad tourney, with squads at 12 Noon, 1:30PM, 3:00PM and 5:00PM.

There will be match play after the 5:00PM squad.

Inside a Champion - The Robin Romeo Story

NORWALK — At 18 years of age Robin Romeo had become the one to watch in the New York bowling arena when her mother Joan and dad Raymond announced that the family was moving to California! The Romeo family lived in Mamaroneck, New York and her mother had an offer to work with a production company in California. Her father had been in San Diego in the Marines and had always had a yen to return to California as he was not crazy about the cold New York winters. After adjusting to the shock and some tearful moments Robin decided she was simply not going. None of this mattered – the family was going without her. There was a little encouragement from her 21-year old sister Debbie who also decided to secede and the girls moved in with their grandmother.

Robin had been bowling since she was six, starting as a two hander under her mother's wing as league coordinator and the taste of winning started with her first participation in league when her team won the league. She would later often repeat, "Winning never gets old." At 13 years old she caught the eye of Pro Shop owner Bob Materasso and Journalist Pearl Keller who saw her potential and coached and mentored her and she continued to excel. "Robin was a natural athlete and could have been good at anything she tried," said her mother. "She swam, she played baseball, tennis, field hockey, she was MVP of her high school bowling team and was always a top performer...but she loved bowling most." In the early years she would watch her dad bowl and waitress for extra money – so she could bowl. Born with a floating kneecap, this came to light as she participated in more competition. A rabid Jets fan, she was fortunate enough to get an appointment with a noted N.Y

Jets orthopedic surgeon who gave her an extensive exercise program to heal it.

Materasso says he was not sure about "natural" as far as ability is concerned. The 85-year old Materasso lives in the Bronx in New York and is still teaching young people because he loves it. A former PBA member and Pro Shop owner, he said the shop was just to supplement his income

The Essentials of Bowling Approaching the Perfect Game

Incase you missed it the first time.. This is the 2nd edition

by Steven Felege

CHAPTER 2 The Education of Lenny

Was Lenny just lucky, or did he know something that Mark didn't? To be sure, he knew many things that Mark did not, the most important of which was how to think like a bowler!

He knew better than to complain about the lane conditions; they were the same for both teams. He understood that the game was really about reading those conditions and adjusting to them.

He knew to ignore Mark's antics. Nothing his opponent ever did was important. He wasn't bowling against Mark; he was bowling against the pins.

He knew that bowling was much more than just throwing a ball at the pins and hoping for the best. Bowling balls are delivered, not thrown!

He knew to ignore the scores. They were a distraction. They never mattered until the game was over, and they were merely a reflection of how well he had adjusted his skills to suit the lanes. He knew that high scores didn't happen just because he wished for them; he had to make them happen.

He knew to ignore the fact that this match was for the league championship and that as the cleanup bowler, his teammates were relying on him for the win.

He knew that in order to win, he had to give his team a chance to win. That meant nothing more than making good shots.

He knew that making good shots meant focusing on his technique and nothing else!

Lenny knew technique.

Lenny first picked up a bowling ball at the age of twelve and immediately fell in love with the game despite being lousy at it (he scored 29). He had watched another bowler practicing on the lane beside him roll one strike after another and wondered how he did that. The other bowler made it look so easy. Learning to bowl like "that guy" became a passion for him.

The pursuit of this passion, to become as good as "that guy," became a lifelong quest. He soon discovered that anyone who even owned a bowling ball had advice to offer about the game. Sadly, he also realized that in many cases the random bits of information he gleaned from one source would conflict with what another source had said. His challenge evolved from learning all that he could about his sport to separating what really worked from what did not.

Now, at the age of fifty-three, he only bowled once a week but carried an extremely respectable 213 average. Yes, he definitely knew something Mark did not. He knew how to bowl. He knew what to focus on and what to ignore. He knew how to give his team a chance to win. Where Mark counted on natural athletic ability, constant practice, and emotion, Lenny relied on experience, education, a thoughtful strategy, and discipline.

Over four decades of bowling had taught Lenny that the only thing that mattered on the approach was technique: repeatable skills that produced dead-on accuracy. To his own surprise, his years of studying the sport had resulted in the discovery of a set of principles that govern successful technique. He refers to them as "the absolute truths of bowling."

An absolute truth is a concept that applies to everyone whether small, medium, or large; young or old; male or female; right-handed, or left-handed. These truths are as follows:

Bowling is a game of skill, not power.

What you do on the approach determines what the ball does on the lane.

The ball travels a line toward the pins.

Lenny's father, a contractor, had taught him that "a strong house is built on a strong foundation." When he decided to rebuild his game from scratch, these three principles became the foundation for that game. Using them as the basis for separating good advice from mindless drivel, he developed and choreographed a system of simple, well-defined fluid skills that he applied every time he stepped up onto the approach. These skills are:

The Stance
The Pushaway
The Armswing
The RELEASE.

This SPARE system works for Lenny, but it will also work for any bowler. A closer look at Lenny's system reveals why.

