Wes Malott Wins PBA Cheetah Championship for Ninth Career Title

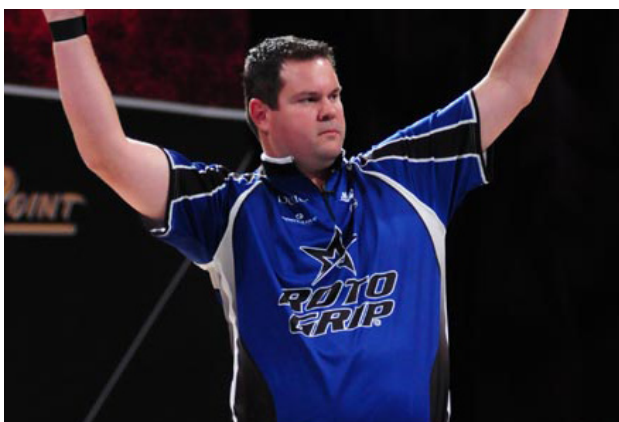

PBA World Series of Bowling V series introduces "blue oil" to TV fans

LAS VEGAS – Wes Malott of Pflugerville, Texas, capped a three-match sweep in the finals of the Professional Bowlers Association Cheetah Championship, defeating top qualifier Parker Bohn III of Jackson, N.J., in the title match of the historic ESPN telecast, 243-169, for his ninth career PBA Tour title.

The first of seven telecasts from PBA World Series of Bowling V at South Point Hotel, Casino and Bowling Center aired Sunday on ESPN, and featured the use of a highly-visible blue oil on the lanes for the first time in PBA history.

Malott, in winning his second consecutive title, defeated Colombia native Clara Guerrero, 214-208, in the opening match, and was nearly perfect in ousting 51-year-old PBA Hall of Famer Pete Weber of St. Ann, Mo., 288-242, in advancing to the title match.

Guerrero, only the third woman ever to advance to the nationally-televised championship round of a PBA Tour event, made a short-lived, but exciting appearance. The 31-year-old former Wichita State University star – now married and an American citizen living not far from Malott in Pflugerville – took a 15-pin lead over Malott into the eighth frame of the opening match. But Malott finished with a string of five strikes to eliminate Guerrero, 214-208, and exorcise a personal demon.

In two previous nationally-televised matches against another woman star, Liz Johnson of Cheektowaga, N.Y., Malott lost both times. He committed a foul that contributed to a 235-228 loss to Johnson in the 2005 PBA Banquet Open (the first time a woman had ever appeared on a PBA Tour telecast), and in July, after he won the U.S. Open in Columbus, Ohio, Malott lost a special "Battle of the Sexes" match against Johnson, the Women's U.S. Open winner, 194-188.

"There was a lot riding on this show, especially for me," Malott said. "The first match against Clara – the lady – I obviously remembered my foul against Liz and losing to Liz at the U.S. Open. I needed to get that off my back. As much as I acted like it wasn't there, it was on the back of my mind. I told myself at the end of the match I couldn't give up and let it happen again, so I wanted to put the pressure on her and I was fortunate to come out the winner."

For Guerrero, just the opportunity "was a dream," she said. "Every time you see the guys on TV, you want to compete with them, beat them. So being here, having the opportunity to bowl against the greatest bowlers in the world, it was a dream. It was the best part of my career."

After closing out Guerrero with his string of five strikes, Malott added another 10 in a row against Weber, losing his shot at a perfect game when he left a 10 pin on his 11th shot.

"That might have been the best shot I threw all day," Malott said of the 11th shot. "I'd throw that one again a million times."

He continued his torrid pace, striking on seven of his first eight shots in racing away

Bowling News is proud to bring you....

Chuck Pezzano

Dean of Bowling Writers, PBA & USBC Hall of Fame

If you're still looking for a Christmas gift or any occasion gift for that bowler on your list the king is still a bowling ball.

A bowling ball used to be a lifetime object with a similar guarantee. It was often passed on to relatives, friends and other bowlers. Seldom was it tossed away and still rates high in the things stored away in closets, garages, attics and basements.

Bowling balls don't last as long as they used to but they still last close to forever. The compositions are softer and wear easier but everything is relative. Pros change bowling balls as much as they change socks and might use a ball for a few games or a few months and in very rare cases, a few years. But a pro bowls as many games in a week as the average bowler tosses in a year.