About absolute truth number 1, skill versus power: Many bowlers never achieve their true scoring potential because they rely on their strength to throw the ball as hard as possible. They think that more power will knock down more pins. That may sound logical, but it's only partially true for a number of reasons. Here are just a few of them:

You want to deliver strikes because strings of strikes produce high scores. That means rolling a very heavy ball a very long way (sixty feet) into a very small pocket over and over again. That requires accuracy and precision. Power alone cannot accomplish this because muscles are unreliable. They react differently each time you use them. When they are cold, they respond one way; once warmed up, they act another way. They tighten up; they loosen up; they get tired and sore. You get the idea.

Trying to develop a power game without first learning the basic skills is like trying to learn to drive a race car without using the steering wheel. All the power in the world is worthless if you can't make it behave! Whatever strength you have is enough; you must develop skills that direct your strength, not vice versa.

During the execution of a perfect strike, the ball only knocks down four pins. You see ten pins explode into the air, but the ball itself makes direct contact with only four of them. A domino effect knocks down the other six pins. It doesn't take a lot of power to make those four pins fall over, but it does require an extremely well-placed shot to set up an effective chain reaction. Only proper technique results in accuracy that is consistent enough to produce strike after strike.

If bowling were a game of power, the sport would be dominated by former football players, body builders, and professional wrestlers. It isn't. Professional bowlers come in all shapes and sizes! Two of the best professional bowlers who ever appeared on TV were Earl "the Pearl" Anthony and Nelson Burton, Jr. They were not muscle-bound behemoths. They were two of the smoothest bowlers you ever saw, and two of the greatest who ever lived. Both made a good living by regularly beating power bowlers, because they relied on nearly flawless technique.

You get the idea. There is a place for power in the game of bowling, but it is not fundamental to the development of championship caliber skills. As in any sport, there are both basic and advanced skills. The stance, pushaway, armswing, and release are the basic skills. Power is one of the advanced skills. Build your game on a solid foundation of the basics because without them, you will never be able to develop advanced skills. Without them, nothing else matters (even if you're lucky).

About absolute truth number 2, what you do: The study of physics taught Lenny the principle of cause and effect. Applied to bowling, it means that where the ball goes and how it behaves depends entirely upon what you do to it. If you want your first shot to hit the pocket, then you need to develop techniques that enable you to send the ball into the pocket. It's really that simple.

Look at it this way. The approach is fifteen feet long. The lane, foul line to headpin, is sixty feet long. The length of the lane actually amplifies any error you make in your delivery by a factor of four! If you are one inch off at the foul line, the ball may end up as much as four inches off once it gets to the pins. This is why what you do must be repeatable, so that your results are predictable. It is why learning a proper technique is so important, so that you do the right things, not the wrong things (which get magnified). It prevents or, at the very least, reduces the variations in your delivery that destroy your scores and make you utter the inevitable curse, "These lanes suck!"

This principle holds the key not just to making you a better bowler but also to making you a better sportsman and person. How? By helping you learn to take responsibility for yourself. You see, it's easy to make excuses for failure, something for which bowlers are famous. This absolute truth forces you to face the reality that if your ball misses the target, it's because you made it miss the target. Once you can admit that you made a mistake, it becomes a simple matter to figure out what it was. You can then eliminate that mistake by making an adjustment to your delivery. Learning to adjust is what makes you better.

About absolute truth number 3, the ball travels a line: This statement is so simple and painfully obvious that you are probably wondering how it could possibly be of any importance to improving your game. To Lenny, it is the holy grail for which he spent decades searching.

What is good technique? This concept, the line, or more accurately the target line, provides the key to answering that all-important question. When combined with the other absolute truths, it unlocks the secret to determining what is important and what is not. It boils down to this: Good technique is repeatable, puts the ball on your target line, and keeps it there. Any advice that doesn't follow this rule is garbage because it leads to unreliable techniques.

This line begins at your shoulder the moment you take your stance and continues all the way down to the pins. It consists of two parts:

The path along which you carry the ball during your delivery
The path the ball follows once you release it

Good technique forms these two parts into one line seamlessly and effortlessly. Your improvement as a bowler (higher scores) relies on your:

Learning to visualize this line in your stance. To do this, you must first roll a practice shot. The track the ball follows establishes a line. This line will be a function of the lane conditions. You need to visualize this line ending up in the pocket.

Practicing the skills as described, so that you get the ball on that line and keep it there throughout your delivery.

TIP This line provides the basis for another advanced skill: reading lane conditions. Once your line is established, only two things can change it: variation in your technique or in lane conditions. Properly maintained lanes are mechanically cleaned and then dressed with oil every day.

This creates the lane condition. Balls rolling on the lane move this oil around, changing that condition. If you eliminate deviations in your delivery, any change in your ball's trajectory must relate to the lane condition. Reading these changes becomes much easier as you gain confidence in the consistency of your skills.