Long before it became common for bowlers to have more than a handy bowling ball or two, hall of famer Bob Strampe was way ahead of the norm.

"If pro bowlers could carry them, they would have a different ball for every lane," said Strampe.

Today's pros and high averagers, most of them experts on bowling balls and grips, their own, and every ball arising from the experience and imagination of those who devote their lives to come up wiith the perfect bowling ball, will search forever.

Most bowlers have more modest goals, a ball that's comfortable and heps them improve their game a bit.

All approved bowling balls are fine, but they are all different, within United States Bowling Congress specifications. The outer surfaces vary in hardness, as does the composition, inner weight blocks, balance, total weight and color.

You don't have to know the plus and minus factors of every ball, but in buying a ball you should seek the advice of someone who knows or can determine what is best for you. It is not rocket science; it is bowling science.

The weight of a ball is all important and it is no backward step to go to a lighter ball, and many of the top pros do not use the maximum weight of 16 pounds. Color of the ball is the bowler's choice and these days there are as many colors for bowling balls as there are for Christmas tree balls or Easter eggs.

Make arrangements for a bowling ball gift with a certificate or a blank ball that can be changed later when the bowler has a chance to spend some time with the seller.

And with all the many scientific and technical advances in bowling balls, Teata Semiz, all time great, makes no excuses for his feeling for each new bowling ball.

"Many times I didn't change much at all, but a new ball gives you a new outlook and a new mental lift that can't be matched," said Semiz.

Isn't that what gifts are all about?

LIND BALDWIN

Bowls 803

by Frank Weiler
REDLANDS - Bowling 800 is always a great accomplishment. Bowling 800 when you're over 60 years of age is a super accomplishment. Well, that is what Lind George Baldwin has done and I would say that he is super.

Lind was born in Hawaii and his family and close friends know him by the Hawaiian translation of his middle name: KEOKI. While Keoki is appropriate, I prefer to call Lind Mr. Nice Guy. He is a quiet, unassuming gentleman who happens to be a great bowler.

Whatever called, Lind continues to score. He is currently averaging 232 in Empire Bowl's Odd's and End's League. Recently, he rolled a big 803 (226 - 299 - 278) series and it seems like he is evidence that 60 is the new 40.

This was Lind's second eight hundred series, tying an 803 he bowled at Empire Bowl a few years ago. Keoki has two 300 games and regularly rolls games above 250.

It is fun watching Keoki bowl because he is so smooth. He is a stroker who loves playing around the second arrow, rolling a silent but strong ball into the pocket time after time. He consistently hits his mark, rolling nineteen out of every twenty shots over his target. Move over Walter Ray Williams Junior.

Baldwin used his Brunswick Copperhead to roll his big series. He wishes to thank NEIL LAU for doing a great job drilling the ball. Also, Lind is grateful to son DANIEL (KALAMI) for being a great teammate.

My congratulations to Lind on his great score and thanks to the BOWLING NEWS for supporting our Citrus Belt senior bowlers.

Re-Creation Still a Thrill for Vets

By Mary Lynly

Bowlers have donated to the “Bowlers Victory Legion” since World War II when they purchased three ambulance planes to ferry wounded home. A BVL Classic tournament emanated from this and then it was over.....for everyone but California and California WBA President Elva Stevens decided it was too good not to utilize its value and continued the tournament each year. California still holds a state tournament to determine division winners. Over the years the name has changed here and there in California and currently honors Helen Duval who was honorary Chairman for the charitable endeavor for years and is known as The Helen Duval BVL Program. The national program is known as The Bowlers to Veterans Link.

Donations have risen to nearly ten million since inception benefitting Veteran and Military Hospitals and Outreach Programs throughout the U.S. and part of that is Veteran’s Homes like the one in Yountville, California. One of the pluses is the entertainment group Re-Creation, a group of talented young people who put on a program to well the heart with patriotism. Songs that honor freedom and country thrilled the over 100 vets who were entertained at the Yountville Veteran’s Home in September and one of the best parts was each one of the 11 entertainers going through the audience handing out their picture and autographing it beside having personal conversation with the audience.

Melissa Ade and Mary Lynly were as thrilled as they had ever been over the years to see these young people perform again. The sad part was that we were the only ones representing bowling and our program does so much to support their annual tour of the hospitals. If you haven’t been there in a while drop in and take a look at the newly remodeled bowling center! Chairman Rosie Parker sent out the Recreation schedule in plenty of time and I would hope the next time they are in California that you get a group together and enjoy a wonderful show.