Forty years of bowling taught Lenny that his father had been right—you need to build on a solid foundation. By themselves, the stance, pushaway, armswing, and release are just things you do to throw a ball down a lane to produce random results.

These same four acts, developed into skills based upon three simple yet universal truths, became a delivery system. They became a series of finely tuned motions, knitted together, which enabled him to become one of the elite bowlers in every league in which he competed.

More important, these movements are so simple and well defined that he found he could teach them to anyone! There is only one thing Lenny likes more than bowling well: teaching other people how to bowl well. It takes him back to his first bowling experience. He had watched that other guy in awe and wondered How does he do that? Now he knows:

The Stance puts the ball on a line to the target, allowing . . .
the Pushaway to move the ball along that line and set up . . .
the Armswing, which develops ball speed along that line, allowing . . .
the RELEASE to smoothly send the ball onto the lane without altering its trajectory.

Are you beginning to understand how easy the game of bowling can be? Competency at any level depends on the mastery of only four basic skills.

The real beauty of the SPARE system is not its simplicity, but that it works so well. Virtually anybody can learn and master it.

NATIONAL DEAF BOWLING NEWS
by Connie Marchione

MACMONAGLE TOPS DEAF TRAVEL WITH 779 AT GABLE HOUSE BOWL
TORRANCE — It was raining the day before and the morning, the bowlers of So. California Deaf Traveling League found the approaches stuck at Gable House Bowl. Some tried to use powder on their soles and others tried to adjust to do their best. As the result, only four bowlers made the day's honor roll list.
For the second time in row, Leroy MacMonagle led the Honor Roll with 779 as it took him two games 170-177 to adjust and finish with 211-221. Francisco Navarro dueled with Gorman Low and won 3-2 by 5 pins with (232) 742 to Low's (203) 737. Bob Jones had a misfortune of forgetting to bring his bowling balls so he struggled with a borrowed ball before finishing with a 223. The President Ed Abakumoff came two pins short of making the list with 698.
The ladies' high series that day went to Patricia Morford with 651. Vice President Sharron Caldwell made the day's ladies high game 199.
The only change in team standings was Abakumoff's Riverside making a near sweep 17-3 win over L.A. County to leap from 5th place to a tie for 3rd place with Anaheim.
The league had a Turkey Shoot with one turkey each for man and woman making strikes in 3-6-9 frames. William Golyer won the men's turkey and the 4 women were tied. So the President drew Sharron Caldwell's name for the women's turkey.
The league thanks Gable House management and staff taking the league in on short notice.
Also the league wishes all a happy Thanksgiving and will finish its first round of traveling at Cal Bowl on December 9th at 11:00 AM.

KEEPING TABS ON DEAF PRO BOWLER FRANK GALLO, JR.
JACKSONVILLE — With PBA South Region Senior 10 tournaments completed for 2012, lets see how the deaf long time PBA member Frank Gallo, Jr, Jacksonville, FL bowled in them. Gallo, Jr. has a (ss) destination after his name as a super senior meaning he is over 60 years old.
He had picked to bowl in 5 of the 10 events and his best was winning the third event on schedule at LaFayette Lanes in Fayetteville, NC. Here is his statistics. PBA South Region Senior Points standings – Gallo, Jr ranks 15th out of 185 senior members in this region bowling in 5 events gaining 51,957 points. Pro bowler Tom Baker led with 10 events and 127,702 points.
Earnings – Gallo, Jr. ranks 14th with 5 events $2,200.00. Pro bowler George Pappas led with 8 events $6,850.00.
Average (minimum 40 games) – Gallo, Jr ranks 11th with 51 games 211.88 average. Pappas led with 99 games 222.91 average.
Percent of cashes – Gallo, Jr ranks 38th because he cashed in only 2 of 5 events he bowled for 40%. Baker is top with 10 cashes in 10 events for 100% and Pappas is also 100% with 8 cashes in 8 events.
Percent of making Finals – Gallo, Jr is in 30th place because he made the finals in 2 of his 5 events for 40%. Baker led with making finals in 9 of his 10 events for 90%.
Champions – Gallo, Jr. won one of the 10 events. Pappas won three events and Walter Ray Williams is one of the other 6 winners. Frank gains prestige as one of the winners.

NORWALK — Recreation – an entertainment group who has entertained on behalf of the Bowlers to Veterans Fund in Veterans hospitals and other venues throughout the United States for many years suffered a great loss to their organization. Their truck and trailer with all their musical equipment and costumes for the current performing chorus were stolen and vandalized. The truck (damaged) and equipment (mostly gone) and costumes (vandalized and many gone) was recovered in Texas. There are always setbacks with any organization but to have all of their sound equipment and custom made costumes worth thousands of dollars stolen and vandalized - was a real blow.
While there is insurance to some extent it still doesn't put the troop back in business in a timely fashion to continue their rigorous schedule of performances. Equipment to replace, costumes to remake and adjusting to the trauma of suddenly having your livelihood taken away created a depression among this wonderful group. Recreation's director Jay Mueller is an inspirational person and the entertainment group was spawned from a church oriented program many years ago. The fact that they had faith in God is helping them get through the mishap.
Recreation is special to California and has entertained at our many VA hospitals and bowling association events over the years – always giving a memorable performance. California has led all donors to BVL since recordkeeping began and once more – California comes through.
The California USBC has donated $5,000 to help Recreation re-group and get back on the road and entertaining our veterans. God bless.