USBC Announces High Average and High Series Awards for 2012-2013

Adriana Mazyck, 29, of Canoga Park, Calif., claimed the Female Sport Bowling National High Average Award, registering a 203 average for 104 games in the Del Guyer Sport Trios league at Corbin Bowl.

from Bohn in the title match.

“Against Pete, both of us are kind of in the running for player of the year, and I thought I would help my chances by winning that match,” Malott said, “but I also had to beat Parker to win the title, so every match meant a lot. I just worried about myself and did what I could to win back-to-back titles (the Cheetah Championship was the first PBA Tour event since the U.S. Open), and it’s a great feeling.”

The Cheetah Championship was the first time a lane conditioning oil with a color additive had ever been used in a PBA Tour championship event, and it was praised by both Guerrero and Malott.

“I saw it,” Guerrero said. “I thought it was going to be a little different. I thought I’d see the lines on the bowling ball, but it didn’t bother me at all. I think it’s cool for the audience to actually see the oil and understand the game a little more, but I just ignored it.”

Malott agreed.

“Everyone was concerned about what the dye was going to do to the oil, but I really didn’t move for all three games,” he said. “Because I bowled all three games playing the same line, so you could see the track of the ball. That’s what I was curious about.

“This oil could be very educating for the fans and outsiders to help them understand what we’re dealing with, and to see how accurate we are,” he added. “To me that’s more important than what the oil did to us. I don’t think it affected anything performance-wise. I’m kind of excited about it.”

The “blue oil” will be used in all four animal pattern championship finals held during the World Series. The Viper Championship presented by PBA Bowling Challenge will air next Sunday, Dec. 8, followed by the Chameleon Championship on Dec. 15 and the Scorpion Championship on Dec. 22. All December telecasts begin at 10 a.m.

The Cheetah Championship telecast also included the first of four special “PBA League Challenge” segments, allowing the eight PBA League franchise players to demonstrate their skills in unique competitions. The first segment was a “blind bowling” event in which a large curtain was suspended over the lanes, hiding the pins from the players and leaving only the first part of the lanes visible for targeting. Each player bowled a ninth and 10th frame, and Weber – the franchise player for the PBA League New York City WTT KingPins – won the initial round of “challenge” competition by throwing four strikes for a perfect score of 60.

In the light-hearted competition, BROOKLYN STyLES franchise player Sean Rash of Montgomery, Ill., asked for a re-rack (despite not being able to see the pins) and competitors jokingly complained that Dallas Strikers franchise player Norm Duke had an unfair advantage because he’s so short, he could see under curtain.

After winning the round, Weber said, “I didn’t have to shoot any spares, so what’s the big deal? I spot at the foul line, so shooting spares wouldn’t have been a problem if I had needed to shoot at one. I never even saw the screen.”

Next Sunday’s Viper Championship telecast will include a “speed bowling” PBA League Challenge, calling for players to roll as many strikes as possible in a span of 90 seconds.

WILLIE PARAWAN WINS THANKSGIVING EVENT AT CAL

6 Split Match Game Worth $2060 • Deborah Saners Match Game Match Game est $1,000 • Match Series Est $3,500 • 3-6-9 is $1,300

Mission Hills is our Host Saturday

LAKEWOOD — We would like to thank Cal Bowl for hosting our recently concluded four day Special Thanksgiving Event. We had a busy weekend with 401 entries of which 81 bowlers advanced to semi-finals. Cut scores for each of the qualifying days are as follows: WED +96 for men and +100 for women, THURS +93 for men and +41 for women, FRI +89 for men and +16 for women, SAT +52 for men and +34 for women. Cut scores for the re-entry squad were +58 for men and +3 for women. Super Seniors added were Alan Aguilar +78, Vic Paolucci +78, and Ed Palma +77 for the men. Beth Borci +57 and Bobbie McCollum +8 for the women.

High Qualifiers for the weekend were Ely Cruz with +163 for the men. One of our youngest Jean Colian, led the women's board with +100. They are each entitled a paid entry to ANY future Regular ABTA event. Top qualifier gets the privilege of drawing for the Match Series. Mr. Cruz drew 549 to the delight of one of our new members, Monique Levingston. Due to being her first event. She took home 25% of the Match Series fund of $2060 for $858. The remaining fund of $2575 carries over to Mission Hills this weekend.