FULLERTON — We returned to Carter Bowl where we saw 156 entries come out on Saturday for a fun day of bowling. The cut scores were quite high +106 for the men and +78 for the women, on a rather easy shot this week. The Super Seniors added to the board (two men and one Woman) were Jerry Fagan +93, Ely Cruz +90, and Wendy Soo Hoo +27 for the women. Super seniors are men 63 and over, and for the women you just need to be a young 55. That would give us 47 bowlers making it to the semi-finals. During the 6 pm squad Samson Kong bowled a 300 in his 2nd qualifying game.

The High qualifiers were Samson Kong for the men with a +236 and for the women it was Ester Licauco with a +105. They will get a paid entry into a future regular ABTA event. Each week our top seed draws the Match Series, and this time it was worth $266. Samson would draw the score and he drew a 399. We had no bowler matching that score., Therefore, we will estimate the Match Series at $900 at Cal Bowl event. Dennis Kelsey was the last person standing for the 3-6-9, he missed on his first shot, and he received a $50 consolation. The pot is $1,600 at Cal Bowl. this weekend.

In our optional doubles, finishing in first were Ping Romero and Stan Por with a 1625 for $130. Finishing in second was Sol Cericos and Stan Por with a 1589 for $110. There was a total of $1,460 paid out in doubles and 26 paid spots with low to cash of 1470.

After the semi-finals, the leader was Kenny “King” Kwan with a +160. Finishing in second missing by only 1 pin was Du Quach at a +159 so he will sit out the first round. It was close at the top as our third and fourth seeds tied with a + 156. Kwan had the honor of drawing the Match Game worth $3,500. Kenny drew a 179. After a review of all the scores bowled, we had one bowler who shot that score, he was Rolly Itchon and he would take home the whole pot of $3,500. We still have three full pots and now a fourth pot started that is at $2,285, so next week we will go for $3,500 again.

This would bring us to our top 16 Match Play finals. In the first round, the seven losers were Elvin Godoy, Stan Por, John Licauco, Kent Maruyama, Matt Garcia, Deborah Sanders (who lost a close match by a mere 1 pin) and Cecilia Lung each will get $100. In the second round, the four losers were Chonthida Athiprayoon, Emilio Flores, Sam Wu, and Thomas Licauco, each getting checks of $105.

This would get us down to the final five bowlers. The weekly horses are paying a low of $44, Du Quach, to a high of $125, Tom Mazzulla. In one match, the tenth seed David Emirch versus Tom Mazzulla the fifteenth seed. This was another of our good scoring matches where it went down to the tenth frame. David who would finish last needing only a double to win. He was not able, so it was Tom finishing with a 156/206 to Davids 167/196 and advance to the next round. In the other match, it was Jiradej Harnpatanakitpanich the fourteenth seed versus Du Quach the second seed. This was another one of the high scoring matches, where both bowlers bowled good and took it to the tenth frame. In this match it was BK who would come out on top with a 212/243 to Du’s 188/237 to advance. David and Du finished in fourth and fifth getting checks for $110 each.

Our semi-final match was set, and would pit the fourteenth and fifteenth seeds from the semis against each other. In the weekly “horses”, we would see Tom paying $125 and BK paying $50 if they would win their match. This was again another one of BKs best, where he continued his top notch bowling. This again went down to the tenth frame, and it was BK who would edge out Tom who left the 4-7-10 split in the tenth and advance to the title match with a 226/257 to 202/252. Tom would take home $200 for his third place finish. For those lucky “investors” that had BK as a horse, he paid $50.

The title game was set and it would be top our qualifier Kenny Kwan going against fourteenth seed Jiradej Harnpatanakitpanich aka BK. He would start out this match on fire as he would open up the first four frames with strikes, while Kenny would start out with a double and then missed a 10 pin in the third frame. After four frames BK would have a ten pin lead. The match would stay close all the way to the tenth frame where it was left to BK to finish last needing only a mark to win it. He left the 4 pin on his first ball and would barely pick it up and then got seven pins to take home his fourth title with a 213/244 to Kwan’s183/238. He would take home $1,000 for the victory and an additional $1,700 for Cash and Carry to give him a total of $2,700. Kenny would take home $500 for his second place finish.

Champion BK, is from Buena Park and used a Columbia Oath drilled by Mike Wahl. BK is single. Bk would like to thank Jenny for all her support, Mike for taking care of his equipment, and a special thanks to Mark Baker for all his coaching and the ABTA staff. He and Jenny Manage the (Super) Sweetie Tahi restaurant in Cerritos Try it and You will love that food there for sure!!!