Ely Cruz took the top 2 spots for our OPTIONAL DOUBLES. #1 with Kmel Cunanan for their combined scores of 1411 for $130, and #2 with Marvin Crowder for their combined scores of 1408 for $110. Doubles paid out 20 places for a total of $1200 with a low to cash score of 1354.

The Semi Finals: 81 Bowlers took the floor attempting to make the TOP 32 Single Elim. Finals. (ALL WILL CASH From $92 upward.) After the semis, TOP SEED was "Big Man" who surely bowled Big, Louis Evans with +161, followed by Jhickie De Luna with +126. 2nd Seed Jhickie is entitled a BYE for the first round while Top Seed Louis, who is guaranteed to win no less than 2nd place spot will wait for the title match. Cut score for the Top 32 Match Play was +33 for men and women combined. Top seed gets the honor of drawing for Match Game and Louis drew 148. Six bowlers matched their 3rd game scratch score and the prize fund of $2060 was split 6-ways. Deborah Abahazy, Jeanette Chang, Robert Ricketts, Ronald Roberto and Charles Weeks each get $340 while Vivian Bayang, who lacks games to be eligible for the full pot, took home 75% of the share for $255. Our optional 3-6-9 pot is another carry over with Dom LaGuardia and Donald Pulliam taking home $50 each as consolation prize. Our optional 3-6-9 fund of $1200 carries over to Mission Hills.

Placing 18th to 32nd after having been eliminated in the first round Tri Vo, Chris Marquez, Robert Ricketts, Charles Viala, Arnold Agoncillo, Justin LaGuardia, Michael Kong, David Emrich, Cezar Marcella, Lydia Soriano, Andy Yu, Freddie Manansala, Gina Velarde, William Ele and Ed Palma. They each get $200 ($120 for reduced entry). Eliminated after the second round were 2nd Seed Jhickie De Luna, Justin Taino, Beth Borci, Yen Lach, John Phan, Kerry Lucka, Bing Tuazon Jr., and Jean Colian. They placed 10th to 17th respectively and each took home $240. It's down to 8 bowlers and 3 more play to the Title Match. For the third round showdown, Tres downs Rachel 220-190, Danny dominated over Fred with 229-181, Willie whacked Mark with 258-216, and Mikko who failed to double up on the 10th lost by a pin to Anthony on their 179/178 game. Placing 6th to 9th for $325 each were Mikko Miller, Rachel Macias, Fred Go and Mark Fisser.

The 4th round brings about our HORSE pick finalists. The optional HORSE payouts are as follows - $91 for favorite Willie Parawan, $96 for 7x Champ Danny Guevarra, $174 for Anthony Jilek, and $193 for Tres Catalasan. It was a tight and serious match. Willie made the lanes look easy with his winning game of 248 against Anthony's nice 235. On the opposite side, it was frustratingly funny as both bowlers can't seem to pick up their spares. The tough lane conditions already took its toll on Danny's blistered hands but he dished out a great finish which required a double in the 10th for Tres in order to win the match. Considering both bowlers can barely make a mark, the double Tres pulled off was like pulling a rabbit out of a hat. Tres advanced with 190/185. Hats off to Danny Guevarra and Anthony Jilek as they place 4th and 5th respectively for $650 each.

A match away from the championship round, Tres Catalasan meets Willie Parawan for the chance to advance towards the $10,000 Max prize fund which they are eligible for. Willie's game was on shaky ground as he took a breather and left the area to look for a thirst quencher. Tres with his blown thumb had to change his blister cover every other frame but he was able to slightly get ahead of the game. Willie got his break with a lucky strike in the 8th. Tres tried to match the mark but he couldn't get the carry he needs.

Willie Parawan is ABTA Thanksgiving Champion at CAL Bowl — Willie Parawan won 6 straight matches in the single elim finals to finally edge top seed Louis Evans on thye final ball to take home a tidy $4,300 prize. From the left are Jhickie De Luna 9th, Fred Go 8th, Danny Guevarra 5th, Bob Smith ABTA Director, Josie Parawan an ABTA Member and Proud wife of Willie Parawan (Champion) $4,300, Louis Evans (runnerup) $2,000, Tres Catamisan 3rd $1,000 and Eric Snow, Cal Bowl Manager.

Willie doubled up on the 9th and secured the match on the 10th frame. Tres finished with 207 against Willie's 227. At 3rd place, Tres Catalasan took home $1000. Great bowling Tres!!!

Two of our finest and nicest members, top seed Louis Evans now meets challenger and Horse winner Willie Parawan for the title match. Louis started the match with a strike. Willie followed with a 3-10 conversion and a strike. Louis doubled up, followed by 2 spares and a nine out. Willie responded with two more spare & strike combos. When Louis stepped up for his 6th frame, both bowlers were even at the 5th. The game kept so close and went down to the wire as Louis, who had chosen to be the final bowler for the match, needs a mark to win. It was a cliff hanger as he threw a solid ringing 10 pin. Bowlers have been struggling all night at corner pin spares so this wasn't an easy task especially with the additional pressure that the spare would be worth winning the title. Louis took a breath, aimed, and Ohh My he missed! Talk about a close match! It's Willies' turn to win one as the game ends with 222/219 in Willie's favor. Louis Evans ends up in 2nd place 215 for $2000. Our newest champion added to the archives is Willie Parawan. One of the Good Guys Stricks again!! He took home the guaranteed prize fund of $4,000 plus $125 for wearing his ABTA shirt plus an additional $175 for using a sponsor ball for a total of $4300!

First time ABTA Champ Willie Parawan is from La Puente. He gives credit to his Virtual Gravity Nano, a Storm ball drilled by Aarik Torres of Brunswick Covina Bowl, where we visit in two weeks. He thanks GOD for all his blessings, his wife Josie, and friends Fred Go, Wendy Soo Hoo, and the rest of the "barkada" in the cheering section. He also thanks the ABTA, staff, and Cal Bowl for hosting the holiday event. More On Willie. He boldly promised his wife Josie, before he even qualified, that he was going to present her with this championship for their wedding anniversary in January! What a Prognosticator! He downed 401 entrants, made the Semis and won 6 (count em) 6 matches to bring it home to lovely Josie!

Runner-up Louis Evans, Definitely another One of the Good Guys is from Corona and he used his Storm Agent serviced by Custom Fit at

He gives credit to ABTA for another stellar tournament and to bowling friends at the cheering section. Louis is Surely well-Liked by all includig theis writer Great Bwolog Louis a Title is near.

He is married to fellow ABTA bowler Marife and gives credit to Coach Alan "Dragon" Aguilar for his regular bowling equipment and tips. He extends his thanks to bowling buddies for the camaraderie. Tres is hot again. Great Bowling!!!

He extends his thanks to friends in the cheering section, the ABTA and Staff, and Cal Bowl for hosting the tournament.

5th, Anthony Jilek is from Burbank. He used his Brunswick Ultra Zone drilled by Memo Rosales of Apex Pro

Save some for us

by Mary Lynly, CBW Publicity

NORWALK — I don’t know about you but I have been inundated by appeals for everything imaginable: Church, St. Jude, SPCA, Salvation Army, Shriners Hospital, WIND (for youth – Working in a New Direction), Paralyzed Vets, Disabled American Veterans, Heart Association, Cancer Society, Toys for Tots, Aids Foundation and more. These are just some I donated to, to say nothing of all of the appeals from political groups and other social things in my area. I believe in supporting things that are important to me but it seems that the things that are used to raise money for different causes have elevated to an unbelievable level. Many appeal to us emotionally and unfortunately – it never seems to stop. The phone calls are a major source of annoyance and to make a long story short – I feel harassed. When you send a donation and then three months later you get the same appeal and can’t remember whether you sent them something and do it again I realize that this is the plan. It happens too much and I now keep a list and date of who and when I donate to.

This brings to mind all of the appeals for our troops: Wounded Warriors, Fischer House and more – all good causes and their advantage over our California Bowling Writers Phone Cards for Troops is their media connection and visibility in asking for donations. We don’t have that and depend on the few things at our disposal – email and Facebook and our CBW Email Connection to contact our members and past supporters.

There is no doubt that bowlers are generous supporters of causes and when I realize that once again we will give a huge check to the Susan b. Komen fund and someone from their organization will come and “pick up the check” – usually around $800,000 and we get NO RECOGNITION to speak of it makes me ill. CBW sends thank you letters to everyone who donates to our phone card effort and we are grateful to those who walk the extra mile and hold a 50/50 or some other fundraising event to raise funds – we couldn’t do it without you!