Kenny Kwan, Second Place, is from Los Angeles and used a Twisted Fury drilled by Billy Chao. He is married, would like to thank his family for their support, friends for their cheers and encouragement, the Mou-Liu league, to ABTA Member and pal Anthony Ta and a special thanks to David Quon. a staunch ABTA member for Years

Tom Mazzulla, Third Place, is from Highland and used a Ransom drilled by Vince Sisk. He is married to Kathy and they have two children Matt and Ashllyn. He would like to thank his family for their support, even though on this night they were at Disneyland enjoying a day at the park while dad bowled. He would also like to thank Carter for hosting the tourney and the ABTA and its staff.

The weekly ball sponsor winner of a 900 Global Ball was Robert Ricketts. Each time you bowl, you get a free ticket for this prize given away by our Sponsor, 900 Global. The rest of the results are in the payoff sheet in this paper.

Its history folks as Jiradej Harnpatanakitpanich enters the archives as our latest champion.

ARNIE SCHROEDER, KERRY LUCKA AND ANTHONY MOORE WIN SOCAL ABT EVENTS

GARDEN GROVE — Arnie Schroeder won the SoCal ABT tournament on Saturday, November 17th at AMF Valley View Lanes. Arnie is a charter ABT member and a multi-time champion. Arnie is married to Maybelle and they have three children, Steve, Mike and Wendy. He has been bowling for about 60 years and sports a high game of 280 and a high series of 656. Arnie was using a Modern Marvel drilled by Billy Meyers Jr. for the win this weekend. Arnie wanted to thank his family for their love and support and Billy Meyers, Jr. for taking care of his equipment. He also wanted to thank AMF Valley View for hosting the tournament and the ABT Directors for running the tournament. Lastly, Arnie wanted to dedicate his win to Jesus Christ, his Lord and Savior.

COVINA — Kerry Lucka won the SoCal event at Covina Bowl on Sunday, November 18th. Kerry is a multi-time champion. She is married to Steve, and they have a daughter, Sarah. Kerry has been bowling for 18 years, 12 years with ABT. She bowls in leagues at Arlington and Classic Lanes and sports a high game of 289 and high series of 751. Kerry was using an Ebonite Pursuit drilled by Darin Peters for the win this weekend. Kerry wanted to thank her husband and daughter for their love and support. She also wanted to thank Darin for taking care of her equipment. She also wanted to thank Covina Bowl for hosting the tournament and the ABT Directors for running the tournament.

SAN DIEGO — Anthony Moore was the winner of the SoCal event at Admiral Robinson Recreation Center. Anthony is 21 and is engaged to Melissa Paulsen. This was Anthony’s first championship. He has been bowling for about four years, and has been an ABT member for four months. Anthony does his league bowling at Poway Fun Bowl and sports a high series of 695 and high game of 269 (both shot during the tournament). He was using a Storm Frantic drilled by Eddie Opel at the Pro Shop inside Poway Fun Bowl for the win this weekend. Anthony wanted to thank Eddie for taking care of his equipment and Eddie Opel and Mike Crom for helping him with his game.

BURBANK — I hope everyone enjoyed the rain we've had this past week. I love the way it clears the air and makes our local mountains look so fresh and lush. It's rejuvenating! And with that to spur us on, let's get on with the news and scores at Pickwick.

Any home-schoolers out there might be interested to know we started a Mon. morning league just for your children. 10:00 AM, bowl 2 games, $6.00 and runs for 10 weeks. Also, for those looking for after school bowling, we have a 3:30 PM youth league on Tuesdays looking to start up in December. Same deal, 2 games. $6.00, 10 weeks. If you want more info, call Janie.

Now the high scores starting with the Youth.

TERRY CHITTENTEN Bowls Her First 300

by Frank Weiler

REDLANDS — Terry Chittenten bowled her first perfect game in EMPIRE BOWL’S Young, Old and Restless ladies league, after competing for thirty-seven years. She used her Roto Grip Grand Illusion bowling ball to roll a nice 682 (191 - 300 - 191) series on her big day.

Terry’s previous high game was a 290 bowled in March 2011. Her highest series is a 761 bowled at RIM LANES in Crestline, where the rarefied mountain air makes bowling more fun. Terry currently is averaging 213, just one pin below her highest book average, bowled in 2003-2004 at Rim Lanes.

Chittenten was a regular at Rim Lanes as a junior bowler because her parents (JOHN and LORRIE IACONO) were Rim’s proprietors from 1975 - 2004. She worked at the her parents bowling center from 1975 - 1987. She also coached junior bowlers, served as a league secretary for over ten years and was a WIBC house representative for five years.

Terry’s Mom taught her to bowl and had Terry competing in the Citrus Belt Junior Travel League as soon as she was eligible. From there it was on to the Citrus Belt Women’s Scratch Travel League. She has been a scratch bowler ever since.

Terry likes to play the lanes from the corner, usually rolling her ball over the eight board and hooking it into the pocket at a perfect six degree angle. I have watched her bowl and am amazed at the speed she generates.