Check out our website www.calbowlingwriters.org and watch our thermometer grow. Thanks to all of our board members who diligently work to raise money and keep the connection going. You can donate in honor, in memory, or just because. Send donations to Chair of Charitable Endeavors Wendy Boswell, 3118 Lake Mead Circle, Chico, CA 95973 or directly to our CBW Treasurer Tina Martin, 57 Shields Lane, Novato, CA 94947-3877. One of the highlights of this campaign is that everyone who donates will have their name put in for a drawing for a Tony Reyes bowling ball donated by Bette Addington! We know that it’s tough out there financially for many but we hope you will Save some for us. Deadline is December 31.

What Did He Say?

NORWALK — Steve Felege, author of “The Essentials of Bowling” recently informed me that his instructional book is being sold in 3 foreign countries and moving up the charts in Australia! (All English speaking.)

Steve doesn’t pretend to instruct “Pro Bowlers” — he is only interested in the novice, someone who can listen and adapt.

His sense of “weird” made us “cosmic cousins” after one phone call.

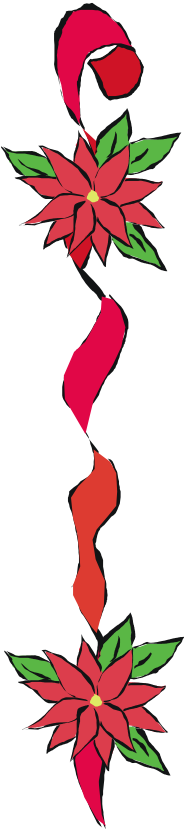

We hope to get a smile or two from his heckle humor or maybe a helpful hint to improve you game.

Thanks for reading. And your comments are always welcome.

The Perfect Game

by Steve Felege
The never-ending interview continued by: Mama Mancini

Carol: Steve, last week you were talking about a certification class that taught bad technique. I’m having a hard time wrapping my head around that.

Steve: I’m sorry, but it’s true. It wasn’t intentional; it was tradition.

Carol: You said the “universal truths” of bowling helped you understand the weaknesses of the old ways.

Steve: That’s right.

Carol: In honor of that……I think I’d like to burn you at the stake for heresy! I liked the old ways!

Dean: I’ve got some scraps of paper here……and I could probably come up with some old pins!

Steve: I didn’t mean anything other than this: What I was taught didn’t work; how the pros bowled did.

Carol: True, but not everyone can bowl like a pro!

Steve: Why not? The same basic principles that make the pros successful can make any bowler more successful. If that’s heresy……

Carol: DEAN! PUT THAT STAKE AWAY!

Dean: But……

Carol: Steve has a point. My old mentor used to say, “There are two ways to get good; practice a lot……or practice doing things the right way.” Then she’d wink and say, “Someday, you’re going to be real good!” I hate to admit it, but Steve’s right. NOW, PUT THOSE MATCHES DOWN!

Dean: Rats………

Carol: Steve, you win. For the sake of our readers who haven’t read your book, what are the universal truths of bowling and why are they important?

Steve: The first is: Bowling is a game of skill, not power. Watching many of today’s pros gives the impression that bowling is all about power, but that’s an illusion. Accuracy and consistency comes first for them; it needs to come first for you also. That’s important to understand because delivering a ball powerfully, into a gutter, scores NOTHING! That is true for everyone.

Carol: Well said.

Steve: The second is: What you do determines what the ball does. The ball doesn’t have a mind of its own. You are the only thing responsible for where the ball ends its journey. That’s important because it explains why you must learn, understand, and practice an EFFECTIVE delivery rather than making lame excuses. That is also true for everyone.

Carol: I’m going to miss hearing all those excuses. They sell a lot of towels!

Steve: The third universal truth is: The ball travels a line to it’s target. That line is unique to every bowler. It begins in the stance and ends at the pin(s). Again, that is true for everyone. To become a respectable bowler, you must learn to get the ball on that line and keep it there during each step of your delivery. A bowler who doesn’t follow this rule is doomed to a career of inconsistency.

Carol: Is that it? There’s only three of them?

Steve: My original list had eleven.

Carol: Eleven?! What happened to the others?

Steve: I really don’t remember. They probably just didn’t apply equally to grandmothers, kids, left-handers, you know, they just weren’t truly universal. Don’t get me wrong, I’m not saying there’s only three, but they’re the only ones I could come up with that applied to bowling technique. Remember, I try to keep things simple.

Carol: Because……

Carol/Steve: “THE SIMPLER SOMETHING IS, THE BETTER IT WORKS.”

Carol: That was good. We make a pretty good team. How about if I let you buy me an iced tea?

Steve: I wish I could afford it.

Carol: Okay, how about this? Next week I’ll let you explain how those truths apply to technique?

Steve: It’s a deal. Wait a minute! I thought you wanted to get this interview over with.

Carol: I do. I hate doing interviews………[but I have a paper to fill, “Pushover”].

Hannah Diem Becomes Youngest to Roll 300 Game

FLORIDA — Hannah Diem of Seminole, Fla., became the youngest United States Bowling Congress member to roll a certified 300 game November 17th when she ended her Youth/Adult Fall league session at Liberty Lanes in Largo, Fla., with 12 consecutive strikes.

At 9 years, 6 months and 19 days, Hannah broke the previous overall record of 10 years, 2 months. Hannah started the night with games of 204 and 226 before rolling the perfect game to finish with a 730 series, a personal best by 166 pins. Entering the night, her high game was 224 and her high set was 564.

“Going into the third game, I knew what she needed for her first 600 series, but then the strikes started to add up,” said Heidi Diem, Hannah’s mother. “It’s like every shot she threw was right there. It was magical.” Diem credits much of her daughter’s continuing improvement to the support and guidance of the older youth bowlers at Liberty Lanes and the dedication of USBC Bronze coach James Crouch, who runs the youth program and the Youth/Adult league. Hannah also spent time over the summer at the Kegel Training Center in Lake Wales, Fla. In four years of certified competition, Hannah has raised her average to 162. She bowls in multiple leagues each week, practices often and bowls in tournaments on the weekend. In 2012, she won her singles division at the Florida State Youth Tournament. After her second game Sunday night, Hannah asked her mother when she thought she’d roll her first perfect game. The answer was, “next year.”

“I tried not to talk to her too much and distract her,” Heidi Diem said. “I don’t know how she composed herself. I’ve never thrown a 300 or been close, so I don’t know the pressure she felt when she was up there. Going into the 10th frame, it’s like she didn’t waiver at all. She just got up there and nailed it.” For Hannah, the accomplishment is a little bit overwhelming. “At first, I wasn’t that confident I could do it, but as I got more strikes, I felt like maybe it could happen,” said Hannah, who uses a 12- pound ball. “This just feels amazing. It’s so much excitement, and my brain is still trying to process it all.” Hannah hopes to continue improving with the help of her teammates and coaches, and her sights are set on potentially competing in the Bowling.com Youth Open Championships and USBC Junior Gold Championships in the Buffalo, N.Y., area next summer. For now, she and her mother are enjoying the chance to bowl together on Sunday nights. “She certainly didn’t get the bowling gene from me,” Diem said. “I always joke that it skipped me, and she got double, but it means a lot that it’s something we can do together.”

Congratulations Shannon Santos on bowling 11 strikes in a row 299 on 10-02-2013 at Cal Bowl.

Congratulations Fale Sula. Fale accepts his 11 strikes in a row 290 game trophy. He bowled this in Sept. 2013 at Cal Bowl.

Congratulations James Matthews on bowling a 300 game Oct. 27, 2013 at Cal Bowl and receiving a 300 ring from USBC.

Congratullations. Carl Stokes receives his 11 strikes in a row 290 trophy. He bowled this at Cal Bowl Oct 27, 2013.

All Dressed Up and No Place to Go

by Mary Lynly

RENO —The good news is the California Bowling Writers attended the West Coast Trade Show at the Silver Legacy Hotel Casino in Reno on Nov. 3, 4 and 5. We worked diligently on items that showcase our organization. Our V.P. Bette Addington helped us out by providing great graphics. Treasurer Tina Martin made packets of “hugs and kisses” we shared with the vendors and several donors made $10 donation to our Phone Card Charity and received a special stylus with CBW logo that hooks on to your iPhone – saving your phone screen. We had our latest InfoLink issue and flyers that could be used for us to send a 300 minute phone card directly to a loved one serving overseas. Our California Bowling Writer’s banner was affixed to the carpeted wall behind us and there was no doubt about who we were! We even displayed some great bowling Tees benefiting the International Museum and Bowling Hall of Fame.