She bowled her perfect on lanes one and two, moving to the five board that day.

Mrs.Chittenten’s husband Clyde is not a bowler. The couple met in school without Clyde knowing of Terry’s bowling background. He asked Terry to go bowling on their first date because there wasn’t much else to do in Crestline. That date led to a wonderful relationship, marriage, kids and love to last a lifetime. Clyde is still just an occasional recreational bowler, but is one hundred per cent behind Terry’s bowling pursuits.

Terry wishes to thank her parents and husband for their support through the years, the staff at Empire Bowl, and the BOWLING NEWS for recognizing her accomplishment. Finally, Terry is grateful to all the bowlers in the Young, Old and Restless League for celebrating her achievement with a cake and refreshments.

Las Vegas Travel League

by Darlene Horn

FOUNTAIN VALLEY — We give thanks for the beautiful sunny blue skies that were with us as we met at Valley View Lanes for week 13. We would like to thank the staff for their help and the coffee.

With only two, two hundred games shot all day Annie Maeae had one of them with a 203/535.

Maxx Paul shot a 526, Marilyn Robinson 512, Kim Cato 511, Cathy Wyatt 212.

Jarra Gallina, one of the under 155 average bowlers shot a very nice 502 series. Nice bowling Jarra.

Fountain Bowl 1 rolled the high handicap series of 1944. High handicap game of 720 was shot by Westminster 2. Westminster2 is still on top with 34 wins.

Well, I guess all the ladies were saving all the “turkeys” for Thursday. I hope you and your families all have a wonderful Thanksgiving. See on the lanes next week @ Cal Bowl 10a.m.

Ray Gibbs Passes

by Andy Clark

NORWALK — Ray Gibbs, passed away on November 11th due to complications from Parkinson’s Disease. The family had a private service this week and he will be cremated.

I bowled with Ray periodically in tournaments around Southern CA (until about 2001 when he could no longer bowl).

Ray Gibbs sometimes had his name mentioned in the Western Bowling News and California Bowling News.

I know he bowled back in the 90’s in the Whitlock League. Ray was a former City Manager (can’t remember which City) and later an Executive Director of a non-profit agency that helped unemployed workers find jobs, before he retired.

as Deputy Chief of the Explosive Unit for the Fire Department. He felt Robin could do anything she wanted because she worked at it. If she couldn't get something she worked and worked until she got it. More than a natural – he said she was an athlete who had the great hand-eye coordination and when she wanted something she went after it.

Robin wasn't very happy to hear her parents had made a concrete decision to move California and she felt upset and a little abandoned because she perceived the family was breaking up and the kids weren't included in that decision. She lived in NY for a Year and then finally gave in and heeded her mothers words, You can be a big fish in a big pond or remain a little fish in a little pond, and she, Debbie and grandma moved to California. It was time to be together again. The Romeo girls were admired by many and proving the point, when Robin and her sister Tori complained bitterly about having to do dishes, an admiring New York boyfriend sent her a dishwasher!

Like many athletes she was superstitious about some things and for years wouldn't bowl without her Jet socks on. Her father was a big factor in her life and was always with her when she bowled tournaments. Never one to blow her own horn, Robin was always a lady and was gifted with generosity. At the time of the Oklahoma disaster she had won a $10,000 first place prize in a PWBA tournament and little known was that she donated half of her winnings to the disaster victims.

During her years of bowling she has learned valuable things, not only about form and approach, delivery of the ball and arm swing, but keeping your head in the game. According to author and Coach Mark Baker, who says, "I have had the pleasure of being involved with Robin Romeo three different ways through the sport of bowling. First as her doubles partner, second as her bowling coach, and thirdly, she is now one of the coaches of my bowling camp, "Camp Bakes". What can I say about her? Simple, she is a class act!! It doesn't matter if she is competing or coaching, she always gives 100%. People like Robin Romeo are what make bowling such a great game. I'm proud to call her my friend." She has become an expert at teaching those things to bowlers. She is a believer in helping people to bowl better and currently goes to Mission Hills Bowl in Southern California weekly and for a small fee will coach bowlers.

Robin and her younger sister Tori bowled their share of tournaments together and Tori tells the story that one of Robin's favorite singers is Meatloaf who sings a song called Paradise by the Dash Board Light. In most of the centers they bowled in there was Karaoke in the bar and one particular night after bowling Robin asked Tori if she wanted to sing the song – an 11 minute rendition yet. They knew the song verbatim but Tori said she needed to shore up the courage with a drink or two and then they launched into it – a male and female part. Tori sang the very animated female part which suited her well and Robin sang the male part. The amazing thing about this spontaneous performance is that Robin has always been a more conservative in control person so it overwhelmed everyone. Who would have believed Robin Romeo was a closet Karaoke buff! It went over so well that the cheering crowd gave them a standing ovation! When the word got out about their performance it became a request at every stop. Tori said when they went back to Oklahoma the next year people didn't come to watch them bowl they came to hear them sing! When Robin retired from her professional career they surprised her with a party after a doubles tournament and of course – the two gave their rendition of Meatloaf's Paradise by the Dash Board Light.