Now, that was a worthy effort by CBW. The bad news is there were only 23 exhibitors, probably the reason for the four hour only exhibit time. Under Education Highlights were excellent presentations by Debby Seltzer Cummins entitled Unleashing Type “A” Performer; “Understanding Your Center’s Demographics by Bart Burger – VP of Business Development for BPAA and “Obamacare – Today and Tomorrow and how it will affect everyone and every employer.” All presentations were well prepared and relevant.

Most attended the Welcome Reception in the newest renovated area of the National Bowling Stadium and NBS provided heavy hor’s d’oeuvres, a free drink and a fun bowling “10 across10” tournament. Bob Herzog hosted breakfast the next day and Brunswick hosted breakfast the following day. The Exhibit Reception was sponsored by Shock Top who displayed their beers and also offered a taste. Following the reception was Bingo for all the heavy gamblers. Shock Top also sponsored the General Membership Meeting and Lunch.

There was the usual very popular reverse raffle with the winner pocketing $1,000.

Brunswick’s John Rausch, who is responsible for new centers and his fellow presenter Dan, responsible for existing, centers brought the message that told us “Brunswick opened more new centers than all of their competitors and they are pushing Bowling 2.0 which is going back to basics” – a welcome message. They both say, “Experience doesn’t necessarily mean success but expertise does.”

Debby Seltzer Cummins gave several valuable tips on motivating your employees or board members and told us “Genius lives everywhere.”

Frank DeSocio of Strike Ten Entertainment told of the sponsors they have: Pepsi, Xbowling, Miller High Life, Tony’s, Mus-selman’s, Rockstar, and Jack Links. He told us of the grandiose plans they have for promoting membership with a variety of programs and of the keynote speaker in Florida being former president George W. Bush. He noted the largest convention for Bowl Expo was in Nashville, TN when Bush’s father Herbert Walker Bush was the keynote speaker.

There was a lot of good in this trade Show and it is sad to see this opportunity for Proprietors and vendors to get together and see attendance dwindle. CBW President Mary Lynly, Treasurer Tina Martin and a couple of supporters manned the booth. We brought out our best but had nowhere to go.

ROUND 2 - WEEK 6

by Mama Mancini
DOWNEY — The Monday night match up produced new leaders that will vie for ownership of round two. BOWLERS DEPOT was shot down 4 to 1 by the ever dangerous PROFESSIONAL APPROACH. BOWLERS DEPOT rallied in the third game 849 to 826. But the PROS took series 2465 to 2350. That show down was contested on lanes 9 and 10. Another fiery duo was dook-king it out on 11 and 12. J.A.T. butted heads again with the persistant SYSCO side winders. Scores were low but competition was spirited. SYSCO snagged 4 wins to jump them into second place and give them a chance to win the round.
Next Monday is the end of the short oil round — and 8 teams have a mathematical shot at the win.
THREADWORKS rolled a solid 2432 to capture 5 big win points from AMATEUR BOWLERS to keep them in the hunt. Toss in KEYSTONE LANES (18 wins) plus HEINI-KEN USA (18 wins) and we will have a “really big show”!
Leonard Ruiz was the “prince of pins” Monday, rolling the only 7-720. His 255 second game paid off at the FINANCIAL ADVISORS Bank. Lee Liu punched a solid 250 for the other part of the FINANCIAL ADVISORS Pot. Welcome back Lee.
Regular side-pots were trapped by Mike Villarreal/252, Dave Korach/246 and Eddie Van Daniker/216.
Sub Brandon Golden registered the high game of the night 280. Leonard Ruiz pounded out 278 to round out his 720.
The league as a whole averaged 179 for the night, bringing the season average to 199.11.
Let’s not over look the gals! Jamie Curtis connected with Mark Curtis, Jared Lawrence and Billy Myers Jr. for their big win. Heck,let’s tell all. Jessica Diso 529, Debbie Abahazz 514 and Nicole Van Daniker 469.
The scores rolled this round reminds us “old timers” of the front page 700’s published in the 50’s, 60’s, and 70’s. All we had were wooden lanes, rubber balls, chalky fingers, oily towels, cracked pins and drunk pin setters. THE GOOD OLE DAYS!!! How did we bowl a 9 P.M. league, shoot a few pot games, grab something to eat and still go to work the next morning??? Must have been the fumes from the lane oil!!
Talent is talent - - - come watch frustration and elation in action - - - Monday evening at 8:30.