Robin's incredible record of accomplishments include: 18 National Titles (including three majors); 12 Regional Titles (WWPB); six Women's All Star Association titles; four WIBC Titles; seven California State Titles and two state titles in New York. She has 23 sanctioned 300 games and eight 800 series'.

1989 was a bumper year and she was named Bowler of the Year by seven different organizations and publications. She was named to the Southern California All Star team 16 times, WIBC All American Team six times and Bowler's Journal All American Team four times and honored in seven Hall's of Fame the most recent being the Italian American Sports Hall of Fame.

Over the years she has been a committed supporter of women's pro tournaments and has an unprecedented record 77 finals – consecutive years from 1985 to 1989 and a record 80 cashes – consecutive from 1985 to 1989. Closest to this record is Mark Roth who is in the 50's. She has been honored for Image – Professionalism and Sportsmanship and was a recipient of the Merle Matthew's Achievement Award for Outstanding Performance in 1990.

Her most recent win in 2012 was the inaugural Senior Women's Triple Crown Shootout, presented by the Orleans Hotel Casino in Las Vegas, NV where she defeated Dana Miller-Mackie, Albuquerque, New Mexico, 249-204 in her first match and Lucy Sandelin, Tampa, Fla., 243-208 in the final match. She had recently bested 60 women in the Senior U.S. Women's Open making her the only woman to win both the U.S. Open and U.S. Senior Open and the Triple Crown gave her the Trifecta. Like the Energizer Bunny, she keeps going and she gets better. She says she always does better in the tournaments where you have to grind it out because she was a good spare shooter and got very few splits. She says she tries not to pay attention to what her opponent is doing and just concentrates on her game and it has paid off.

Among her special memories was her Doubles win with Jeanne Naccarato. She met another outstanding performer Jeanne (Maiden) Naccarato early in her professional career. They became roommates and traveling companions for 20 years and just prior to 2000 both had lost their fathers. When the Sam's Town Doubles came around in 2000 they decided they would win it for their fathers. Robin said it was the first time she and Jeanne could bowl together as doubles partners and it was her most memorable win. Her dad was her mentor and she said was having a real hard time bowling after he passed away. Her timing was bad and she had trouble focusing and so on. "The week before we had bowled in San Diego and didn't bowl well so I came home before she went to Vegas for the doubles tournament. I practiced a lot and my ex-husband Bill said, "Why don't you just get up there and throw the ball, don't even get set just pick the ball up and go." That's what she did and she threw a lot of strikes, couldn't miss. When she got to Vegas she told Jeanne what the plan was and Jeanne said, "Whatever works." The rest is history... dedicating the win to their fathers was a great motivator, the most emotional win ever and they knew their Dads were watching.

The two drove to all the tournaments to save on money and said it was much easier to be able to go to the next tournament when they were finished. They had so much fun traveling together and they also traveled with Pros Carol Norman, Barbara Renner, Toni Gillard, Pam Buckner, Tori Carter, Rachel Perez and Lynda Barnes. Jeanne recalls their asking for directions and it was always Robin who would ask. Invariably, Robin would return to the car saying, "I didn't understand a word he said." Then, Jeanne would try to decipher the directions. It happened so often it became a standing joke.

In many ways her entire life, has been devoted to bowling and turning 50 hasn't slowed Robin Romeo down. She says the competitive juices are still flowing. She is a collector of bowling memorabilia and has hundreds of items which, of course include her many awards. Her greatest fans are her boyfriend Tom and her mother. The Romeo family is close but all five kids are independent – a tribute to her parents.

What does it take to be a champion? Perseverance, focus, good decision making, temperament, coordination, and it helps to be a class act. That's Robin Romeo.

Georgia's George Gohagan III Wins PBA All Region South Point Open; Ishman and Barrett team up for Member/Non-Member Doubles Crown

LAS VEGAS — Amateur George Gohagan III of Roswell, Ga., defeated Shannon Pluhowsky of Kettering, Ohio, on the fourth shot in a one-ball sudden death roll off, 10-9, after they tied at 224-224, to win the Professional Bowlers Association All Region South Point Open at South Point Bowling Center on Saturday, Nov. 10. The players threw three matching strikes in the roll-off before Gohagan broke the tie on the fourth attempt.

In a companion event held in conjunction with the GEICO PBA World Series of Bowling IV, amateur Adam Ishman of Las Vegas and Barrett defeated amateur Raul Rosales of El Monte, Calif. and Michael Haugen Jr. of Carefree, Ariz., 502-459, to win the PBA West Region Member/Non-Member Doubles on Sunday.

Gohagan, who earned $3,500, defeated England's Dom Barrett, 300-298, in a nail-biting semifinal round to advance to the title match while Pluhowsky ousted Tom Daugherty of Wesley Chapel, Fla., 247-236, in the other semifinal match.

The All Region South Point Open included two other stunning matches, both involving the finalists. Barrett won his best-of-three-game Round of 8 match against Kyle Troup of Taylorsville, N.C., by winning an 11-ball sudden death roll-off after they tied a 280-280 in game two. Both players threw 10 strikes in a row before Troup left a pin standing on his 11th attempt.

Gohagan and Ron Nelson Jr. of Bridgeview, Ill., battled to a 300-300 tie in the second game of their best-of-five Round of 16 match, and each then threw three strikes in the roll-off before Gohagan's fourth strike eliminated Nelson's seven-count. Gohagan went on to win the contest, 3-2, with a 268-253 win in game five.

In the doubles event, first-time partners Ishman and Barrett earned $4,400. They eliminated Chris Klerk of Chandler, Ariz. and Martin Larsen of Sweden, 485-461, in the semifinal round while Rosales and Haugen edged Vince Wood of Moreno Valley, Calif. and Eddie VanDaniker Jr. of Chatsworth, Calif., 438-434, in their semifinal round match.

The All Region South Point Open drew an international field of 157 competitors while the Member/Non-Member Doubles drew a field of 66 teams.

THE PINZ BIZ by Quinndoggy

STUDIO CITY — If my calculations are correct and they usually are; summer has come to an end and the bitter cold California winter is steadily creeping in. I was born and raised in Montana so I should be able to handle the below zero temps and the blinding snowstorms that are sure to strike the Los Angeles area. However, if you're a L.A. native that might be a bit more difficult. Quite a nasty picture I have painted, no? Have no fear! For any of you Angelites looking to stem the tide of winter woes I know just the cure! Bowling at PINZ! Bring your friends! Your family! Or if you're a pathetic loser come all by yourself! Everyone is welcome at PINZ!!

ADULTS

I don't like to refer to you guys as "Adults" because if you're anything like me then you are really just a child trapped in an adult's body. That being said, you kids have really been bowling like adults lately. I feel like every time I turn around we have a new 300 game to add to the T.V.s for the whole alley to see. Keep it up girls and boys!

Paramount: Sean Vilbert 615, Eric Zimmerman 551, Frank Tardino 483, Jessica Chiu 387, Jo Diedrich 368, Heather Eades 316, Paul Mangione 210, Jim Hill 181, arlos Jentimane 165, Larry Margolis 165, Grace Acuna 150, Miranda Koski 136, Erin Humphrey 86.

Tavern Guild: David Quam 632, Derek Brown 599, Brad Snell 585, Carol Clair 443, Tom Whitaker 236, Tony Annibale 225, Jay Johnson 219.

SCBL: Brad Snell 669, Stephen Santay 242/660, Rocco Fasone 634, Nancy Garcia 151/434, Bonita Alford 154/408, Jennifer Felix-Shanno 169/405.

Funseekers: Riff Raff Ferragamo 736, Pete Forster 703, Nancy Kato 552, Lisa Frobisher 455, Bill Devoe 256, Jeff Pifko 240, Lorill Clement 180.

Employee League: Shervin Zarifpour 441, Chris Holmes 174.

Kings and Queens: Jon Schell 561, Brett Mack 516, Jeff Coggins 489, Mike VanEaton 205, Edwin Marfil 191, John Harnoies 151.

Pin Pals: Karen Collier 187/481, Shelly Djergian 201/474, Judy Kautz 155/445.

Week 9—Rani Jersushalmi 630, Ron Koblin 546, Marilyn Riffle 452, Kathy Dunn 412, Robert Lerman 214, Jim Moore 209, Denise Malman 175, Mitch Zippay 172.

JUNIORS

I don't like to refer to you guys as "Juniors" because if you're anything like me then you feel more grown up than most of the grown-ups that are around you. That being said, you Ladies and Gents have really been bowling PBA all-stars lately. If I'm going to stay in the running with you folks, I had better put in some extra practice time before work!

Have A Ball Wednesday:(hdcp) Tiran Kertis 454, Noi Kertis 470, Grace Atkin 154.

Have A Ball Saturday: James Mendoza 91.

Junior Stars: Emmett Galman 339, Evan Wiltz 292, Donovan Sylla 111, Carlos Cisneros 105.

Senior Galaxies: Nick Reid 478, Michael Friedman 221, Nicholas Martinez 145.

SENIORS

I don't like to refer to you guys as "Seniors" because if you're anything like me then you don't like the stigmas and nicknames that come with growing up. That being said, you guys and gals never cease to amaze. I have the privilege to work in the morning from time to time and I must say, not only are you folks tremendous bowlers but anybody who CHOOSES to get up before 11 to bowl is a winner in my book!

Happy Timers: Allan Lotta 159/439, Sam Marion 157/424, Ruth Swick 128/339.

Senior Social: Gary Olsen 158/453, Arthur Harris 155/417, Pat Olsen 157/409, Teri Bonato 151/404.
